ELM BLIGHT IS MENACING TREES

Plague Alarms Village

In the wake of residents' complaints that the disease is spreading at an alarming rate, the board of trustees last week directed Village Manager L. A. Hanson to update his five-month-old forestry report.

The report, prepared in February, accurately describes the menace of the disease and suggests means of fighting it.

THE 23-PAGE document makes the following observations:

—since 1956, the disease has claimed 300 trees;

—just under $95,000 has been spent in the last four years to control the disease; —services of a full-time forester are needed, and —spraying and trimming programs must be continued.

"It is reasonable to assume that trees are one of the most valuable assets of the village," Hanson observed. "There is scarcely a home in Arlington Heights that doesn't have some kind of a tree on its premises."

HE SAID the village undertook a survey in July, 1959, to determine the number of trees on village right-of-ways. The survey showed there were 15,168 trees, more than two-thirds of which were over six inches in trunk diameter.

The village first began to cope with the disease in spring, 1957, when a power sprayer was purchased and tree trimming started, Hanson said. The program consists of spraying parkway elms in the early spring and following up with trimming.

"This program does not provide for spraying, trimming or inspection of trees on private property," Hanson pointed out.

"In order to institute a complete program of action, the village should secure the services of a qualified forester," the manager recommended.

HOWEVER, during this spring's meetings to discuss the 1961-62 budget, trustees felt forced to cut out a $7,500 appropriation for the forester's salary. The municipalities of Bloomington, Oak Park and Winnetka currently employ foresters.

Hanson concluded his report by saying, "We must continue to spray and trim trees, but must also enact the same controls on private property as enacted on village property."

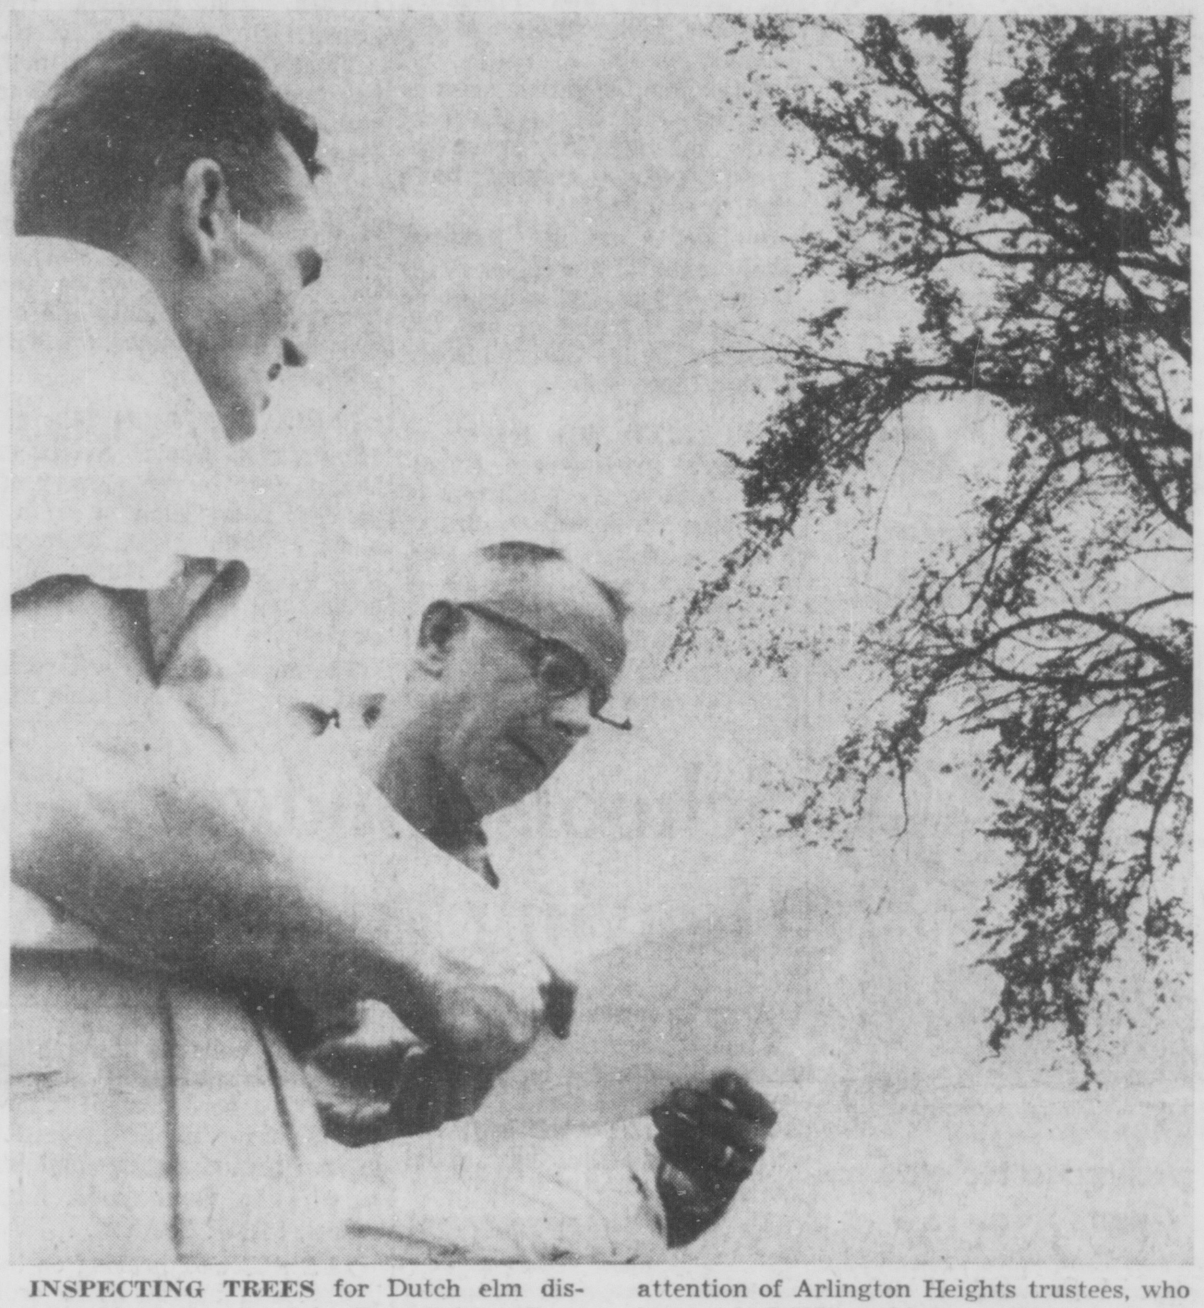
Apparently, bark beetles which cause the disease, spread from trees on private property to those being sprayed and trimmed by the village.

The American Forestry Assn. suggests the levying of a tax to provide funds for long-range control programs. Illinois law enables municipalities to hold referendums for the purpose of gaining monies for forestry programs.

LAW LIMITS the "insurance policy" tax to a half cent on each $100 of assessed valuation.

According to Hanson, 94 trees in the village are now infected with the Dutch elm disease, while 52 others are under observation. This year's budget allows $1,500 for replacing dead trees.

Trustees hope the manager's revised forestry report will be presented in August.



INSPECTING TREES for Dutch elm disease this week were John Best (left), village planning engineer, and Paul Tossman, village inspector. The tree disease has captured the attention of Arlington Heights trustees, who have asked Village Manager Hanson to update his forestry report.

Voter Registration Camaign Is Mapped

Even though you are a registered voter today, when the 1962 elections are here, you may not be able to vote!

Civic leaders and the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights met Tuesday night to map plans for getting residents re-registered.

A 1959 act of the Illinois General Assembly requires that all registered voters in Cook county re-register on or after September 16, 1961. On that date, all previous registrations will be destroyed.

Mrs. Louis Nye, president of the League of Women Voters, told 40 Arlington Heights civic leaders that they were aiming for 100 per cent re-registration by the 1962 elections.

She explained that, "In 1934 the League of Women Voters pressed the General Assembly for permanent voter registration. By 1941 the whole state fell under this act.

"However, we also supported the 1959 bill, because we believe that permanent registration is not perpetual registration."

Working closely with the Arlington Heights League is a newly formed Re-registration Coordinating Committee headed by Raymond H. Stevenson. Stevenson's committee is attempting to coordinate the efforts of all civic groups in Wheeling township in getting residents re-registered.

Frank L. Kams, representing this committee, explained that the League of Women Voters will be asked to handle the re-registration program within the village limits of Arlington Heights. His committee and the Democratic and Republican organizations will handle the program in the unincorporated areas in the township.

MRS. RUSSELL Gardner, chairman of the re-registration committee for the Women Voters, outlined her campaign for canvassing Arlington Heights. "We have grouped the 27 precincts in Arlington Heights into seven areas. Each will be headed by an area chairman.

"Each of the area chairmen will in turn supervise a number of block chairmen, who will be doing the actual leg work," she added. She estimates that a total of 270 block chairmen will have to be recruited from interested residents and organizations in Arlington Heights before September 15.

The following timetable will be put into motion in the near future:

—September 1 publicity will be released in Arlington Heights:

—September 11-14 block workers will contact residents;

—September 15 will be the first re-registration day at the polling precincts where national elections are tallied;

—September 18 a listing of those who have not re-registered will be posted;

—October 7 as a part of the "125 years of progress" celebration a float will be sponsored in the Arlington Heights parade;

—October 9-12 block leaders will contact those who did not re-register;

—March 13 of 1962 will be the last time to re-register at the national election polling places.

Interested Arlington Heights residents and civic organizations who would like to help the League of Women Voters this fall are urged to telephone Mrs. Gardner at CL 9-2757.

Noisy Parties

Arlington Heights police Saturday night received three complaints of noisy parties being held in the village. Party goers promised to simmer down when advised of the complaints.

How did suburbs get along before there were such things as motor fuel and municipal sales taxes? Village fathers are depending more and more upon them to keep the wolf away from the door of municipal financing.

So long as lending institutions consider the budgeting of such taxes as good security, the present generation can enjoy a lot of municipal "extras."

We had our first taste of Gov. Kerner's new taxes this week. We found that we'll have to use scissors on the family budget which we thought was so adequate last January.

Our first thought was to cut the allowance for food. But the price of milk has gone up, and there is an additional half cent added to the old food sales tax. Of course, we could carry our lunch or cut the allowance we give to our children, which would not make them happy.

All loyal men of Arlington Heights are supposed to grow beards in honor of the 125th anniversary in October, but the weekly beard trimming will cost a few extra shekels.

Nikita is very much worried about Kennedy's increase in war power, but Castro is still thumbing his nose at us.

In this week's Fence Post, somebody has again made the suggestion that we buy the Triangle park and present it to Palatine. We wish we had that kind of money!

If the state legislature can stop the clock in the final hours of its session, so can Rolling Meadows city council. They did so Monday night to get the appropriation ordinance adopted before August 1.

They spent 16 hours considering the budget. That's a lot longer than Congress spent this week in debating Kennedy's monumental requests for defense spending.

If Des Plaines celebrated its 125th anniversary in 1960, Arlington can in 1961. So decided the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

The village's historical society has amassed a lot of facts and figures which indicate there are three possible dates for the beginning of Arlington Heights. They are: when Asa Dunton staked his claim in 1836; when the first crop was planted by him to validate his claim in 1837; and when the first house was built in 1845.

The historical society, however, is willing to go along with the selection made by the Chamber of Commerce. Thus Arlington is going to celebrate its 125th year this October.

Elk Grove township, which today includes a portion of south Arlington Heights, was first settled by pioneers in 1834-35. Let's consider this year's celebration as authentic.

'All We Get Are Promises'

New Subdivision Is Homeowner Headache

Young homeowners in the Arlington Heights Gardens subdivision are learning what it's like to live in "the refreshing atmosphere of an established, prestige community."

They're also realizing the purchase of a home in a totally new development can cause many headaches.

"The salesman promised us everthing and we were foolish enough to believe him," explained Mrs. Guy Waldorf, 106 W. White Oak.

SHE EYED a mop standing in a corner of the kitchen.

"The kids wear their winter boots outside after it rains," the 26-year-old mother of three said. "The mud out there is knee-deep in places."

She was referring to White Oak st., an unpaved east-west roadway leading in and out of the subdivision. Recent early morning rains had rendered the street a sea of mud, impassable.

"We've asked the builder to give us a decent street; just something we can get the kids to school on," Mrs. Waldorf noted. "Again, all we get are promises."

THREE OF her neighbors seated around the kitchen table nodded agreement. They pointed out the lack of streets was not the only drawback to home ownership in the subdivision.

Uncovered manholes, open home foundations, pools of stagnant water, sunken backyards, construction flaws, careless installation of fixtures, and numerous needed repairs were cited.

One housewife, a resident on White Oak for five years, recalled the days before the building boom started south of the Arlington Heights village limits. Roads were much better then, she concluded.

Mrs. Waldorf said that William A. Alter, president of Realty Company of America, Inc., developer of the subdivision, promised her a month ago her driveway would be installed by July 12.

NOT ONLY IS the driveway not in, but the mire of White Oak st. has forced her husband to park the family car a block from the house, she pointed out.

"Won't the school busses balk at coming in here this winter?" she asked. The question was met by silence. Her neighbors were in the same straits.

The Gardens subdivision, supposed to eventually total 300 homes, is not a part of Arlington Heights. The developer has refused to annex. About 50 of its 120 homes are occupied.

In its sales promotions, Realty Company of America freely refers to the subdivision as an "established, prestige community," extolls the "healthful life of true suburban living," and advertises churches, schools, hospital, and shopping facilities located in Arlington Heights.

A RECENT publicity release said, "The area will have all improvements in and paid for." Presumably, "improvements" include paved streets.

"This builder is selling to young couples who don't know what's going on," Mrs. Waldorf observed. "It's too bad they have to experience living here to find out what the score is."

Old Uniforms, Gowns Sought by Committee

The steering committee for Arlington Heights' 125th anniversary celebration issued a call this week for the donation of old uniforms, costumes, dresses, bathing suits and other forms of clothing.

"By 'old' we mean anything from 50 to 100 years old," explained John F. Hoover, celebration co-chairman. He said the clothing will be used in the celebration's various promotions, pageants and programs.

The celebration, initiated in mid-July, will officially begin October 1 and culminate with a giant parade October 7.

THE ANNIVERSARY committee has established permanent headquarters at the Princeton House, 1312 W. Northwest hwy. On duty there full-time is Miss Jocelyn Coblenz, who is prepared to answer questions and accept messages.

Telephone number of the headquarters is 392-4536. Residents and organizations are encouraged to express opinions and make suggestions.

In other activities regarding the celebration, plans are being formulated for a grand ball October 7, an ice cream social and square dancing October 4, and Miss Northwest Suburbs beauty contest October 3 to 5.

NOVELTY IDEAS including celebration buttons, ties and bonnets are being studied and may be in the distribution stage soon. Banners and pennants have been ordered.

A meeting for all participants and organizations has been scheduled for 8 p.m. on Wednesday, August 9, in the Lauterburg and Oehler funeral home, 2000 E. Northwest hwy.

Gymnarama Event Set August 11

Gymnarama time is here again. Arlington Heights park district tumbling and Trampoline, modern dance, and baton and marching classes are hard at work preparing for the program.

Gymnarama is an annual event held on the tennis courts at Pioneer park at the close of the summer playground season. It is designed to give the children a chance to display their summer's accomplishments in these various activities.

The show will begin at 8 p.m. Friday, August 11.

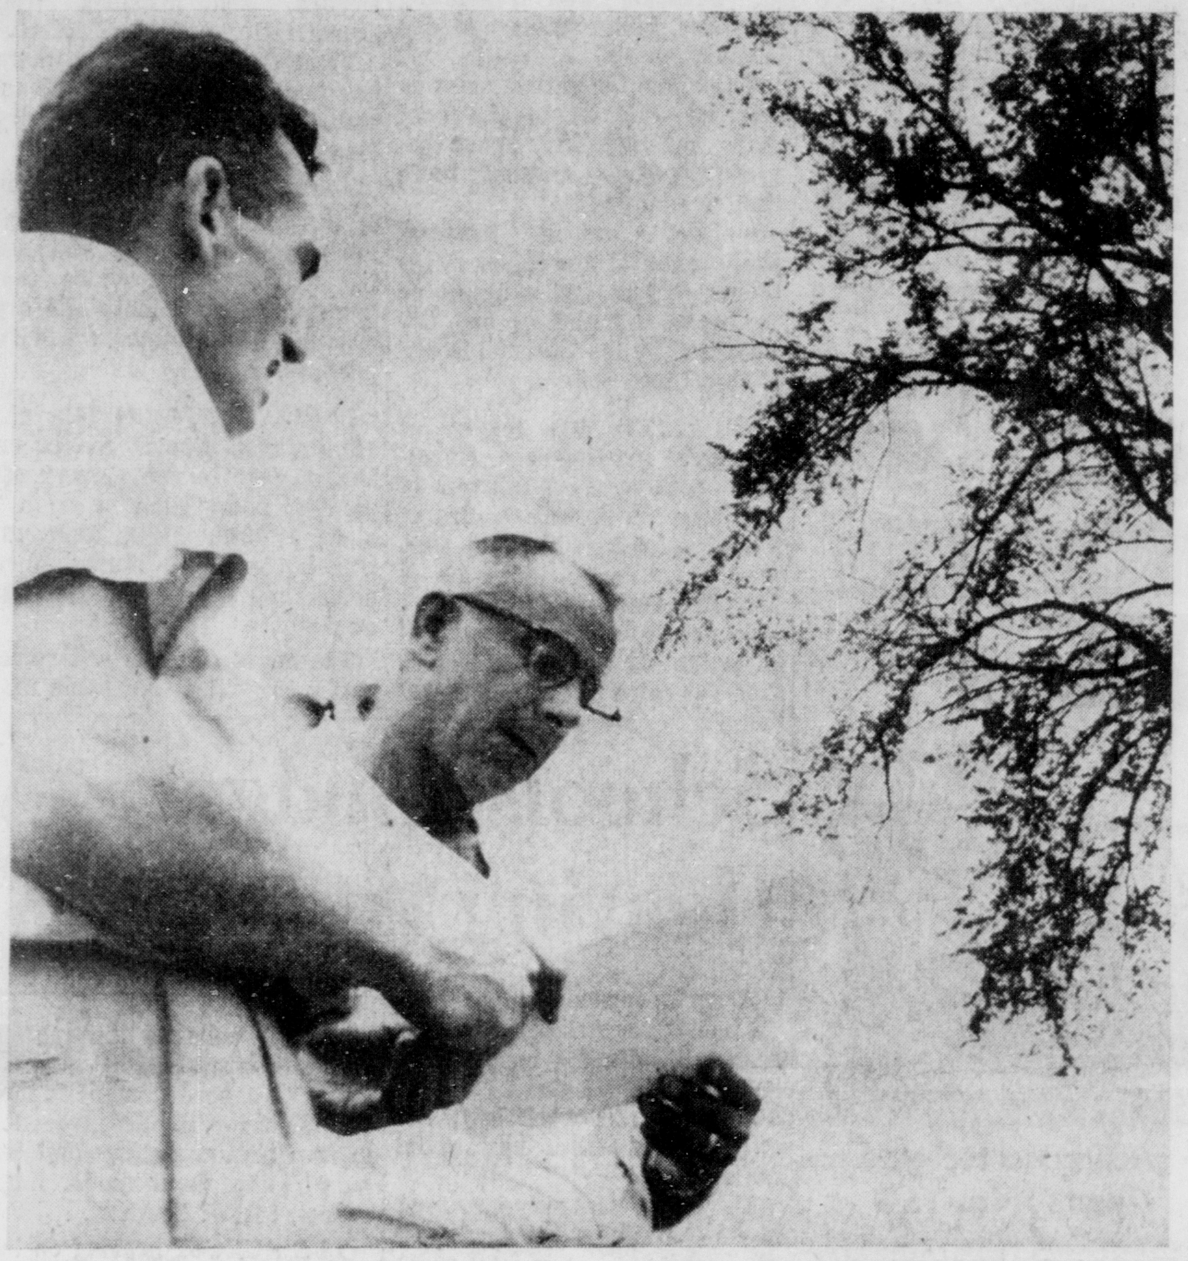
Plague Alarms Village



INSPECTING TREES for Dutch elm disease this week were John Best (left), village planning engineer, and Paul Tossman, village inspector. The tree disease has captured the attention of Arlington Heights trustees, who have asked Village Manager Hanson to update his forestry report.

In the wake of residents' complaints that the disease is spreading at an alarming rate, the board of trustees last week directed Village Manager L. A. Hanson to update his five-month-old forestry report.

The report, prepared in February, accurately describes the menace of the disease and suggests means of fighting it.

Hanson concluded his report by saying, "We must continue to spray and trim trees, but must also enact the same controls on private property as enacted on village property."

Apparently, bark beetles which cause the disease, spread from trees on private property to those being sprayed and trimmed by the village.

The American Forestry Assn. suggests the levying of a tax to provide funds for long-range control programs. Illinois law enables municipalities to hold referendums for the purpose of gaining monies for forestry programs.

According to Hanson, 94 trees in the village are now infected with the Dutch elm disease, while 52 others are under observation. This year's budget allows $1,500 for replacing dead trees.

Trustees hope the manager's revised forestry report will be presented in August.

Voter Registration Camaign Is Mapped

Even though you are a registered voter today, when the 1962 elections are here, you may not be able to vote!

Civic leaders and the League of Women Voters of Arlington Heights met Tuesday night to map plans for getting residents re-registered.

A 1959 act of the Illinois General Assembly requires that all registered voters in Cook county re-register on or after September 16, 1961. On that date, all previous registrations will be destroyed.

Mrs. Louis Nye, president of the League of Women Voters, told 40 Arlington Heights civic leaders that they were aiming for 100 per cent re-registration by the 1962 elections.

She explained that, "In 1934 the League of Women Voters pressed the General Assembly for permanent voter registration. By 1941 the whole state fell under this act.

"However, we also supported the 1959 bill, because we believe that permanent registration is not perpetual registration."

Working closely with the Arlington Heights League is a newly formed Re-registration Coordinating Committee headed by Raymond H. Stevenson. Stevenson's committee is attempting to coordinate the efforts of all civic groups in Wheeling township in getting residents re-registered.

Frank L. Kams, representing this committee, explained that the League of Women Voters will be asked to handle the re-registration program within the village limits of Arlington Heights. His committee and the Democratic and Republican organizations will handle the program in the unincorporated areas in the township.

MRS. RUSSELL Gardner, chairman of the re-registration committee for the Women Voters, outlined her campaign for canvassing Arlington Heights. "We have grouped the 27 precincts in Arlington Heights into seven areas. Each will be headed by an area chairman.

"Each of the area chairmen will in turn supervise a number of block chairmen, who will be doing the actual leg work," she added. She estimates that a total of 270 block chairmen will have to be recruited from interested residents and organizations in Arlington Heights before September 15.

The following timetable will be put into motion in the near future:

—September 1 publicity will be released in Arlington Heights:

—September 11-14 block workers will contact residents;

—September 15 will be the first re-registration day at the polling precincts where national elections are tallied;

—September 18 a listing of those who have not re-registered will be posted;

—October 7 as a part of the "125 years of progress" celebration a float will be sponsored in the Arlington Heights parade;

—October 9-12 block leaders will contact those who did not re-register;

—March 13 of 1962 will be the last time to re-register at the national election polling places.

Interested Arlington Heights residents and civic organizations who would like to help the League of Women Voters this fall are urged to telephone Mrs. Gardner at CL 9-2757.

DavidPaddock Dies in West

David A. Paddock, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Paddock, died Sunday, July 30 at Napa Valley Veterans hospital near San Francisco, where he had been hospitalized for five years.

Mr. Paddock was one of the first northwest area residents to volunteer for military service in 1917, almost immediately after President Wilson declared war. After Navy boot training, he was assigned to the battleship U.S.S. New Mexico, on which he served throughout World War I.

BORN JAN. 11, 1893, in Libertyville, Mr. Paddock was a member of the second class to graduate from Arlington Heights high school. He learned the printing trade in his father's office. As a linotype operator, he was employed many years in the composing room of the San Francisco Chronicle.

His wife is the former Margaret Hyde. They have two children, Fern and Stuart.

He is also survived by two brothers and three sisters: Stuart R. Paddock of Palatine; Charles Paddock, Lucile Paddock, and Mrs. Daisy Daniels of Arlington Heights; and Dr. Jeannette Nichols of Philadelphia.

Mr. Paddock's death was the first of the six children of the founder of Paddock Publications.

Double Treat for Music Lovers Set

Music lovers will have a double treat tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in Recreation park, Arlington Heights, when the Arlingtones, a barbershop octet from the Arlington chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, and the Arlington Area Summer Concert band present a combined concert.

The band portion of the program will also include routines by the Arlington high school Cardettes.

Dan Krebsbach will be master of ceremonies for the Arlingtones, who will present their styling of the familiar barbershop choruses which are the favorites of audiences the world over.

F. C. Schmoyer is director of the Arlington Area Concert band. Featured on the band program will be such crowd-pleasers as the "Allsports March"; highlights from the musical "Take Me Along"; "Papaya," a trombone solo in beguine rhythm featuring Larry Jauch.

Also, selections from "Showboat"; a modern setting of the old favorite, "Come Back to Sorrento," featuring Al Benevich as trumpet soloist: "Hey, Look Me Over" from the musical "Wildcat"; and many others.

THE CONCERT, sponsored by the Arlington Heights park district, will be on the lawn at Recreation park.

On Thursday, Aug. 10, the entire chorus of the Arlington SPEBQSA chapter and the concert band will present a second concert on the lawn of Pioneer park.

For Trustees' Action

Laundry, Dry Cleaner Ordinance on Agenda

Arlington Heights trustees this week were "studying up" in anticipation of Monday's discussion on a proposed ordinance for licensing and regulating laundries, laundromats and dry cleaners.

Action on the ordinance was deferred July 24 to the first board meeting in August because trustees wanted more time to examine it.

Included among trustees' study material are copies of the ordinance text and a report on "self-service laundries and dry cleaners" by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

EXPECTED TO testify at Monday's meeting are an attorney well-versed in this type of legislation, a former owner of a successful laundry, and owners of automatic laundries in Arlington Heights.

Coin-operated laundries located in the village are: R and E Coin Operated Laundromat, 114 S. Dryden; Wala Washerette and Cleaners, 822 W. Northwest hwy.; Wash-N-Shop, 36 N. Dryden, and Washing Well Launderette, 1822 N. State rd.

Village officials report there has been a request for the installation of an automatic dry cleaning business.

The ordinance, drawn by Village Attorney Jack M. Siegel at the request of Village Manager L. A. Hanson, provides that laundries, laundromats and dry cleaning establishments will be licensed.

IT ALSO STIPULATES the village shall inspect the premises of each business every six months, hours shall be from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m., an attendant will be on duty during open hours, and license will cost $75 annually.

The board of underwriters report says: "It is advisable that self-service laundries and dry cleaning establishments have an attendant on duty."

There is reportedly mixed feelings on the part of trustees as to the desirability of an ordinance regulating these businesses.

Schools' Budget Hearing August 29

A public hearing on the 1961-'62 budget for Arlington Heights school district 25 has been scheduled for August 29, it was announced this week by Peter R. Bakas, board of education secretary.

The budget, recently approved in its tentative form by board members, calls for the appropriation of $2,323,206.

THE AUGUST hearing on the budget and appropriation ordinance will be held in the administration building. The hearing will begin at 8 p.m.

The budget breaks down into four categories as follows: educational fund, $1,979,060; building fund, $268,896,000; transportation fund, $52,000; and Illinois Municipal Retirement fund (IMRF), $23,250.
BF), $23,250.

Total estimated expenditure for construction of two new grade schools and two building additions is $1,114,256. Most of this income is derived from the sale of bonds and not from taxes.

Last year's budget totaled $2,138,767. (AF

A Message From George Harris
"Your Pharmacist"

WANT A PHARMACIST IN YOUR FAMILY?
Soon our colleges of pharmacy will again begin to teach embryo pharmacists how to practice this ancient profession.

HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATES ARE ELIGIBLE.
They will study Chemistry, Biology, Physiology, Physics, Latin, Mathematics, Anatomy, Public Health, advanced English, Bacteriology, Clinical Microscopy and Pharmocology.

THEY WILL LEARN HOW TO DISPENSE PRESCRIPTIONS.
But, first they must be taught the properties, dosage and incompatibilities of all medicines, herbs and chemicals, including the newer discoveries. They will compound lotions, pills, tablets, suppositories and ointments accurately, carefully and skillfully in the college laboratory.

AND, BEFORE RECEIVING A REGISTERED PHARMACIST'S license they must pass a state examination and serve an apprenticeship in a pharmacy.

WHY IS SO MUCH KNOWLEDGE NEEDED?
Because, everytime we dispense a medicine we hold your life in our care.

ASK US FOR MORE INFORMATION.
If any member of your family wishes to study pharmacy there may still be time to enter if grades are good. Pharmacists earn better than average salaries and our work of service to the sick is spiritually rewarding.

DavidPaddock Dies in West

David A. Paddock, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Paddock, died Sunday, July 30 at Napa Valley Veterans hospital near San Francisco, where he had been hospitalized for five years.

Mr. Paddock was one of the first northwest area residents to volunteer for military service in 1917, almost immediately after President Wilson declared war. After Navy boot training, he was assigned to the battleship U.S.S. New Mexico, on which he served throughout World War I.

BORN JAN. 11, 1893, in Libertyville, Mr. Paddock was a member of the second class to graduate from Arlington Heights high school. He learned the printing trade in his father's office. As a linotype operator, he was employed many years in the composing room of the San Francisco Chronicle.

His wife is the former Margaret Hyde. They have two children, Fern and Stuart.

He is also survived by two brothers and three sisters: Stuart R. Paddock of Palatine; Charles Paddock, Lucile Paddock, and Mrs. Daisy Daniels of Arlington Heights; and Dr. Jeannette Nichols of Philadelphia.

Mr. Paddock's death was the first of the six children of the founder of Paddock Publications.

For Trustees' Action

Laundry, Dry Cleaner Ordinance on Agenda

Arlington Heights trustees this week were "studying up" in anticipation of Monday's discussion on a proposed ordinance for licensing and regulating laundries, laundromats and dry cleaners.

Action on the ordinance was deferred July 24 to the first board meeting in August because trustees wanted more time to examine it.

Included among trustees' study material are copies of the ordinance text and a report on "self-service laundries and dry cleaners" by the National Board of Fire Underwriters.

EXPECTED TO testify at Monday's meeting are an attorney well-versed in this type of legislation, a former owner of a successful laundry, and owners of automatic laundries in Arlington Heights.

Coin-operated laundries located in the village are: R and E Coin Operated Laundromat, 114 S. Dryden; Wala Washerette and Cleaners, 822 W. Northwest hwy.; Wash-N-Shop, 36 N. Dryden, and Washing Well Launderette, 1822 N. State rd.

Village officials report there has been a request for the installation of an automatic dry cleaning business.

The ordinance, drawn by Village Attorney Jack M. Siegel at the request of Village Manager L. A. Hanson, provides that laundries, laundromats and dry cleaning establishments will be licensed.

IT ALSO STIPULATES the village shall inspect the premises of each business every six months, hours shall be from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m., an attendant will be on duty during open hours, and license will cost $75 annually.

The board of underwriters report says: "It is advisable that self-service laundries and dry cleaning establishments have an attendant on duty."

There is reportedly mixed feelings on the part of trustees as to the desirability of an ordinance regulating these businesses.

Schools' Budget Hearing August 29

A public hearing on the 1961-'62 budget for Arlington Heights school district 25 has been scheduled for August 29, it was announced this week by Peter R. Bakas, board of education secretary.

The budget, recently approved in its tentative form by board members, calls for the appropriation of $2,323,206.

THE AUGUST hearing on the budget and appropriation ordinance will be held in the administration building. The hearing will begin at 8 p.m.

The budget breaks down into four categories as follows: educational fund, $1,979,060; building fund, $268,896,000; transportation fund, $52,000; and Illinois Municipal Retirement fund (IMRF), $23,250.
BF), $23,250.

Total estimated expenditure for construction of two new grade schools and two building additions is $1,114,256. Most of this income is derived from the sale of bonds and not from taxes.

Double Treat for Music Lovers Set

Music lovers will have a double treat tonight (Thursday) at 8 p.m. in Recreation park, Arlington Heights, when the Arlingtones, a barbershop octet from the Arlington chapter of the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, and the Arlington Area Summer Concert band present a combined concert.

The band portion of the program will also include routines by the Arlington high school Cardettes.

Dan Krebsbach will be master of ceremonies for the Arlingtones, who will present their styling of the familiar barbershop choruses which are the favorites of audiences the world over.

F. C. Schmoyer is director of the Arlington Area Concert band. Featured on the band program will be such crowd-pleasers as the "Allsports March"; highlights from the musical "Take Me Along"; "Papaya," a trombone solo in beguine rhythm featuring Larry Jauch.

Also, selections from "Showboat"; a modern setting of the old favorite, "Come Back to Sorrento," featuring Al Benevich as trumpet soloist: "Hey, Look Me Over" from the musical "Wildcat"; and many others.

THE CONCERT, sponsored by the Arlington Heights park district, will be on the lawn at Recreation park.

On Thursday, Aug. 10, the entire chorus of the Arlington SPEBQSA chapter and the concert band will present a second concert on the lawn of Pioneer park.

Many Convicts 'Repeaters'

Agency Report Cites Reasons

Returned to society as paupers, they often are forced to turn to crime even if they intended to "go straight."

Most American convicts are ripe for renewed lawlessness when they are released from prison.

This was revealed in a comprehensive study released this week by the John Howard association, a Chicago prisoner welfare agency.

The study, "Money Against Crime," suggests that American prisons are foolish in releasing convicts with their pockets all but empty.

In sampling of 128 prisoners in Terre Haute, Ind., and Leavenworth, Kan., penitentiaries, the study found that 63 per cent of the convicts were "repeaters" because of economic problems.

ON RELEASE the convict often has little more than the clothes on his back and transportation money.

Taxes pay the maximum, $50, to a prisoner on release. The bulk of states give a prisoner $10-$25. Five states pay nothing. Illinois averages $25 per prisoner.

In 20 states, 90-100 per cent of the inmates earn money in prison, but, the survey showed, six states allow no inmate earnings and in five others no more that 10 per cent of the prisoners have prison income.

In Illinois, only 25 per cent of inmates can earn spending or saving money. The average prisoner who has worked in the industries at Joliet has $56 when he is released, plus his $25 state gratuity.

To compound his problem, the prisoner with a family discovers that the Aid to Dependent Children is cut off the day he is released. Most other welfare agencies also immediately cut off contributions when the prisoner is discharged.

"THESE families, extremely impoverished to begin with, sometimes are faced with a situation where the grestest contribution the ex-convict can make to support his dependents is to return to prison so that they may retain eligibility for public relief," the study noted.

Since few convicts have large sums of money at release, immediate employment is a necessity.

The releasees, if they cannot find a job, either must return to crime, or cause their families to do without necessities.

Possessing poor work records, long arrest records, and low levels of skill, the ex-convict's chance of finding a legitimate job is slim.

One repeater, interviewed in the study, remarked:

"WITH 30,000 people unemployed in this city, the chance of a Negro ex-con getting a job isn't much."

Many, attempting to escape identity as an "ex-con," buy expensive clothes and spend freely. What funds they have are quickly depleted.

In the end, the convict often is caught in a confusing maze of economic pressures.

Without the means to legitimately support himself and his family, the ex-convict once again becomes alienated toward society.

He might have to rely on his relatives for support. Thus he is thrown back into the same environment in which he first turned to crime.

Having nowhere else to turn, he may go to a charitable agency's shelter, which most often is in a skid row among many invitations to renewed crime.

The report states: "It is rarely if ever true in the United States that a man has no alternatives other than to steal or to die.

"BUT IN many cases circumstances make it nearly so no matter how well the ex-prisoner has been rehabilitated and how hard he tries."

With this background, the report cited the sampling of 128 Terre Haute and Leavenworth penitentiary "repeaters."

Of the 81 men who returned because of economic problems, the study found that:

—18 were unable to procure employment despite apparently prolonged and sincere efforts;

—Nine were unable to maintain minimum living standards due to clearly inadequate income or unusual expenses;

—11 of the repeaters found jobs which could have adequately provided them with their needs. But they had aspirations for a living standard higher than their legitimate wage permitted;

Another 18, although facing economic problems, made no legitimate efforts to solve these problems.

"It can be conservatively estimated that the State and Federal governments spend over three thousand dollars on the care and processing of the average prisoner before he is released. For many prisoners they spend tens of thousands of dollars," the report said.

"Would it not seem wise to spend a small amount on financial assistance at release, or in the immediate post-release period," he report continued, "where it would reduce the probability of the offender's return to prison?"

As short-range measures to give the ex-convict an opportunity to enter society, the report suggests that:

More prisons should allow inmates to earn money while they are serving terms.

"THE opportunity to earn money in prison is a tremendous prize for most inmates, and this permits the correctional administrator to employ it as a major incentive with which to motivate his changes," the study reports.

The example of 10 states, which allow released convicts to take out loans, should be followed by the other 40.

According to the study, California has the most effective loan program.

The program appropriates up to $70 per releasee in the form of meal tickets and/or room credits.

California's director of corrections said that his state's small annual loan appropriation "more than pays for itself if it saves the state the cost of handling violations by even a small number of economically desperate parolees."

TRADE training and employment at the trade acquired would have been advantageous to many of these men by increasing their economic security and confidence.

Additional difficulties might be avoided if more half-way houses, like St. Leonard's house in Chicago, or the 308 West Residence, were instituted.

Such institutions would offer a retreat other than crime where the releasee could find emergency assistance, according to the study.

As a remedy, the study suggests the removal of restrictions on unemployment benefits for those who have suffered a prolonged period of involuntary unemployment.

This assistance is provided for the bulk of the American labor force through the unemployment insurance provisions of the Social Security Act.

However, the act denies assistance to those who have been hospitalized, imprisoned, or disabled in the preceding years.

"A MORE realistic program of economic assistance for crime prevention," the study said, "would involve more automatic granting of assistance on the basis of current need, regardless of prior employment."

"In actual practice," the report concludes, "economic assistance may create social and psychological benefits for a released prisoner which are more profound than any for which professional staffs can be made available. . . .

"The effectiveness of counselling is greatly limited when a man is hungry and penniless."

Duplicate Bridge Results Revealed

Pairs from Des Plaines and Park Ridge captured first place honors at the Northwest Suburban YMCA's bi-weekly duplicate bridge tournament Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, Park Ridge, and Ed Bodenstab and Dallas Erickson, Des Plaines, topped some 20 other entrants.

Second place awards went to Mr. and Mrs. William Nightingale, Arlington Heights; Ann Stevens and Mrs. Wade Storer, Park Ridge; and Jack Farrell, Palatine, and Chester Rumpf, Arlington Heights.

NEXT GAME at the "Y" is scheduled for August 11 at 8 p.m. Director Chester Rumpf said there would be no game scheduled for the fourth Friday, August 25.

There is a duplicate game at Arlington Heights' Pioneer Park field house this Friday night. Both the "Y" games and the Arlington games are open to the public.

The program appropriates up to $70 per releasee in the form of meal tickets and/or room credits.

California's director of corrections said that his state's small annual loan appropriation "more than pays for itself if it saves the state the cost of handling violations by even a small number of economically desperate parolees."

TRADE training and employment at the trade acquired would have been advantageous to many of these men by increasing their economic security and confidence.

Additional difficulties might be avoided if more half-way houses, like St. Leonard's house in Chicago, or the 308 West Residence, were instituted.

Such institutions would offer a retreat other than crime where the releasee could find emergency assistance, according to the study.

As a remedy, the study suggests the removal of restrictions on unemployment benefits for those who have suffered a prolonged period of involuntary unemployment.

This assistance is provided for the bulk of the American labor force through the unemployment insurance provisions of the Social Security Act.

However, the act denies assistance to those who have been hospitalized, imprisoned, or disabled in the preceding years.

"A MORE realistic program of economic assistance for crime prevention," the study said, "would involve more automatic granting of assistance on the basis of current need, regardless of prior employment."

"In actual practice," the report concludes, "economic assistance may create social and psychological benefits for a released prisoner which are more profound than any for which professional staffs can be made available. . . .

"The effectiveness of counselling is greatly limited when a man is hungry and penniless."

Duplicate Bridge Results Revealed

Pairs from Des Plaines and Park Ridge captured first place honors at the Northwest Suburban YMCA's bi-weekly duplicate bridge tournament Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Smith, Park Ridge, and Ed Bodenstab and Dallas Erickson, Des Plaines, topped some 20 other entrants.

Second place award went to Mr. and Mrs. William Nightingale, Arlington Heights; Ann Stevens and Mrs. Wade Storer, Park Ridge; and Jack Farrell, Palatine, and Chester Rumpf, Arlington Heights.

NEXT GAME at the "Y" is scheduled for August 11 at 8 p.m. Director Chester Rumpf said there would be no game scheduled for the fourth Friday, August 25.

There is a duplicate game at Arlington Heights' Pioneer Park field house this Friday night. Both the "Y" games and the Arlington games are open to the public.

Unemployment Plight Target for Probers

Suburbanite Aids State Committee

by TOM EDWARDS

Who are the unemployed and how can they be returned to work?

This is the question being probed by a 37-man state committee appointed by Gov. Otto Kerner and including Kenneth Dougan, 1103 E. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

The committee, in conjunction with the Illinois State Employment Service and the Division of Unemployment Compensation, is actually embarking on its project this month.

A survey of the unemployed is to be made through the state's 53 employment and unemployment compensation offices.

THE CORE of the unemployed does not center in the northwest suburban area of Chicago, but the problem has no actual center. It strikes everyone, either directly or indirectly through his pocketbook. For the employed provide the relief doles to the unemployed and their families.

A total of 6.8 per cent of the labor force, 5,600,000, is officially estimated to be out of work. Forty per cent of this total is estimated to be married men with families.

Despite the general recent growth in the nation's economy, the unemployment total will continue to top 5,000,000, it is forecast.

BUT THE number of persons receiving welfare relief and not necessarily classified as unemployed is even greater, above 7.5 million on February 28 compared to 7.1 million a year ago and 3.8 million in 1945.

Who are the people out of work, what can they do and what job opportunities exist in the state for them?

Is the same basic group out of work this year that was out last year and the year before? Are many simply seasonally employed? Are there some who prefer to sit back and draw compensation during the off-season for their trades?

Of course there are the blind, disabled and aged.

But is the situation as it concerns able-bodied persons mainly striking minority groups such as Negroes because of bias? Also, is there irrational job discrimination against women—or has it even become somewhat reversed?

THE INFLUX of women into the labor market since the beginning of World War II has greatly increased the number counted as members of the labor force. Is this a factor for the increase in unemployment?

What about the continuing migration from the farm to the city? Are many more persons who were always at least partially employed as farmers now fully unemployed in cities?

Are skilled workers as well as unskilled among the ranks of unemployed? Is ever increasing automation continually reducing the market for unskilled labor—or are the skills needed changing as new manufacturing processes are developed?

(Automation and new methods of production definitely seem to be factors. Although wages and production are hitting new highs, the percentage of unemployed clings with us.)

IN ADDITION, is the mobile American really not so mobile as he is usually said to be, remaining in depressed areas rather than following the job market?

It is hoped that answers to these questions will result from the survey.

Also from the survey, ways to train or retrain individuals are to be planned.

KENNETH DUGAN

People who have skills now obsolescent are to be given new skills with which to meet the needs of the modern job market.

Those who have no job skill are to be trained in one.

It is believed that many concerns are actively seeking persons to fill job vacancies at levels above the bottom layer of unskilled jobs. It is also believed that the extent of this bottom layer is continually narrowing. This is to be either substantiated or not in the survey.

THEORETICALLY, those who can be given new, usable skills will be able to move above the bottom floor level of employment. Thus, the demand for unskilled jobs will be reduced, providing more employment for the unskilled.

The Illinois study and planning will put the state on the ground floor for possibly receiving Federal aid being sought by President Kennedy for retraining unemployed. The President would spend about $1 billion over a four-year period.

From these funds, an estimated 800,000 jobless workers are to receive training over the four-year period. Some of the employed will also be trained, such as unskilled youths and heads of farm families making under $1,200 per year.

ALSO ELIGIBLE for training will be welfare cases not included among the unemployed rolls. Mothers on welfare may never have been employed, and certain individuals may have left the work force years ago and now wish to return.

Cook county already has a retraining program going on in an old, five-story factory just west of the Loop. Included in the operation is a placement service.

"We take people who have nothing to offer an employer and give them a simple skill that is salable in today's job market," says A. N. Landa, head of the county's welfare rehabilitation.

"Only about a third of those trained find jobs immediately, and one-third of those are back on relief within a year."

YET THE county program, which is expected to operate at a $250,000 deficit in 1961, can only handle a few of Chicago's unemployed. But because one-sixth of those who receive training do find permanent jobs, it is considered successful.

Some wages may be received in cases of on-the-job training, taking some of the support burden off the government.

Kennedy's administration is also pushing a program to provide training and temporary work for young men and women between 16 and 22, including a Youth Conservation Corps akin to the Civilian Conservation Corps (CCC) of Franklin D. Roosevelt's regime.

Arlington Heights' Dougan notes that community junior colleges will be considered by the state committee as a means of providing skills for the unemployed, new skills for the employed and those youths who are to become employed.

He also said that what is being done in vocational high school programs will be considered.

ILLINOIS, Dougan feels, is particularly weak in technical training schools.

The committee will have to guard against merely "shuffling the cards around" rather than expanding total employment, he said. That is, simply putting one person to work and another out of work.

How effective a retraining program will be in the state, Dougan surmised, will be contingent upon the trainability of the persons unemployed. He presented an eyebrow lifting survey of one area that indicated about 50 per cent of the unemployed were unable to learn a marketable skill.

In addition, he noted one federal statistic saying that about four million of the nation's labor force will continually be counted on among the unemployed due to a normal turnover of jobs, shifting from one job to another.

AUTOMATION, he continued, does not necessarily mean that people now need to have more skill and brains rather than muscle to perform modern jobs. Sometimes a new machine or process may actually call for less human discretion and reasoning than its more primitive counterpart.

As to such projects as the Youth Conservation Corps, he recalled that the Recreation Park swimming pool in Arlington was built by the WPA.

Dougan is personnel director of Time, Inc., and a member of high school district 214 school board. Chairman of the spe- board. Chairman of the special state committee on unemployment is Frank H. Cassell, personnel director of Inland Steel Co. (A14

Former Agent Tells Danger of Espionage

Elements of United States espionage have been drastically changed in the past 16 years, a former intelligence officer told members of the Arlington Heights Rotary club July 20.

"Since the end of World War II, we've seen the creation and rise of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) which is now responsible for the nation's intelligence work," observed Stephen Jurco, a 48-year-old Arlington Heights attorney.

Jurco, an officer in the Counter Intelligence Corps (CIC) from 1942 to 1945, said today's intelligence system goes one step beyond those taken during World War II.

THE CIC—discontinued after World War II—was responsible for gathering, evaluating and disseminating information, Jurco pointed out.

"The U. S. government has now given the CIA one more power: that of instigating action in foreign countries. CIA agents are being induced to aid in the overthrow of other governments.

"The investment of this power may prove a dangerous step to have taken."

Jurco, of 217 Windsor dr. in the suburb, said Americans have historically disliked to engage in intelligence or "spying" activities. When World War II broke out, the United States had no intelligence corps, he said.

A CRASH program was started. Carefully chosen agents were given thorough training in military, academic, investigative and field work. Intelligence duties were divided among the FBI, Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI), CIC and others.

Jurco cited well-known battles and conferences where one or more of the elements of intelligence were missing, resulting in imperfect performance.

"Intelligence agents know no friends," Jurco said. "We never know who tomorrow's enemies will be, so we have to gather information about our friends too."

He said the British are acknowledged as having the best intelligence organization, but that the United States is known for its high quality of intelligence personnel.

JURCO RECALLED he once investigated 150 people to get a case against an American traitor in France. Prior to D-Day, he oversaw security at a paratroop training center.

STEPHEN JURCO

"We've overcome the climate of apathy toward intelligence, but now must be careful a Frankenstein isn't created," he concluded. (B8

Realtor Is Lecturer At College

In Levin's talk, "Real Estate as a Vocation", he emphasized the advantages of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, the local board, and the term "Realtor". He discussed the State of Illinois Real Estate Brokers and Salesmen law and briefly outlined the requirements for a state license.

Levin explained the opportunities in the real estate field and its rewards in personal achievement and the sense of doing work of "the highest importance for the community."

Suburban Living: Does It Have Advantages?

'Yes' Answer Comes Easily

by JOHN REDDY

Newspaper and magazine writers have been taking verbal pot shots at suburban living ever since the building boom echoed World War II.

And, every time they raise a crooked finger to a typewriter keyboard, it appears that suburbanites turn out to be some strange order of frustrated freaks with problems only death and sanitariums can solve.

"Sure there are disadvantages," says Adolf Blomberg, a 5-year resident at 1711 Bonita, Mount Prospect. "But there are many advantages family-wise.

He cited adjustment of children and transportation, pointing out these difficulties soon were righted by time and a second automobile.

Mrs. Blomberg, who feels "home is where the heart is, whether it be city or suburb," admitted the inconvenience of not having a car was no more difficult than attempting to get to the store when she lived in the city and had to fight traffic and young children.

BLOMBERG said his children were closer to a recreation area in the city than they are in Mount Prospect. However, he pointed out that the distance is no greater than for many of the children using Chicago's Lincoln park.

Life at 114 Berkley lane, Hoffman Estates, has had a "different tempo" for the George Pearson family, suburbanites for four years after vacating a Chicago apartment.

"In the city we were always wondering 'where to go?' " recalled Mrs. Pearson. "It was a constant go, go, go to get away from the apartment."

The Pearsons have four children aged 15, 12, 3 and 2. According to Mrs. Pearson, the younger children have greater freedom of play and the young teenagers are not forced into an early and frustrating maturity.

"THEY HAVE more time to be children. And I don't think people must have organized recreation for children to be content."

She cited badminton, croquet, volley ball and backyard "swimming" as attractions for her boys.

"Many people come out here with a problem and expect it to disappear," declared Mrs. Pearson. "Just moving isn't going to rid them of it. If they have problems in the city they just as likely will have them here."

Mrs. Richard Allen, 625 Charring Cross lane, Elk Grove Village, who is described by her husband as having a "positive view," said there are many advantages for suburban families that they could not enjoy in the city.

"But too often women tend to take advantage of the advantages suburban living offers."

TRAVELING is no problem for Mrs. Allen, whose husband, an insurance salesman, is home early enough in the afternoons to permit lengthy use of the family car before starting his evening calls.

"And you don't have to keep so close watch on the children here," she explained.

She added, however, "very often mothers go to the opposite extreme and fail to devote enough attention to their children, becoming preoccupied with housework and visiting neighbors."

She complained about the absence of intellectual and cultural variation in suburban living, but altered her opinion with the recognition that expressways now make Chicago's Loop as available as most nearby communities.

The Allens have children aged 4, 3, and 9½ months. They have lived in Elk Grove some four years.

AFTER two months of suburban living, Mrs. Richard Hengler, 1723 Kim, Mount Prospect, says it's "nice." She said apartment living was "kinda dark" and that "out here there are wide open spaces and you can watch the sun go down."

Mrs. Hengler believes there is not the need to keep the close surveillance over her 8-year-old son that she did in Chicago where streets and alleys proved attractive to youngsters.

"When you're in the city you always want to go to the country. Now it's like living in the country."

Most suburbanites will readily and some times too quickly, point out disadvantages to suburban living. But most say they and friends believe there are more advantages than disadvantages.

And the disadvantages are often magnified by people coming to the suburbs with an unrealistic image of glamour attached to semi-urban living.

"TOGETHERNESS" and excessive devotion to civic and social activities often are first-year or two characteristics that create problems for former city dwellers.

"But you soon are forced to decide which activities you can afford," stated Mrs. Pearson.

Perhaps the social ills chronically diagnosed as belonging only to suburban living are symptoms of a more wide-spread social malfunction.

ONLY TIME and a broader perspective of living habits including all modes of living will tell. (B8

"WOMEN DON'T HAVE to watch their children as much in the suburbs as they do in the city," says Mrs. Richard Allen, right, of 625 Charing Cross, Elk Grove. "But they shouldn't take advantage of it." Here she visits with neighbor, Mrs. Charles Touzinsky, 617 Charing Cross, while two of three Allen children, Tommy and Felicia, engage them in game of "Barbie." (B-8

Johnson Heads Junior College Survey Team

Dr. Eric Johnson, administrative assistant to the president of Illinois State Normal University, will head a Professional Survey committee on a possible junior college in Northwest suburbs.

The selection was made at the July 27 meeting of a steering committee composed of superintendents from nine participating high school districts — Arlington Heights, Evanston, Glenbrook, Highland Park, Maine, New Trier, Niles, Palatine and Ridgewod. The study is expected to be completed by February 1962.

DR. JOHNSON will divide the survey study into five major areas: building, population, curriculum, finance, and public relations. Each of these sub-committees will have a specialist in that particular field as its head.

These professional sub-committee chairmen will work with one of five lay groups to study the specific problem.

Superintendents of each of the nine districts will contact their local parents' group or school board to appoint two people — a delegate and an alternate — to represent their high school district on each of the five sub-committees and advise the professional chairman on the viewpoints of their communities. TIP FOR THE LADIES

by ED LANDWEHR

Many television sets have rollers and you ladies like to push the set around when you vacuum and clean. Sooner or later, you tear off the antenna connections behind the chassis.

There is no need to do this. We have been installing antenna connectors that cost less than a dollar. If you want to move the set, just unclip the antenna wire connection.

So, phone LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, for your next service call and we can quickly put this convenience on your set. CLearbrook 5-0700 is the phone number that many satisfied customers are using.

WHO PUTS MORE ROOFS OVER OUR HEADS ?

There is no country in the world where so many families own homes of their own as the United States . . . over 28,000,000, or 61% of all American families.

For 130 years Savings and Loan Associations have been putting roofs over our heads. The convenient method of monthly payments for repaying home loans like rent was developed by Savings and Loan Associations.

Today Insured Savings and Loan Associations finance more homes than all other financial institutions combined. In Cook County, they account for approximately 70% of all home loans.

At Arlington Heights Federal Savings, our experts in home financing have assisted almost 1,700 families in our northwest suburbs to become proud possessors of their own homes. We invite your visit when you need a home loan.

Suburban Living: Does It Have Advantages?

'Yes' Answer Comes Easily

by JOHN REDDY

Newspaper and magazine writers have been taking verbal pot shots at suburban living ever since the building boom echoed World War II.

And, every time they raise a crooked finger to a typewriter keyboard, it appears that suburbanites turn out to be some strange order of frustrated freaks with problems only death and sanitariums can solve.

"Sure there are disadvantages," says Adolf Blomberg, a 5-year resident at 1711 Bonita, Mount Prospect. "But there are many advantages family-wise.

He cited adjustment of children and transportation, pointing out these difficulties soon were righted by time and a second automobile.

Mrs. Blomberg, who feels "home is where the heart is, whether it be city or suburb," admitted the inconvenience of not having a car was no more difficult than attempting to get to the store when she lived in the city and had to fight traffic and young children.

BLOMBERG said his children were closer to a recreation area in the city than they are in Mount Prospect. However, he pointed out that the distance is no greater than for many of the children using Chicago's Lincoln park.

Life at 114 Berkley lane, Hoffman Estates, has had a "different tempo" for the George Pearson family, suburbanites for four years after vacating a Chicago apartment.

"In the city we were always wondering 'where to go?' " recalled Mrs. Pearson. "It was a constant go, go, go to get away from the apartment."

The Pearsons have four children aged 15, 12, 3 and 2. According to Mrs. Pearson, the younger children have greater freedom of play and the young teenagers are not forced into an early and frustrating maturity.

"THEY HAVE more time to be children. And I don't think people must have organized recreation for children to be content."

She cited badminton, croquet, volley ball and backyard "swimming" as attractions for her boys.

"Many people come out here with a problem and expect it to disappear," declared Mrs. Pearson. "Just moving isn't going to rid them of it. If they have problems in the city they just as likely will have them here."

Mrs. Richard Allen, 625 Charring Cross lane, Elk Grove Village, who is described by her husband as having a "positive view," said there are many advantages for suburban families that they could not enjoy in the city.

"But too often women tend to take advantage of the advantages suburban living offers."

The Neighborhood Party

Block-Size Entertainment

By MELDA LYNN

Entertainment comes in block size packages for residents in the northwest suburbs where "block parties" have become something like an institution.

Games, parades for the kids, "home talent shows," mountains of food, oceans of pop, music and neighborhood visiting add seasoning to an otherwise routine summer.

BLOCK PARTIES usually include the families living in a one-block area. Sometimes they will encompass residents in more than one block, or in a particular section of a neighborhood.

Block party enthusiasts are vigorous in their support of the neighborhood events. They begin planning for next year's "blast" before the night is over, with bigger and better predictions for things to come.

One annual block party, which has ispired other neighborhoods to begin such yearly events, has been held each summer for the past five years in Mount Prospect.

THE NEIGHBORS in the 200 block of N. Elmhurst, held their block party last Saturday with almost 100 per cent participation.

The day began with committee members decorating the street with colorful banners. Large flood lights were attached to trees, soft drinks put to ice in a large blue sailboat, and lawn chairs, picnic tables and eating utensils collected and brought to the center of the block by the men and children.

The women were busy preparing a picnic dinner which included barbecued beef, hot dogs, baked beans, potato salad, numerous jello salads, home baked cakes, relishes and coffee.

At four p.m. the streets, through permission from the village, were blocked off in the one-block section, defining the neighbors as one large, laughing, singing family.

THE GAMES' chairman had relay races with prizes for the kids. A water-filled balloon throw highlighted the afternoon.

Then came chow time! The fathers presided at the barbecue grills and the mothers at the heavily laden tables.

The evening was young, the moon bright, and the children anxious to entertain. They had been practicing their "parts" for the block party dancing recital all summer in anticipation of this night.

TINY TOTS, barely able to walk, danced intricate ballet, modern jazz, acrobatic and Hawaiian routines to the delight of proud parents and applause of guests.

Youngsters with musical and other talents, performed in a vaudeville show until the witching hour, 9:30, when all the kids were sent home to bed, and the "old folks" took over the entertainment.

Their skits were take-offs of well known television programs such as the Flintstones, The Roaring Twenties, and other shows.

Not to be left out of the fun and prizes enjoyed by offspring earlier, relay games for mom and dad were the order of the night.

RULES OF the evening were limited to laughing, visiting and eating. Just before the party ended, next year's chairman was appointed and presented with the official emblem of the neighborhood and 1962's neighborhood block party was assured.

This neighborhood block party is typical of others in northwest suburban communities. They're just as much a part of summer as swimming, baseball and popsicles and provide a wonderful way for neighbors to become fast friends. (B8

HOT DOG AND HAMBURGERS got special attention from the men who presided at the grills during block party in Mount Prospect, Saturday.

Q. Where should one's dining room chairs be placed when not in use—at the table, or elsewhere around the room?

A. This really depends upon space and convenience. One chair against each side of the table is the usual practice.

Coin Club Meeting Is Friday

Monticello Coin club will meet on Friday evening at 7:30 in the Palatine fieldhouse, 262 E. Chicago ave. This is a change of location from the usual, because the schools are closed in summer.

There will be a coin auction and display, and the regular business will be conducted. All those interested in coin collecting are welcome to attend. (B9

Q. When the bride is being married in a traveling dress, what should the bridegroom wear?

A. An ordinary business suit, or one that is appropriate for traveling, with perhaps a little white flower from the bride's corsage in his lapel.

Garden Luncheon For Elk Grove Unit

A garden luncheon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Heinkel was a pleasant surprise for Elk Grove Home Bureau members July 26. Hostesses were Mrs. Heinkel, Mrs. Arnold Garlisch and Mrs. Donald Kastning.

Mrs. Claradahl Upham presented the lesson for the month, 'You and Your Future," a guide in preparing for the years to come.

Another surprise for members was the presence at the meeting of Mrs. John Wetterman first chairman of Elk Grove Home Bureau when it was first organized 20 years ago. She held office or four years. The Wettermans retired to California six years ago.

A CORRECTION of craft days has been made. In the last news letter, September 26 was slated for the north side crafts. This should have read September 22.

Members who intend taking any of the crafts featured should bring self-addressed cards and give them to the leaders teaching the crafts in which they are interested.

Mrs. Noel Foss, Mrs. Ted DePalma and Mrs. Heinkel gave resumes on the achievements of the girls in their respective 4-H clubs. An adult leader is still needed for the Up and Doing 4-H club and anyone interested may contact Mrs. Foss, POrter 6-0631, or Mrs. Heinkel, HE 7-3241.

MRS. UPHAM informed members that reservations are still available for the August boat tour of the waterways in and around Chicago.

This year the Arlington Jockey club is exceeding its racing period, so the 4-H Fair officials had to hunt elsewhere for an appropriate site. The fair will be held August 19 at the Lake county fair grounds, intersection of routes 45 and 120, two miles west of Grayslake. All exhibits must be in place by 9 a.m. and release time for all exhibits is 6 p.m. Girls' 4-H clubs will not show at the fair this year.

BECAUSE AUGUST is vacation month for all units in Cook county, next meeting of the Elk Grove unit will be held September 27 at the home of Mrs. George Koelper in Niles when Mrs. Koelper, Mrs. Frank Kessler and Mrs. William Lacina will be dessert hostesses.

What's That?

The sun is for dials.—Helena Rubinstein.

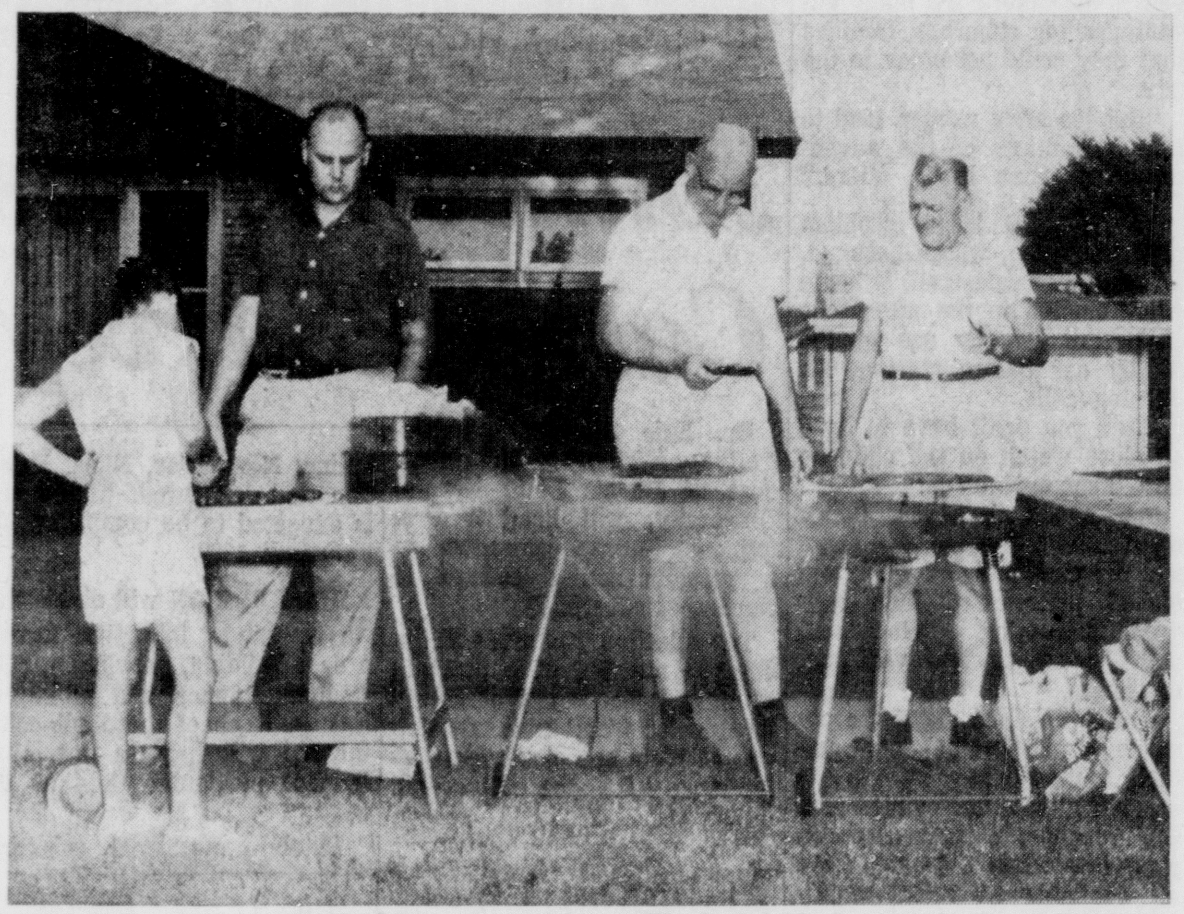
LITTLE GIRLS, some barely old enough to walk, were taught intricate dance steps by their older neighbor girl friends. The dancers put on a recital as a part of the entertainment at a recent block party.



HOT DOG AND HAMBURGERS got special attention from the men who presided at the grills during block party in Mount Prospect, Saturday.

Garden Luncheon For Elk Grove Unit

A garden luncheon at the home of Mrs. Clarence Heinkel was a pleasant surprise for Elk Grove Home Bureau members July 26. Hostesses were Mrs. Heinkel, Mrs. Arnold Garlisch and Mrs. Donald Kastning.

Mrs. Claradahl Upham presented the lesson for the month, 'You and Your Future,'' a guide in preparing for the years to come.

Another surprise for members was the presence at the meeting of Mrs. John Wetterman first chairman of Elk Grove Home Bureau when it was first organized 20 years ago. She held office or four years. The Wettermans retired to California six years ago.

A CORRECTION of craft days has been made. In the last news letter, September 26 was slated for the north side crafts. This should have read September 22.

Members who intend taking any of the crafts featured should bring self-addressed cards and give them to the leaders teaching the crafts in which they are interested.

Mrs. Noel Foss, Mrs. Ted DePalma and Mrs. Heinkel gave resumes on the achievements of the girls in their respective 4-H clubs. An adult leader is still needed for the Up and Doing 4-H club and anyone interested may contact Mrs. Foss, POrter 6-0631, or Mrs. Heinkel, HE 7-3241.

MRS. UPHAM informed members that reservations are still available for the August boat tour of the waterways in and around Chicago.

This year the Arlington Jockey club is exceeding its racing period, so the 4-H Fair officials had to hunt elsewhere for an appropriate site. The fair will be held August 19 at the Lake county fair grounds, intersection of routes 45 and 120, two miles west of Grayslake. All exhibits must be in place by 9 a.m. and release time for all exhibits is 6 p.m. Girls' 4-H clubs will not show at the fair this year.

BECAUSE AUGUST is vacation month for all units in Cook county, next meeting of the Elk Grove unit will be held September 27 at the home of Mrs. George Koelper in Niles when Mrs. Koelper, Mrs. Frank Kessler and Mrs. William Lacina will be dessert hostesses.

What's That?

The sun is for dials.—Helena Rubinstein.

Q. Where should one's dining room chairs be placed when not in use—at the table, or elsewhere around the room?

A. This really depends upon space and convenience. One chair against each side of the table is the usual practice.

Car Mishaps, Broken Bottles Face Emergency Room Staff

By KAY BLACKWOOD

In the emergency room of Northwest Community hospital last week, 29 people were treated for injuries sustained in automobile accidents. Second most common accidents were those involving broken bottles.

Treated for cuts when they fell on the broken glass were 5-year-old Jon Bauer, 2863 Grouse lane, Rolling Meadows; 3-year old Darryl Shelton, 320 Pleasant, Roselle; 4-year-old Linda Ahlbery, 349 Cedar lane, Elk Grove; and 2½-year-old Robert Bousman, 290 Flagstaff, Roselle.

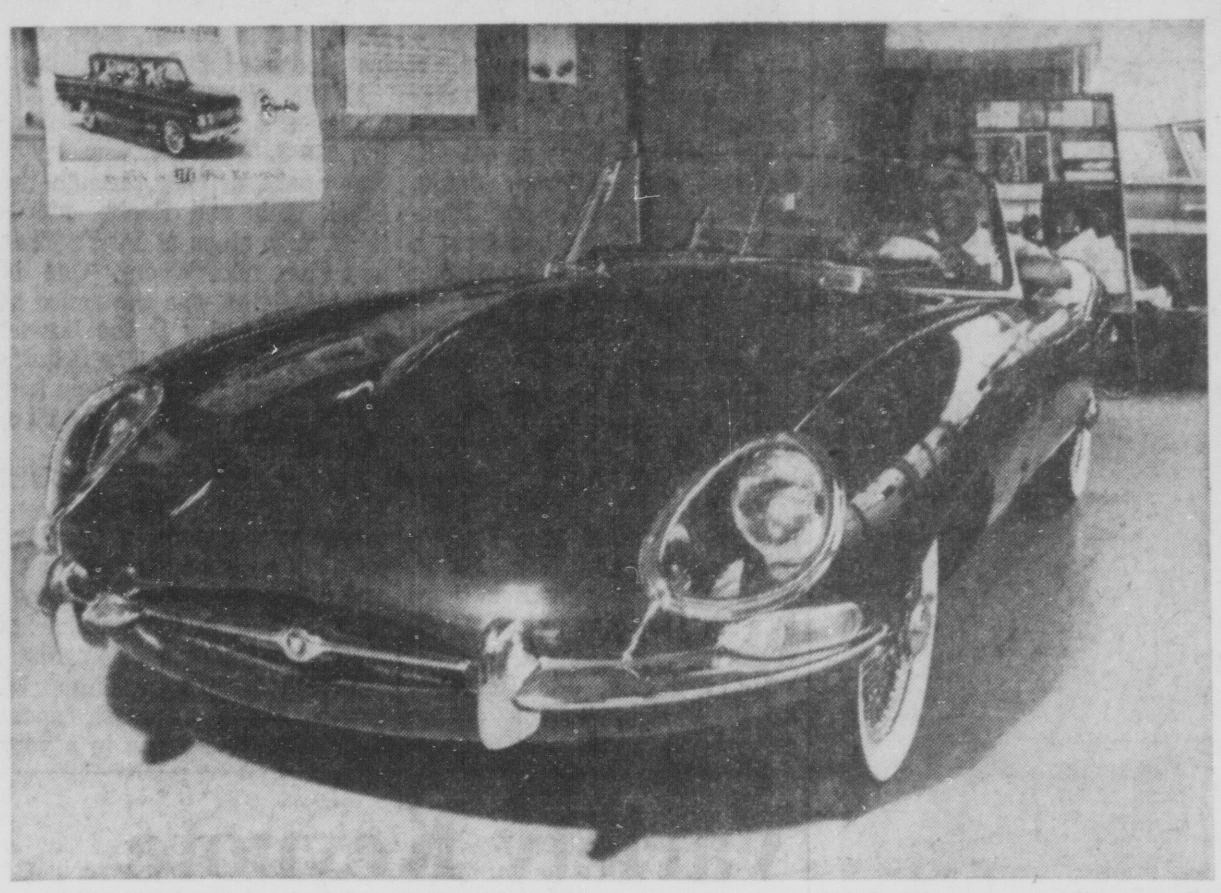
An automobile accident on Rohlwing rd. in Rolling Meadows injured six persons July 27. Examined and released were Miss Louise Parker of Michigan, Mrs. Hazel Parker and William Laffey of Chicago; and Berkley residents Mrs. Lillian Bunda, Anthony Bunda and A. E. Tiritilli.

TWO BROKEN wrists in each case were sustained when Thomas Reed, 8, of Palatine and Barry Fagala, 10, of Arlington Heights, fell from trees.

As unappealing as gasoline sounds, two area youngsters had to have their stomachs washed after drinking it. In this category were John Elster, 14 months, of Prospect Heights and 8-year-old William Campbell of Arlington Heights. Also making use of the stomach pump were Sharon Johnson of Rolling Meadows, who ate an unknown number of aspirin, and Marc Heyden of Palatine who ate an unknown number of mothballs.

Howard Peters, 106 W. Wing st., Arlington Heights, was examined and released following a traffic accident on the Congress expressway.

A Chicago resident, Pasquale Zaccardelli, was treated for a fractured collarbone and fractured ribs after a ditch collapsed on him.



MILT SOSTRIM, head of S & H Rambler, 500 Northwest Hwy., Palatine, is shown here with one of the latest of internationally-renowned "Jaguar" cars, the XK-E Roadster. Featuring classic styling, high performance and endurance, the Jaguar line also includes sports sedans for family-car versatility, and a choice of transmissions including automatics. One unique feature of the Jaguar Roadster is the headlight glass enclosure, for a special styling and streamling effect.

Route 14 west of Dryden was the scene of an accident involving two Chicago residents, Mrs. Mercedes Thompson and Mrs. Josephine Wasikowski. In another accident at Route 12 and Quentin rd. July 25, Jose Rodriguez of Lake Zurich and Mrs. Barbara LeMay, 220 S. Hi-Lusi, Mount Prospect, were injured.

HIT IN THE head with a golf club caused a laceration for 2½-year-old James Kushner, 1103 N. Haddow ct., Arlington Heights.

Nineteen - year - old Robert Setlik, 819 S. Emerson, Mount Prospect, was examined and released following an accident at Elmhurst and Lonnquist in Mount Prospect. In an accident in Rolling Meadows July 27, a Prospect Heights resident, Miss Faye Meehan, received bruises.

Playground equipment proved hazardous for two Mount Prospect youngsters, Robert Thrash, 9, 18 W. Hiawatha lane, and Ann Livingston, 9, 223 S. Edwards.

In an accident at Oakton and Route 83, an Elk Grove resident, Mrs. Edna Landmeier, 1913 E. Higgins, was injured. Mrs. Helga Kramer of Roselle was examined and discharged following another accident at Plum Grove and Johnson rd.

OTHER ACCIDENT victims were Mrs. Ida Gerken, 716 N. State, Arlington Heights, at Route 83 and McDonald rd.; Jane Rose of Barrington, at Route 14 and Wilke rd.; and Mrs. Anna Beyer, 315 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights, and Scott Liebert, 6, of Barrington, at Route 14 and Brockway, Palatine. Mrs. Beyer was admitted for observation, but the others were discharged.

First and second degree burns from steam were sustained by 7-year-old Sam Randazzo of Rolling Meadows, when a radiator cap was removed from a car.

Treated for head lacerations following an accident at Northwest highway and Euclid was John Garner, 4, of Arlington Heights. Also injured, this time in an accident on the tollway, was Elizabeth Haczynski, Roger Haczynski, 19, Maxine Haczynski, 12, and Kathleen Marki, 13, all of Chicago. All were examined and discharged.

Hit by an auto and admitted for observation July 29 was another Chicago resident, Dominic Bellantoona. In a similar accident was 20-month-old Christine Swanson of Palatine who was run over by a car backing out of a driveway.

More accidents were reported at Higgins rd. and the Forest Preserve and Rohlwing rd. and Route 14. Involved in these were Roger Gunderson, 831 Ela rd., Palatine; and Mrs. Viola McBride and Mrs. Helen Searle, both of Chicago. Mrs. Emily Krupa of Prospect Heights was discharged after her auto accident at Route 68 and McHenry rd.

An explosion of a bottle of soda water caused foot lacerations for Mrs. Dorothy Suder, 1915 E. Elmwood circle, Arlington Heights. (B8

Ballad of Soldier Makes Debut Here

"Ballad of a Soldier," acclaimed internationally by press and public and garlanded with two prizes at the Cannes Festival and the two top prizes at the San Francisco Film Festival will open Friday at the Prospect theatre.

A J. Jay Frankel presentation, distributed by Kingsley International Pictures, it is the first Russian film to be distributed independently under the Soviet American cultural exchange program.

The romantic drama costars Shanna Prokhorenko and Vladimir Ivashov, a team whose youth, fine looks and acting abilities have enraptured audiences and critics.

WITH Grigori Chukhrai directing, "Ballad of a Soldier" was filmed in the ancient town of Vladimir, near Moscow, with special units of the Red army participating. Vladimir Ivashov the young soldier, Alyosha, in "Ballad of a Soldier," was the seventy-third candidate to be interviewed and tested at the Mosfilm Studios. Young and pretty Shanna Prokhorenko was found by Chukhrai in an acting school.

Chukhrai, who wrote the script with Valentin Yoshov, met his collaborator in the Institute of Cinematography in Moscow. Studying together, they became close friends.

Yoshov served in the Navy in World War II; Chukhrai was a paratrooper. In writing "Ballad of a Soldier," they drew upon their own war experiences. Chukhrai was wounded five times, three times seriously.

A HERO of the defense of Stalingrad, who later was a member of the units which pursued the Germans across Austria, Chukhrai was awarded medals several times for his bravery.

His first film, "The Forty-first," brought his work to the attention of international film makers, and at recent Cannes Festival, it won a prize. "Ballad of a Soldier" was the second film under his direction.

Chukhrai has said that through his simple, yet profound love story of the adventures of a young boy and girl, he hoped to bring to the screen a feeling of the uselessness of war and the power of love for understanding among people of the world. (Bill

WESTGATE I

Mark, son of Bob and Sue Carlson, 307 N. Yale, recently celebrated his seventh birthday. Five neighborhood children accompanied him to the Arlington theatre for the showing of "Snow White and the Three Stooges." After the show they returned to his home for birthday cake and ice cream.

A farewell coffee was held in the home of Rose Conroy, 32 N. Reuter, last Wednesday evening for Henrietta Love. Cohostess was Mary Nicholson. Wishing her luck in her new home were 13 neighbors. The ladies gave Henrietta two gifts for her new home.

Monday was moving day for Henrietta and Dan Love and their children, Amy, Timmy, Terry and Kevin. For the past six years their residence has been at 23 N. Reuter, but they now will be living in Minneapolis.

Mike Conroy celebrated his seventh birthday by having Ronald Goeddeke, a former Westgate resident, as an overnight guest Friday. Saturday the boys visited the Shedd Aquarium. Sunday a family party was held, at which time Mike received congratulations from his grandparents, aunts, uncles and cousins. Mike is the son of Rose and Joe Conroy, 32 N. Reuter.

DON AND Grace Bellino recently returned from a week's visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Dominick Bellino, Chicago, who took them to the Museum of Science and Industry, to the Dunes and to the beach.

Alan and Kenneth Van Bladel returned home last Thursday evening from a 4-day visit with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Van Bladel, Maywood.

A long looked forward trip to Miami Beach, Fla., was enjoyed by Stella and Stan Stefan, 103 N. Reuter, and their children, Debby, Denise and Donna. They spent the two weeks sightseeing and swimming.

Theodore, son of Mary and Gus Nicholson, 35 N. Reuter, was christened last Saturday in St. John church, Des Plaines. After the ceremony a buffet dinner was served in their home to 40 adults and 15 children.

Jane and Sam Fiduccia and their six children returned home Sunday from a 2-week vacation in Butternut, Wis. While there they went swimming and fishing and did a good bit of relaxing. Jane had a few bad days from the after effects of a tetanus shot she needed after stepping on a rusted nail while swimming. The Fiduccias live at 1615 Johanna terr.

TWO WEEKS of fishing, swimming and relaxing was enjoyed by Arlene and Fred Hauth, 512 N. Yale, who with their children, Pamela, Denise and Edward, returned home Saturday from Tomahawk, Wis. They also saw a water ski show in Minocqua and made a side trip to Rhinelander.

A week ago Sunday a going-away party was held at the home of Phyllis and Clarence Wrobel, 1404 Fremont, for Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wrobel, Oak Lawn, who will be moving to Arizona next month. Fifty relatives and friends enjoyed the back yard barbecue.

Another couple who spent the past two weeks on vacation are Dorrie and Dick Riley, 511 N. Yale. They and their children, Bobby and LornaJean, stayed at the summer home of Dick's parents on Lac La Belle in Oconomowoc, Wis. They spent some of their time water skiing. Mrs. T. Gore, Dorrie's sister-in-law stayed with them for one week.

Carolyn Burkett and daughter, Candy, 1405 Euclid, and Lou Kuharich, 1701 Fremont, returned last Thursday from a 9-day visit to Reading, Pa. They drove there with Carolyn's mother, Mrs. Viola Rhoads, who had spent some time with the Burketts, and drove back with Carolyn's father, Mickey Devlin, who is staying with them now. The Kuharich children, Kenneth, Jimmy and Donna, stayed with an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Wittig, Melrose Park, while Lou was gone and Charlie batched it.

MR. AND MRS. W. C. Grove recently spent a week with their daughter and son-in-law, Marvette and Gene Ballou, 1418 St. James. They came here to see their newest grandchild, Kim, 5 months. They returned July 15 to their home in Buffalo, N. Y., taking with them Karen, 15, who was a bridesmaid last Saturday at the wedding of her cousin.

A baby shower was held in the home of Beulah Cutler, 1424 St. James, last Sunday for Joyce Werner. Co-hostess was Ann Welton. Presenting gifts to Joyce Werner for the expected new arrival were Lois Graham, Marvette Ballou, Patty Martinson, Dolores Goedke, Jackie Whiting, Pat Fields, Nancy Bengton, Ruth Koch and Lance Weed. Besides the stork centerpiece there was a cradle cake holding a baby, cup cakes with tiny babies sitting atop, salad, coffee and lemonade. Charlene Streich, Marge Mell, Betty Colvin and Rita Verchow were unable to attend.

Patty and Don Martinson and their children, Chuck, Betsy, Holly and Don, returned home July 16 from a 2½-week vacation to Cornucopia, Wis. They visited Don's mother, Mrs. Minnie Martinson, plus other members of his family who live in the vicinity. The Martinsons live at 1508 Miner.

WESTGATE II

A welcome is extended to Lou and George Sajdak and their daughters, Susan and Joann, who recently moved from Appleton, Wis., to 202 S. Yale. They will attend Our Lady of the Wayside church. After she gets settled, Lou is looking forward to joining the Newcomers club for a little bridge. George was transferred here by Allstate Insurance Co.

Saturday was a busy day for Lillian and John Ulizzi, 1516 W. Grove. Their daughter, Jeanne, was married to Chuck Matt that morning at 11 at Our Lady of the Wayside church, with many relatives on hand and later at home for the reception.

After sending the bride and groom on their way John asked all the neighbors in for a get-together. This gave everyone a chance to meet their new neighbors. Those on hand for the occasion were the Arnold Silvers, Louis Schmelzers, Joe Lazors, Joe Reinhardts, Don Hrubys, Jack Whiteheads, Jack McCalls, John Murrays, Bob Sindorfs, Paul Miresses and Bob Cunningham.

Last Friday Michael, son of Sarabel and Joe Lazor, 1508 W. Grove, celebrated his sixth birthday with a luncheon for his neighborhood friends. A circus cake and table decorations were admired by Gary Teletzke, Kenny Whitehead, Dennis Miresse, Paul Richard. Sister Susan helped mother serve. Christopher McCall and Danny Schmelzer were uable to attend.

While here on business in Chicago, Carol and Neal Kain from Atlanta, Ga., visited in the home of Sarabel and Joe Lazor for Sunday dinner.

A family party for the eighth birthday of Dick, son of Carol and Dick Mooney, 204 S. Illinois, was held last Sunday in the home of his grandfather, Vincent Mooney in Chicago, with several aunts and uncles on hand to wish him a happy birthday.

MARY SOWERS entertained her bridge club Tuesday night in her home 211 S. Illinois dr. Those playing were Carol Mooney, Kitty Stigger, Becky Hackbarth, Anne Hanson, Margaret Minehardt, Dottie Lutz and Hazel Herter. Regular club members unable to attend were Vivian Maddox and Ruth Nahrn.

Pick Miss Pioneer At Park Saturday

The second annual "Little Miss Pioneer" bathing beauty contest will be held this Saturday, August 5, at the Pioneer park wading pool. Girls between the ages of 2 and 7 will compete for the 1961 title.

"Little Miss Pioneer" will be surrounded by a court of three and will be crowned and presented a trophy and flowers by "Little Miss Pioneer of 1960," Miss Barbara Fortin.

LAST YEAR'S contest was considered a success, with approximately 150 girls participating in the event. Bathing suits of all types were seen ranging from the "itsy-bitsy teeney weeney yellow polka dot bikini" to the traditional one-piece.

"The event was enjoyed by the spectators as well as all of the entrants," observed Jane Schaefer, director of the event.

Registration will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Pioneer wading pool. The contest will begin at 2 p.m. For additional information, residents may contact Miss Schaefer or the wading pool guards at Pioneer park.

The Adwalt Hartwig family of N. Beverley ave. returned Saturday from a busy and enjoyable three-week vacation. First, traveling east, they spent a week with former next-door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryd and their two children, who now live in Union, N. J. Part of their week there was occupied sightseeing New York city and seeing the Broadway musical "Bye Bye Birdie."

The Hartwigs and the Ryds became next-door neighbors again for the second week of Hartwigs' vacation. The two families occupied side-by-side cottages at Lake Pemaquid in Maine, 50 miles north of Portland.

After saying goodbye to the Ryds, the Hartwigs headed west, stopping overnight at Niagara Falls, crossing through Canada and Michigan. After a stop with cousins in Farmington, they crossed the bridge at Mackinac and last stop was with relatives in Stone Lake, near Hayward, Wis. With hardly time to unpack her bags, Mrs. Hartwig was off again Sunday attending a shower for a relative in Chicago.

Starting next week Yvonne Hartwig, who will be a sophomore at Arlington high in September, will go into a two-week rehearsal period for the Barnes and Carruthers Dance group. Composed of 20 young people the group will perform at county fairs in Des Moines, Sedalia, Mo. and Lincoln, Neb. This is Yvonne's first professional job, but she has danced in many local benefits and has appeared on TV.

NEW NEIGHBORS in the former Ryd home at 722 N. Beverley are Mrs. Priscilla Alden Ogg and her son James Downer Ogg. The Oggs previously lived in Des Plaines where Mrs. Ogg is a kindergarten teacher at South school. Sixteen years ago Mrs. Ogg started the kindergarten as a private venture for children of Douglas aircraft workers, and because of its popularity it was incorporated into the school system.

As Mrs. Ogg's name implies, she is a direct descendant of the first Priscilla Alden. A true Yankee, she married a southerner, James Wesley Ogg, who is now deceased. Mrs. Ogg belongs to the Methodist church and is interested in little theatre work. She also has a married daughter, Jane Alden Klein, who recently visited here with her husband, an executive with Capital Records in California. Son James is employed by Middle States Telephone co. in Des Plaines.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harty and their children have returned from a trip back home in Brooklyn, where they shared their stay with their parents, Mrs. M. Carew and Mr. and Mrs. John Harty Sr.

While in New York three of the Harty children jointly celebrated their birthdays—Kevin's 15th, Michael's 9th and Kathleen's 8th; and it was baby Maureen's first introduction to many of her eastern relatives. Leaving Maureen in New York, the Hartys went on to Washington where they visited all the famous sites and attended a session of Congress. The Washington trip was a belated graduation gift for Kevin. After five really sweltering days in the Capital, the Hartys journeyed back to Brooklyn for Maureen and drove back to N. Brighton pl.

WONDERFUL weather with neither rain nor humidity was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taege and their children, Allan, Paul, Mark and Peter, during their Wisconsin trip. Leaving last Monday they drove along the west border as far as Minneapolis and St. Paul. Crossing the Mississippi several times, they continued through northern Wis. and by Friday had completed their circle tour and were back at home at 203 N. Brighton.

Wisconsin also was vacationland for Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McBride and Cassandra, Kathleen and Bruce. Their two weeks were spent at Lake Lauderdale, where boating and water skiing were thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. William Richter of N. Dryden has been busy entertaining her nieces. Sunday she was hostess to 25 guests at a bridal shower for Miss Diane Richter who will be married September 2, and will live in Florida. Previously she had entertained for several days another niece, Miss Gloria Goszko, from Medinah. (A

Mr. and Mrs. William E. McClure, 524 S. Prindle, recently entertained as their overnight guests Doak Walker, former Detroit Rams and SMU football star, and Mrs. Walker of Englewood, Col. The Walkers are enroute to New York, where Mr. Walker is to receive a sports award from Sports magazine.

The Richard Bruces, 441 S. Gibbons, and children, Janie, Margie, Beth, Jessie and Richard, have just returned from a 2-week vacation at Armstrong lake, Crystal Falls, Mich. In addition to swimming, fishing and picnicking, the Bruces visited an iron mine which was abandoned in 1902. They were allowed to descend to the third level, 265 feet below the surface. While in Crystal Falls the family visited Mrs. Bruce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Neumann, who now live there in a manse that is over 100 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kuerbitz, 532 S. Phelps, held a double celebration Sunday, their seventh anniversary of August 1 and her birthday August 3. To celebrate they had as dinner guests Mrs. Kuerbitz' uncle, Oscar Alters, and a friend, Lewis Weber of Chicago, an aunt, Mrs. Mary Knoke of Knoke, Iowa, and a cousin, Miss Janice Knoke of Duluth, Minn.

MORE RETURNING vacationers are the Ken Scharf family, 528 S. Prindle, who spent two weeks driving through the Black Hills and Rocky mountains, with stops at Pike's Peak and Cheyenne, Wyom. One of the highlights was the rodeo at Cheyenne, which is the largest rodeo in the world. The Scharfs were accompanied by their four children, Penny, Valerie, Charles and K. J.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, spent their 2-week vacation in a very unusual manner — trying different eating spots. Each morning they had breakfast on their patio, then off somewhere to lunch and on to dinner. The first week the Bayuk children, Karen, David and Mark, stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Niemz of Edgebrook, but the second week they accompanied their parents to such places as Honey Bear Farm, Lake Geneva, Brookfield zoo, the beach and Kiddieland.

Saturday evening the Harry P. Kulisches entertained 22 friends at a garden party. Refreshments were served on the patio, and the garage was used for dancing.

MRS. ROBERT Bingel, 533 S. Phelps, and sons, Duane and Bobby, have returned from a 3-week vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langner of Burlington, Wis., who have a cottage at Bohner's lake. The time was spent picnicking, swimming and visiting friends.

A balloon decorated patio was the scene of the third birthday party for Ronnie Jo Rold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rold, 433 S. Gibbons.

Guests included Ronnie Jo's grandparents, Mrs. June Rold and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Senne; her great aunts and uncles, the John Netherlands, Ed Pollworths and son, Tommy, and her uncle, Jim Senne, and son, Mark, all of Des Plaines.

While a barbecue supper was served to the adults, Ronnie Jo, her brother, Jeffrey, and her cousins showed more interest in splashing in the new wading pool than in eating.

OVERNIGHT guests of the Wendell Swensons, 428 S. Forrest, were Navy Chaplain Carl Elwood and Mrs. Elwood who were transferred from Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, to Great Lakes Naval giiTarn Great Lakes Naval Training station. The Elwood children, Anne, Carl and John, continued on to Duluth, Minn., to visit their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Mertens, 425 S. Gibbons, spent a week of their vacation golfing through Michigan, first at Ferndale and Alma, then at Muskegon. From Muskegon they took the boat to Milwaukee and returned home in time to drive to Wisconsin to pick up their son, Chip, at Boy Scout camp at Wild Rose.

The Mertens' daughter, Cherie, was unable to accompany her parents as she is taking a summer course at the University of Illinois, where she is vice president and pledge trainer of her sorority, Delta Zeta. (A

Strout at Jaycee Meet

Briard B. Strout, 537 S. Mitchell ave., Arlington Heights, a national director of the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce, attended the summer meeting of the new state Jaycee board of directors at Waukegan July 28-30.

Community service and related programs were outlined and adopted for the 1961-1962 year.

The right to host the "1962 Miss Illinois Pageant," which is sponsored by the Illinois Junior Chamber, was awarded to the Elk Grove Village chapter. The "Outstanding Young Farmer" program was awarded to the Monmouth chapter.

Highlight of the three-day meeting was a banquet attended by Miss Illinois of 1961, Jackie Bingert, recently selected in a competition of 50 young women to represent the state in the Miss America Pageant.

The Illinois Jaycees will provide her with an all expense trip to Atlantic City this fall.

The Illinois Junior Chamber, the second largest in the U. S., has 186 local chapters with more than 9,500 members between the ages of 21 and 35 in the state. (A

It's 10° cooler when you cook in a flameless electric kitchen

Heat from an electric range goes where it's intended to go: in the pan and directly into foods—not into your kitchen. The oven is insulated on all six sides (not just five). Hardly any heat escapes.

Clean as electric light. With no flame burning, no dirt is created to soil walls and ceilings or blacken pots and pans. Your kitchen, and everything in it, stays clean about twice as long.

When you build, buy an appliance or remodel your kitchen, keep in mind the clean, fume-free cooking you get in a flameless electric kitchen.

Pick Miss Pioneer At Park Saturday

The second annual "Little Miss Pioneer" bathing beauty contest will be held this Saturday, August 5, at the Pioneer park wading pool. Girls between the ages of 2 and 7 will compete for the 1961 title.

"Little Miss Pioneer" will be surrounded by a court of three and will be crowned and presented a trophy and flowers by "Little Miss Pioneer of 1960," Miss Barbara Fortin.

LAST YEAR'S contest was considered a success, with approximately 150 girls participating in the event. Bathing suits of all types were seen ranging from the "itsy-bitsy teeney weeney yellow polka dot bikini" to the traditional one-piece.

"The event was enjoyed by the spectators as well as all of the entrants," observed Jane Schaefer, director of the event.

Registration will begin at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Pioneer wading pool. The contest will begin at 2 p.m. For additional information, residents may contact Miss Schaefer or the wading pool guards at Pioneer park.

The Adwalt Hartwig family of N. Beverley ave. returned Saturday from a busy and enjoyable three-week vacation. First, traveling east, they spent a week with former next-door neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ryd and their two children, who now live in Union, N. J. Part of their week there was occupied sightseeing New York city and seeing the Broadway musical "Bye Bye Birdie."

The Hartwigs and the Ryds became next-door neighbors again for the second week of Hartwigs' vacation. The two families occupied side-by-side cottages at Lake Pemaquid in Maine, 50 miles north of Portland.

After saying goodbye to the Ryds, the Hartwigs headed west, stopping overnight at Niagara Falls, crossing through Canada and Michigan. After a stop with cousins in Farmington, they crossed the bridge at Mackinac and last stop was with relatives in Stone Lake, near Hayward, Wis. With hardly time to unpack her bags, Mrs. Hartwig was off again Sunday attending a shower for a relative in Chicago.

Starting next week Yvonne Hartwig, who will be a sophomore at Arlington high in September, will go into a two-week rehearsal period for the Barnes and Carruthers Dance group. Composed of 20 young people the group will perform at county fairs in Des Moines, Sedalia, Mo. and Lincoln, Neb. This is Yvonne's first professional job, but she has danced in many local benefits and has appeared on TV.

NEW NEIGHBORS in the former Ryd home at 722 N. Beverley are Mrs. Priscilla Alden Ogg and her son James Downer Ogg. The Oggs previously lived in Des Plaines where Mrs. Ogg is a kindergarten teacher at South school. Sixteen years ago Mrs. Ogg started the kindergarten as a private venture for children of Douglas aircraft workers, and because of its popularity it was incorporated into the school system.

As Mrs. Ogg's name implies, she is a direct descendant of the first Priscilla Alden. A true Yankee, she married a southerner, James Wesley Ogg, who is now deceased. Mrs. Ogg belongs to the Methodist church and is interested in little theatre work. She also has a married daughter, Jane Alden Klein, who recently visited here with her husband, an executive with Capital Records in California. Son James is employed by Middle States Telephone co. in Des Plaines.

Mr. and Mrs. John Harty and their children have returned from a trip back home in Brooklyn, where they shared their stay with their parents, Mrs. M. Carew and Mr. and Mrs. John Harty Sr.

While in New York three of the Harty children jointly celebrated their birthdays—Kevin's 15th, Michael's 9th and Kathleen's 8th; and it was baby Maureen's first introduction to many of her eastern relatives. Leaving Maureen in New York, the Hartys went on to Washington where they visited all the famous sites and attended a session of Congress. The Washington trip was a belated graduation gift for Kevin. After five really sweltering days in the Capital, the Hartys journeyed back to Brooklyn for Maureen and drove back to N. Brighton pl.

WONDERFUL weather with neither rain nor humidity was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taege and their children, Allan, Paul, Mark and Peter, during their Wisconsin trip. Leaving last Monday they drove along the west border as far as Minneapolis and St. Paul. Crossing the Mississippi several times, they continued through northern Wis. and by Friday had completed their circle tour and were back at home at 203 N. Brighton.

Wisconsin also was vacationland for Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McBride and Cassandra, Kathleen and Bruce. Their two weeks were spent at Lake Lauderdale, where boating and water skiing were thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. William Richter of N. Dryden has been busy entertaining her nieces. Sunday she was hostess to 25 guests at a bridal shower for Miss Diane Richter who will be married September 2, and will live in Florida. Previously she had entertained for several days another niece, Miss Gloria Goszko, from Medinah. (A

Mr. and Mrs. William E. McClure, 524 S. Prindle, recently entertained as their overnight guests Doak Walker, former Detroit Rams and SMU football star, and Mrs. Walker of Englewood, Col. The Walkers are enroute to New York, where Mr. Walker is to receive a sports award from Sports magazine.

The Richard Bruces, 441 S. Gibbons, and children, Janie, Margie, Beth, Jessie and Richard, have just returned from a 2-week vacation at Armstrong lake, Crystal Falls, Mich. In addition to swimming, fishing and picnicking, the Bruces visited an iron mine which was abandoned in 1902. They were allowed to descend to the third level, 265 feet below the surface. While in Crystal Falls the family visited Mrs. Bruce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Neumann, who now live there in a manse that is over 100 years old.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Kuerbitz, 532 S. Phelps, held a double celebration Sunday, their seventh anniversary of August 1 and her birthday August 3. To celebrate they had as dinner guests Mrs. Kuerbitz' uncle, Oscar Alters, and a friend, Lewis Weber of Chicago, an aunt, Mrs. Mary Knoke of Knoke, Iowa, and a cousin, Miss Janice Knoke of Duluth, Minn.

MORE RETURNING vacationers are the Ken Scharf family, 528 S. Prindle, who spent two weeks driving through the Black Hills and Rocky mountains, with stops at Pike's Peak and Cheyenne, Wyom. One of the highlights was the rodeo at Cheyenne, which is the largest rodeo in the world. The Scharfs were accompanied by their four children, Penny, Valerie, Charles and K. J.

Mr. and Mrs. William M. Bayuk, 408 S. Forrest, spent their 2-week vacation in a very unusual manner — trying different eating spots. Each morning they had breakfast on their patio, then off somewhere to lunch and on to dinner. The first week the Bayuk children, Karen, David and Mark, stayed with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Niemz of Edgebrook, but the second week they accompanied their parents to such places as Honey Bear Farm, Lake Geneva, Brookfield zoo, the beach and Kiddieland.

Saturday evening the Harry P. Kulisches entertained 22 friends at a garden party. Refreshments were served on the patio, and the garage was used for dancing.

MRS. ROBERT Bingel, 533 S. Phelps, and sons, Duane and Bobby, have returned from a 3-week vacation spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langner of Burlington, Wis., who have a cottage at Bohner's lake. The time was spent picnicking, swimming and visiting friends.

A balloon decorated patio was the scene of the third birthday party for Ronnie Jo Rold, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rold, 433 S. Gibbons.

Guests included Ronnie Jo's grandparents, Mrs. June Rold and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Senne; her great aunts and uncles, the John Netherlands, Ed Pollworths and son, Tommy, and her uncle, Jim Senne, and son, Mark, all of Des Plaines.

While a barbecue supper was served to the adults, Ronnie Jo, her brother, Jeffrey, and her cousins showed more interest in splashing in the new wading pool than in eating.

OVERNIGHT guests of the Wendell Swensons, 428 S. Forrest, were Navy Chaplain Carl Elwood and Mrs. Elwood who were transferred from Roosevelt Roads, Puerto Rico, to Great Lakes Naval giiTarn Great Lakes Naval Training station. The Elwood children, Anne, Carl and John, continued on to Duluth, Minn., to visit their grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Mertens, 425 S. Gibbons, spent a week of their vacation golfing through Michigan, first at Ferndale and Aima, then at Muskegon. From Muskegon they took the boat to Milwaukee and returned home in time to drive to Wisconsin to pick up their son, Chip, at Boy Scout camp at Wild Rose.

The Mertens' daughter, Cherie, was unable to accompany her parents as she is taking a summer course at the University of Illinois, where she is vice president and pledge trainer of her sorority, Delta Zeta. (A

Strout at Jaycee Meet

Briard B. Strout, 537 S. Mitchell ave., Arlington Heights, a national director of the Illinois Junior Chamber of Commerce, attended the summer meeting of the new state Jaycee board of directors at Waukegan July 28-30.

Community service and related programs were outlined and adopted for the 1961-1962 year.

The right to host the "1962 Miss Illinois Pageant," which is sponsored by the Illinois Junior Chamber, was awarded to the Elk Grove Village chapter. The "Outstanding Young Farmer" program was awarded to the Monmouth chapter.

Highlight of the three-day meeting was a banquet attended by Miss Illinois of 1961, Jackie Bingert, recently selected in a competition of 50 young women to represent the state in the Miss America Pageant.

The Illinois Jaycees will provide her with an all expense trip to Atlantic City this fall.

The Illinois Junior Chamber, the second largest in the U. S., has 186 local chapters with more than 9,500 members between the ages of 21 and 35 in the state. (A

It's 10° cooler when you cook in a flameless electric kitchen

Heat from an electric range goes where it's intended to go: in the pan and directly into foods—not into your kitchen. The oven is insulated on all six sides (not just five). Hardly any heat escapes.

Clean as electric light. With no flame burning, no dirt is created to soil walls and ceilings or blacken pots and pans. Your kitchen, and everything in it, stays clean about twice as long.

When you build, buy an appliance or remodel your kitchen, keep in mind the clean, fume-free cooking you get in a flameless electric kitchen.

Rev. Toomey Named To Las Vegas Post

The Rev. Patrick J. Toomey, C.S.V., mission procurator for the Viatorian Foreign Missions, Arlington Heights, has been named pastor of St. Viator's parish, Las Vegas, Nevada.

He will replace Father Richard Crowley, C.S.V., who is being assigned to St. Joseph's Parish, Springfield, Ill.

The appointment was jointly announced this week by Bishop Robert J. Dwyer and the Very Rev. John W. Stafford, C.S.V., provincial superior of the Clerics of St. Viator.

Father Toomey has cared for Viatorian missions in Japan, Formosa, Africa, Chile and Peru for the past nine years since returning in October, 1952, from military service in the Pacific during the Korean War. The Rev. John D. Cusack, C.S.V., has been appointed the new mission procurator.

St. Viator's parish exists in temporary facilities. A school, convent, church and rectory must be constructed.

FATHER TOOMEY, who will assume direction of St. Viator's parish on August 30, was born in Butte, Mont., on February 5, 1916. He received his grade and high school education in Chicago and entered the Novitiate of the Clerics of St. Viator, Lemont, Ill., in 1933.

After profession of vows he attended St. Viator's college, Bourbonnais, Ill., where he received his A.B. degree. He made his theological studies at the Catholic University of America in Washington, D.C. While there he received his master's degree in psychology.

REV. PATRICK J. TOOMEY

He was ordained in 1941 by the late Cardinal Stritch in Chicago.

AFTER ORDINATION and before his military service, he taught philosophy and psychology at St. Ambrose college, Davenport, Iowa. Between World War II and the Korean War he returned to teaching the same subjects at De Paul University in Chicago and Barat College of the Sacred Heart, Lake Forest.

Father Toomey is a veteran of World War II and the Korean War. He entered Military service in August, 1943, and served with the Army Air Corps in Texas, Guam, Tinian, the Philippine Islands and Japan. He attained the rank of major while serving with the 20th Air Force in the Pacific.

He was Catholic chaplain to the atomic bomb group (509 Composite Bomb Group) on the Island of Tinian in the Marianas. During his second tour of duty during the Korean War, he was assigned to the Pacific, serving with the Far East Air Forces in Japan.

Father Toomey is a charter member of the American Catholic Psychological association. For the Viatorians he has held additional duties as director of vocations and as president of the commission to promote the beatification of Father Louis Querbes, the parish priest in Lyons, France, who founded the Clerics of St. Viator.

Palatine Man Picked For State Commission

Governor Otto Kerner announced the appointment of a Palatine man to a membership on the Governor's commission to study the problems of mental health in the state.

The man is Ben A. Sears, founder, past president, and chairman of the board of Little City, residential school for mentally retarded children, located in Palatine.

SINCE LITTLE City's inception four and one half years ago, Sears has worked consistently to arouse the community to an awareness of the severe social, economic, and spiritual problems connected with mental illness.

"Selection of Sears to serve on the commission on mental health for the state of Illinois is a milestone in his career of helping the mentally handicapped," according to a Springfield spokesman.

SEARS, 53, is president of Electronic Homes inc., and resides at 9038 Tamaroa Tr., Skokie. He is active in the Moose and is also associated with the Metropolitan Home Builders association and Chicago real estate board.

His appointment is effective immediately. (B8

Governor Otto Kerner announced the appointment of a Palatine man to a membership on the Governor's commission to study the problems of mental health in the state.

The man is Ben A. Sears, founder, past president, and chairman of the board of Little City, residential school for mentally retarded children, located in Palatine.

SINCE LITTLE City's inception four and one half years ago, Sears has worked consistently to arouse the community to an awareness of the severe social, economic, and spiritual problems connected with mental illness.

"Selection of Sears to serve on the commission on mental health for the state of Illinois is a milestone in his career of helping the mentally handicapped," according to a Springfield spokesman.

SEARS, 53, is president of Electronic Homes inc., and resides at 9038 Tamaroa Tr., Skokie. He is active in the Moose and is also associated with the Metropolitan Home Builders association and Chicago real estate board.

His appointment is effective immediately. (B8

Dolores Johnson Honored By Aberdeen Army Base

SP/5 Dolores Johnston, company B (WAC), special troops, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., was recently selected as the "WAC of the Quarter." Presentation of the certificate was made by Brigadier General John H. Weber, commanding general of the proving ground in a ceremony in his office.

MISS JOHNSTON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde A. Johnston, 425 S. Lombard rd., Itasca, entered the army in February 1959 at Chicago. After completing her initial army training at Ft. McClellan, Ala., she attended the basic medical corpsman's course at the BAMSC medical school, Fort Sam Houston, Tex. Upon completion of the course, she was assigned to the U. S. army hospital, Aberdeen proving ground.

Miss Johnston was assigned to the physical therapy section of the hospital, and through studying on her own time eventually became a physical therapy specialist.

SHE IS A GRADUATE of Fenton high school, Bensenville, and hopes to attend the University of Maryland upon the completion of her enlistment. She lists among her hobbies a penchant for good books, music of all sorts, and dancing.

Prior to her entry into the U. S. army, Miss Johnston was employed as a dictaphone typist at the Veteran's Administration hospital, Chicago.

SP/5 DOLORES JOHNSON, company B, (WAC) special troops, Aberdeen Proving Grounds, Md., receives a silver identification bracelet from Robert D. Wray, treasurer of the Aberdeen Chamber of Commerce. Miss Johnson received the bracelets along with a check for $50 and a certificate of achivement for being selected "WAC of the Quarter."

Most of the reservists were granted a 15-day military leave by their employers. (WUS

In Seattle

Scheduled to help Seattle, Wash., celebrate its annual Sea fair today, Aug. 3, while serving aboard the seaplane tender USS Pine Island is Robert G. Wells, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene F. Wells, 932 N. Fernandez, Arlington Heights.

The Pine island is one of 14 first fleet ships set to steam in formation past the Seattle shoreline before being welcomed by civic and fair officials upon mooring at the Naval supply depot, Seattle.

Parades, dances, parties and speed boat races are scheduled to be included in the city's four-day welcome to the visiting bluejackets. In return the first fleet ships will be open to visitors and on Sunday, Aug. 6, will hold special church services for Seattle residents.

Components of the visiting naval units will hold training exercises on their way to Seattle, including anti-air, anti-submarine and under way replenishment operations. (WUS

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

EFFERVESCE; to bubble and hiss, as fermenting liquors. "The salts caused the liquid to effervesce in a few seconds."

MIMICAL; imitative. "Man is a mimical creature."

William E. Kaske AAL Representative

William E. Kaske, 210 N. Maple st., Mount Prospect, district representative in this local area for Aid Association for Lutherans, ranked as the society's fifth leading producer last month, according to the AAL home office in Appleton, Wis.

Prospect Teacher Attends Institute

William Webster, 326 Schiller st., Palatine is among a group of 31 teachers who will conclude an Aerospace institute this week at Northern Illinois university with a unique "graduation" ceremony.

They'll receive their certificates of attendance when they step from a plane at Glenview naval air station after an overnight hop to Memphis, Tenn.

THE VISIT AUG. 3 and 4 to the Memphis naval air station is the fourth flight experience for the teachers.

Early in the three-week course they took orientation flights at the DeKalb airport and then were guests of the Air Force for a trip to Wright-Patterson field, Dayton, Ohio.

A covey of Civil Air Patrol craft will fly them to Peoria Saturday morning.

Idea behind the Institute, in its third year, is to better prepare elementary, junior high and high school teachers to answer questions from their air-minded pupils.

During their stay at Northern, the teachers have heard lectures by air force and civil air patrol officers on such topics as theory of flight, airports and airways, navigation, and missiles, rockets, and space. (CC

In Germany

PFC Charles E. Jarmuth, 24, son of Mrs. Elizabeth D. Jarmuth, 412 S. Vail st., Arlington Heights, recently became a member of the Seventh U. S. Army's Order of Gold Patriots while serving with the 26th Artillery in Aschaffenburg, Germany.

MEMBERS OF this voluntary movement have pledged their support to President John F. Kennedy in reducing the outlow of gold from the U. S. In so doing they have agreed to save a certain percentage of their pay each month. Chapters of the order are being established in all units throughout the Seventh Army.

Jarmuth, who arrived overseas last November, is a cook in the artillery's battery B. He completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

The 1954 Arlington high school graduate worked for the Culligan Soft Water Co. in Mount Prospect before entering the army in June 1960. (WUS

The goal of this special program of summer study at IIT is threefold: to generate higher levels of mathematics and science teaching in the secondary schools; to develop increased teacher competence; and to aid teachers in attaining additional levels of qualification. (CC

At New London

Cadet 3/c, Kurt G. Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Zimmerman, 105 S. Vail ave., Arlington Heights, is one of nearly 100 cadets named to the honors list at the United States Coast Guard academy, New London, Conn., for the spring term, 1961.

A 1960 graduate of Arlington high school, he is currently on the academy's annual summer training cruise to Europe. The three vessels comprising the practice squadron, the cutters Rockaway and Castle Rock, and the 295-foot training bark Eagle, are due back at the academy August 16, after which time Cadet Zimmerman will go on three weeks' leave, until the fall semester starts at the academy on September 5.

DURING THEIR recent visit to New London, Conn., Pete and Terry Engle watch their brothers, Lance and Kurt, prepare a meal for the crew of the USS NAUTILUS (SS(N)571). Kurt and Lance have been on board approximately one year. Pete and Terry are planning on entering the service upon completion of high school next year. The two sets of twins are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Engle, 115 E. Willow St., Arlington Heights.

Prospect Teacher Attends Institute

William Webster, 326 Schiller st., Palatine is among a group of 31 teachers who will conclude an Aerospace institute this week at Northern Illinois university with a unique "graduation" ceremony.

They'll receive their certificates of attendance when they step from a plane at Glenview naval air station after an overnight hop to Memphis, Tenn.

THE VISIT AUG. 3 and 4 to the Memphis naval air station is the fourth flight experience for the teachers.

Early in the three-week course they took orientation flights at the DeKalb airport and then were guests of the Air Force for a trip to Wright-Patterson field, Dayton, Ohio.

A covey of Civil Air Patrol craft will fly them to Peoria Saturday morning.

Idea behind the Institute, in its third year, is to better prepare elementary, junior high and high school teachers to answer questions from their air-minded pupils.

During their stay at Northern, the teachers have heard lectures by air force and civil air patrol officers on such topics as theory of flight, airports and airways, navigation, and missiles, rockets, and space. (CC

In Germany

PFC Charles E. Jarmuth, 24, son of Mrs. Elizabeth D. Jarmuth, 412 S. Vail st., Arlington Heights, recently became a member of the Seventh U. S. Army's Order of Gold Patriots while serving with the 26th Artillery in Aschaffenburg, Germany.

MEMBERS OF this voluntary movement have pledged their support to President John F. Kennedy in reducing the outlow of gold from the U. S. In so doing they have agreed to save a certain percentage of their pay each month. Chapters of the order are being established in all units throughout the Seventh Army.

Jarmuth, who arrived overseas last November, is a cook in the artillery's battery B. He completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

The 1954 Arlington high school graduate worked for the Culligan Soft Water Co. in Mount Prospect before entering the army in June 1960. (WUS

ROBERT W. PRUITT

Pvt. Robert W. Pruitt, son of Mrs. Florence E. Clark, 519 Isa dr., Wheeling, completed a 4-week individual combat training course, July 21, with the second infantry training regiment at Marine Corps base, Camp Pendleton, Cal.

Each marine receives the instruction upon completion of recruit training to ensure his proficiency in the latest infantry tactics, scouting and patrolling, first-aid, map-reading, mine warfare and defensive positions. (WUS

At Corpus Christi

Undergoing annual midshipmen summer training at the Naval air station, Corpus Christi, Texas, as midshipmen second class are Don A. Miller, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Miller, 702 Hillside dr., Bensenville, and James E. Traver, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Traver, 21 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights.

The midshipmen represent members of naval reserve officers training corps units from 52 colleges and universities from throughout the nation.

While at Corpus Christi, the future naval officers are afforded the opportunity to fly a jet, single-engine or multi-engine aircraft.

Upon completion of the training period, the midshipmen will report to the Naval amphibious training base at Coronado, Calif., for three weeks of amphibious warfare training. (WUS

A. A folded card with "Thank you" imprinted on the face is all right, but a handwritten personal message MUST be added.

In Seattle

Scheduled to help Seattle, Wash., celebrate its annual Sea fair today, Aug. 3, while serving aboard the seaplane tender USS Pine Island is Robert G. Wells, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene F. Wells, 932 N. Fernandez, Arlington Heights.

The Pine island is one of 14 first fleet ships set to steam in formation past the Seattle shoreline before being welcomed by civic and fair officials upon mooring at the Naval supply depot, Seattle.

Parades, dances, parties and speed boat races are scheduled to be included in the city's four-day welcome to the visiting bluejackets. In return the first fleet ships will be open to visitors and on Sunday, Aug. 6, will hold special church services for Seattle residents.

Components of the visiting naval units will hold training exercises on their way to Seattle, including anti-air, anti-submarine and under way replenishment operations. (WUS

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

EFFERVESCE; to bubble and hiss, as fermenting liquors. "The salts caused the liquid to effervesce in a few seconds."

MIMICAL; imitative. "Man is a mimical creature."

McGaughey, 2608 Rohlwing rd., Rolling Meadows, a teacher of mathematics at Prospect high school, is a member of a select group of secondary school teachers attending a special program of study at Illinois Institute of Technology aimed at revitalizing high school instruction in mathematics and science.

ONE OF 95 high school instructors participating in the program, McGaughey is attending the summer institute through a National Science Foundation grant awarded to Illinois Tech, which the school in turn uses to support teachers attending the institute.

The goal of this special program of summer study at IIT is threefold: to generate higher levels of mathematics and science teaching in the secondary schools; to develop increased teacher competence; and to aid teachers in attaining additional levels of qualification. (CC

Cadet 3/c, Kurt G. Zimmerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester G. Zimmerman, 105 S. Vail ave., Arlington Heights, is one of nearly 100 cadets named to the honors list at the United States Coast Guard academy, New London, Conn., for the spring term, 1961.

A 1960 graduate of Arlington high school, he is currently on the academy's annual summer training cruise to Europe. The three vessels comprising the practice squadron, the cutters Rockaway and Castle Rock, and the 295-foot training bark Eagle, are due back at the academy August 16, after which time Cadet Zimmerman will go on three weeks' leave, until the fall semester starts at the academy on September 5.

DURING THEIR recent visit to New London, Conn., Pete and Terry Engle watch their brothers, Lance and Kurt, prepare a meal for the crew of the USS NAUTILUS (SS(N)571). Kurt and Lance have been on board approximately one year. Pete and Terry are planning on entering the service upon completion of high school next year. The two sets of twins are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Engle, 115 E. Willow St., Arlington Heights.

Employe Betterment Goal of Grant Firm

The big new W. T. Grant in Rolling Meadows will open August 17 with a staff of 100, leveling off to about 70 regular employees.

"Our part time staff is pretty well filled," said Tony Castelli, manager, this week, "But we still need some full time help, so we can maintain the standard for the best customer service that is famous with Grant's."

The company's concern for the happiness and welfare of its employees stems from the conviction of the founder, W. T. Grant, that people, working in a pleasant atmosphere of contentment and achievement, is the basic strength of his company. A program of employee benefits and opportunities has been developed "second to none in the retailing field."

TO HELP store people understand their jobs thoroughly so that they may render the best in customer service as they help themselves advance, there is a on-the-job sales training program, employing every logical training aid, including a film program rated one of the finest of its kind.

An expanded vacation policy offers three full weeks of vacation starting with the fifth year of employment with the company. After only six months employment, Grant people receive one week's vacation with pay and after one year, the usual two weeks.

All employees receive a 10 per cent discount on their family's purchases in the store, and after a year's service receive a life insurance policy in amounts varying from $1,000 to $75,000 according to the level of their earnings.

At age 30 and after two years of service, Grant people qualify for membership in the employees' retirement plan. More than 10,000 employees are currently enrolled, according to Castelli.

NORMAL retirement age is 60, although the plan provides life income at earlier ages under certain conditions, or for extension of service to age 65. The comparatively early retirement age for executive personnel provides constant top-level openings for younger employees of the company to step up to greater responsibility.

"We adopted the retirement plan in 1942 as a natural outgrowth of the W.T. Grant company's desire to provide the greatest possible security for our employees," said Louis C. Lustenberger, president.

Arlington Defeated

Playing before a packed grandstand, the Arlington Park District girls' softball team succumbed to Des Plaines, 10-7 in a thrilling game.

Arlington jumped off to a 4-2 lead after two innings but Des Plaines rallied for six runs in the fourth and two in the fifth. Arlington bounced back with three in the sixth but could not get the necessary runs to win the game.

Gerry DeZonna pitched a fine game for Arlington and added flawless fielding and two hits to a fine individual contribution.

PAM KNIGHT, JoAnn Rodggers and Claudia Leet each had two hits for Arlington and Carolyn Swanson blasted a long run-scoring double.

Shortstop Barbara Johnson made several key plays in the field including a fine throw to catcher Linda Keane to cut down one baserunner at the plate.

PALATINE

Mariner ship 334 reports a busy summer. June 10-17 was spent camping on Lake Koshgonong passing ratings, sailing, canoeing, water skiing and swimming. From June 20 to 30 the following girls acted as junior leaders, assisting their leader, Mrs. D. V. Sargol, who was the Brownie day camp director at Deer Grove: Christy Evans, Pat Mickus, Marcy Lafley, Sue Larsen and Diane and Lynda Sargol.

June 25 found Sue Larsen, Sue Yates, Chantel Flawley and Chris Hawes serving as CIT for the second year in a 3-week training period.

The Scouts will remain at Hickory Hill as counselors. July 16 Diane Sargol and Louise Richardson were among the party of nine girls chosen to spend two weeks at the Cabana in Cuernavaca, Mexico. August 2, the next group of girls will go to Hickory Hill for their first year training period. They are Sue Crawford, Jackie Miller, Louise Richardson, Bonnie Freeman and Diane Sargol.

HONORABLE mention goes to Sue Yates who will participate in the first Girl Scout all state encampment to explore outdoor vocation held in Ross, Ohio. Sue was one of the two girls selected in the state of Illinois.

Troop 301 plans a 4-day farewell camping trip to Big Foot, Wis. August 9. The troop is disbanding but several girls are continuing in senior Scouting. The troop is led by Mrs. D. V. Sargol and Mrs. P. Mickus. (B9

YMCA Day Camp Is Largest in Area

A record enrollment in North west Suburban YMCA day camp this summer makes it the largest day camp in the area, with 657 boys and girls attending during the 6-week session. This enrollment is 153 youngsters more than its 1960 season.

The day camp began in 1954 with 40 youngsters and has been constantly growing under direction of Len Adams, a member of the faculty of the Chicago Board of Education.

RESIDENT camp registrations for both boys and girls are still possible at the local 'Y' for 2 week periods at Camp Hastings and Camp Kroehler, both operated by Irving Park YMCA.

With Northwest Suburban 'Y' forging ahead to lead all Chicagoland and suburban YMCAs in membership, a new fall program schedule is being completed for distribution about August 20. It is planned to service a variety of activities which the large membership requests.

Anyone interested in fall program may call the 'Y' at CY 6-3376. (B9

Marathon Gasolines
STOP HOT-WEATHER STALLING

Your wife counts on you to keep the car in good shape. And you do. It's washed, serviced and tuned. But all the tuning in the world won't protect it from hot-weather stalling. You've seen it happen. The frantic effort to get it started. The pile-up of traffic. Heard the hoot of horns. It's embarrassing, annoying, frightening. It won't happen with Marathon gasoline in the tank.

Marathon gasolines are power-processed for Midwest summers

Marathon SUPER-M® and MILE-maker® gasolines are power-processed to help end hot-weather stalling. Laboratory controls provide gasolines that guard your engine against choking and strangling caused by vapor lock.

These Marathon gasolines are also scientifically filtered to clean out engine-stalling bits of dirt that can clog fuel systems. This summer, make it Marathon, for gasolines that are all go 'til the last drop's gone.

Employe Betterment Goal of Grant Firm

The big new W. T. Grant in Rolling Meadows will open August 17 with a staff of 100, leveling off to about 70 regular employees.

"Our part time staff is pretty well filled," said Tony Castelli, manager, this week, "But we still need some full time help, so we can maintain the standard for the best customer service that is famous with Grant's."

The company's concern for the happiness and welfare of its employees stems from the conviction of the founder, W. T. Grant, that people, working in a pleasant atmosphere of contentment and achievement, is the basic strength of his company. A program of employee benefits and opportunities has been developed "second to none in the retailing field."

TO HELP store people understand their jobs thoroughly so that they may render the best in customer service as they help themselves advance, there is a on-the-job sales training program, employing every logical training aid, including a film program rated one of the finest of its kind.

An expanded vacation policy offers three full weeks of vacation starting with the fifth year of employment with the company. After only six months employment, Grant people receive one week's vacation with pay and after one year, the usual two weeks.

All employees receive a 10 per cent discount on their family's purchases in the store, and after a year's service receive a life insurance policy in amounts varying from $1,000 to $75,000 according to the level of their earnings.

At age 30 and after two years of service, Grant people qualify for membership in the employees' retirement plan. More than 10,000 employees are currently enrolled, according to Castelli.

NORMAL retirement age is 60, although the plan provides life income at earlier ages under certain conditions, or for extension of service to age 65. The comparatively early retirement age for executive personnel provides constant top-level openings for younger employees of the company to step up to greater responsibility.

"We adopted the retirement plan in 1942 as a natural outgrowth of the W.T. Grant company's desire to provide the greatest possible security for our employees," said Louis C. Lustenberger, president.

Arlington Defeated

Playing before a packed grandstand, the Arlington Park District girls' softball team succumbed to Des Plaines, 10-7 in a thrilling game.

Arlington jumped off to a 4-2 lead after two innings but Des Plaines rallied for six runs in the fourth and two in the fifth. Arlington bounced back with three in the sixth but could not get the necessary runs to win the game.

Gerry DeZonna pitched a fine game for Arlington and added flawless fielding and two hits to a fine individual contribution.

PAM KNIGHT, JoAnn Rodgers and Claudia Leet each had two hits for Arlington and Carolyn Swanson blasted a long run-scoring double.

Shortstop Barbara Johnson made several key plays in the field including a fine throw to catcher Linda Keane to cut down one baserunner at the plate.

Electric Outfit Triumphs

The Hasbrook Hawks picked up a win in a wild contest topping the Knights 31-25.

The Beachcombers and Arlington Hustlers each scored 11 runs and it proved enough for the Beachcombers as they bumped Soft-Tees, 11-7, but insufficient for the Hustlers as they were dropped by the Village, 20-11.

PALATINE

Mariner ship 334 reports a busy summer. June 10-17 was spent camping on Lake Koshgonong passing ratings, sailing, canoeing, water skiing and swimming. From June 20 to 30 the following girls acted as junior leaders, assisting their leader, Mrs. D. V. Sargol, who was the Brownie day camp director at Deer Grove: Christy Evans, Pat Mickus, Marcy Lafley, Sue Larsen and Diane and Lynda Sargol.

June 25 found Sue Larsen, Sue Yates, Chantel Flawley and Chris Hawes serving as CIT for the second year in a 3-week training period.

The Scouts will remain at Hickory Hill as counselors. July 16 Diane Sargol and Louise Richardson were among the party of nine girls chosen to spend two weeks at the Cabana in Cuernavaca, Mexico. August 2, the next group of girls will go to Hickory Hill for their first year training period. They are Sue Crawford, Jackie Miller, Louise Richardson, Bonnie Freeman and Diane Sargol.

HONORABLE mention goes to Sue Yates who will participate in the first Girl Scout all state encampment to explore outdoor vocation held in Ross, Ohio. Sue was one of the two girls selected in the state of Illinois.

Troop 301 plans a 4-day farewell camping trip to Big Foot, Wis. August 9. The troop is disbanding but several girls are continuing in senior Scouting. The troop is led by Mrs. D. V. Sargol and Mrs. P. Mickus. (B9

A. No; place it on the saucer under the bowl.

YMCA Day Camp Is Largest in Area

A record enrollment in Northwest Suburban YMCA day camp this summer makes it the largest day camp in the area, with 657 boys and girls attending during the 6-week session. This enrollment is 153 youngsters more than its 1960 season.

The day camp began in 1954 with 40 youngsters and has been constantly growing under direction of Len Adams, a member of the faculty of the Chicago Board of Education.

RESIDENT camp registrations for both boys and girls are still possible at the local 'Y' for 2 week periods at Camp Hastings and Camp Kroehler, both operated by Irving Park YMCA.

With Northwest Suburban 'Y' forging ahead to lead all Chicagoland and suburban YMCAs in membership, a new fall program schedule is being completed for distribution about August 20. It is planned to service a variety of activities which the large membership requests.

Anyone interested in fall program may call the 'Y' at CY 6-3376. (B9

STOP HOT-WEATHER STALLING

Your wife counts on you to keep the car in good shape. And you do. It's washed, serviced and tuned. But all the tuning in the world won't protect it from hot-weather stalling. You've seen it happen. The frantic effort to get it started. The pile-up of traffic. Heard the hoot of horns. It's embarrassing, annoying, frightening. It won't happen with Marathon gasoline in the tank.

Marathon gasolines are power-processed for Midwest summers

Marathon SUPER-M® and MILE-maker® gasolines are power-processed to help end hot-weather stalling. Laboratory controls provide gasolines that guard your engine against choking and strangling caused by vapor lock.

These Marathon gasolines are also scientifically filtered to clean out engine-stalling bits of dirt that can clog fuel systems. This summer, make it Marathon, for gasolines that are all go 'til the last drop's gone.

City Is Remembered If It Supports Art

by LUCILE ERNST

People are strange. Have you ever noticed how some people will go into a tantrum and sometimes into a state of shock over a real or imagined slight to his religion. Yet this very same person never goes near his church nor does he give it any financial support. If you don't support an idea or an institution with your time and or money, you might as well be against it.

This very same paradox in behavior occurs in the arts. The fine arts are simply fine with some people. They sincerely hope their children will appreciate the arts as they do. All the arts worth appreciating, however, were created four hundred years ago. If any of their children should pick up a brush for any reason but to paint a room, they would disown them. They are honestly surprised that anyone spends money on paintings.

IF OUR FRIEND should be wealthy, he may have to buy a painting at some time for status sake, no matter how silly it may seem. Years ago he would have gone to Europe to buy paintings. No one in his right mind bought anything but the work of French painters. This made it necessary for all American painters to go to France and study so they could sell their paintings to rich Americans.

Times have changed. Now one buys paintings in New York, if one must buy them at all. This has made it necessary for any artist who insists on eating to move to New York.

THE CHICAGO area is famous for losing its best artists. Most of the first rate artists who were born, reared, and educated here, must go to New York to make a living.

By some strange coincidence the very same thing happens to anyone who wants to achieve stature in any of the arts, literature, drama, ballet, or music. Even entertainers must leave the second biggest city in the country to achieve prominence.

Does it matter? It depends on your own evaluation of yourself, your community and its place in history.

A strange thing happened in history that has provided the academic question of the ages. Why did all the great men of one period live in the one small city state of Athens? Within a relatively short period of time, the greatest statesmen, writers, artists, and thinkers of all time were produced in one city. Did the great men make Athens or did Athens make the great men?

NO DOUBT Athens is immortal because of her great men but it was no accident that they lived there. Greatness could be developed because it was appreciated.

I am sure something must have been happening somewhere else in the world during the Golden Age of Greece yet we know nothing of the rest of the world, the people's thoughts, drama, art or battles. We couldn't care less. Greek history is still exciting to read because it was dramatically written, with more interest in conflict than accuracy. The slight case of myopia that made all Greek writers see in terms of a thousand has only endeared them to us. They were never surrounded by 280 ships or 640 men, always a thousand.

IF ANY CITY or country would be remembered, it must support its artists, its writers, dramatists, musicians, and poets. This means not turning their talents into more practical channels. It also means not starving them out of the city or the arts by never buying their work.

If our artists' visions seem myopic to you, you may be right but shortsighted. No doubt some practical soul at the Battle of Salamis counted the Persian ships. There may have been only 562, but his count has been lost to us. It was the poet who saw in thousands we read, and it is he who made Athens great and Greece immortal. (Bill

Style Show Highlight Of Swim Pool Opening

Arlington Heights' newest apartments, Salem Lane, will open its new swimming pool Thursday, August 10, with an open house and style show.

The open house will feature a style show by Anderson's Fashions of Arlington Heights. The opening will be a sneak preview of 1962 swim suits from Cole of California, especially flown in for this event.

Fall daytime, playtime and evening fashions will be modeled by professional models. This collection consists of dresses, dyed-to-match sweaters and skirts, and coats, including all fashions that are featured in national fashion magazines. Mothers and daughters will have the opportunity of viewing fall's newest styles and colors in the comfort of Salem Lane's sun deck.

VIC NEELEY, internationally famous organist, will be presented as guest star through the courtesy of Roy Baumann Music Studios. He will play accompaniment for the models as well as special numbers. There will also be an opportunity for open house guests to meet him and request special numbers.

The open house and refreshments will be continuous from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. There will be style shows at 2 and 7 p.m.

Salem Lane apartments at 304 N. Salem ave. can be reached by turning a sharp left from Bill Cook Buick on Euclid ave. or by turning north from Campbell st. at Salem ln. The heated swimming pool will be the first for apartments in this area. (A

Guests in the Robert Hanke home, S. Douglas, are Mr. and Miss Perterson of St. Petersburg, Fla., who brought their niece, Margie Hanke, home after a month's visit with them in Florida.

Diane and Charles Aldrich Jr., son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Aldrich Sr., S. Douglas, flew to Tulsa, Okla., to spend a month with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bodkin.

Recently the Charles Aldrich family, the Jack Aldrich family and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Aldrich entertained at a cook-out for Mrs. Ernie Poole and daughter, Cheryl, of Denver, who stopped over for a 4-day visit on their way to join Mr. Poole who is stationed in Berlin, Germany.

Wednesday the Otto Gorgius family, S. Busse rd., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Ledford of Elmhurst for an evening of swimming, games and refreshments. Saturday the John Sowkas, S. Busse rd., were guests of the Gorgiuses at a barbecue. Sunday evening guests at a barbecue were Mr. and Mrs. Willy Gorgius, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kitzman and Scott Gorgius.

THE EDWARD Lauings, S. Busse rd., spent a busy vacation at home. One evening they enjoyed "Gypsy," starring Ethel Merman, at the Shubert theater. Ed played golf at St. Andrew country club and later they attended the Pure Oil picnic in St. Charles. Sunday they drove to several lakes, ending the day at Illinois State park with a picnic supper.

Visitors in the Bruno Fasano home, 1711 Kim ave., recently were the Schwarz family, Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Fasano Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Louis DiMaiolo, the J. Corcerans family and Miss Geri Pontarelli. They enjoyed a barbecue.

A welcome is extended to two new families who recently moved to Colonial Heights. They are Mr. and Mrs. Finnerty and children, Skip, 4, and Colleen, 9 months, of 1701 Kim ave., formerly of Park Ridge; and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Stefely and Ernie Jr., 4, formerly of Chicago, who reside at 1707 Kim ave.

Miss Angela Colamatteo of River Forest is the house guest of Pauline Colamatteo, 1712 Estates dr., for a week.

The 11th birthday of Pauline Colamatteo was celebrated Friday afternoon by a patio party. Helping her celebrate were Angela Colamatteo, Carol Coor, Gary Fern, Holly Ann Martinson, Vincent Marinelli, Fred Lauing and Jim Colamatteo.

MISS JUDY Marinelle, 1711 W. Estates dr., and Miss Ernestine DiDominico, 1701 Estates dr., spent the past week entertaining Miss Cathy Warno of Berwyn.

Relatives from Chicago attending a barbecue at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Buffa, 1715 Kim ave., were the Frank Greco family, Mrs. Mary Greco and daughter, Bonnie, and great-grandmother, Mrs. Bertha Greco.

A family reunion was held at the home of Mrs. Stan Luczak, S. Arlington Heights rd., Sunday with a lawn party and swimming. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wiora, George Waltman and the Terry Johnson family, all of Chicago, the Fritz Hotzy and Henry Przybylski families and Mr. Wandalista from Westchester, the Joseph Przybylski family of Cicero, the Ron Draftzes of Oak Lawn and John Beran of Berwyn. Bonnie Luczaks' guest was Jackie Kleinofen and Sharons' guests were Jim Hamich, a classmate from Quincy college, and Marcy Beigel.

July 26 Bonnie had a splash party and a wiener roast. The guest list included 26 young people.

During the past week Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reimer, Brierwood dr., had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. William Jantz, Deborah and Sharon from San Mateo, Cal., and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Herbert, Gayle and Jim from Cahoes, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Roth, Brierwood dr., had as guests last week Ray's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roth and sons, Rickey, Don and Paul, from Detroit.

Lance Kuntze, Briarwood dr., entertained on his 10th birthday for Carol Coor, James Printz, Gary Fern and Joel Ellefson. They had luncheon and then went to Big Kiddyland for an afternoon of fun.

MR. AND MRS. Wallace Grosche and Kathy, Golf rd., have returned from a week's vacation touring Canada. They visited Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal, Quebec and Niagara Falls. In Ottawa, the capital city, they enjoyed the colorful changing of the guards; in Toronto they visited a pioneer village and saw how dogs in a dog trot were used to turn paddle wheels on a butter churn and toured the Casaloma, a medieval castle built in 1904 and lived in by the owner for 10 years, until the taxes became too high.

In Dearborn, Mich., they visited Greenfield Village and went to Menlow Park where Thomas Edison did his work.

C. C. Carter, Council trail, has returned from a week's business trip to Los Angeles.

Sunday evening the Palmer family enjoyed the concert in Grant park and the colored lights on Buckingham fountain.

Wednesday the John Turners, Council trail, entertained for their daughter, Diane, whose sixth birthday guests were Mr. and Mrs. Pete Peters of Chicago and Lynn Carter, Council trail.

GALE BEST, Elk Grove rd., celebrated his 11th birthday recently at a barbecue and swimming party. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Miller, Bobby and Betty of Bensenville, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Best of Mundelein and Mr. and Mrs. Tashio Fuda, Robert, Richard and Priscilla from Des Plaines.

Last Wednesday Mrs. John Nitz, Linda and Jackie, Elk Grove rd., Mr. and Mrs. Norman Newlands and Miss Marjorie Newlands of Chicago enjoyed a picnic and swimming at Gages lake.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Nitz celebrated their 11th wedding anniversary with dinner at O'Hare inn. Later John took Marge on a tour of the new WGN radio and TV center at Bradley pl., Chicago, where he is employed.

Counselors Still On Call at School

In the June 29 issue of the Arlington Heights Herald, parents and students of the Arlington and Prospect high schools were invited to avail themselves of the counseling services offered at the respective schools during the summer months.

Many parents and students have taken advantage of this service and have called the high schools for appointments. Counselors are still on duty and a phone call or visit to either school can set up an appointment.

IN ADDITION to the counseling services, the schools have mailed out questionnaires to the 1960 and 1961 graduates, asking that they be filled out and returned so the results can be tabulated. The staffs of the two high schools are sincerely interested in discovering the whereabouts of graduates, whether they have been attending school, if they are working, etc., and are asking for suggestions as to how the schools can be of even more service to the students.

There are still a number of graduates who have not returned the questionnaires and they are urged to do so in the near future in order to make the results more meaningful.

'Bay of Naples' Wins Top Honors

Gian L. Campanile, architect and artist, 110 N. Maple ave., Bloomingdale, was the winner of the top ribbon in the seventh annual Northwest Suburban art exhibition held Friday and Saturday at Arlington Market shopping center.

Second place award in the adult class went to Orville G. Bolte, 1314 W. Euclid st., Arlington Heights, for a modern sculpture Honduras mahogany piece titled "Head And Hand."

FIRST PLACE in the grade school class was won by Hugh Wesler, 332 S. Derbyshire lane, for his tempera painting, "51's."

The Arlington Market art fair offered a wide variety of talent with several "working" artists making sketches and paintings of visitors on the spot, displays of ceramics, sculpture, three-dimensional pictures and many paintings in traditional and modern styles.

Under the protection of a canopy, the displays reached from one end of the center to the other.

Appetite Jaded?

Varied Library Diet Features Tasty Menu

A varied literary diet catering to a wide range of tastes in fact and fiction is on the menu at the Arlington Heights Memorial library, according to Mrs. Evelyn Stadelman, librarian.

"For the a la carte reader, books placed on the library's shelves in recent months may serve to spur jaded summer appetites or to spice the routing of everyday living with a pinch of something different," Mrs. Stadelman said.

For the history lover, there is 'A Treasury of American Heritage," edited by American Heritage magazine; "Frederic Remington's "Own West"; "When F.D.R. Died," by Bernard Asbell, and "An Album of American History" by James Truslow Adams and others.

POLITICS IS represented by Theodore White's "The Making of the President"; "Let Us Begin," which describes the first 100 days of the Kennedy Administration; Sherman Adams' "First Hand Report: the Story of the Eisenhower Administration"; and Stan Opotowsky's 'The Kennedy Government."

Heavier fare includes such books as "Inside Europe Today," by John Gunther; 'The War Called Peace," by Harry and Bonaro Overstreet; "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," by William L. Shirer; "Russia and the West Under Lenin and Stalin," by George Kennan; and "Science and Government," by C. P. Snow.

Humor is represented by 'The Snake Has All the Lines," by Jean Kerr; "Lanterns and Lances," by James Thurber; 'The Battered Bride," by Elinor Goulding Smith and others.

Fiction favorites for summer reading include Irving Stone's "The Agony and the Ecstasy"; James Michener's "Hawaii"; Gladys Schmitt's "Rembrandt," Rumer Godden's "China Court," Mika Waltari's "The Secret of the Kingdom," and Charles Israel's "Rizpah."

Call Mental Health Meet

The Arlington Heights chapter of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Assn. will hold its first meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Herbert C. Wood, 19 N. Prindle, local chairman.

A proposed mental health clinic, to be located in Arlington Heights, will serve six other northwest suburban communities.

"The need for a clinic has been well established through contacts with medical men, ministers, school administrators, law enforcement officials and others knowledgeable about the mental health problem," Mrs. Wood explained.

There are currently no clinic services available in the area and the need is steadily increasing, she said. Tonight's meeting is open to all residents desiring further information regarding the work of the association.

Approve Lot Size Zoning Variation

The Arlington Heights zoning board of appeals voted 5-0 July 24 to grant a variation permitting construction of a home on a 50-foot lot at 116 S. Brighton in the Stonegate subdivision.

Petitioner Warren M. Kline said he wants to sell his house at 114 S. Brighton and build a new one on the adjacent empty lot.

THE ZONING board voted to waive 70-foot frontage requirements when it was determined construction on the 50-foot lot would not harm the established character of the neighborhood.

"The proposed two-story home is generally in keeping with the neighborhood and will maintain the prevailing property values," the board ruled.

Kline's request for a variation in side yard requirements was turned down by the board.

Housewife Finds Rats, Police Act

Arlington Heights police this week received a telephone call from a housewife on south Walnut st. reporting the existence of rates in the neighborhood.

The housewife said a week ago a rat jumped inside her freezer and refused to leave. She closed the door and froze it to death, she said.

POLICE INVESTIGATED the scene and discovered a neighbor used to raise hogs and chickens in his yard before the area was residentially developed. They theorize the rats are holdovers from earlier breeding days.

Poison has been placed out for the rodents' consumption. It'll just be a matter of time now, police observe.

Car Overturns; Slight Injuries

A 22-year-old Arlington Heights motorist escaped serious injury early Tuesday morning when the small sports car he was driving turned over in northwest Palatine.

Lynk told police he swerved to avoid an on-coming car. The mishap occurred at 1:25 a.m.

Home Office Zoning OK Is Sought

A dentist's request that property at 1606 W. Campbell be rezoned from a single family residence classification to a limited business classification will be considered August 16 by the Arlington Heights plan commission.

Dr. Robert K. Jayne, owner of the property, plans to use the residence there for his dental offices.

A hearing on the request will be held August 16 at 9 p.m. in the village hall council room, 107 W. Davis st. All interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard.

Slate Kood-Aid And Gum Party

Children from Pioneer park enjoyed a treasure hunt Monday morning with more than 75 children combing the area of the park and retrieving 35 marked clothes pins which were turned in for prizes.

Next week, a Kool-Aid party and a bubble gum blowing contest will be held. Details can be obtained from the director at Pioneer or from the three bulletin boards at the park. (A

Architect Granted Contract by Board

How many votes are needed to legally pass a motion?

Members of the Wheeling township board of auditors weren't sure Tuesday when it came time to hire an architect for the proposed $35,000 township garage.

Auditor John McGivney said, "A majority of board members present and voting constitutes a legitimate vote."

SUPERVISOR Albert C. Peters disagreed. "A majority of all board members' votes is needed to pass a motion," he said.

They were referring to a motion of July 11 which ended in two members voting "aye" and two passing their votes on a proposal to hire an architect. Peters ruled the motion died for lack of a majority. McGivney reasoned it was carried.

Siding with Peters Tuesday were Auditors Russell Conklin and Edward Fritz and Clerk Dorothy Hauff.

Robert C. Buckley, the board's attorney, suggested both sides had valid points. He said the best way to handle the apparent hiring of two architects was to award the contract to the one "you've gone the farthest with."

THE BOARD then authorized Peters to enter into a contract with Architect Nick S. Theodorou, 3550 N. Lavergne, Chicago.

McGivney, asked by the board in June to interview architects and come back with a recommendation, said he favored hiring a local man. He also said he disapproved of "early negotiations" with Theodorou.

The garage will be built on township property on Hintz rd. It will measure approximately 60 zy 70 feet and will house road and bridge equipment heretofore kept outside.

Theodorou is charging six per cent of the cost of construction for his services. He requested a $500 retainer. Contract for construction will be awarded to the lowest bidder, according to the board.

DEADLINE for submitting bids is August 28. Specifications may be obtained from Theodorou's office upon payment of $15.

In other business Tuesday, the board voted to hire Arlington Heating and Sheet Metal co. to convert town hall heating equipment from oil to gas, decided Road Commissioner Oscar Everson could collect $20 a day for services, and approved bills for July. (AF

Standing Committee Decision Is Slated

Arlington Heights trustees are expected to announce their decision Monday as to the desirability of organizing standing committees.

Following a closed door session July 17, trustees said they had discussed the matter but had not yet determined if standing committees are either necessary or advisable.

A final decision will be announced at Monday's regular board meeting, they said.

THE VILLAGE government has operated since 1959 without standing committees. There is an apparent lack of unanimity on the part of trustees as to whether or not standing committees will aid in conducting business.

Included in a 15-point program set forth by Village President John G. Woods at his inauguration in May was a suggestion that standing committees be reconsidered.

Purpose of standing committees is to have board members assigned to specific duties on a continuing bisis, i.e., water and sewer, finance, public improvements.

AN ADVOCATE of the standing committee setup is Trustee Eugene Schlickman. He addressed a letter to board members June 5 explaining his reasons for favoring the standing committee principle.

He further proposed an amendment to the board's rules of order which set forth six standing committees composed of three trustees each.

"When the Arlington Heights village board abolished standing committees two hears ago, this village became exceptional," Schlickman observed.

According to a survey of communities covered by Paddock Publications, Arlington Heights was the only one to function without standing committees, he noted.

ADVANTAGES to standing committees are that they provide: (1) a workable way for trustees to develop and assume political responsibility, and (2) the background and bases for intelligent policy-making decisions, Schlickman said.

FURTHER Schlickman suggestions include the following:

—standing committees will be concerned solely with the formation of policy;

—where policy and administration overlap, every effort will be made to collaborate and coordinate with the village manager;

—the village president will make final determination as to assigning subjects to committee; —matters of special or extraordinary nature may be referred to a special committee by a majority vote of the board, and —committees will report by the second regular board meeting after assignments are made.

A popular objection to standing committees is that they sometimes tend to interfere with day-to-day administration of village business. Another criticism is that items have a tendency to get "lost" in committee.

Monday's meeting may find some of the pros and cons being aired.

Release Driver On $210 Bond

Police charged an Arlington Heights man with driving while intoxicated and improper lane usage early Sunday morning after observing him driving erratically at Gibbons st. and Northwest hwy.

Released under $210 bond and scheduled to appear in Police Magistrate's court August 16 was Louis F. Brown, 413 S. Gibbons.

Police said the right headlight of Brown's car was out and that the right front fender and hood appeared freshly damaged. Brown could not recall the time or place of any accident.

Ask Zoners To Overrule Permit Ban

An Arlington Heights building contractor will ask the zoning board of appeals Monday to overrule Building Commissioner Harold Best's denial of a permit to build a house at 512 S. Vail.

Best refused to issue a building permit to Edward Clarke, a local contractor, because frontage on the Vail lot is only 50 feet. Village ordinance requires a frontage of 70 feet.

CLARKE HAS an option to purchase the lot, but wants an okay from the zoning board before he exercises the option. Five members of the seven-man board must vote in the affirmative in order to overrule Best's decision.

A hearing on Clark's appeal will be held at 8 p.m. Monday in the north side fire station, 709 N. State rd.

City Is Remembered If It Supports Art

by LUCILE ERNST

People are strange. Have you ever noticed how some people will go into a tantrum and sometimes into a state of shock over a real or imagined slight to his religion. Yet this very same person never goes near his church nor does he give it any financial support. If you don't support an idea or an institution with your time and or money, you might as well be against it.

This very same paradox in behavior occurs in the arts. The fine arts are simply fine with some people. They sincerely hope their children will appreciate the arts as they do. All the arts worth appreciating, however, were created four hundred years ago. If any of their children should pick up a brush for any reason but to paint a room, they would disown them. They are honestly surprised that anyone spends money on paintings.

IF OUR FRIEND should be wealthy, he may have to buy a painting at some time for status sake, no matter how silly it may seem. Years ago he would have gone to Europe to buy paintings. No one in his right mind bought anything but the work of French painters. This made it necessary for all American painters to go to France and study so they could sell their paintings to rich Americans.

Times have changed. Now one buys paintings in New York, if one must buy them at all. This has made it necessary for any artist who insists on eating to move to New York.

THE CHICAGO area is famous for losing its best artists. Most of the first rate artists who were born, reared, and educated here, must go to New York to make a living.

By some strange coincidence the very same thing happens to anyone who wants to achieve stature in any of the arts, literature, drama, ballet, or music. Even entertainers must leave the second biggest city in the country to achieve prominence.

Does it matter? It depends on your own evaluation of yourself, your community and its place in history.

A strange thing happened in history that has provided the academic question of the ages. Why did all the great men of one period live in the one small city state of Athens? Within a relatively short period of time, the greatest statesmen, writers, artists, and thinkers of all time were produced in one city. Did the great men make Athens or did Athens make the great men?

NO DOUBT Athens is immortal because of her great men but it was no accident that they lived there. Greatness could be developed because it was appreciated.

I am sure something must have been happening somewhere else in the world during the Golden Age of Greece yet we know nothing of the rest of the world, the people's thoughts, drama, art or battles. We couldn't care less. Greek history is still exciting to read because it was dramatically written, with more interest in conflict than accuracy. The slight case of myopia that made all Greek writers see in terms of a thousand has only endeared them to us. They were never surrounded by 280 ships or 640 men, always a thousand.

IF ANY CITY or country would be remembered, it must support its artists, its writers, dramatists, musicians, and poets. This means not turning their talents into more practical channels. It also means not starving them out of the city or the arts by never buying their work.

If our artists' visions seem myopic to you, you may be right but shortsighted. No doubt some practical soul at the Battle of Salamis counted the Persian ships. There may have been only 562, but his count has been lost to us. It was the poet who saw in thousands we read, and it is he who made Athens great and Greece immortal. (Bill

Arlington Heights' newest apartments, Salem Lane, will open its new swimming pool Thursday, August 10, with an open house and style show.

The open house will feature a style show by Anderson's Fashions of Arlington Heights. The opening will be a sneak preview of 1962 swim suits from Cole of California, especially flown in for this event.

Fall daytime, playtime and evening fashions will be modeled by professional models. This collection consists of dresses, dyed-to-match sweaters and skirts, and coats, including all fashions that are featured in national fashion magazines. Mothers and daughters will have the opportunity of viewing fall's newest styles and colors in the comfort of Salem Lane's sun deck.

VIC NEELEY, internationally famous organist, will be presented as guest star through the courtesy of Roy Baumann Music Studios. He will play accompaniment for the models as well as special numbers. There will also be an opportunity for open house guests to meet him and request special numbers.

The open house and refreshments will be continuous from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m. There will be style shows at 2 and 7 p.m.

Salem Lane apartments at 304 N. Salem ave. can be reached by turning a sharp left from Bill Cook Buick on Euclid ave. or by turning north from Campbell st. at Salem ln. The heated swimming pool will be the first for apartments in this area. (A

Counselors Still On Call at School

In the June 29 issue of the Arlington Heights Herald, parents and students of the Arlington and Prospect high schools were invited to avail themselves of the counseling services offered at the respective schools during the summer months.

Many parents and students have taken advantage of this service and have called the high schools for appointments. Counselors are still on duty and a phone call or visit to either school can set up an appointment.

IN ADDITION to the counseling services, the schools have mailed out questionnaires to the 1960 and 1961 graduates, asking that they be filled out and returned so the results can be tabulated. The staffs of the two high schools are sincerely interested in discovering the whereabouts of graduates, whether they have been attending school, if they are working, etc., and are asking for suggestions as to how the schools can be of even more service to the students.

There are still a number of graduates who have not returned the questionnaires and they are urged to do so in the near future in order to make the results more meaningful.

'Bay of Naples' Wins Top Honors

Gian L. Campanile, architect and artist, 110 N. Maple ave., Bloomingdale, was the winner of the top ribbon in the seventh annual Northwest Suburban art exhibition held Friday and Saturday at Arlington Market shopping center.

Second place award in the adult class went to Orville G. Bolte, 1314 W. Euclid st., Arlington Heights, for a modern sculpture Honduras mahogany piece titled "Head And Hand."

FIRST PLACE in the grade school class was won by Hugh Wesler, 332 S. Derbyshire lane, for his tempera painting, "51's."

The Arlington Market art fair offered a wide variety of talent with several "working" artists making sketches and paintings of visitors on the spot, displays of ceramics, sculpture, three-dimensional pictures and many paintings in traditional and modern styles.

Under the protection of a canopy, the displays reached from one end of the center to the other.

Appetite Jaded?

Varied Library Diet Features Tasty Menu

"For the a la carte reader, books placed on the library's shelves in recent months may serve to spur jaded summer appetites or to spice the routing of everyday living with a pinch of something different," Mrs. Stadelman said.

For the history lover, there is 'A Treasury of American Heritage," edited by American Heritage magazine; "Frederic Remington's "Own West"; "When F.D.R. Died," by Bernard Asbell, and "An Album of American History" by James Truslow Adams and others.

POLITICS IS represented by Theodore White's "The Making of the President"; "Let Us Begin," which describes the first 100 days of the Kennedy Administration; Sherman Adams' "First Hand Report: the Story of the Eisenhower Administration"; and Stan Opotowsky's 'The Kennedy Government."

Heavier fare includes such books as "Inside Europe Today," by John Gunther; 'The War Called Peace," by Harry and Bonaro Overstreet; "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich," by William L. Shirer; "Russia and the West Under Lenin and Stalin," by George Kennan; and "Science and Government," by C. P. Snow.

Humor is represented by 'The Snake Has All the Lines," by Jean Kerr; "Lanterns and Lances," by James Thurber; 'The Battered Bride," by Elinor Goulding Smith and others.

Fiction favorites for summer reading include Irving Stone's "The Agony and the Ecstasy"; James Michener's "Hawaii"; Gladys Schmitt's "Rembrandt," Rumer Godden's "China Court," Mika Waltari's "The Secret of the Kingdom," and Charles Israel's "Rizpah."

Call Mental Health Meet

The Arlington Heights chapter of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Assn. will hold its first meeting tonight (Thursday) at 8:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Herbert C. Wood, 19 N. Prindle, local chairman.

A proposed mental health clinic, to be located in Arlington Heights, will serve six other northwest suburban communities.

"The need for a clinic has been well established through contacts with medical men, ministers, school administrators, law enforcement officials and others knowledgeable about the mental health problem," Mrs. Wood explained.

There are currently no clinic services available in the area and the need is steadily increasing, she said. Tonight's meeting is open to all residents desiring further information regarding the work of the association.

Approve Lot Size Zoning Variation

The Arlington Heights zoning board of appeals voted 5-0 July 24 to grant a variation permitting construction of a home on a 50-foot lot at 116 S. Brighton in the Stonegate subdivision.

Petitioner Warren M. Kline said he wants to sell his house at 114 S. Brighton and build a new one on the adjacent empty lot.

THE ZONING board voted to waive 70-foot frontage requirements when it was determined construction on the 50-foot lot would not harm the established character of the neighborhood.

"The proposed two-story home is generally in keeping with the neighborhood and will maintain the prevailing property values," the board ruled.

Kline's request for a variation in side yard requirements was turned down by the board.

Housewife Finds Rats, Police Act

Arlington Heights police this week received a telephone call from a housewife on south Walnut st. reporting the existence of rates in the neighborhood.

The housewife said a week ago a rat jumped inside her freezer and refused to leave. She closed the door and froze it to death, she said.

POLICE INVESTIGATED the scene and discovered a neighbor used to raise hogs and chickens in his yard before the area was residentially developed. They theorize the rats are holdovers from earlier breeding days.

Poison has been placed out for the rodents' consumption. It'll just be a matter of time now, police observe.

Car Overturns; Slight Injuries

A 22-year-old Arlington Heights motorist escaped serious injury early Tuesday morning when the small sports car he was driving turned over in northwest Palatine.

Lynk told police he swerved to avoid an on-coming car. The mishap occurred at 1:25 a.m.

Home Office Zoning OK Is Sought

A dentist's request that property at 1606 W. Campbell be rezoned from a single family residence classification to a limited business classification will be considered August 16 by the Arlington Heights plan commission.

Dr. Robert K. Jayne, owner of the property, plans to use the residence there for his dental offices.

A hearing on the request will be held August 16 at 9 p.m. in the village hall council room, 107 W. Davis st. All interested persons will be given an opportunity to be heard.

Slate Kood-Aid And Gum Party

Children from Pioneer park enjoyed a treasure hunt Monday morning with more than 75 children combing the area of the park and retrieving 35 marked clothes pins which were turned in for prizes.

Next week, a Kool-Aid party and a bubble gum blowing contest will be held. Details can be obtained from the director at Pioneer or from the three bulletin boards at the park. (A

Architect Granted Contract by Board

How many votes are needed to legally pass a motion?

Members of the Wheeling township board of auditors weren't sure Tuesday when it came time to hire an architect for the proposed $35,000 township garage.

Auditor John McGivney said, "A majority of board members present and voting constitutes a legitimate vote."

SUPERVISOR Albert C. Peters disagreed. "A majority of all board members' votes is needed to pass a motion," he said.

They were referring to a motion of July 11 which ended in two members voting "aye" and two passing their votes on a proposal to hire an architect. Peters ruled the motion died for lack of a majority. McGivney reasoned it was carried.

Siding with Peters Tuesday were Auditors Russell Conklin and Edward Fritz and Clerk Dorothy Hauff.

Robert C. Buckley, the board's attorney, suggested both sides had valid points. He said the best way to handle the apparent hiring of two architects was to award the contract to the one "you've gone the farthest with."

THE BOARD then authorized Peters to enter into a contract with Architect Nick S. Theodorou, 3550 N. Lavergne, Chicago.

McGivney, asked by the board in June to interview architects and come back with a recommendation, said he favored hiring a local man. He also said he disapproved of "early negotiations" with Theodorou.

The garage will be built on township property on Hintz rd. It will measure approximately 60 zy 70 feet and will house road and bridge equipment heretofore kept outside.

Theodorou is charging six per cent of the cost of construction for his services. He requested a $500 retainer. Contract for construction will be awarded to the lowest bidder, according to the board.

DEADLINE for submitting bids is August 28. Specifications may be obtained from Theodorou's office upon payment of $15.

Standing Committee Decision Is Slated

Following a closed door session July 17, trustees said they had discussed the matter but had not yet determined if standing committees are either necessary or advisable.

A final decision will be announced at Monday's regular board meeting, they said.

VIRGINIA TERRACE

Susan Catlin is a case in point. Susan and Virginia, daughters of Dorothy and Charles Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, were on the last lap of a 3-week tour of the east when Susie failed to recognize a certain 3-leaved plant and had to head for home and the calamine lotion.

Fortunately the girls, accompanied by Dorothy's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wolfe, had already visited and viewed such places as Niagara Falls, the Statue of Liberty, U. N. building and Coney Island in New York; the Liberty Bell and Betsy Ross' home in Philadelphia; and Washington, D. C., with a tour of the White House and the Washington monument.

A TEENAGE party was held for Marcia Cech, daughter of Ed and Betty, 1402 N. Chicago. "Sweet-16" was the magic number and 22 youngsters attired in bermuda shorts danced and enjoyed a late supper.

A welcome is extended to new Terrace residents, Donald and Aileen Sanberg. Moving here from Cleveland, they have settled at 1258 N. Yale with their daughters, Lynn, 6, and Sheri, 5.

Shortly after moving here, the Sanbergs visited the Henry Ford museum in Dearborn, Mich., where they took several color slides of exhibits depicting early Americana, in which they are mutually interested. They attend the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights.

Recently Clare, daughter of Hazel and Taft Lowell, 1246 N. Yale, hosted a farewell luncheon party for playmates Mary Lynn and Susan Reese who will be leaving the Terrace shortly. Mrs. Lowell and Mrs. Judy Zare served, and Mrs. Marlene Pendelton made corsages for the girls. Attending were Ruthie Broderick, Janet and Cindy Pendelton, Kris Anderson, Kay and Reed Lowell and Debby and Kathy Zare.

GRACE AND George Rogers, 1313 N. Chicago, with their daughter, Linda, recently held a picnic in honor of Patsy, who was 12. They picnicked at Petrifying Springs, Wis., where the girls were able to explore surrounding woods.

A patio party was held for Terry Trummer, 1418 W. Oakton, who was 6, July 27. Attending were Ellen Frisbie, Barbara Brown, Leslie Yates, Nancy Jo and Barbie Geer, Suzanne Burkhart, Coleen and Patricia Coleman and Kristi Nelson.

Major and Mrs. William Brown, 1211 N. Race, and their son, Doug, enjoyed a wilderness canoe trip on their recent vacation. Starting at Ely, Minn., the Browns canoed to Quetico Provincial park in Ontario, Canada. They spent a total of 11 days on the water, and paddled some 60 miles, enjoying stopovers at campsites with swimming and fishing.

Sunday Fred and Anne Miller, 1256 N. Illinois, celebrated Elizabeth's third birthday with a really big party. Invited were several members of Fred's Alumni Club of Loras college, Dubuque, and a total of 14 children were present to enjoy birthday cake and ice cream.

RICHARD AND Alice Brown, 1413 N. Chicago, and the children, Donald, Linda and Susan, recently returned from a 2-week vacation stay at a cottage in Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where they enjoyed swimming, motor boating and water skiing.

Another splash party was held Saturday—in honor of Andy Staubitz, 1447 N. Race, on his sixth birthday. Present were sisters, Jenny, Laura and Nancy, and brother, David, plus playmates, Skip Flurer, Steven Wilson, Kathy and Linda Gustke, Kenny, Bobby, Lori and Tommy Herrmann. That evening a birthday dinner for Andy was attended by his immediate family and two grandmothers, Mrs. Bertha Staubitz and Mrs. Harriet Roser.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., was the recent vacation site for Glenn and Deanna Olson, 1342 N. Chicago. While the Olsons were enjoying scenes and sights in the far west, their daughter, Dawn, was being cared for by her grandmother, Mrs. H. E. Olson of Palatine.

Swimming, fishing and water skiing were the pursuits enjoyed by Ray and Marilou Crouch, 1228 N. Chicago, on their recent vacation in Waupaca, Wis. Accompanied by their children, Marianne and David Allan, the Crouches spent some of their time in Waupaca visiting Marilou's brother and family, the Robert Richards, where her mother, Mrs. Marion Douglass, had been staying. Mrs. Douglass then accompanied her daughter and family back to the Terrace, where she now makes her home.

A family dinner was held in honor of John Lussier, 1215 N. Chicago, who was 3 July 27. Helping his parents, Ed and Jean, with the celebration, were his brothers, Bob, Tom, Jim and Eddie. Guests were John's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lussier, and uncle, Bob Lussier, Glenview, and cousins Joey and Terri Sullivan.

LESLIE ANN, daughter of Les and Charlene Bang, 1315 N. Illinois, excitedly postcards home that her camping experiences at Camp Hickory Hills in Edgerton, Wis., are as funfulled and exciting as she could ever hoped them to be.

Mary and Fred Maybee, 1251 N. Wilke, presided over an outdoor barbecue last Saturday night for several of Fred's coworkers and friends who had joined him earlier in the day at the "400 Club" golf tournament held in Roselle.

A family dinner party was held in honor of Beverly, daughter of Edward and Florence Paul, 1215 N. Race, on the occasion of her 14th birthday, Sunday. In addition to her brother, Edward, and sister, Mary Beth, other relatives attending included her grandfather, Mr. K. P. Deveikis of Cicero. As an additional celebration, Beverly enjoyed attending the International Trade Fair at McCormick Place in Chicago this week.

Angela and Emil Piscopo, 1325 N. Race, hosted a birthday party for their niece, Nancy Jean Caputo, who was 3 Sunday. Attending were aunts, uncles and cousins, all of whom enjoyed guitar and banjo music, during their backyard buffet dinner.

During their vacation, Gene Mardarino, 1264 N. Race, fished in northern Michigan with his brother-in-law, and his wife, Ann, enjoyed a stay in Sturgeon Bay, visiting her parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Watts, and Gene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mardarino, all of whom enjoyed seeing their grandchildren, Deborah, Nancy, Lori and Gene Jr., again. FROM RIDGE PARK

It was Lou Hostler's turn to entertain her club Friday night, but shortly after the guests arrived at 927 N. Kennicott, where the Hostler's live, they entertained her for a stork shower. Lu served refreshments later in the evening.

Mickey and Bea Danes, 725 N. Harvard, took Curt with them when they motored to Post Lake, Wis., for the weekend. Curt brought his swimming suit along "just in case" and put it to good use up there.

When the Bob Balfours, 1208 Northwest hwy., took a vote on how to enter Canada from Detroit, the children were all in favor of the tunnel. Heading east toward Niagara Falls, they caught their first glimpse of the falls during the day and were so impressed they returned to see them at night. Toronto was their next stop before arriving at Sault Ste. Marie where they ferried to Michigan.

Driving to St. Ignace, they took another boat ride, this time to Mackinaw Island. They relaxed during a carriage ride around the island, toured the Fort and visited other places of interest, postponing their return to the mainland until the last boat.

Working their way down to Tomahawk, they visited Westgaters, the Fred Hauths, who were vacationing there. They also stopped in Minocqua for an overnight visit with friends before driving home.

AS A WAY of celebrating Jim Christensen's birthday and wedding anniversary, the Jim Kings invited the whole family to their summer place on Power Lake Sunday. When Burt didn't have a fishing rod in his hands, he was swimming or trying his luck at water skiing. Going to Power Lake always guarantees fun for the little Christensens, just as it does their big brother, Burt, who stayed on for a few days. Jim, Anne and their children live at 725 N. Patton.

Japanese lanterns and colored lights were strung around the Dick Sorensens' back yard Saturday night when they gave a surprise birthday party for Ruth Lense. Even her husband kept the secret until 30 people, including her parents, shouted "surprise" when she walked in. The cement slab for the Sorensen's new garage provided a perfect place to dance to the music of a phonograph that was hooked up in the yard. Elsie served a buffet supper later in the evening. The Sorensens live at 943 N. Kaspar.

The grill was just right for roasting hot dogs and marshmallows Saturday when Gerry and John Furlong, Susie Newburg, Russell Elens and Bill Windhorst arrived at noon for a twin birthday party for George and Johnny Callahan. Johnny was 5 April 7 and George was 7 July 28. After lunch the children still had a good appetite for ice cream and cake. ....

THE RICHARD Balkins, 832 N. Ridge, split their vacation in half, spending the first part on short trips close to home. One day was spent at the Brookfield zoo and another at Starved Rock where the girls had the thrill of an airplane ride with their dad.

The second half of their vacation featured a trip to Mackinaw Island where they spent the night. The girls rode horses and also biked around the island with their parents, visiting the many tourist attractions along the way. Coming home by way of Wisconsin, they stopped in Menominee for a visit with one of Mr. Balkin's army buddies.

Saturday evening Shirley and Jim Garrison, 716 N. Kaspar, had dinner in Homewood with former Arlington Heighters, George and Ida Cole.

IF THE BLACKBURN children seemed a little water logged after a month's vacation at their grandparents' cottage on Houghton Lake, it's because they went swimming every day. This was a restful vacation for the Jack Blackburns, 1429 W. Brown, as well as their children and they saved a special treat till last when they came home on the boat from Ludington to Milwaukee.

Another family who advocates a "cottage on the lake" vacation for small children is the Dick Kessenich family, 1005 N. Illinois, who has just returned from a few days at Lake Wisconsin. Sandwiched in between swimming and naps was a trip to Milwaukee to see a Braves game.

Sightseeing the first week of vacation and relaxing at a lakeside cottage the second week filled the bill perfectly for the Edmund Mears, 1014 N. Patton. They drove to Niagara Falls before going on up to North Bay Canada, and working their way back to Copper Harbor and Eagle Harbor. By the time they arrived at Webb Lake, Minn., their cottage looked mighty good to them and so did the swimming and fishing.

ARRIVAL OF MRS. Eugene Myslo's parents, sister, brother-in-law and baby from Iron Mountain, Mich., Saturday prompted a big family picnic at the home of her brother and his family in Itasca the following day. The Myslos live at 721 N. Kaspar.

The Don Vogels, 724 N. Kaspar, were cottage vacationers this summer too, only they drove to Pompano Beach, Fla., to their cottage on the ocean. This was a relaxing vacation for the whole family with the ocean on one side and two pools on the other side. On the way home, they stopped in Chattanooga for a trek up Lookout mountain.

When Diane and Don Cain stopped in Glencoe for a weekend visit with friends, Nancy and Frank Peterson, 1409 W. Oakton, they had an outdoor barbecue Saturday evening. The guest list swelled to 14 mutual college friends, including the Cains, who came from Kalamazoo, Mich.

WITH SERENA Rudy's sister's wedding coming up in July, the whole family went east for their vacation. With both families in that area, there was a family reunion just about every day. It wasn't all visiting for the children, however. Their dad took them to the Bronx zoo one day and showed them many of the local landmarks. On the way home they saw "Carnival," with Anna Maria Alberghetti.

A day in the mountains of New Jersey in Suffolk county with Bill's brother and his wife was a welcome change from the rush of Manhattan. Home now, they are amazed at how much they crowded in so short a time.

Margaret Schlickman, 712 N. Fernandez, and her four children went to Rockford for a 6-day visit with relatives. With the weather just right for swimming, the boys went just about every day.

THE W. R. Shrivers, 1004 N. Harvard, were happy to have Bob spend the weekend with them. Bob is attending Parsons college in Fairfield, Iowa, this summer.

Rita and Norman Wall, 936 N. Ridge, saw "Take Me Along" at the Melody Top with Mary Lou and Ray Crouch. The two couples had dinner at Galvins and Morans before the show and stopped at O'Hare Inn for snacks at Henricis afterward.

Ginnie Read's sister, Marilyn Squiers, spent part of her vacation with Ginnie, Bob and Charlie when they went back east recently. They camped the first week at Coolidge State forest in Plymouth, Vt., putting 700 miles on their car driving to the many places of interest nearby, including Calvin Coolidge's home.

When they pulled stakes they drove to Bob's parents' home in Wellesley Hills, Mass., for a 2-day visit before going on to see Ginnie's dad, Vincent Squiers, at Newton. Between the two grandfathers, Charlie now has many Civil War relics to add to his collection. Before heading west, they stopped in Rhode Island at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown.

FROM SHERWOOD

When Stephen Colvin returned home to 1319 Watling, he was full of tales of an exciting month's stay in Europe. He flew to Paris, where he attended the opera five times, wandered through the Louvre, lunched on the Eiffel Tower.

He was joined by two boys who graduated with Tim from Amherst, then the threesome bought sleeping bags for their drive to Madrid, Spain, camping out all the way. Many bullfights later, the boys drove to Barcelona for a round of sightseeing before driving over the Pyrennes back to Paris and then home.

Arriving in New York, Stephen spent a week with Tim before returning home. Stephen will be here until August 7 when he leaves for the University of Missouri to work on the best pictures of the year contest with NPPA before returning to Washington and Lee this fall.

An even dozen were seated around the table at Amy and Paul Fellinghams home, 1145 N. Patton, Friday when they had a family dinner party prompted by nephew John Fellingham's visit from California. John's parents, the Warren Fellinghams of Inverness, the Bob Redekers, Wendy and Jerry Hadly and Helen and James Mann rounded out the party. (A

Arlington Greens

Peter Blais, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Metzel, 1106 N. Dryden ave., was christened in St. James Catholic church July 23. Rev. John Lane officiated at the afternoon ceremony. Godparents were the baby's brother and sister, Jeffrey and Nancy. A party later in the day was attended by 20 relatives, among whom were grandparents, the senior Emil Metzels of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blais of Fox Lake. Peter was born July 1 in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, weighing 8 pounds 2 ounces and is the Metzels' eighth child.

A week's vacation at Jordan Lake near Oxford, Wis., ended early last week for the Don Helbling family, 601 E. Clarendon ave. The fishing, swimming and relaxing was also enjoyed by the John Lynches, 605 E. Olive, who vacationed at the same resort.

Also ending a week's vacation early last week was Mrs. Ronald Luehrs and daughters, Linda and Janice, who visited in Buffalo, N. Y. with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Maxwell. While in the east they attended the wedding and reception of a family friend in nearby Hamburg.

NEWCOMERS to the Greens are Charles and Verna Danegger, 1114 N. Dryden ave., since July 10 when they moved from Reuter ave. where they lived for several months. Formerly of Park Ridge, the Daneggers have four children, 7-year-old twins, Cheryl and Carol, 6-year-old Cathy, and Chucky, who is five. In partnership with his parents, the Daneggers operate a pastry shop in Arlington Market.

Dinner guest in the Don Schreiner home last Wednesday was a brother, Earl Schreiner of Des Moines, Iowa, who stopped to visit while on a business trip to Chicago.

WEEKEND guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Reed, 1146 N. Hickory ave., from Friday through Sunday were Master Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Bandy and daughter, Merry, of Las Vegas. The family was enroute to their home at Cape Canaveral, Fla. Mr. Bandy and Mr. Reed are cousins.

The Ed Schlacks, 622 E. Clarendon ave., returned early last week from a 10-day trip downstate where they visited grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kimpling in Virginia, and spent a few days in St. Louis to visit a brother and his family, the Robert Kimplings, and friends in Centralia. Saturday the Schlacks' back yard was the gathering place for the evening cook-out. Attending were the nine members of the neighborhood bridge group and their husbands.

House guest in the Ken Jahnke home, 1116 N. Belmont ave., is their 14-year-old niece, Lynn Jahnke, who arrived by plane from her home in Glendora, Cal., late in June. Formerly of Mount Prospect, Lynn is enjoying the summer visiting with relatives and former classmates.

MR. AND MRS. O. J. Bailey, 627 E. Clarendon ave., returned home Sunday after a week's vacation at Pequot Lake near Brainerd, Minn. Making the return trip was their 12-year-old niece, Theresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Delaney of Minneapolis, whom the Baileys visited on their trip north.

The John Finch family also ended their vacation last weekend when they returned home to 820 E. Oakton Monday. During the month of July they were guests of an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Race of West Bend, Wis. Water skiing on Big Cedar Lake was the favorite sport for the group.

Ten-year-old Diane Brown, 1146 N. Dryden ave., attended the National Baton Twirling contest at Grant Park in Milwaukee July 21 and 22. She competed with her group the Petite Debs. They placed 10th in the competition.

THE WARREN GRAN family, 1146 N. Hickory, and the Erwin Dettloffs, 160 Hickory, returned Sunday after a week's summer "cottaging" at Big Horn Llake near Townsend, Wis. There was fishing, swimming and relaxing to fill in the hours. Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Dettloff motored to Eagle River where daughter, Susan, began a month's stay at Camp McCormick.

Last Sunday the Walt Browns, 146 N. Dryden ave., were hosts hosted nine couples at a buffet supper, after which the group attended a benefit performance of "Can Can" at the Music Theatre in Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baugous, 1158 out for a group of their friends who later joined them for the trip to Highland Park.

Tuesday was moving day for the Henry Testa family, 1115 N. Beverly lane, where they lived for a year and a half. Detroit is where they will make their home. (A

Hazel Peck CLearbrook 9-0688

Sing a song of August when the temperatures are high and many Hasbrook residents think fondly of July and the vacations they enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cratty, 245 Maude ave., drove to Detroit, Mich., where Mrs. Cratty remained to meet and visit a new nephew, while her husband and sons, William and Jeffrey, traveled on to Springfield, Mass., to spend some time with relatives there.

Doc and Jo Reed and children, Mike and Patty, 1703 Mitchell ave., were in Missouri and Kansas for two busy weeks full of reunions with relatives and friends.

"See Chicago first and leave the driving to a bus" seems to have been the motto adopted by Ted and Jane O'Brien, 1516 N. Kaspar ave., who spent their 2-week vacation at home sampling Chicagoland's activities. Frank and Bessie Smith found the idea pretty attractive, too. They also vacationed at home, 1523 N. Kaspar ave.

Change of pace meant change of faces for the Sutherlands, Doris and Robert. After a pleasant week in Tennessee with Doris' mother, they left their children in her charge and went on to two interesting weeks of touring Arizona, the Grand Canyon, Mexico and Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

JACK AND JEAN Wood, 1625 Chestnut ave., plus daughters, Sherry and Janet, were guests of Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wood, Mt. Vernon, Ill, for a week.

Clark Lake, Mich., was the spot picked by Bob and Nancy Elder and family, 1529 Ridge ave., for three weeks of waterskiing, boating and golf. Incidentally, the Elders' young daughter, Gini, literally slid into her sixth year on July 26. At a birthday luncheon, Gini received a 'Slip-n-Slide" as a gift, and guests Robin Heiser, Patty O'Hara, Robin Evenstad, Patty Engelbretsen and Coleen Croghan gladly helped her try out its possibilities.

That Pure Oil picnic on July 25 at Potawatomi Park in St. Charles was a fine affair, thanks to Harold W. Moore, 1521 N. Kaspar ave., who was general chiarman. A good job always demands a lot of time and work, and now that it's over Mrs. Moore says she's "glad to have her husband back."

The sky's the limit for Rex Swinehart, 812 Lynwood avenue. After two weeks with his grandparents in Akron, Ohio, he arrived by plane on July 30 at O'Hare field, where he was met by his parents, Curt and Bonnie, and sister, Sheri.

THERE ARE quite a few newcomers being welcomed into Hasbrook community. Dick and Jackie Vignola have a brand new daughter in their home at 1517 Fernandez pl. You can bet the Vignolas will never forget the date of Gus Grissom's space flight. Five-pound 12 ounce Lisanne was born on the same day, July 21, in Illinois Masonic hospital, Chicago.

Bill and Audrey Schuman recently moved to 1708 Mitchell ave. They and sons, Bryan, 2, and Bradley, 8 months, formerly lived in Florida.

From Berwyn, Ill., to 1524 N. Kaspar ave., was the move made by Harold and Lisa Johnson in early July. The first of the month, too, saw Howard and Jane Cushing establish their household, complete with three children, Susan, 3, Jane Ellen, 2, and John, 3 months at 1527 N. Kaspar ave. The Cushings had been residents of Evanston.

Just call Mary Grant the "Pied Piper of Lynwood." Mary who cared for Cathy and Mark Wesolak, her niece and nephew from July 26 to 30 while their parents vacationed, made quite a picture as she walked them and assorted neighborhood youngsters who joined the parade around the block every afternoon.

St. James Catholic church on State rd. was the scene of the July 2 christening of Charles Robert Grabowski, son of the Stephen Grabowskis, 1818 Mitchell ave. His sponsors by proxy were Mr. and Mrs. John Brodack of West Hartford, Conn. On July 9 in the same church, Almond and Mary Lou Sumner, 1825 Mitchell ave., had their son, Douglas Arthur, christened. Sponsors, again by proxy, were Mary Lou's niece, Miss Kathy Wahl, and Michael McCutcheon, both of Webster, N. Y.

There's a lot of excitement on the teen scene where a new club is being formed to provide activities for all teenagers from Junior High on up. Mary Lou Anderson, 704 W. Thomas st., is temporary president.

The W. F. Petersons, 1605 Chestnut ave., had a special visitor July 20 to 23 in the person of a new grandson, Steven, born July 15 to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peterson. The younger Petersons, who live in Wheaton, brought him and their daughter, Terry, one year old, for a few days.

Good food with good friends made for a pleasant dinner in the yard of Bob and Helen Sheahan, 1610 Chestnut ave., on July 15, when they entertained the Ken McDonalds and daughter, Susan, from Peoria, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Secord of McHenry.

It'll be "you all" with an Irish touch as Jerry and Vi Sweeney set up housekeeping with son, Mike, in Memphis, Tenn. They moved on August 1, and their many Hasbrook friends wish them good luck.

BARBARA and Jack Edwards, 1612 Ridge, with sons, Bruce, Scott and Todd, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards, Jack's parents of Madison, Wis., for a week. One of the high spots of the visit was Jack's 15th year class reunion which he and Barbara attended.

Thornton and Dorothy Tongue, 1805 Ridge ave., are back home after 3½ weeks with Dorothy's parents, the W. C. Danielsons, in Largo, Fla. A special treat, they say, was a tropical bird show they attended in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bergeson, 706 Lynwood ave., are introducing Paul Arthur, born in Resurrection hospital July 10, weighing 7 pounds 8 ounces. At the tender age of three weeks he's eating three meals a day according to Mrs. Bergeson.

Susan Catlin is a case in point. Susan and Virginia, daughters of Dorothy and Charles Catlin, 1609 W. Olive, were on the last lap of a 3-week tour of the east when Susie failed to recognize a certain 3-leaved plant and had to head for home and the calamine lotion.

Fortunately the girls, accompanied by Dorothy's folks, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wolfe, had already visited and viewed such places as Niagara Falls, the Statue of Liberty, U. N. building and Coney Island in New York; the Liberty Bell and Betsy Ross' home in Philadelphia; and Washington, D. C., with a tour of the White House and the Washington monument.

A TEENAGE party was held for Marcia Cech, daughter of Ed and Betty, 1402 N. Chicago. "Sweet-16" was the magic number and 22 youngsters attired in bermuda shorts danced and enjoyed a late supper.

A welcome is extended to new Terrace residents, Donald and Aileen Sanberg. Moving here from Cleveland, they have settled at 1258 N. Yale with their daughters, Lynn, 6, and Sheri, 5.

Shortly after moving here, the Sanbergs visited the Henry Ford museum in Dearborn, Mich., where they took several color slides of exhibits depicting early Americana, in which they are mutually interested. They attend the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights.

Recently Clare, daughter of Hazel and Taft Lowell, 1246 N. Yale, hosted a farewell luncheon party for playmates Mary Lynn and Susan Reese who will be leaving the Terrace shortly. Mrs. Lowell and Mrs. Judy Zare served, and Mrs. Marlene Pendelton made corsages for the girls. Attending were Ruthie Broderick, Janet and Cindy Pendelton, Kris Anderson, Kay and Reed Lowell and Debby and Kathy Zare.

GRACE AND George Rogers, 1313 N. Chicago, with their daughter, Linda, recently held a picnic in honor of Patsy, who was 12. They picnicked at Petrifying Springs, Wis., where the girls were able to explore surrounding woods.

A patio party was held for Terry Trummer, 1418 W. Oakton, who was 6, July 27. Attending were Ellen Frisbie, Barbara Brown, Leslie Yates, Nancy Jo and Barbie Geer, Suzanne Burkhart, Coleen and Patricia Coleman and Kristi Nelson.

Major and Mrs. William Brown, 1211 N. Race, and their son, Doug, enjoyed a wilderness canoe trip on their recent vacation. Starting at Ely, Minn., the Browns canoed to Quetico Provincial park in Ontario, Canada. They spent a total of 11 days on the water, and paddled some 60 miles, enjoying stopovers at campsites with swimming and fishing.

Sunday Fred and Anne Miller, 1256 N. Illinois, celebrated Elizabeth's third birthday with a really big party. Invited were several members of Fred's Alumni Club of Loras college, Dubuque, and a total of 14 children were present to enjoy birthday cake and ice cream.

RICHARD AND Alice Brown, 1413 N. Chicago, and the children, Donald, Linda and Susan, recently returned from a 2-week vacation stay at a cottage in Sturgeon Bay, Wis., where they enjoyed swimming, motor boating and water skiing.

Another splash party was held Saturday—in honor of Andy Staubitz, 1447 N. Race, on his sixth birthday. Present were sisters, Jenny, Laura and Nancy, and brother, David, plus playmates, Skip Flurer, Steven Wilson, Kathy and Linda Gustke, Kenny, Bobby, Lori and Tommy Herrmann. That evening a birthday dinner for Andy was attended by his immediate family and two grandmothers, Mrs. Bertha Staubitz and Mrs. Harriet Roser.

LAS VEGAS, Nev., was the recent vacation site for Glenn and Deanna Olson, 1342 N. Chicago. While the Olsons were enjoying scenes and sights in the far west, their daughter, Dawn, was being cared for by her grandmother, Mrs. H. E. Olson of Palatine.

Swimming, fishing and water skiing were the pursuits enjoyed by Ray and Marilou Crouch, 1228 N. Chicago, on their recent vacation in Waupaca, Wis. Accompanied by their children, Marianne and David Allan, the Crouches spent some of their time in Waupaca visiting Marilou's brother and family, the Robert Richards, where her mother, Mrs. Marion Douglass, had been staying. Mrs. Douglass then accompanied her daughter and family back to the Terrace, where she now makes her home.

A family dinner was held in honor of John Lussier, 1215 N. Chicago, who was 3 July 27. Helping his parents, Ed and Jean, with the celebration, were his brothers, Bob, Tom, Jim and Eddie. Guests were John's maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Lussier, and uncle, Bob Lussier, Glenview, and cousins Joey and Terri Sullivan.

LESLIE ANN, daughter of Les and Charlene Bang, 1315 N. Illinois, excitedly postcards home that her camping experiences at Camp Hickory Hills in Edgerton, Wis., are as funfulled and exciting as she could ever hoped them to be.

Mary and Fred Maybee, 1251 N. Wilke, presided over an outdoor barbecue last Saturday night for several of Fred's coworkers and friends who had joined him earlier in the day at the "400 Club" golf tournament held in Roselle.

A family dinner party was held in honor of Beverly, daughter of Edward and Florence Paul, 1215 N. Race, on the occasion of her 14th birthday, Sunday. In addition to her brother, Edward, and sister, Mary Beth, other relatives attending included her grandfather, Mr. K. P. Deveikis of Cicero. As an additional celebration, Beverly enjoyed attending the International Trade Fair at McCormick Place in Chicago this week.

Angela and Emil Piscopo, 1325 N. Race, hosted a birthday party for their niece, Nancy Jean Caputo, who was 3 Sunday. Attending were aunts, uncles and cousins, all of whom enjoyed guitar and banjo music, during their backyard buffet dinner.

During their vacation, Gene Mardarino, 1264 N. Race, fished in northern Michigan with his brother-in-law, and his wife, Ann, enjoyed a stay in Sturgeon Bay, visiting her parents, Mrs. and Mrs. Robert Watts, and Gene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Mardarino, all of whom enjoyed seeing their grandchildren, Deborah, Nancy, Lori and Gene Jr., again. It was Lou Hostler's turn to entertain her club Friday night, but shortly after the guests arrived at 927 N. Kennicott, where the Hostler's live, they entertained her for a stork shower. Lu served refreshments later in the evening.

Mickey and Bea Danes, 725 N. Harvard, took Curt with them when they motored to Post Lake, Wis., for the weekend. Curt brought his swimming suit along "just in case" and put it to good use up there.

When the Bob Balfours, 1208 Northwest hwy., took a vote on how to enter Canada from Detroit, the children were all in favor of the tunnel. Heading east toward Niagara Falls, they caught their first glimpse of the falls during the day and were so impressed they returned to see them at night. Toronto was their next stop before arriving at Sault Ste. Marie where they ferried to Michigan.

Driving to St. Ignace, they took another boat ride, this time to Mackinaw Island. They relaxed during a carriage ride around the island, toured the Fort and visited other places of interest, postponing their return to the mainland until the last boat.

Working their way down to Tomahawk, they visited Westgaters, the Fred Hauths, who were vacationing there. They also stopped in Minocqua for an overnight visit with friends before driving home.

AS A WAY of celebrating Jim Christensen's birthday and wedding anniversary, the Jim Kings invited the whole family to their summer place on Power Lake Sunday. When Burt didn't have a fishing rod in his hands, he was swimming or trying his luck at water skiing. Going to Power Lake always guarantees fun for the little Christensens, just as it does their big brother, Burt, who stayed on for a few days. Jim, Anne and their children live at 725 N. Patton.

Japanese lanterns and colored lights were strung around the Dick Sorensens' back yard Saturday night when they gave a surprise birthday party for Ruth Lense. Even her husband kept the secret until 30 people, including her parents, shouted "surprise" when she walked in. The cement slab for the Sorensen's new garage provided a perfect place to dance to the music of a phonograph that was hooked up in the yard. Elsie served a buffet supper later in the evening. The Sorensens live at 943 N. Kaspar.

The grill was just right for roasting hot dogs and marshmallows Saturday when Gerry and John Furlong, Susie Newburg, Russell Elens and Bill Windhorst arrived at noon for a twin birthday party for George and Johnny Callahan. Johnny was 5 April 7 and George was 7 July 28. After lunch the children still had a good appetite for ice cream and cake. ....

THE RICHARD Balkins, 832 N. Ridge, split their vacation in half, spending the first part on short trips close to home. One day was spent at the Brookfield zoo and another at Starved Rock where the girls had the thrill of an airplane ride with their dad.

The second half of their vacation featured a trip to Mackinaw Island where they spent the night. The girls rode horses and also biked around the island with their parents, visiting the many tourist attractions along the way. Coming home by way of Wisconsin, they stopped in Menominee for a visit with one of Mr. Balkin's army buddies.

Saturday evening Shirley and Jim Garrison, 716 N. Kaspar, had dinner in Homewood with former Arlington Heighters, George and Ida Cole.

IF THE BLACKBURN children seemed a little water logged after a month's vacation at their grandparents' cottage on Houghton Lake, it's because they went swimming every day. This was a restful vacation for the Jack Blackburns, 1429 W. Brown, as well as their children and they saved a special treat till last when they came home on the boat from Ludington to Milwaukee.

Another family who advocates a "cottage on the lake" vacation for small children is the Dick Kessenich family, 1005 N. Illinois, who has just returned from a few days at Lake Wisconsin. Sandwiched in between swimming and naps was a trip to Milwaukee to see a Braves game.

Sightseeing the first week of vacation and relaxing at a lakeside cottage the second week filled the bill perfectly for the Edmund Mears, 1014 N. Patton. They drove to Niagara Falls before going on up to North Bay Canada, and working their way back to Copper Harbor and Eagle Harbor. By the time they arrived at Webb Lake, Minn., their cottage looked mighty good to them and so did the swimming and fishing.

ARRIVAL OF MRS. Eugene Myslo's parents, sister, brother-in-law and baby from Iron Mountain, Mich., Saturday prompted a big family picnic at the home of her brother and his family in Itasca the following day. The Myslos live at 721 N. Kaspar.

The Don Vogels, 724 N. Kaspar, were cottage vacationers this summer too, only they drove to Pompano Beach, Fla., to their cottage on the ocean. This was a relaxing vacation for the whole family with the ocean on one side and two pools on the other side. On the way home, they stopped in Chattanooga for a trek up Lookout mountain.

When Diane and Don Cain stopped in Glencoe for a weekend visit with friends, Nancy and Frank Peterson, 1409 W. Oakton, they had an outdoor barbecue Saturday evening. The guest list swelled to 14 mutual college friends, including the Cains, who came from Kalamazoo, Mich.

WITH SERENA Rudy's sister's wedding coming up in July, the whole family went east for their vacation. With both families in that area, there was a family reunion just about every day. It wasn't all visiting for the children, however. Their dad took them to the Bronx zoo one day and showed them many of the local landmarks. On the way home they saw "Carnival," with Anna Maria Alberghetti.

A day in the mountains of New Jersey in Suffolk county with Bill's brother and his wife was a welcome change from the rush of Manhattan. Home now, they are amazed at how much they crowded in so short a time.

Margaret Schlickman, 712 N. Fernandez, and her four children went to Rockford for a 6-day visit with relatives. With the weather just right for swimming, the boys went just about every day.

THE W. R. Shrivers, 1004 N. Harvard, were happy to have Bob spend the weekend with them. Bob is attending Parsons college in Fairfield, Iowa, this summer.

Rita and Norman Wall, 936 N. Ridge, saw "Take Me Along" at the Melody Top with Mary Lou and Ray Crouch. The two couples had dinner at Galvins and Morans before the show and stopped at O'Hare Inn for snacks at Henricis afterward.

Ginnie Read's sister, Marilyn Squiers, spent part of her vacation with Ginnie, Bob and Charlie when they went back east recently. They camped the first week at Coolidge State forest in Plymouth, Vt., putting 700 miles on their car driving to the many places of interest nearby, including Calvin Coolidge's home.

When they pulled stakes they drove to Bob's parents' home in Wellesley Hills, Mass., for a 2-day visit before going on to see Ginnie's dad, Vincent Squiers, at Newton. Between the two grandfathers, Charlie now has many Civil War relics to add to his collection. Before heading west, they stopped in Rhode Island at the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Brown.

FROM SHERWOOD

When Stephen Colvin returned home to 1319 Watling, he was full of tales of an exciting month's stay in Europe. He flew to Paris, where he attended the opera five times, wandered through the Louvre, lunched on the Eiffel Tower.

He was joined by two boys who graduated with Tim from Amherst, then the threesome bought sleeping bags for their drive to Madrid, Spain, camping out all the way. Many bullfights later, the boys drove to Barcelona for a round of sightseeing before driving over the Pyrennes back to Paris and then home.

Arriving in New York, Stephen spent a week with Tim before returning home. Stephen will be here until August 7 when he leaves for the University of Missouri to work on the best pictures of the year contest with NPPA before returning to Washington and Lee this fall.

An even dozen were seated around the table at Amy and Paul Fellinghams home, 1145 N. Patton, Friday when they had a family dinner party prompted by nephew John Fellingham's visit from California. John's parents, the Warren Fellinghams of Inverness, the Bob Redekers, Wendy and Jerry Hadly and Helen and James Mann rounded out the party. (A

Hasbrook Happenings

Hazel Peck CLearbrook 9-0688

Sing a song of August when the temperatures are high and many Hasbrook residents think fondly of July and the vacations they enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cratty, 245 Maude ave., drove to Detroit, Mich., where Mrs. Cratty remained to meet and visit a new nephew, while her husband and sons, William and Jeffrey, traveled on to Springfield, Mass., to spend some time with relatives there.

Doc and Jo Reed and children, Mike and Patty, 1703 Mitchell ave., were in Missouri and Kansas for two busy weeks full of reunions with relatives and friends.

"See Chicago first and leave the driving to a bus" seems to have been the motto adopted by Ted and Jane O'Brien, 1516 N. Kaspar ave., who spent their 2-week vacation at home sampling Chicagoland's activities. Frank and Bessie Smith found the idea pretty attractive, too. They also vacationed at home, 1523 N. Kaspar ave.

Change of pace meant change of faces for the Sutherlands, Doris and Robert. After a pleasant week in Tennessee with Doris' mother, they left their children in her charge and went on to two interesting weeks of touring Arizona, the Grand Canyon, Mexico and Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico.

JACK AND JEAN Wood, 1625 Chestnut ave., plus daughters, Sherry and Janet, were guests of Jack's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Wood, Mt. Vernon, Ill, for a week.

Clark Lake, Mich., was the spot picked by Bob and Nancy Elder and family, 1529 Ridge ave., for three weeks of water-skiing, boating and golf. Incidentally, the Elders' young daughter, Gini, literally slid into her sixth year on July 26. At a birthday luncheon, Gini received a 'Slip-n-Slide" as a gift, and guests Robin Heiser, Patty O'Hara, Robin Evenstad, Patty Engelbretsen and Coleen Croghan gladly helped her try out its possibilities.

That Pure Oil picnic on July 25 at Potawatomi Park in St. Charles was a fine affair, thanks to Harold W. Moore, 1521 N. Kaspar ave., who was general chiarman. A good job always demands a lot of time and work, and now that it's over Mrs. Moore says she's "glad to have her husband back."

The sky's the limit for Rex Swinehart, 812 Lynwood avenue. After two weeks with his grandparents in Akron, Ohio, he arrived by plane on July 30 at O'Hare field, where he was met by his parents, Curt and Bonnie, and sister, Sheri.

THERE ARE quite a few newcomers being welcomed into Hasbrook community. Dick and Jackie Vignola have a brand new daughter in their home at 1517 Fernandez pl. You can bet the Vignolas will never forget the date of Gus Grissom's space flight. Five-pound 12 ounce Lisanne was born on the same day, July 21, in Illinois Masonic hospital, Chicago.

Bill and Audrey Schuman recently moved to 1708 Mitchell ave. They and sons, Bryan, 2, and Bradley, 8 months, formerly lived in Florida.

From Berwyn, Ill., to 1524 N. Kaspar ave., was the move made by Harold and Lisa Johnson in early July. The first of the month, too, saw Howard and Jane Cushing establish their household, complete with three children, Susan, 3, Jane Ellen, 2, and John, 3 months at 1527 N. Kaspar ave. The Cushings had been residents of Evanston.

Just call Mary Grant the "Pied Piper of Lynwood." Mary who cared for Cathy and Mark Wesolak, her niece and nephew from July 26 to 30 while their parents vacationed, made quite a picture as she walked them and assorted neighborhood youngsters who joined the parade around the block every afternoon.

St. James Catholic church on State rd. was the scene of the July 2 christening of Charles Robert Grabowski, son of the Stephen Grabowskis, 1818 Mitchell ave. His sponsors by proxy were Mr. and Mrs. John Brodack of West Hartford, Conn. On July 9 in the same church, Almond and Mary Lou Sumner, 1825 Mitchell ave., had their son, Douglas Arthur, christened. Sponsors, again by proxy, were Mary Lou's niece, Miss Kathy Wahl, and Michael McCutcheon, both of Webster, N. Y.

There's a lot of excitement on the teen scene where a new club is being formed to provide activities for all teenagers from Junior High on up. Mary Lou Anderson, 704 W. Thomas st., is temporary president.

The W. F. Petersons, 1605 Chestnut ave., had a special visitor July 20 to 23 in the person of a new grandson, Steven, born July 15 to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Peterson. The younger Petersons, who live in Wheaton, brought him and their daughter, Terry, one year old, for a few days.

Good food with good friends made for a pleasant dinner in the yard of Bob and Helen Sheahan, 1610 Chestnut ave., on July 15, when they entertained the Ken McDonalds and daughter, Susan, from Peoria, and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Secord of McHenry.

It'll be "you all" with an Irish touch as Jerry and Vi Sweeney set up housekeeping with son, Mike, in Memphis, Tenn. They moved on August 1, and their many Hasbrook friends wish them good luck.

BARBARA and Jack Edwards, 1612 Ridge, with sons, Bruce, Scott and Todd, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Edwards, Jack's parents of Madison, Wis., for a week. One of the high spots of the visit was Jack's 15th year class reunion which he and Barbara attended.

Thornton and Dorothy Tongue, 1805 Ridge ave., are back home after 3½ weeks with Dorothy's parents, the W. C. Danielsons, in Largo, Fla. A special treat, they say, was a tropical bird show they attended in Tampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bergeson, 706 Lynwood ave., are introducing Paul Arthur, born in Resurrection hospital July 10, weighing 7 pounds 8 ounces. At the tender age of three weeks he's eating three meals a day according to Mrs. Bergeson.

Hazel Peck and her carbon-copy, Lise, explored the super highways from Arlington Heights to Buffalo, N. Y., where they spent a week relaxing in the home of her sister, Betty, and brother-in-law, Bud Herbeck. Lise played with her cousins, Julie, Stevie and Chris. (A

Peter Blais, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Metzel, 1106 N. Dryden ave., was christened in St. James Catholic church July 23. Rev. John Lane officiated at the afternoon ceremony. Godparents were the baby's brother and sister, Jeffrey and Nancy. A party later in the day was attended by 20 relatives, among whom were grandparents, the senior Emil Metzels of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Blais of Fox Lake. Peter was born July 1 in St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, weighing 8 pounds 2 ounces and is the Metzels' eighth child.

A week's vacation at Jordan Lake near Oxford, Wis., ended early last week for the Don Helbling family, 601 E. Clarendon ave. The fishing, swimming and relaxing was also enjoyed by the John Lynches, 605 E. Olive, who vacationed at the same resort.

Also ending a week's vacation early last week was Mrs. Ronald Luehrs and daughters, Linda and Janice, who visited in Buffalo, N. Y. with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Maxwell. While in the east they attended the wedding and reception of a family friend in nearby Hamburg.

NEWCOMERS to the Greens are Charles and Verna Danegger, 1114 N. Dryden ave., since July 10 when they moved from Reuter ave. where they lived for several months. Formerly of Park Ridge, the Daneggers have four children, 7-year-old twins, Cheryl and Carol, 6-year-old Cathy, and Chucky, who is five. In partnership with his parents, the Daneggers operate a pastry shop in Arlington Market.

Dinner guest in the Don Schreiner home last Wednesday was a brother, Earl Schreiner of Des Moines, Iowa, who stopped to visit while on a business trip to Chicago.

WEEKEND guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Reed, 1146 N. Hickory ave., from Friday through Sunday were Master Sgt. and Mrs. Robert Bandy and daughter, Merry, of Las Vegas. The family was enroute to their home at Cape Canaveral, Fla. Mr. Bandy and Mr. Reed are cousins.

The Ed Schlacks, 622 E. Clarendon ave., returned early last week from a 10-day trip downstate where they visited grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kimpling in Virginia, and spent a few days in St. Louis to visit a brother and his family, the Robert Kimplings, and friends in Centralia. Saturday the Schlacks' back yard was the gathering place for the evening cook-out. Attending were the nine members of the neighborhood bridge group and their husbands.

House guest in the Ken Jahnke home, 1116 N. Belmont ave., is their 14-year-old niece, Lynn Jahnke, who arrived by plane from her home in Glendora, Cal., late in June. Formerly of Mount Prospect, Lynn is enjoying the summer visiting with relatives and former classmates.

MR. AND MRS. O. J. Bailey, 627 E. Clarendon ave., returned home Sunday after a week's vacation at Pequot Lake near Brainerd, Minn. Making the return trip was their 12-year-old niece, Theresa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Delaney of Minneapolis, whom the Baileys visited on their trip north.

The John Finch family also ended their vacation last weekend when they returned home to 820 E. Oakton Monday. During the month of July they were guests of an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Race of West Bend, Wis. Water skiing on Big Cedar Lake was the favorite sport for the group.

Ten-year-old Diane Brown, 1146 N. Dryden ave., attended the National Baton Twirling contest at Grant Park in Milwaukee July 21 and 22. She competed with her group the Petite Debs. They placed 10th in the competition.

THE WARREN GRAN family, 1146 N. Hickory, and the Erwin Dettloffs, 160 Hickory, returned Sunday after a week's summer "cottaging" at Big Horn Llake near Townsend, Wis. There was fishing, swimming and relaxing to fill in the hours. Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Dettloff motored to Eagle River where daughter, Susan, began a month's stay at Camp McCormick.

Last Sunday the Walt Browns, 146 N. Dryden ave., were hosts hosted nine couples at a buffet supper, after which the group attended a benefit performance of "Can Can" at the Music Theatre in Highland Park. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Baugous, 1158 out for a group of their friends who later joined them for the trip to Highland Park.

Tuesday was moving day for the Henry Testa family, 1115 N. Beverly lane, where they lived for a year and a half. Detroit is where they will make their home. (A

FIRST EAGLE AWARD in Boy Scout troop 57 was made recently to Mack Borgen, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. Winston Borgen, 538 S. Pine, Arlington Heights. Making presentation is Scoutmaster Ken Gerler, 808 S. Young Republicans Aid Registration

The Wheeling Township Young Republican club this week pledged its full support to the Re-Registration Coordinating Committee, a non-partisan group formed to coordinate re-registration in Wheeling township this fall.

According to Thomas J. Houser of Arlington Heights, club president, the decision to play a role in re-registration was made at a meeting of the club's executive board Monday.

"IT IS THE club's intention to work in close cooperation with the committee and to provide volunteer workers," Houser said.

He announced the appointment of William Heinrich of Arlington Heights as chairman of the club's re-registration effort. Heinrich will coordinate club activities with committee recommendations, Houser said.

The Re-Registration Coordinating Committee, composed of 20 prominent Wheeling township residents, was organized in June under the direction of Raymond H. Stevenson of Mt. Prospect.

The committee will coordinate organizations' efforts in re-registration, suggest methods of operation, advise on procedure and oversee operations to prevent duplication of effort.

A 1959 act of the Illinois General Assembly requires that all voters in Cook county sign new registration cards after September 14. The township re-registration drive will run from September 1 to October 13. (ACM

Young Republicans Aid Registration

The Wheeling Township Young Republican club this week pledged its full support to the Re-Registration Coordinating Committee, a non-partisan group formed to coordinate re-registration in Wheeling township this fall.

According to Thomas J. Houser of Arlington Heights, club president, the decision to play a role in re-registration was made at a meeting of the club's executive board Monday.

"IT IS THE club's intention to work in close cooperation with the committee and to provide volunteer workers," Houser said.

He announced the appointment of William Heinrich of Arlington Heights as chairman of the club's re-registration effort. Heinrich will coordinate club activities with committee recommendations, Houser said.

The Re-Registration Coordinating Committee, composed of 20 prominent Wheeling township residents, was organized in June under the direction of Raymond H. Stevenson of Mt. Prospect.

The committee will coordinate organizations' efforts in re-registration, suggest methods of operation, advise on procedure and oversee operations to prevent duplication of effort.

A 1959 act of the Illinois General Assembly requires that all voters in Cook county sign new registration cards after September 14. The township re-registration drive will run from September 1 to October 13. (ACM

MI LADY'S HIGH BUTTON SHOES is the high brow name of this low down dachshund who is hoping slides won't be part of the obedience show Sunday, Aug. 20, at Prospect high school. One of the largest AKC licensed obedience shows in the country, the all-day show is being sponsored by this area's Northwest Obedience Club, Inc. and will feature more than 200 dogs performing in five rings.

Motorists' Turns Leave Mishap Trail

Following too closely and turning vehicles were the cause of accidents on northwest suburban highways.

Mitchell F. Garcia, 16, of 4211 N. Ozanam, Norridge, was making a right turn into a private driveway on Cumberland, two miles west of 42A at a half mile south of Illinois 72.

The accident occurred at 7:30 p.m. July 24. Patricia Kase 21, of 718 Mark, Des Plaines, a second motorist, was injured when her car struck the other, and was taken to Resurrection hospital.

Damage to the cars was figured at $600.

Barbara T. Le May, 54, of 320 S. Hi-Lu-Si, Mt. Prospect, was charged by state police with following too closely in an accident which occurred at 5:15 p.m. July 25.

James R. Blocki, 36, of 419 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, stopped to make a left turn on Illinois 62 at Wilke road, a quarter mile east of Illinois 53 when his car was struck by the Le May vehicle.

THE FIRST driver was injured and taken to Northwest Community hospital. Two passengers in her car, David Crockett, 45, of 638 N. Hickory, and John J. Wallner, 40, of 203 N. Yale, both of Arlington Heights, were uninjured.

Damage to the vehicles was estimated at $450.

In a third accident, Hodge Bunk Jr., 26, of Walnut Ridge, Ark. was injured and taken to Northwest Community hospital.

The mishap occurred at 12:35 p.m. July 28 on U. S. 14 a half mile west of Illinois 53. Bunk had stopped for a stop sign and didn't see another car driven by Anna Beyer, 65, of 315 W. Euclid, Arlington Heights.

When Bunk pulled about two feet onto the highway, state police said, the other driver panicked and "hit her brakes," turning her car sideways and losing control so that her car struck the other.

A PASSENGER in the Beyer car, Scott Leibert, 6, of 219 N. Williams rd., Barrington, was unhurt.

Damage to the first car was listed as $500; to the second as $300.

Following too closely to traffic, according to state police, was Roger N. Gunderson, 25, of 831 N. Ela rd., Palatine.

The accident occurred at 3:40 p.m. July 29 on Illinois 72, about 1½ miles east of Illinois 53.

To avoid an accident, police said, he drove onto the shoulder of the road, lost control and his car ran into a culvert.

The injured man was taken to Northwest Community hospital. Uninjured was a passenger, Charlotte Nuenerberg, 24, of rt. 1 Box 218, Roselle. The car suffered $200 damage.

Thomas J. Kosick, 19, of 4714 N. Virginia, Chicago, "failed to make the curve and ran off the roadway," according to police, in an accident on Illinois 19 a mile and a half west of U. S. 45. The accident occurred at 4 p.m. on July 29.

Kosick was injured and taken to Resurrection hospital. Damage to his car was listed as $300. A passenger in his car, Barbara Reike, 16, of 2545 Ainslie, and George A. Maynes, 22, of 625 E. 23rd st., both of Chicago, were uninjured. The driver was charged with driving too fast for conditions.

IN ANOTHER accident on U. S. 45 at Central road, a mile north of Illinois 58, Gretchen L. Barrett, 58, of 8855 Wisner, Niles, was making a left turn.

Her car pulled into the path of a car driven by Dennis Ebert, 21, of 5683 N. Kerbs, Chicago. Both drivers and all passengers were injured and taken to Holy Family hospital.

Passengers in the Barrett car were: Paula Engel and her sister, Patty, 3, of Aurora, Colo. A passenger in the Ebert car was Pat Ebert, 19.

Damage to the first car was $1500; to the second, $900. The first driver was charged with failure to yield the right of way.

Carpentier Grants Probation Permits

Five northwest area residents whose licenses were suspended prior to July 26 by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier and who did not have more than total point accumulation of 62 points have been granted probationary permits to drive.

Three of these live in Cook county: Paul J. Beth, 205 Warren ave., Palatine; Joseph J. Manago, 317 Edgewood dr., Wheeling and Kurt L. Stier, 502 W. Baldwin rd., Palatine.

TWO WERE residents of DuPage county: Rudy C. Sheppard, 828 Dennis dr., and William H. Temme, 4 N. 169 Briar, both of Bensenville.

This week's action by Carpentier also resulted in the suspension of 7 licenses on 3 violations. Those in this category were Oscar O. Akerlund, 1509 W. Fremont st., Arlington Heights; James D. Brome, 901 Sherwood dr., Prospect Heights; William N. Lamping, 227 William st., Palatine; Edward A. Ross, 210 N. Louis, Mount Prospect; Claude L. Balte, RR 3 Box 188, Bensenville; Frank W. Dick, 17 W 073 Center, Bensenville and Clinton A. Pillow, RR 1 Box A6, Prairie View.

Church Education Confab Scheduled

Twelve delegates from the northwest suburban area will attend the National Lutheran Parent-Teacher league's convention August 6-8 at Concordia Senior College in Ft. Wayne, Ind.

They will be among delegates from 670 affiliated parent-teacher leagues and 2,500 teachers who are members of the Lutheran Education association.

Delegates from this area include Martin Hasz Jr., principal of St. Paul Lutheran school in Mt. Prospect; Mrs. Arlo Robinson, chairman of the local Parent-Teacher league; Mrs. William Busse of Mt. Prospect, secretary of the National Lutheran Parent-Teacher league; Mr. and Mrs. George Rezner, of St. Peter Lutheran school of Arlington Heights; Robert Schlesselman, Lutheran Education association board member, and his wife; William Schultz, vice president of the local Parent-Teacher league; Judy Suckow and Nancy Kavasch, staff members of St. Paul Lutheran school in Addison, and Mr. and Mrs. E. Weidmann of Wood Dale.

Emphasis at the 1961 convention will be on the need for parent education to enable parents and teachers to cooperate more fully in the field of child guidance, according to Mrs. Busse.

A "CODE FOR Parents of Teenagers," designed to develop sound parent education and a closer home-school relationship, will be discussed, she added.

The Rev. R. C. Muhly of St. Louis, Mo., in charge of missionary education and promotion for the Missouri Synod, will deliver the convention's keynote address. Professor Martin L. Koehneke, president of Concordia Teachers' College, River Forest, will speak on the "Wheel of Life."

The parent education program is promoted in the Lutheran schools in cooperation with the Board of Christian Education and the Synods Family Life committee, Mrs. Busse pointed out. (A-14

Graham's Bill

Drinking Age for Girls Is Now 21

The Associated Press reported this week that Governor Otto Kerner Tuesday signed Senate Bill 35 which prohibits the sale of alcoholic beverages to women under 21 years of age.

The bill was introduced by State Senator John Graham (R, Barrington) of the fourth senatorial district.

"I'M VERY pleased the governor looked favorably upon this bill," Graham told Paddock Publications. "It is a good, solid piece of legislation."

Until this week, women were permitted to purchase liquor after reaching the age of 18. Legal drinking age for men is 21.

The bill was ushered through the House by Rep. Arthur Simmons (R, Skokie) of the sixth representative district.

Graham pointed out that tavern owners in his district have expressed agreement with the bill. He said the signatures of 400,000 persons favoring its passage are on file in Springfield.

The bill passed the Senate 51-1 and the House 132-15, Graham said.

GRAHAM WILL travel to Decatur Monday to huddle with members of the Republican State Central committee and party leaders for a discussion of the congressional district reapportionment dilemma.

According to the 1960 census, Illinois loses one of its 25 congressional seats. The 72nd General Assembly failed to agree on a reapportionment plan. (A14

Area Air Reservists Named to New Group

Three men living in the area served by Paddock Publications have been appointed to the 8570th air force reserve recovery group, Lt. Col. Marshall C. Strenger, commander, has announced.

Named to the 46 man 8570th group which will instruct, inspect and supervise nearly 1,000 air reservists in northern Illinois are Major Robert E. Arko, 308 S. Kenilworth ave., Mount Prospect; Capt. Stanley F. Szerlong, 15W569 George st., Bensenville; and Master Sgt. Leon G. Piggott, 1112 Elmwood lane, Elk Grove Village.

Major Arko, a veteran of more than 18 years service, including World War II in the China-Burma-India theatre, is a communications officer. And Sgt. Piggott, a veteran of the Korean conflict with 13 years service, is personnel sergeant major for the 8570th.

Major Arko is a project supervisor for the Teletype Corp.; Capt. Szerlong is employed as a design engineer by the International Harvester Co., Melrose Park, and Sgt. Piggott is an accountant for Brunner Enterprises, Franklin Park.

At Ft. Leonard Wood

Pvt. John C. Leverenz, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Leverenz, 138 N. Tatge, Bartlett, completed the general supply course at Ft. Leonard Wood, July 14.

During the course Leverenz received instruction in the fundamentals of army supply procedures and the preparation of supply records and forms.

He entered the army last March and completed basic training at the fort.

Leverenz attended Elgin high school. (WUS

In Germany

PFC Elroy G. Storms, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Storms, 124 W. Garden ave., Bensenville, recently achieved recognition as a top army marksman by qualifying for the expert marksmanship badge during range firing with the carbine in Germany.

Storms, assigned to the 8th infantry division's 8th administration company in Bad Kreuznach, entered the army in July 1959, completed basic training at Fort Gordon, Ga., and arrived overseas in February 1960.

He is a 1957 graduate of Fenton high school and was employed by Vicker Corp., before entering the army.

At Ft. Leonard Wood

John W. Chylewski, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Chylewski, 7N254 rt. 53, Itasca, completed the U.S. Army food service course July 13 at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.

He received training in cooking, baking, meat cutting and preparing a field kitchen.

Chylewski, who completed basic training at the Missouri fort, worked for the Coleman Cable and Wire Co. in River Grove before entering the army last February. (WUS

Villagers Look Back on Their Vacations

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate
Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

This past week found Arlington Heighters looking back with longing on various and sundry vacations and also looking forward to entertaining at home while outdoor barbecues are still the vogue. And so it was with the K. N. Hulls, 713 S. Dunton, who hosted nephew Harold Hull, his wife and two boys from Springfield recently. Their son, Richard, who is practicing law in Paxton, timed his visit for the same weekend in order to see his cousin and his family while visiting his parents.

The Hugh Hoyms, 721 N. Dunton, had so much fun celebrating birthdays a week ago Friday at a dinner party at Martinetti's, they had no alternative but to continue the following evening at their home. Norman and Nina Hoym, the Frank Krolls, Billy, the Richard Millers and Marceia joined them for dinner again Saturday in honor of three birthdays: both of the Hugh Hoyms as well as his brother, Norman.

BIRTHDAY celebrations at the Richard Graczyks, 718 S. Chestnut, began early last month when Tom reached the ripe old age of 2 July 8. Tom got his first taste of celebrating the Thursday before his birthday and from then until the weekend it was just one continuous party as far as he was concerned.

He was quite accomplished at partying by the time his dad's birthday rolled around on July 20 and joined in the celebration with gusto. The Graczyks were vacationing at Wonder lake then and took a vacation from the run of the mill celebrations by serving fresh peach sundaes with a candle atop.

They swam whenever they took a notion, visited friends who live up there, but best of all for mother and dad: they didn't have to listen for the alarm each morning.

With the weather first blistering hot and then horribly humid, the Peter Galdonis, 742 S. Chestnut, settled for just plain visiting the week her parents and sister were here. The Harry Morrays and Susan are from Detroit.

ACCORDING TO the Raymond Driscolls, 728 S. Vail, the Elks had their recent convention at the perfect place: the Fontainebleau in Miami Beach. With a successful convention behind them, they drove to Ft. Lauderdale and the home of his sister and her family for a week's visit.

Sandwiched in between a busy schedule was a trip to Pompano to see former Arlington Heighters, the George Kohlers, who send back greetings to their friends here. The Driscolls enjoy unusual eating places and found two in Ft. Lauderdale to their liking.

They had to take a boat to one, Cap's, located on an island, a perfect setting for this restaurant operated by an old sea captain. The other restaurant, Mai Kai, specializes in a Polynesian cuisine so mouthwatering the Driscolls would like to go back again just to try something they may have missed the first time.

Leaving Florida and the ocean, they found a complete change of scenery while driving home through the Smokies.

THE NIGHT before Larry Andres' 10th birthday July 26, Dennis Hill, Kevin Lindsey and he got out their sleeping bags and enough food for an African safari to spend the night in Kevin's backyard. Armed with flashlights and a large collection of comic books, the boys settled down for the night, at least 'til 1:45 a.m. when Dennis and Kevin sang "happy birthday" to Larry since that was the hour he was born.

There was another treat in store for him the night of his birthday. After a birthday dinner consisting of his favorite food, his brother, Bill, took him to the stock car races at O'Hare field. Saturday, while the temperatures soared, Larry, and his camping friends, Dennis and Kevin, added Mark Kushner to their group when they cooled off at the movies before doing justice to ice cream and birthday cake at the Andres'.

With an inviting 18 ft. pool in the Andres' backyard, the boys didn't need any coaxing to finish off the afternoon with a refreshing swim.

WITH A 9-YEAR gap in their visiting, the Alva Roeskes, 1047 S. Dunton, have been steadily "catching up on news" since the arrival of her sister and brother-in-law, the Albert Strucks, from Tucson. Mutual friends of the two couples enjoyed seeing them at a card party at the Roeskes' Saturday evening and the following evening a dinner party afforded additional friends the opportunity to visit with the Strucks.

The James Hahns, 919 N. Ridge, had a "stay at home" vacation this summer. The whole family trekked over to Recreation pool twice a day, and dad and the two older boys had an extra treat thrown in: they golfed twice. Mother had a vacation, too, when the meals bordered on the casual side.

When the Mark Rightmires, 116 S. Walnut, pulled into their driveway after a 2-week vacation, they discovered they put 3,000 miles on the car. Their first stop was in Smithfield, Neb. where they visited his brother, Roger and his sister-in-law.

Janet's capping ceremony at St. Joseph hospital in Alliance was coming up soon, so the whole family piled in the car, including grandma, Mrs. Anna Adam, and headed for Alliance. With four months of practical nursing training finished, Janet has only eight more months of study before graduation. She went with her family to Loveland, Colo. and Estes Park, where the children got their first glimpse of the mountains. They found snow on top of the mountains, such a rarity in July that they stopped the car so the children could romp in it. Leaving Colorado and its snow-capped Rockies, they headed for Smithfield again so Uncle Roger could see Janet since she'd been capped.

They weren't quite "talked out" but Mark's sister and her family, the Louis Carishes were waiting in Hastings for a stop-off visit, before the Rightmires headed the car in the direction of Omaha. At Omaha they merely spent the night with former Arlington Heighters, the Glen Sorensens, parents of Janet's fiance. Janet stayed on with the Sorensens for a few days while her family drove home.

A 4-day vacation to Door county meant swimming, fishing, boating and just plain relaxing to the Quentin Fords, 1215 E. Euclid, who returned from there recently with a new spurt of energy.

IT WAS Christmas in July at the Walter Berngens, 816 S. Walnut, Sunday even though the outside temperature was a wee bit confusing. Because holiday parties kept them busy, they promised themselves a soiree in the middle of the summer and the one Sunday had all the trimmings of a yuletide festivity.

A flocked tree adorned their front yard, while a Christmas tree in their recreation room was completely trimmed in keeping with the Christmas theme. In fact the whole house was.

Some of the guests, not to be outdone by their host and hostess, brought Christmas gifts, while in the backyard snowballs mysteriously appeared and quickly disappeared when a mock fight got underway. With carols playing throughout the house, the 46 guests enjoyed refreshments while conversation turned to the ingenious idea of their host and hostess to finish their Christmas entertaining in July.

EVERYTHING appeared quite casual on the surface at the Robert Pagliais, 905 S. Evergreen, Saturday night when a surprise birthday party was being staged for her mother, Mrs. George Piemonte. The boys were playing ball in the front yard waiting to give the signal to 20 relatives, hidden in the patio on the arrival of the Piemontes from the races.

Five of her children, plus all her sisters and brothers, but one, were primed to shout "surprise" the moment she rounded the patio. And surprised she was to see them, as well as to receive a long distance call from her brother and sister-in-law from Kansas City, the only two missing from the party.

An elaborate smorgasbord was served but the guest of honor had to wait till the "butterflies" quieted down before she could think of eating.

THE NEWELL Crocketts, 802 S. Chestnut, and the Arthur Nyquists, 714 S. Mitchell, have been comparing notes on their recent western vacation together. Even the dog went along as far as Ft. Madison where they dropped the Crockett children, and their canine friend, at the home of their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. William Ames.

While their parents were vacationing, the children spent the second week with the senior Crocketts. The two couples drove to Kansas City where they parted company with Mr. Nyquist who boarded a plane for San Francisco.

Mrs Nyquist stayed with the Crocketts who had Albuquerque and Phoenix included in their itinerary before heading for Las Vegas where they planned to join Mr. N. for the weekend.

They saw a total of six shows while they were there, including such famous names as Red Skelton, George Burns, Mitzi Gaynor, the Crosby brothers, Dick Shawn and Sammy Kaye. Las Vegas wasn't without its "french touch" in the form of the Lido de Paris and Follies Bergere which they added to their entertaining list.

The Nyquists flew home from there while the Crocketts drove to Grand Junction, Colo. and took the scenic train trip through the mountains to Denver, spending the rest of the weekend there before coming home. The senior Crocketts brought their grandchildren home arriving just five minutes before the junior Crocketts.

THE G. E. SYOEN family, 733 N. Evergreen, recently spent a week's vacation at a cottage at Wonder Lake, where they were joined for a few days by Mrs. A. Horcher.

Jerome Syoen and the Ervin Stueber family are now vacationing for two weeks at Curtis, Mich., returning this weekend. Boating, fishing and swimming were on their agenda of relaxation.

Fifteen ladies from the Senior Citizens club of St. James church recently enjoyed a dessert luncheon in the home of Mrs. E. Carroll, N. Illinois st. Games were also enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. M. Wiehl was co-hostess with Mrs. Carroll.

MR. AND MRS. O. F. Davenport, 314 S. Beverly, spent the weekend in Madison visiting their daughter, Mrs. Donald Niemeyer of Arlington Heights, who with her infant son had gone to Madison earlier in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Faner, 615 Mayfair, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunham, 401 Bristol, spent the weekend in Sturgis, Mich., as guests of former Scarsdale neighbors, the Harold Vaughns, at their summer home on Klinger lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Denchess, 518 S. Belmont, and their sons, Jim and Chick, are home from a 2-week vacation. They spent several days in Shaker Heights, Ohio, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wells, and then went to Rochester, N. Y., where they joined friends with whom they toured Ontario and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Buttenob, 310 Bristol, will welcome friends at a patio party and steak fry Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Firestone, 351 Newbury, and their three children, are home after a 3-week vacation in eastern Maryland, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mittlesdorf. Most of their days were spent aboard her parents' boat, cruising in the Chesepeak Bay area.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Guilfoil, 633 Burton, returned last week from Miami, Fla., where they attended the Paralized Veterans of America convention.

Before attending the convention, the Guilfoils, their six children, including their eldest daughter and her husband, the Donald Pruyns, vacationed for two weeks at the Blue Lake resort in Minocqua, Wis. Upon returning home, two of the Guilfoil youngsters left for California for the remainder of the summer. Danny will visit former Scarsdale neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raffle in Rolling Hills, and Mary Lou will visit her aunt, Mrs. William Hughes in Sun Valley.

MR. AND MRS. CLAUDE La Rose, 611 E. Grove, spent two weeks in Osawatomie, Kan., visiting relatives, which included six aunts and one uncle in all. They were accompanied by their three children and Mrs. La Rose's mother, Mrs. Ivy Tibbel, who is visiting here from Tampa, Fla.

The state of Kansas, which is in the midst of its centennial celebration, offered much of historical interest to the visitors. Included in their visit was a trip to Hannibal to see Mark Twain's home, a visit to John Brown's cabin and a stop-over in Canton to see the Culver-Stockton college campus, where their daughter, Martha, will begin her freshman year in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McQuillon, 760 S. Belmont, returned Saturday after a month's stay at their home in Howey-in-the-Hills, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Pauly, 125 S. Burton, entertained Saturday at a garden party for Mr. and Mrs. James Sorenson of Crown Point, Ind., who were visiting here for the weekend. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mel Petersen of Morton Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Edlunds of Prospect Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Down and Mr. and Mrs. David Rettberg of Scarsdale.

MR. AND MRS. James Brice, 215 S. Stratford, and their four children spent a week relaxing at the Devi Bara lodge in Wisconsin. During their stay, they visited the Dells and the Biblical and Storybook gardens.

Miss Susan Rose, who marked her 11th birthday June 29 at a barbecue supper for eight friends, left immediately for California, flying alone, to visit her aunt, Miss Dorothy Rose of San Bernadino, and her sister, Jean, in Los Angeles. A visit to Disneyland was one of the highlights of her trip as was the jet plane ride home. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rose, 1300 Mayfair.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ekstrom, 1106 E. Mayfair, and their three children, were in Detroit recently for a visit with her uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olof Nilson, after which they went to a Gaylord, Mich. resort for a week's stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stahnke, 110 S. Brighton, and their children, Kim, Kirk and Barbara, are hosts to a young guest, Greg Giles of Nashville, who is spending his summer vacation visiting in Arlington Heights while his mother, Mrs. G. Giles, is attending an 8-week course at the Northwestern school of journalism.

Mrs. Edna Turnbull arrived in Arlington Heights Monday, from Miami for a month's stay with her daughter and family, the Walter Strobels, 1319 Mayfair.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nagle, 321 S. Stratford, and their three children, vacationed for the past two weeks at Voss' lodge in Manitowish, Wis., where they enjoyed swimming, boating and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, 1305 Woodford, combined a camping trip with their children, Candy and John, near Mercer, Wis. and a motor trip east to sightsee and to visit friends and relatives.

Stopping first in Reading, Pa., they stayed with Mrs. Hall's mother, Mrs. Katie Zechman, and then visited the Gettysburg battlefields and historic points of interest in Philadelphia.

Leaving Pennsylvania, the Halls went to Larchmont, N. Y., spending several days with former Stonegate neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hand and then went to Buffalo to visit Mr. Hall's sister and family, the Robert Greens and Mrs. Alice Hall.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Dunlop, 1115 Mayfair, and their four children, returned home Saturday after spending six weeks in Arizona and Utah. The Dunlops spent most of their stay at the White Mountain Apache Indian reservation, and while Mr. Dunlop gathered material for an article on a family vacation to be published in the Saturday Evening Post, in the spring members of the family visited Indian families, went on trips with them and learned some of their customs and habits.

While at Leech lake, Mrs. McKown, for the first time attended Episcopal services held on the Onegium Indian reservation in a church established by missionaries more than 75 years ago for the Chippewa Indians. She watched the baptism of three Indian children and heard a sermon delivered in Chippewa and English. (A

Water Softener To Be Given Away by Store

A free automatic home water softener will go to the winner of a giveaway to be held at the National Tea company stores at 17 S. Dunton and 1601 W. Campbell sts. in Arlington Heights, it was announced this week by Linda Scott, home economist for the Lindsay co. of St. Paul, Minn.

Tickets for the giveaway can be filled in there between August 3 and 19 for the "National Tea and Lindsay $20,000 Giveaway," she said.

THE WINNER will receive the most compact and most colorful water softener now available. It is Lindsay's "Princess," compact enough to be installed in a kitchen or family room and available in five decorator colors to match other applicances.

Miss Scott said the giveaway is being held to demonstrate the many benefits of soft water.

Homeowners can realize an average saving of $117.60 a year with a water softener. "That's enough to pay one installment on the mortgage for many people," she said.

This average includes $21.60 for laundering; $12 for dishwashing; $14.40 for plumbing and appliances; $36 for clothing; $14.40 for personal hygiene; $7.20 for household cleaning, and $12 for cooking.

MORE SUBURBAN homeowners are learning the high cost of hard water as plumbing repairs mount, Miss Scott says. Most suburban towns get their water from wells, which usually rates high in hardness.

Water becomes hard as it flows through rock and sand underground and picks up a wide variety of minerals. Major nuisances are calcium, magnesium, iron, sulphur, and micro-organisms.

Minerals in hard water combine with soaps and detergents to form scum—the graying film on clothes and the ring around the bathtub. About 80 per cent of all the soap used in hard water is wasted.

WHEN NO softener is used, mineral scale builds up in hot water tanks to act as an insulator and boost heating bills. This scale also builds up in pipes and finally clogs them so much that often the entire plumbing system must be repaired.

Whoever wins the Lindsay water softener at National Tea will start to enjoy the benefits of soft water right away, Linda Scott said.

THIS COMPACT and colorful automatic home water softener will be given away at the National Tea co. food store. Tickets for the giveaway can be filled out between August 3 and 19.

GEORGE HARRIS

We live in a country in which we can take justifiable pride. It seems to me that we must protect this country and our FREE way of life.

When we view the news on TV or hear the news on radio, we should be thankful that all the strife throughout the world has not hit America. Sure we have our own problems, but these are the natural ones; as a race of people we are fairly happy. I certainly cannot speak for the world, but for my part, we should at all times protect this country from Communism. I'm not mad at anyone. I just feel that we have a pretty good thing going in this country and that is our FREEDOM. The views that I am expressing are my own and I know that many, many people will agree with me. I believe that it was Theodore Roosevelt who said; "Speak softly, but carry a big stick."

With the advent of the jet age and the missiles we and others have, it makes it a pretty small world, so we should be vigilant and protect the things that are near and dear to us.

Villagers Look Back on Their Vacations

Sidelights
Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

This past week found Arlington Heighters looking back with longing on various and sundry vacations and also looking forward to entertaining at home while outdoor barbecues are still the vogue. And so it was with the K. N. Hulls, 713 S. Dunton, who hosted nephew Harold Hull, his wife and two boys from Springfield recently. Their son, Richard, who is practicing law in Paxton, timed his visit for the same weekend in order to see his cousin and his family while visiting his parents.

The Hugh Hoyms, 721 N. Dunton, had so much fun celebrating birthdays a week ago Friday at a dinner party at Martinetti's, they had no alternative but to continue the following evening at their home. Norman and Nina Hoym, the Frank Krolls, Billy, the Richard Millers and Marceia joined them for dinner again Saturday in honor of three birthdays: both of the Hugh Hoyms as well as his brother, Norman.

BIRTHDAY celebrations at the Richard Graczyks, 718 S. Chestnut, began early last month when Tom reached the ripe old age of 2 July 8. Tom got his first taste of celebrating the Thursday before his birthday and from then until the weekend it was just one continuous party as far as he was concerned.

He was quite accomplished at partying by the time his dad's birthday rolled around on July 20 and joined in the celebration with gusto. The Graczyks were vacationing at Wonder lake then and took a vacation from the run of the mill celebrations by serving fresh peach sundaes with a candle atop.

They swam whenever they took a notion, visited friends who live up there, but best of all for mother and dad: they didn't have to listen for the alarm each morning.

With the weather first blistering hot and then horribly humid, the Peter Galdonis, 742 S. Chestnut, settled for just plain visiting the week her parents and sister were here. The Harry Morrays and Susan are from Detroit.

ACCORDING TO the Raymond Driscolls, 728 S. Vail, the Elks had their recent convention at the perfect place: the Fontainebleau in Miami Beach. With a successful convention behind them, they drove to Ft. Lauderdale and the home of his sister and her family for a week's visit.

Sandwiched in between a busy schedule was a trip to Pompano to see former Arlington Heighters, the George Kohlers, who send back greetings to their friends here. The Driscolls enjoy unusual eating places and found two in Ft. Lauderdale to their liking.

They had to take a boat to one, Cap's, located on an island, a perfect setting for this restaurant operated by an old sea captain. The other restaurant, Mai Kai, specializes in a Polynesian cuisine so mouthwatering the Driscolls would like to go back again just to try something they may have missed the first time.

Leaving Florida and the ocean, they found a complete change of scenery while driving home through the Smokies.

THE NIGHT before Larry Andres' 10th birthday July 26, Dennis Hill, Kevin Lindsey and he got out their sleeping bags and enough food for an African safari to spend the night in Kevin's backyard. Armed with flashlights and a large collection of comic books, the boys settled down for the night, at least 'til 1:45 a.m. when Dennis and Kevin sang "happy birthday" to Larry since that was the hour he was born.

There was another treat in store for him the night of his birthday. After a birthday dinner consisting of his favorite food, his brother, Bill, took him to the stock car races at O'Hare field. Saturday, while the temperatures soared, Larry, and his camping friends, Dennis and Kevin, added Mark Kushner to their group when they cooled off at the movies before doing justice to ice cream and birthday cake at the Andres'.

With an inviting 18 ft. pool in the Andres' backyard, the boys didn't need any coaxing to finish off the afternoon with a refreshing swim.

WITH A 9-YEAR gap in their visiting, the Alva Roeskes, 1047 S. Dunton, have been steadily "catching up on news" since the arrival of her sister and brother-in-law, the Albert Strucks, from Tucson. Mutual friends of the two couples enjoyed seeing them at a card party at the Roeskes' Saturday evening and the following evening a dinner party afforded additional friends the opportunity to visit with the Strucks.

The James Hahns, 919 N. Ridge, had a "stay at home" vacation this summer. The whole family trekked over to Recreation pool twice a day, and dad and the two older boys had an extra treat thrown in: they golfed twice. Mother had a vacation, too, when the meals bordered on the casual side.

When the Mark Rightmires, 116 S. Walnut, pulled into their driveway after a 2-week vacation, they discovered they put 3,000 miles on the car. Their first stop was in Smithfield, Neb. where they visited his brother, Roger and his sister-in-law.

Janet's capping ceremony at St. Joseph hospital in Alliance was coming up soon, so the whole family piled in the car, including grandma, Mrs. Anna Adam, and headed for Alliance. With four months of practical nursing training finished, Janet has only eight more months of study before graduation. She went with her family to Loveland, Colo. and Estes Park, where the children got their first glimpse of the mountains. They found snow on top of the mountains, such a rarity in July that they stopped the car so the children could romp in it. Leaving Colorado and its snow-capped Rockies, they headed for Smithfield again so Uncle Roger could see Janet since she'd been capped.

They weren't quite "talked out" but Mark's sister and her family, the Louis Carishes were waiting in Hastings for a stop-off visit, before the Rightmires headed the car in the direction of Omaha. At Omaha they merely spent the night with former Arlington Heighters, the Glen Sorensens, parents of Janet's fiance. Janet stayed on with the Sorensens for a few days while her family drove home.

A 4-day vacation to Door county meant swimming, fishing, boating and just plain relaxing to the Quentin Fords, 1215 E. Euclid, who returned from there recently with a new spurt of energy.

IT WAS Christmas in July at the Walter Berngens, 816 S. Walnut, Sunday even though the outside temperature was a wee bit confusing. Because holiday parties kept them busy, they promised themselves a soiree in the middle of the summer and the one Sunday had all the trimmings of a yuletide festivity.

A flocked tree adorned their front yard, while a Christmas tree in their recreation room was completely trimmed in keeping with the Christmas theme. In fact the whole house was.

Some of the guests, not to be outdone by their host and hostess, brought Christmas gifts, while in the backyard snowballs mysteriously appeared and quickly disappeared when a mock fight got underway. With carols playing throughout the house, the 46 guests enjoyed refreshments while conversation turned to the ingenious idea of their host and hostess to finish their Christmas entertaining in July.

EVERYTHING appeared quite casual on the surface at the Robert Pagliais, 905 S. Evergreen, Saturday night when a surprise birthday party was being staged for her mother, Mrs. George Piemonte. The boys were playing ball in the front yard waiting to give the signal to 20 relatives, hidden in the patio on the arrival of the Piemontes from the races.

Five of her children, plus all her sisters and brothers, but one, were primed to shout "surprise" the moment she rounded the patio. And surprised she was to see them, as well as to receive a long distance call from her brother and sister-in-law from Kansas City, the only two missing from the party.

An elaborate smorgasbord was served but the guest of honor had to wait till the "butterflies" quieted down before she could think of eating.

THE NEWELL Crocketts, 802 S. Chestnut, and the Arthur Nyquists, 714 S. Mitchell, have been comparing notes on their recent western vacation together. Even the dog went along as far as Ft. Madison where they dropped the Crockett children, and their canine friend, at the home of their uncle and aunt, Dr. and Mrs. William Ames.

While their parents were vacationing, the children spent the second week with the senior Crocketts. The two couples drove to Kansas City where they parted company with Mr. Nyquist who boarded a plane for San Francisco.

Mrs Nyquist stayed with the Crocketts who had Albuquerque and Phoenix included in their itinerary before heading for Las Vegas where they planned to join Mr. N. for the weekend.

They saw a total of six shows while they were there, including such famous names as Red Skelton, George Burns, Mitzi Gaynor, the Crosby brothers, Dick Shawn and Sammy Kaye. Las Vegas wasn't without its "french touch" in the form of the Lido de Paris and Follies Bergere which they added to their entertaining list.

The Nyquists flew home from there while the Crocketts drove to Grand Junction, Colo. and took the scenic train trip through the mountains to Denver, spending the rest of the weekend there before coming home. The senior Crocketts brought their grandchildren home arriving just five minutes before the junior Crocketts.

THE G. E. SYOEN family, 733 N. Evergreen, recently spent a week's vacation at a cottage at Wonder Lake, where they were joined for a few days by Mrs. A. Horcher.

Jerome Syoen and the Ervin Stueber family are now vacationing for two weeks at Curtis, Mich., returning this weekend. Boating, fishing and swimming were on their agenda of relaxation.

Fifteen ladies from the Senior Citizens club of St. James church recently enjoyed a dessert luncheon in the home of Mrs. E. Carroll, N. Illinois st. Games were also enjoyed during the afternoon. Mrs. M. Wiehl was co-hostess with Mrs. Carroll.

MR. AND MRS. O. F. Davenport, 314 S. Beverly, spent the weekend in Madison visiting their daughter, Mrs. Donald Niemeyer of Arlington Heights, who with her infant son had gone to Madison earlier in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Faner, 615 Mayfair, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dunham, 401 Bristol, spent the weekend in Sturgis, Mich., as guests of former Scarsdale neighbors, the Harold Vaughns, at their summer home on Klinger lake.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Denchess, 518 S. Belmont, and their sons, Jim and Chick, are home from a 2-week vacation. They spent several days in Shaker Heights, Ohio, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Wells, and then went to Rochester, N. Y., where they joined friends with whom they toured Ontario and Niagara Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Buttenob, 310 Bristol, will welcome friends at a patio party and steak fry Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Firestone, 351 Newbury, and their three children, are home after a 3-week vacation in eastern Maryland, visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mittlesdorf. Most of their days were spent aboard her parents' boat, cruising in the Chesepeak Bay area.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Guilfoil, 633 Burton, returned last week from Miami, Fla., where they attended the Paralized Veterans of America convention.

Before attending the convention, the Guilfoils, their six children, including their eldest daughter and her husband, the Donald Pruyns, vacationed for two weeks at the Blue Lake resort in Minocqua, Wis. Upon returning home, two of the Guilfoil youngsters left for California for the remainder of the summer. Danny will visit former Scarsdale neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Raffle in Rolling Hills, and Mary Lou will visit her aunt, Mrs. William Hughes in Sun Valley.

MR. AND MRS. CLAUDE La Rose, 611 E. Grove, spent two weeks in Osawatomie, Kan., visiting relatives, which included six aunts and one uncle in all. They were accompanied by their three children and Mrs. La Rose's mother, Mrs. Ivy Tibbel, who is visiting here from Tampa, Fla.

The state of Kansas, which is in the midst of its centennial celebration, offered much of historical interest to the visitors. Included in their visit was a trip to Hannibal to see Mark Twain's home, a visit to John Brown's cabin and a stop-over in Canton to see the Culver-Stockton college campus, where their daughter, Martha, will begin her freshman year in the fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McQuillon, 760 S. Belmont, returned Saturday after a month's stay at their home in Howey-in-the-Hills, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Pauly, 125 S. Burton, entertained Saturday at a garden party for Mr. and Mrs. James Sorenson of Crown Point, Ind., who were visiting here for the weekend. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Mel Petersen of Morton Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Edlunds of Prospect Heights, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Down and Mr. and Mrs. David Rettberg of Scarsdale.

MR. AND MRS. James Brice, 215 S. Stratford, and their four children spent a week relaxing at the Devi Bara lodge in Wisconsin. During their stay, they visited the Dells and the Biblical and Storybook gardens.

Miss Susan Rose, who marked her 11th birthday June 29 at a barbecue supper for eight friends, left immediately for California, flying alone, to visit her aunt, Miss Dorothy Rose of San Bernadino, and her sister, Jean, in Los Angeles. A visit to Disneyland was one of the highlights of her trip as was the jet plane ride home. Susan is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Rose, 1300 Mayfair.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ekstrom, 1106 E. Mayfair, and their three children, were in Detroit recently for a visit with her uncle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Olof Nilson, after which they went to a Gaylord, Mich. resort for a week's stay.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stahnke, 110 S. Brighton, and their children, Kim, Kirk and Barbara, are hosts to a young guest, Greg Giles of Nashville, who is spending his summer vacation visiting in Arlington Heights while his mother, Mrs. G. Giles, is attending an 8-week course at the Northwestern school of journalism.

Mrs. Edna Turnbull arrived in Arlington Heights Monday, from Miami for a month's stay with her daughter and family, the Walter Strobels, 1319 Mayfair.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nagle, 321 S. Stratford, and their three children, vacationed for the past two weeks at Voss' lodge in Manitowish, Wis., where they enjoyed swimming, boating and fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hall, 1305 Woodford, combined a camping trip with their children, Candy and John, near Mercer, Wis. and a motor trip east to sightsee and to visit friends and relatives.

Stopping first in Reading, Pa., they stayed with Mrs. Hall's mother, Mrs. Katie Zechman, and then visited the Gettysburg battlefields and historic points of interest in Philadelphia.

Leaving Pennsylvania, the Halls went to Larchmont, N. Y., spending several days with former Stonegate neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hand and then went to Buffalo to visit Mr. Hall's sister and family, the Robert Greens and Mrs. Alice Hall.

MR. AND MRS. Richard Dunlop, 1115 Mayfair, and their four children, returned home Saturday after spending six weeks in Arizona and Utah. The Dunlops spent most of their stay at the White Mountain Apache Indian reservation, and while Mr. Dunlop gathered material for an article on a family vacation to be published in the Saturday Evening Post, in the spring members of the family visited Indian families, went on trips with them and learned some of their customs and habits.

While at Leech lake, Mrs. McKown, for the first time attended Episcopal services held on the Onegium Indian reservation in a church established by missionaries more than 75 years ago for the Chippewa Indians. She watched the baptism of three Indian children and heard a sermon delivered in Chippewa and English. (A

Water Softener To Be Given Away by Store

A free automatic home water softener will go to the winner of a giveaway to be held at the National Tea company stores at 17 S. Dunton and 1601 W. Campbell sts. in Arlington Heights, it was announced this week by Linda Scott, home economist for the Lindsay co. of St. Paul, Minn.

Tickets for the giveaway can be filled in there between August 3 and 19 for the "National Tea and Lindsay $20,000 Giveaway," she said.

THE WINNER will receive the most compact and most colorful water softener now available. It is Lindsay's "Princess," compact enough to be installed in a kitchen or family room and available in five decorator colors to match other applicances.

Miss Scott said the giveaway is being held to demonstrate the many benefits of soft water.

Homeowners can realize an average saving of $117.60 a year with a water softener. "That's enough to pay one installment on the mortgage for many people," she said.

This average includes $21.60 for laundering; $12 for dishwashing; $14.40 for plumbing and appliances; $36 for clothing; $14.40 for personal hygiene; $7.20 for household cleaning, and $12 for cooking.

MORE SUBURBAN homeowners are learning the high cost of hard water as plumbing repairs mount, Miss Scott says. Most suburban towns get their water from wells, which usually rates high in hardness.

Water becomes hard as it flows through rock and sand underground and picks up a wide variety of minerals. Major nuisances are calcium, magnesium, iron, sulphur, and micro-organisms.

Minerals in hard water combine with soaps and detergents to form scum—the graying film on clothes and the ring around the bathtub. About 80 per cent of all the soap used in hard water is wasted.

WHEN NO softener is used, mineral scale builds up in hot water tanks to act as an insulator and boost heating bills. This scale also builds up in pipes and finally clogs them so much that often the entire plumbing system must be repaired.

Whoever wins the Lindsay water softener at National Tea will start to enjoy the benefits of soft water right away, Linda Scott said.

(A and M,P,B

THIS COMPACT and colorful automatic home water softener will be given away at the National Tea co. food store. Tickets for the giveaway can be filled out between August 3 and 19.

GEORGE HARRIS

We live in a country in which we can take justifiable pride. It seems to me that we must protect this country and our FREE way of life.

When we view the news on TV or hear the news on radio, we should be thankful that all the strife throughout the world has not hit America. Sure we have our own problems, but these are the natural ones; as a race of people we are fairly happy. I certainly cannot speak for the world, but for my part, we should at all times protect this country from Communism. I'm not mad at anyone. I just feel that we have a pretty good thing going in this country and that is our FREEDOM. The views that I am expressing are my own and I know that many, many people will agree with me. I believe that it was Theodore Roosevelt who said; "Speak softly, but carry a big stick."

With the advent of the jet age and the missiles we and others have, it makes it a pretty small world, so we should be vigilant and protect the things that are near and dear to us.

Closed circuit television for private use is coming into greater and more varied use, the Wheeling Rotary club was told Friday by Vernon Bertrand representing Illinois Electronic Systems, Inc., of Evanston.

Extensive use of it is being made in training medical doctors and psychiatrists, bringing actual clinical cases in progress right into the classroom without the patient realizing he is being viewed.

ALSO, IT IS finding greater value as a regular classroom teaching aid, especially as it permits one teacher to instruct several classes simultaneously in perhaps a special aspect of a subject.

Plant and warehouses use closed TV to check work, and police to check traffic flows, Bertrand said.

To see what is occurring inside fiery industrial furnaces is another function to which it is being applied.

A more novel use is to inspect large pipelines from both the interior and exterior for construction flaws and leaks.

AS A protection device, he noted that one company had installed a private circuit on a tower overlooking its extensive grounds. With a mechanical rotator, one watchman is able to scan the entire premises much more thoroughly than two were able to do previously.

Some large stores use it to detect shoplifters.

The firm deals mainly in selling and installing closed circuit TV, both on a rental and permanent basis, but also sets up equipment for public broadcasts. (ACM

'Night at Races' Planned by GOP

The Wheeling Township Regular Republican club will sponsor a party night at Sportsman's Park race track on Thursday, Aug. 24, it was announced this week by Howard Sorenson of Arlington Heights, event chairman.

"Club members invite all residents of the township to join them in this evening of entertainment," Sorenson said.

HE NOTED that a smorgasbord supper consisting of both hot and cold dishes will be served at the park from 6 to 8 p.m. the night of the event. Ticket prices cover the supper, admission to the park and admission to the air-conditioned clubhouse.

Sportsman's Park is located at 3300 S. Laramie in Cicero. Post time is 8:30 p.m.

"We stress that the party is a public and not a private function," Sorenson said. "We feel the reasonable cost of this night of fun will lend to high attendance."

MRS. LEO HUNTER of Arlington Heights, club ways and means chairman, suggests interested persons contact their neighbors to arrange neighborhood party groups.

Further information concerning the "night at the races" may be obtained by phoning Sorenson at CL 9-4394 or by contacting Republican precinct captains. (ACM

Levy Ordinance Calls For 48-Cent Tax Rate

An appropriation ordinance itemizing monies needed for operating Arlington Heights government through April, 1962, is published in this week's issue of the Herald.

The ordinance, approved July 24 by village trustees, will soon be implemented by the passage of a tax levy ordinance.

THE LEVY ordinance is expected to call for a tax rate of 48 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. In other words, the owner of a house assessed at $10,000 will pay $48 in taxes in 1962.

Appropriations for 1961-62 total $2,242,000. This figure covers all departments and phases of village government.

Account breakdowns are as follows: president and board of trustees, $7,130; village manager, $20,338; police magistrate, $6,314; finance department, $72,702; municipal buildings, $143,180.

LEGAL DEPARTMENT, $30,150; village clerk, $13,726; boards and commissions, $20,969; police department, $268,940; fire department, $88,783; building and zoning department, $43,480; public works department, $275,215.

Engineering and planning department, $29,099; public health department, $14,070.

Total amount to be raised from the property tax levy is $465,546.

Q. Is it proper to say "Yes?" instead of "Hello," when answering the telephone?

A. Although "Hello" is the more widely accepted manner of answering the telephone, there's nothing wrong with saying "Yes?" The most important thing is a pleasant, friendly voice.

Handicraft Exhibit Set

The annual Arlington Heights park district handicraft exhibit, including model and jewelry making, will be held at Pioneer park August 11 and 12.

All youngsters who have participated in the summer program will display their projects. Awards will be given to those who display the best workmanship.

The exhibit will be open Friday, August 11, from 7-10 p.m. and Saturday 1-5 and 7-10 p.m.

"We hope you'll all find it convenient to come and see the work which has been done in the handicraft program this summer," said Janet Pearson, handicraft supervisor. (A

Psychiatry Gaining In Stature: Squire

The administrator of one of the nation's leading private psychiatric hospitals said that medical school statistics pin point the fact that psychiatry is gaining greater importance in medicine.

According to Morris B. Squire, administrator of Forest hospital, Des Plaines, statistics show there is only one other department in medical schools with more full time teachers than psychiatry.

"This is one of the most encouraging trends we have seen in a long time," he said.

REFERRING TO statistics compiled for 1959-60 by the Council on Medical Education of the American Medical assn., Squire pointed out that departments of medicine were the only ones across the nation with a greater number of full time faculty people.

"Surgery departments," he said, "had about a hundred fewer full time teachers than psychiatry."

Departments of medicine reported 1,706 full time teachers. Psychiatry departments had 948 full time teachers, while surgery departments only had 815. This was followed by other medical specialties, including pediatrics, preventive medicine, obstetrics and anesthesiology.

"THE FACT THAT psychiatry has such a high percentage of full time teachers shows that all doctors realize its importance," Squire noted.

"Medical students get much better education in psychiatry than they used to," he said. "They are much better prepared to recognize the emotional problems of their patients and see to it that they get proper care."

Squire said this was particularly important because authorities have estimated that from 60 to 75 per cent of all visits to the doctor result, at least in part, from emotional problems.

"Specialists say these may show themselves in many ways," Squire said, "such as overweight, nervous headaches, chronic tiredness and many others."

SQUIRE POINTED out that medical students now get courses designed to show them how psychiatry can play a part in many kinds of illnesses and in many medical specialties.

"We have found that today's doctor does not laugh off so-called 'imaginary' ailments," he said. "He recognizes they may be connected with problems just as serious as a gall bladder, even though they cannot be seen on an x-ray." (B8

Last of the One-Room Schoolhouses Doomed

Scheduled to be sold at public auction Saturday, Aug. 12, at 2 p.m. is the final vestige of the New Era School District founded in 1865. Barrington school authorities have ordered sale of an attractive brick building constructed in 1925.

Even the location of the building strikes a note of yesteryear. It is on the south side of what used to be Higgins Road before a bridge was built to span the Northwest tollway. It is just west of Old Shoefactory rd. and Barrington rd.

THE SITE contains approximately two acres and is on high rolling ground. The building is brick veneer and has one large room and several small rooms together with a full basement. There is running water, an oil-fired hot air furnace, inside washrooms and an electric hot water heater.

School officials said the building has been kept in an excellent state of repair, although it was not used last school term because students were transported to Barrington.

The Cook County Board of Trustees ordered the New Era School District 43 dissolved in 1960. The district was attached to Community Consolidated District 4, more commonly known as the Barrington Elementary district.

The auction will be conducted by the trustees of schools, Township 41, Range 9, Cook County.

THE HIGHEST BIDDER — starting with a minimum bid of $5,000 — will claim both building and site although school trustees ran into considerable trouble before the site became available. Tracing title records before arranging the auction, it was discovered the district did not own the land. It belonged to an Evanston attorney, Thomas A. Harwood, who confessed he was unaware of his ownership. Harwood agreed to sell.

The successful bidder will be required to deposit 25 per cent of the amount bid in cash or cashier's or certified check on the date of the auction. Balance of the purchase price is to be paid within 30 days at which time the school trustees will convey a quit claim deed and merchantable title to the high bidder.

The auction will be held on the school grounds, located just west of Barrington rd. or east of Illinois 59 on Higgins (B8

Suburb Lawyers Have 'Forword Look'

Group Celebrates A June Birthday

by BRUCE LADD

The law profession in the northwest suburbs is attempting to keep up with the area's burgeoning population.

An excellent example of the profession's "forward look" is the Northwest Suburban Bar Assn. which celebrated its first birthday in June and currently boasts a membership of 80 local lawyers.

"We've made wonderful progress in our one short year of organization," observed William J. Moore, 6 S. Waterman, Arlington Heights, one of the association's founders and staunchest supporters.

A 1955 graduate of the University of Michigan law school, Moore practiced law in Wayne county, Mich., for two years. There he had an opportunity to see the community contributions made by the Wayne County Bar Assn.

When he moved to Park Ridge in 1957, Moore brought the bar association idea with him.

"I carried the idea around for two more years," Moore explained. "I couldn't spend too much time at first working on organizing a bar association when I had to worry so much about making a living."

FINALLY, EARLY in 1960, Moore and three other area lawyers got the ball rolling. He was joined in the enterprise by Donald Norman of Arlington Heights with whom he shares an office at 10 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, and James J. Dowd and Kenneth G. Meyer, both of Des Plaines.

The four huddled at lunch one day and decided to contact other lawyers in the area to test their feelings on the idea. Response was good.

An organizational meeting was held April 21, 1960, in the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Assn. building. About 25 lawyers attended. A second meeting was held two weeks later. Some 40 attended.

That was the start.

At the group's first regular meeting in June, 1960, guest speaker was Gerald C. Snyder, president of the Illinois State Bar Assn. The suburban association was incorporated shortly thereafter.

"OUR MEMBERSHIP is drawn from the northwest townships of Maine, Wheeling, Palatin, Elk Grove, Barrington and Schaumburg," Moore said.

The 30-year-old attorney noted the association meets regularly on the second Tuesday of each month, September through June. Meetings consist of dinner, short business session and a program.

Members include experts in the legal fields of labor, corporations, tax and probate, municipal, negligence and compensation, real estate, criminal and others. Many members engage in general practice.

"As to the association's objectives, I feel the group will attempt to inform the public as to the value of the lawyer in today's society," Moore said.

"We'll try to alert people of their rights as citizens and maintain a vigorous interest in the caliber of local judges, police magistrates and prosecutors."

HE OPINED the association will not engage in political activity or act as a "pressure" group. There are too many other important things to be concerned about, he said.

"It sounds like pretty flowery language, but the association's by-laws state its purposes," Moore said.

He quoted as follows: "The purposes of this association are to establish a closer relationship and cooperation by and between attorneys; to exert an influence for good on the life of the community; to promote the efficient administration of justice . . . and to cultivate a spirit of brotherhood and good fellowship among its members."

First officers of the association were Kenneth G. Meyer, Des Plaines, president; Stephen Jurco, Arlington Heights, first vice president; James Dowd, Des Plaines, second vice president; Donald Norman, Arlington Heights, secretary, and Milton H. Tuttle, Des Plaines, treasurer.

On the board of governors are Collins, Palatine; Michael Dowd, Des Plaines; Truninger, Barrington; Richard Ahlgren, Park Ridge; Robert Di Leonardi, Des Plaines; James Mackin, Rolling Meadows; Albert Peters, Arlington Heights; Tuttle, Des Plaines, and Joseph Weber Jr., Mt. Prospect.

Membership chairman is Walter P. Dahl, 1111 N. Belmont, Arlington Heights. Lawyers either living or practicing in the six suburban townships are eligible to file applications for membership.

Moore said the association is now working to establish a complete law library for its members. It will be conveniently located for all members, he said.

"We welcome inquiries from lawyers and other citizens as well," Moore pointed out. "We're here to serve and to improve our respective communities."

VILLAGE THEATRE PATRONS Mr. and Mrs. Arthur E. Cather, 623 Wilshire, Arlington Heights, put their check in the mail for their 1961-62 season subscriptions. The Village Theatre will present three adult plays and a children's play for Northwest suburban theater-goers.

Village Theatre Has Opened Patron Lists

Village Theatre, Inc. of Arlington Heights this week opened its patron subscription list to new members for the 1961-62 season.

Begun four years ago, the patron plan last year attracted over 1000 residents of the Northwest suburban and surrounding areas. Village Theatre, one of the best known community theater groups in the Chicago area, presents three adult plays and one children's play each year.

Patrons receive preferential seating for the adult plays for themselves and their guests. All seats are reserved, and patron orders will be filled before sales are opened to the general public.

SUBSCRIPTIONS, priced at $4 for each person, also represent a considerable saving over the season. Admissions to the three adult plays are priced at $1.75 if bought on an individual basis, and tickets for the children's play are 50 cents.

Continuing its efforts toward maintaining the polish and sparkle which have become Village Theatre trademarks, the group will again follow its policy of employing professional directors.

The plays selected this year are of exceptional interest. "Summer and Smoke," by Tennessee Williams, will be presented October 13, 14 and 15. "We Must Kill Toni," by Ian Black, to be given March 16, 17, and 18, has been successfully produced by a number of community theaters, but has never been done in the Chicago area.

The last play of the season, "The Solid Gold Cadillac," by Howard Teichman and George S. Kaufman, will be given May 31, and June 1 and 2. Patrons may specify which performance they wish to attend for each play.

THE CHILDREN'S play will be given in three performances on December 3, and patrons may state their preferences for the time they wish to go.

All productions will be in the Prospect High School Theater.

Those wishing patron memberships may send their check for $4.00 for each person to P. O. Box 32, Arlington Heights. Additional information may be obtained by calling CL 5-1585.

Since the Village Theatre box office will begin taking reservation requests for the first play about September 1, checks for patron memberships should be in their hands by that time.

Child Care Agency Expanding Service

The State Child Care Agency is expanding its program to include a larger number of grammar school and teenaged children needing foster homes and specialized services, it was announced this week.

By law, the Child Welfare Services of the Illinois Department of Public Welfare serves veterans' children and certain handicapped youngsters who cannot be serviced by local private or public agencies.

NOWADAYS, with so many parents having veterans' status, it is apparent that a larger proportion of homeless children will come under the care of the State.

Miss Mary E. Sullivan, Director of the Chicago Regional office, has launched an all-out effort to make its child care services comprehensive and dynamic.

"Our work with troubled children clearly shows that they can overcome many of their fears and difficulties with help of casework and psychiatric staff working closely with warm flexible foster parents," says Miss Sullivan.

"There is no substitute for good family life for many of these children," she emphasized. "Therefore, the agency is eager to discuss its plans to develop specialized foster homes with couples interested in this new program."

SUCH HOMES must have suitable room for two to four foster children and the foster parents should have had experience in helping children with problems.

This program includes special rates in addition to board, clothing and medical costs regularly provided by the agency.

Those who desire further information may contact Mrs. Miriam Kilduff, homefinding supervisor at 160 N. LaSalle st., Chicago 1, FI 6-2000, extension 644. (B8

Fireworks and Famous Acts

Santa's Village Sets Family Night Policy

A free evening show, with famous acts, a strolling band, and a giant fireworks display, will be presented as part of a new Family Nite policy at Santa's Village, Dundee, on Thursday and Saturday evenings, Aug. 3 and 5.

The entire land of fun and fantasy, hosted by Santa Claus, will be in full swing. The giant Christmas tree will be swinging its riders around in glittering ornaments, Cinderella's Pumpkin Coach will whisk the children through the Enchanted Forest, Santa's arctic reindeer will pull his sleigh packed with people through the icy wonderland and, of course, the Candy Cane tree, always free for the pickin's, and the many other rides and delights of Santa's Village, will be in operation.

FEATURED THIS Thursday evening are:

—George and Betty Johnstone, a comedy magic team who have appeared frequently on Ed Sullivan's TV show, and with Steve Allen and Elvis Presley.

—Eddie Fay will present his world-famous "Boxing Cats." These feline fighters, wearing lightweight gloves, box three rounds in a miniature ring. The Australian white shorthair cats, who have appeared all over the world, fight strictly according to Marquis of Queensbury rules.

—Chase & Parks are America's foremost trampoline artists, and will entrance the children with their acrobatic tricks and comedy routine.

On Saturday night, Eddie Burnette and Yvonne, with their astounding magic act, featuring levitation tricks and Houdini's "trunk escape", will replace the Johnstones. Both evenings the KooKoo Klown Band, three costumed musicians, will stroll through the Village, beginning at 6:30 p.m. and will play for the show at 8 p.m. At 9:30 p.m. there will be a giant fireworks display.

THE PARK will open at 11 a.m., and Santa's guests can come in any old time after that and stay for the show. Restaurant facilities, a picnic grove and a snack bar will be open. Free ice cream and soft drinks will be given to all children those two nights.

Santa's Village is located in a 55-acre woodland setting at the intersection of Routes 25 and 72 in Dundee. Telephone number is HAzel 6-6751.

The general price of $1 for adults and 25c or 50c for children, depending upon age, gives admission to a full day at the Village, plus the free evening show on August 3 and 5.

NEXT WEEK WE SHALL DEVOTE our column to a discussion of the Nordic Hills Country club where the Paddock Publications tournament will be held on Sunday, August 20. Nordic Hills is located just west of Highway 53 about a half mile south of Irving Park rd. and one-half mile north of Lake st. The tournament has been held there several times previously; it is a fine golf layout and is a semi-private course with a very limited membership and open to others on a daily fee basis. Jack R. Samuelson is president and managing director. A brief hole by hole statement of our impression of the course will appear next week.

With College All-Star football game at Soldiers Field, interest in sports turns toward gridiron activity. The pros are in their training camps trying out new players and getting their squads in condition. Pre-season training periods seem to get longer every year with numerous pre-season exhibition games to test the new recruits. The All-Star game is one of the best proving grounds for the accuracy of the draft choices of the various pro teams. We usually pick the pros in this annual charity game but this year we will have to string along with the Stars at about 27 to 24 and it could be more one sided.

This year in high school football, wearing of teeth protectors is optional but in 1962 it will be required. This is one piece of equipment which every boy will need to purchase for himself as it cannot very well be worn by anyone else for sanitary reasons. These protectors cost about $3.50 for a type which would fit anyone, but the wearer cannot talk while it is in place. Custom-made protectors to fit an individual will cost about $10 and allow the person to speak. Quarterbacks must have this type. This rule may be a good one for other reasons than protection. It may mean that the quarterback can give the signals in a quiet huddle where the rest of the players can converse only in sign language. Players will have to listen and learn the signals as they will not have time to take out the protector and ask questions. Neither can players gripe at teammates or the officials by word of mouth.

ONE OF THE REASONS for the amazing showing of the Cincinnati Reds this year is the work of Otis Douglas, 50-year-old physical conditioning consultant. He has the only gym set-up in the Major League complete with a weight program, tumbling and the rest of the things recommended to develop strength, coordination, agility and endurance. Players say it keeps them loose and supple. Douglas played his first pro football game at the age of 35 and left the Philadelphia Eagles at 44. The past four years he has coached Calgary in the Canadian league. He holds both masters and doctors degrees.

Legion Grads Gain Stardom In Majors

by OSCAR KAHAN
The Sporting News

The contribution of American Legion baseball to the Major Leagues — not just in numbers alone, but in outstanding players — was emphasized when 34 of the program's graduates were selected for the 1961 All-Star teams.

Eighteen of the National League's 25-man squad played Legion ball before starting their O.B. careers, while 16 of the American League's elite 25 had Legion experience as a springboard to success.

Stan Musial of the Cardinals, the Donora, Pa., kid who became the Man of the Majors, was picked for the N. L. team for the 18th time, a record. Yogi Berra, a product of the Stockham Post of St. Louis, was included on the A. L. squad for the 14th straight time.

FIVE OF the starting regulars in the N. L. and five in the A. L., as chosen by a poll of the players, were Legion alumni in an impressive showing for the program.

The five who received the top votes at their positions in the N. L. were Bill White of the Cardinals, Frank Bolling and Ed Mathews of the Braves, Maury Wills of the Dodgers and Smokey Burgess of the Pirates.

In the A. L., the Legions prides among the starters were Roger Maris and Tony Kubek of the Yankees, Johnny Temple and Johnny Romano of the Indians and Brooks Robinson of the Orioles.

OTHER A. L. STARS who came out of the Legion ranks were Berra, Harmon Killebrew of the Twins, Jim Gentile, Jackie Brandt and Hoyt Wilhelm of the Orioles, Al Kaline, Jim Bunning and Frank Lary of the Tigers, Dick Donovan of the Senators, Billy Pierce of the White Sox and Dick Howser of the Athletics.

The Legion's All-Stars in the N. L., in addition to the starting five, included Musial, Frank Robinson, Eddie Kasko, Bob Purkey and Joey Jay of the Redlegs, Roy Face and Dick Stuart of the Pirates, Warren Spahn of the Braves, Mike McCormick and Stu Miller of the Giants, Johnny Roseboro of the Dodgers, Art Mahaffey of the Phillies and Don Zimmer of the Cubs.

Several of the Legion graduates distinguished themselves in the game at San Francisco, July 11. Spahn, who pitched the first three innings for the N. L., and Purkey, who hurled the next two, turned back the A. L. without a hit.

Spahn, Purkey, McCormick, Face and Miller combined to strike out 12, tying the All-Star game record.

Physical Required By Prospect

All fall sports candidates at Prospect high school are required to complete a physical examination prior to reporting for practice sessions August 28, according to Howard Lester, Prospect athletic director.

Insurance fees are to be paid in the high school office during the week of August 21.

BOYS WHO have previously participated in the Knights' football or cross country programs will be contacted by their coaches regarding the check-out dates for equipment.

Transfer students may report for equipment on Saturday morning, August 28, along with any freshman hopefuls.

The opening game on the Knights grid schedule will be at North Chicago, Saturday afternoon, Sep. 16, with a frosh-soph clash preceding the varsity encounter with the Warhawks.

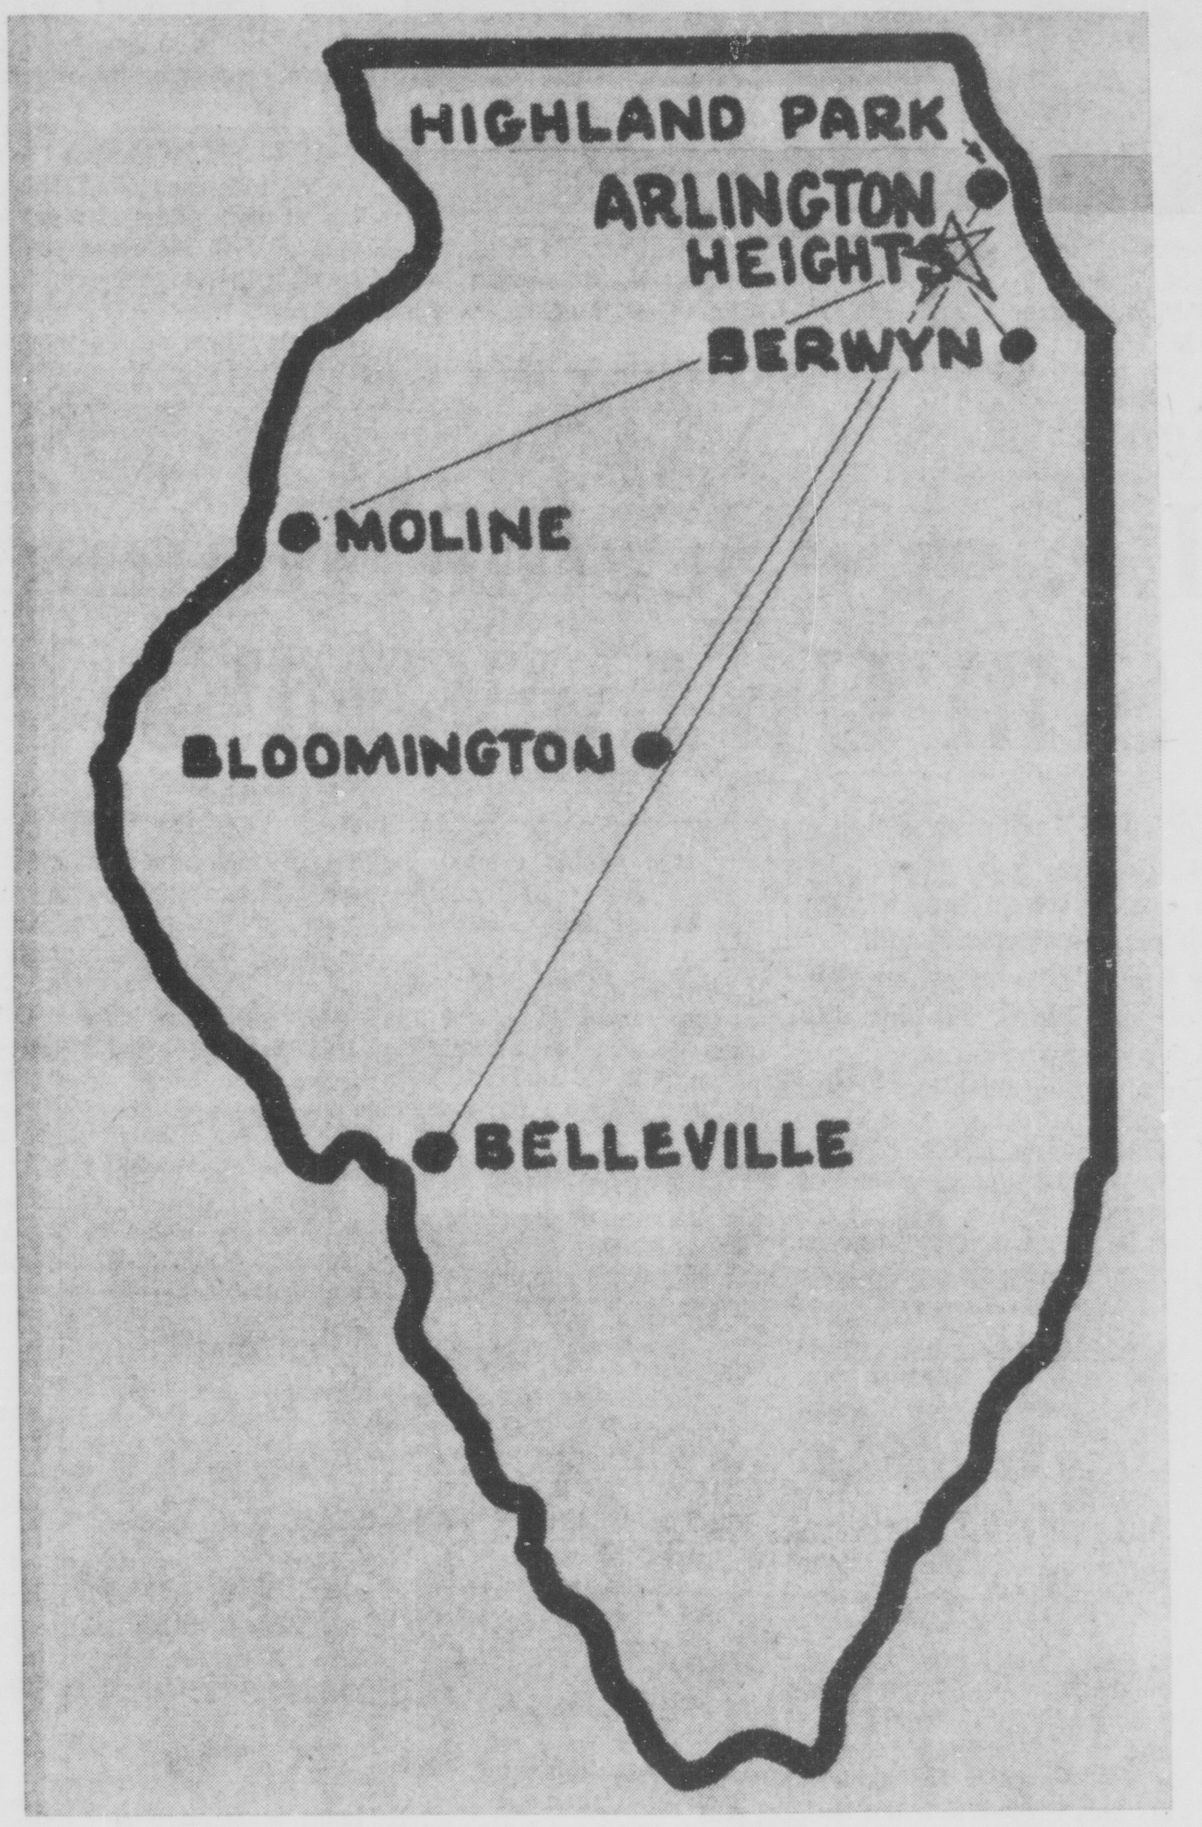
Berwyn Stops Sullivan Post For First Division Crown



FIVE SURVIVORS of Divisional eliminations will converge upon Arlington Heights' Recreation Park this weekend with hopes of capturing the Illinois State American Legion baseball crown. Divisional winners were Berwyn (First), Highland Park (Second), Moline (Third), Bloomington (Fourth) and Belleville (Fifth). Play will open at 9:30 a.m. Friday.

Berwyn's power-packed American Legion baseball outfit brushed aside Sullivan Post of Chicago, 6-2, in the First Division championship battle at Morton West high school Monday.

By virtue of its victory, Berwyn will defend its Illinois State Legion crown at Arlington Heights this weekend.

Coach Lenny Walsh's squad thoroughly destroyed all comers at Morton during the Cook county showdown that was extended through Monday because of Friday's complete washout.

WITH LEON MILLER on the hill, the Champs blanked Park Ridge, 8-0, in first round action last Thursday. Miller scattered seven hits enroute.

Rich Rawski paced the victors' attack with three safeties including a three-run homer in the seventh. Teammate Buddy Ryan banged out two hits including a bases-empty circuit clout in the sixth.

In Thursday's other opener, Evanston nipped Sullivan, 4-3.

The victors shattered a two-all deadlock with a whopping three-spot in the bottom of the seventh and then added an insurance tally in the eighth.

Tralawski was credited with the victory; Steve Benson absorbed the loss. Frank Machac collected four hits in as many trips to the plate for Park Ridge.

Berwyn, meanwhile continued to roll along, clouting Evanston, 15-4, Saturday. Sullivan then eliminated Evanston, 13-11, Sunday thereby setting the stage for Monday's finale.

IN OTHER tourney action, Highland Park rallied in the seventh inning to beat Monee, 5-3, for the Second Division title.

Trailing, 2-1, after six frames, the Parkers shelled Monee hurler Al Van Iten for four runs in the seventh. Tom Inman started it off with a triple to right and scored on Marv Fiocchi's single through the box.

Chuck Adler beat out a bunt and Chuck Pascal walked to load the bases. Mickey Panther then lashed a long single against the center field fence scoring two more runs.

FRED VAN ITEN replaced his brother on the hill for Monee at this point. A passed ball allowed both Highland Park runners to move up one base and Pascal tallied the fourth run of the inning on Tom LaBuda's fly.

In other Division finals, Moline whipped Canton, 1-0, for the Third circuit crown while Bloomington bumped Mattoon in the Fourth group. Belleville stopped Mt. Carmel, 7-0, for the Fifth Division title.

Barber Tops January In 18-Hole Playoff

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

After two blistering sub-par holes, Charles Malchaski of Addison's Brookwood Country club was tops among the nation's best professional golfers!

The Brookwood club pro posted birdies on the first and second holes during Thursday's opening round of the 43rd annual PGA Championship held at Olympia Fields Country club.

But then young Chuck's fortunes sagged and bantam Jerry Barber now rules the PGA roost thanks to an overtime playoff victory over Don January.

BARBER, A 21-YEAR veteran of golf's tournament circuit, staged one of the most amazing comeback's during Sunday's fourth round to tie January at 277 and thereby necessitated an 18-hole playoff Monday.

Down by four strokes after the 69th hole and apparently out of the running, Barber proceeded to birdie two of the three final holes thanks to unbelievable putts of 20 feet, 40 feet and a final 60-footer on the 18th.

And again Monday, it took a brilliant comeback before Barber earned the right to wear the coveted PGA crown. January stepped out to a one stroke edge after the front nine and hiked that advantage to two strokes with a bird on the 11th.

BUT THEN the new champ went to work. He cut the deficit to two with a birdie three on the 12th, deadlocked matters on the 14th and pulled ahead on the 15th.

January evened the score with a birdie on the 16th but a heartbreaking one-over on the final hole cost him the match and $5,500 in prize money.

Barber closed with a 35-32—67 as compared to January's 34-34—68.

RAIN PLAYED a strategic role in the Olympia Fields spectacular. A torrential downpour washed out Friday's scheduled second round and forced officials to jam in two rounds Sunday.

Sunday's initial round was delayed for approximately one hour by a morning thundershower which left the course extremely soggy.

Playing as part of a threesome which included Bob Kay of West Hartford, Conn., and Joe Brown of West Des Moines, Ia., Malchaski recorded a highly respectable two-over par 72 for the first day's activity.

THE PERSONABLE Missourian, chatting freely with spectators enroute, blasted a tremendous drive down the center on the 510 par five first hole but then pounded his second wood shot into a trap to the right of the green.

With mechanical precision, Chuck blasted out of the sand to within a foot of the pin and dropped his putt for a bird.

Playing a slight hook, Malchaski was again in good position after his drive on the rugged 455 yard par four second hole, a sharp dogleg to the right.

HIS SECOND shot rolled to a stop about 11 feet from the cup and he proceeded to can his putt for his second straight birdie.

CHUCK MALCHASKI

After parring both the third and fourth, Malchaski elected to gamble with a two iron drive on the tight fifth and lost. His shot sliced into the trees on the right and resulted in a bogey five.

Another bogey on the seventh gave Chuck an even par 35 for the front side while bogeys on the 15th and 16th resulted in a final 72 card.

MALCHASKI HAD completed 12 nightmarish holes Friday before the rains mercifully descended. A respectable 73 Saturday, however, earned the Brookwood pro a berth in Sunday's grueling double round.

Friday's rain wasn't welcomed by all, however, including Art Wall and Johnny Pott. Wall, nailed by the rains on the 16th, still managed to come in

by DICK GOTTSEGEN

On to Arlington Heights!

That's the cry of the five divisional titlists scheduled to contest the 1961 Illinois State American Legion baseball title at Recreation Park this weekend.

The park is located at the corner of Douglas and Miner sts. just north of Northwest hwy. in Arlington.

Hostilities will open at 9:30 a.m. Friday (weather permitting) with a cease-fire order issued for dusk either Sunday or Monday.

KICKING-OFF THE double elimination tournament at the Recreation plant Friday morning will be Moline and Belleville, Third and Fifth Division champs respectively.

That winner will then tackle First Division survivor and defending state champion, Berwyn, at 4 p.m. Friday.

Sandwiched in between those battles will be a first round engagement involving Highland Park of the Second Division and Bloomington of Fourth Division fame. Game time has been set for 1 p.m.

PLAY WILL continue with three games Saturday, two games Sunday and a possible additional game Monday, if needed.

Saturday's game times will be identical to those of Friday. Sunday's times are 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. with a 4 p.m. date tentatively set up for Monday.

The eventual Illinois champ will move into the Princeton, Ind., regional with an eye toward the national finals at Hastings, Neb., Aug. 26 through Sept. 4.

RECREATION PARK represents for no less than four posts the last stop on a tournament trail that has embraced eliminations on sub-district, district and divisional levels.

But for that one select squad, the journey to Arlington will serve as stopping-off point on the road to national prominence.

To single out an arbitrary "team-to-beat" would be sheer suicide although Berwyn and Highland Park boast a couple of formidible aggregations.

Moving into last weekend's Divisional battle, Coach Lenny Walsh's boys blanked Park Ridge, 8-0, blasted Evanston, 15-4, and then edged Sullivan Post of Chicago, 6-2, for the title.

Berwyn boasts three solid pitchers in the persons of Leon Miller, Billy Posen and Dennis Andritis. Miller and Posen both won six games during the regular season.

Tourney Pairings

Game 1—Moline vs. Belleville, 9:30 a.m. Friday, Aug. 4
Game 2—Highland Park vs. Bloomington, 1 p.m. Friday, Aug. 4
Game 3—Berwyn vs. winner game 1, 4 p.m. Friday, Aug. 4
Game 4—Loser game 1 vs. loser game 2, 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Aug. 5
Game 5—Winner game 2 vs. winner game 3, 1 p.m. Saturday Aug. 5
Game 6—Loser game 3 vs. winner game 4, 4 p.m. Saturday, Aug. 5
Game 7—Loser game 5 vs. winner game 6, 1 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 6
Game 8—Winner game 5 vs. winner game 7, 4 p.m. Sunday, Aug. 6
Game 9 (if needed)—Winner game 8 vs. loser game 8, 4 p.m. Monday, Aug. 7

IN ADDITION to that mound staff, Walsh's outfit is blessed by a tight infield consisting of Wayne Reznicek at first, Rich Rawski at second, Jim Vopicka at short and Arny Vesely at third.

Rich Hanus, Lee Hager and Bud Ryan will be in the outfield with Tom Roth behind the plate.

HIGHLAND PARK, bolstered by probably the best pitching staff in the tournament, rallied to beat Monee, 5-3, in the finals of the Second Division struggle at Woodstock.

Spearheading Coach Dan Inman's mound staff will be Jack Secrest, Tom LaBuda and Marv Fiocchi. Secrest, incidently, blanked Sterling on a no-hitter in the Divisional opener July 22.

Moline earned a trip to Arlington on the heels of a 1-0 win over rugged Canton in the Third Division final. The Western Illinois post rates as a tourney darkhorse.

Fifth Division representative Belleville is no stranger to State Legion tournament play. The George E. Hilgard Post, a 7-0 winner over Mt. Carmel in this summer's division finale, has captured state titles in '47, '48, '49 and '54.

Jerry Dill and Les Mueller have anchored the Belleville pitching staff this summer while Willie Randall and Bill Schlueter have handled a lion's share of the team's offensive burden.

Announce Paddock Women's Classic Team Rosters

Paddock Women's Classic traveling league has just about completed rosters for the new season, with teams averaging from 831-852. Officers of the league will be meeting again Aug. 14 to finalize plans for the new season.

Just one sponsor has been selected thus far, Morton Pontiac of Arlington Heights. The girls will be competing at the same six lanes they did last season, following much the same type of schedule on Saturday evenings that the Paddock Men's Classic follows.

Representing Country Lanes, Lake Zurich: Fran Altergott of Libertyville 170, Alice Nichols of Arlington Heights 160, Marge Calkins of Lake Zurich 167, Capt. Vi Douglas of Palatine 171, Bonnie Kuhn of Mundelein 182, team 850.

From River - Rand, Des Plaines: Hazel Steiger of Arlington Heights 159, Connie Labo of Rolling Meadows 161, Joyce Walker of Des Plaines 165, Alice Ulrich of Chicago 177, Jo O'Shaughnessy of Des Plaines 169, team 831.

Northfield Bowl: Capt. Gloria Lucchesi of Wilmette 172, Ceil Borre of Wilmette 163, Sally Prouty of Wilmette 161, Wickie

Wollerman Captures Net Crown

Rick Wollerman, 14, took top honors in the boys 15 and under division of the Evanston-Waukegan Invitational Tennis tournament, stopping Willy Kochounian of Evanston in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4.

Young Wollerman advanced to the finals by outplaying teammate Greg Inman, 6-3, 6-1, in the semi-final battle after Inman had upset the second-seeded player in third round action.

Others who made bids in the tourney were Dave Wollerman, Peter Loris, Micky Lloyd, Randy Blarsdell, and Jim Kimberger.

Mac Says

G. A. McELROY

NEXT WEEK WE SHALL DEVOTE our column to a discussion of the Nordic Hills Country club where the Paddock Publications tournament will be held on Sunday, August 20. Nordic Hills is located just west of Highway 53 about a half mile south of Irving Park rd. and one-half mile north of Lake st. The tournament has been held there several times previously; it is a fine golf layout and is a semi-private course with a very limited membership and open to others on a daily fee basis. Jack R. Samuelson is president and managing director. A brief hole by hole statement of our impression of the course will appear next week.

With College All-Star football game at Soldiers Field, interest in sports turns toward gridiron activity. The pros are in their training camps trying out new players and getting their squads in condition. Pre-season training periods seem to get longer every year with numerous pre-season exhibition games to test the new recruits. The All-Star game is one of the best proving grounds for the accuracy of the draft choices of the various pro teams. We usually pick the pros in this annual charity game but this year we will have to string along with the Stars at about 27 to 24 and it could be more one sided.

This year in high school football, wearing of teeth protectors is optional but in 1962 it will be required. This is one piece of equipment which every boy will need to purchase for himself as it cannot very well be worn by anyone else for sanitary reasons. These protectors cost about $3.50 for a type which would fit anyone, but the wearer cannot talk while it is in place. Custom-made protectors to fit an individual will cost about $10 and allow the person to speak. Quarterbacks must have this type. This rule may be a good one for other reasons than protection. It may mean that the quarterback can give the signals in a quiet huddle where the rest of the players can converse only in sign language. Players will have to listen and learn the signals as they will not have time to take out the protector and ask questions. Neither can players gripe at teammates or the officials by word of mouth.

ONE OF THE REASONS for the amazing showing of the Cincinnati Reds this year is the work of Otis Douglas, 50-year-old physical conditioning consultant. He has the only gym set-up in the Major League complete with a weight program, tumbling and the rest of the things recommended to develop strength, coordination, agility and endurance. Players say it keeps them loose and supple. Douglas played his first pro football game at the age of 35 and left the Philadelphia Eagles at 44. The past four years he has coached Calgary in the Canadian league. He holds both masters and doctors degrees.

Legion Grads Gain Stardom In Majors

by OSCAR KAHAN
The Sporting News

The contribution of American Legion baseball to the Major Leagues — not just in numbers alone, but in outstanding players — was emphasized when 34 of the program's graduates were selected for the 1961 All-Star teams.

Eighteen of the National League's 25-man squad played Legion ball before starting their O.B. careers, while 16 of the American League's elite 25 had Legion experience as a springboard to success.

Stan Musial of the Cardinals, the Donora, Pa., kid who became the Man of the Majors, was picked for the N. L. team for the 18th time, a record. Yogi Berra, a product of the Stockham Post of St. Louis, was included on the A. L. squad for the 14th straight time.

FIVE OF the starting regulars in the N. L. and five in the A. L., as chosen by a poll of the players, were Legion alumni in an impressive showing for the program.

The five who received the top votes at their positions in the N. L. were Bill White of the Cardinals, Frank Bolling and Ed Mathews of the Braves, Maury Wills of the Dodgers and Smokey Burgess of the Pirates.

In the A. L., the Legions prides among the starters were Roger Maris and Tony Kubek of the Yankees, Johnny Temple and Johnny Romano of the Indians and Brooks Robinson of the Orioles.

OTHER A. L. STARS who came out of the Legion ranks were Berra, Harmon Killebrew of the Twins, Jim Gentile, Jackie Brandt and Hoyt Wilhelm of the Orioles, Al Kaline, Jim Bunning and Frank Lary of the Tigers, Dick Donovan of the Senators, Billy Pierce of the White Sox and Dick Howser of the Athletics.

The Legion's All-Stars in the N. L., in addition to the starting five, included Musial, Frank Robinson, Eddie Kasko, Bob Purkey and Joey Jay of the Redlegs, Roy Face and Dick Stuart of the Pirates, Warren Spahn of the Braves, Mike McCormick and Stu Miller of the Giants, Johnny Roseboro of the Dodgers, Art Mahaffey of the Phillies and Don Zimmer of the Cubs.

Several of the Legion graduates distinguished themselves in the game at San Francisco, July 11. Spahn, who pitched the first three innings for the N. L., and Purkey, who hurled the next two, turned back the A. L. without a hit.

Spahn, Purkey, McCormick, Face and Miller combined to strike out 12, tying the All-Star game record.

Rich Hanus, Lee Hager and Bud Ryan will be in the outfield with Tom Roth behind the plate.

HIGHLAND PARK, bolstered by probably the best pitching staff in the tournament, rallied to beat Monee, 5-3, in the finals of the Second Division struggle at Woodstock.

Spearheading Coach Dan Inman's mound staff will be Jack Secrest, Tom LaBuda and Marv Fiocchi. Secrest, incidently, blanked Sterling on a no-hitter in the Divisional opener July 22.

Moline earned a trip to Arlington on the heels of a 1-0 win over rugged Canton in the Third Division final. The Western Illinois post rates as a tourney darkhorse.

Fifth Division representative Belleville is no stranger to State Legion tournament play. The George E. Hilgard Post, a 7-0 winner over Mt. Carmel in this summer's division finale, has captured state titles in '47, '48, '49 and '54.

Jerry Dill and Les Mueller have anchored the Belleville pitching staff this summer while Willie Randall and Bill Schlueter have handled a lion's share of the team's offensive burden.

Announce Paddock Women's Classic Team Rosters

Paddock Women's Classic traveling league has just about completed rosters for the new season, with teams averaging from 831-852. Officers of the league will be meeting again Aug. 14 to finalize plans for the new season.

Just one sponsor has been selected thus far, Morton Pontiac of Arlington Heights. The girls will be competing at the same six lanes they did last season, following much the same type of schedule on Saturday evenings that the Paddock Men's Classic follows.

Representing Country Lanes, Lake Zurich: Fran Altergott of Libertyville 170, Alice Nichols of Arlington Heights 160, Marge Calkins of Lake Zurich 167, Capt. Vi Douglas of Palatine 171, Bonnie Kuhn of Mundelein 182, team 850.

From River - Rand, Des Plaines: Hazel Steiger of Arlington Heights 159, Connie Labo of Rolling Meadows 161, Joyce Walker of Des Plaines 165, Alice Ulrich of Chicago 177, Jo O'Shaughnessy of Des Plaines 169, team 831.

Northfield Bowl: Capt. Gloria Lucchesi of Wilmette 172, Ceil Borre of Wilmette 163, Sally Prouty of Wilmette 161, Wickie

Wollerman Captures Net Crown

Rick Wollerman, 14, took top honors in the boys 15 and under division of the Evanston-Waukegan Invitational Tennis tournament, stopping Willy Kochounian of Evanston in straight sets, 6-3, 6-4.

Young Wollerman advanced to the finals by outplaying teammate Greg Inman, 6-3, 6-1, in the semi-final battle after Inman had upset the second-seeded player in third round action.

Others who made bids in the tourney were Dave Wollerman, Peter Loris, Micky Lloyd, Randy Blarsdell, and Jim Kimberger.

Meadows Nine Eliminated By Barrington

Limited by a series of playoff games, Lindheimer Field saw only three scheduled Rolling Meadows Little League contests last week.

The Indians climbed one more step above the rest of the league thanks to a boost from the second place Sox, 3-2.

Kelly paced the Tribe with a single and a home run. Bejrowski followed his example, picking up a four-bagger.

THE INDIANS demonstrated their championship quality in the bottom of the ninth, escaping unmarked from a bases loaded situation.

With Rick Trauh and Rick Prucha heading the offensive charge, the Yankees scurried out of the cellar, leaving the defeated Braves as the sole tenants. Prucha earned his second win of the campaign, fanning nine Braves in the 8-7 affair.

Knudsen collected a double and three singles but was forced to accept the loss.

The disappointing Cubs dropped another contest, submitting to the Cardinals 5-3, as Krammer suffered his first loss in five starts. Komondoros worked on the mound for the Redbirds with Duffy and Caltagirone supplying the offensive punch.

Boasting a lofty .451 batting average as a team, the Rolling Meadows squad could only manage four safeties in the contest while yielding 11 to the opposition.

Bejrowski's circuit blow was the only high spot for the losers who were eliminated from further tourney play.

Dodgers Capture Mount Prospect Major Loop Title

Overtaking the Yankees in the final week of action, the Dodger's express cannonballed to the championship in the Mt. Prospect Major Little League, knocking the National League Lions off the track, 12-10, in the final.

Lacing out three clutch doubles for the Bums, Ralph Anderson sent five teammates across the plate, spurring Dennis Palubicki to victory.

The Lions, coasting comfortably on a 10-7 lead, were surprised with a five run Dodger flurry in the final frame.

Jim Carroll, backed up by the 19 hit attack of his teammates hurled the Sox to a 22-9, over the Cards in the first game of a best-one-of-three series.

BANGING OUT an overwhelming total of 20 hits, the Red Sox took the Minor B World Series in two straight, rocking the Cardinals 16-2, behind Steve Boll's five-hit performance.

Layden connected for a home run and two doubles, Passarelli tripled twice and Boll added four singles as the Sox ran their season record to 14-0.

In the Minor A Class, the Pirates shaded the Reds 2-1 in a dispute over the league crown as Riggs whiffed 13 in sending Edwall home with the loss.

Malchaski ran into driver trouble Sunday and ballooned to a 77 for the first 18 but recovered somewhat with a 74 in the afternoon.

His final 296 total was good for a share of 50th place and $225, his best showing in two PGA appearances.

MALCHASKI AND Sam Bernardi of Indian Hills, were the only Illinois section qualifiers who survived the 36 hole cut.

Eliminated at the halfway mark were Bob Harris of Sunset Ridge, Tony Holguin of Midlothian, Felice Torza of Aurora, Dick Hart of Hinsdale and Joe Zelazny of Deerfield.

Senior League Second Round Crown Still Up for Grabs

With action in the majority of Arlington Heights' Little League plants closing down, the Lions and Indians of the Senior League are still wrestling for the winners' share of second half play in that division.

The Indians, sparked by Rick Carlson's grand slam home run, pulled abreast of the Lions, nipping the Hawks, 6-5, behind Jim Ewart.

With Jim Kroll twirling a one-hitter, the Tribe knotted things with the Lions for the first half also, blasting the lowly Browns, 28-0, in a makeup game.

WITH WINNER Roland Oberg and loser Paul Splittorf matching five-hit efforts on the mound, the Lions limped away from the surging Reds with a thorn in their paw, 7-5, S. Karreu provided the winning margin with a two-run circuit clout in the last inning.

Oberg picked up another victory in a makeup encounter with the Browns, in an 8-4 final.

Chalking up two runs in the fifth stanza, the Hawks lowered the Browns, 6-5 in a see-saw battle which saw the lead change five times.

MUELLER and Bryan combined to allow only four safeties, as Mueller was credited with his second straight win.

The Browns came back to whip the Bears, 4-2, in a pitchers' duel with Ted Staahl emerging with the win. Hedberg was forced to accept the loss although he held the Browns to three singles in seven innings work.

Paced by two-run doubles off the bats of Haiduke and Law, the Bears ruffled the Hawks, 9-5 as Riesing bested Brune on the mound.

IN THE Varsity League, the Generals moved into the top spot with two timely victories, outranking the Eagles, 6-0, and bombing the Phils, 14-6.

The Orioles flew away with an 8-4 decision over the Wildcats, picking up five runs in the late innings to win going away for Spence. Hoppe stroked a four-bagger for the losing cause.

With Spence handing out only four hits, the Orioles took another contest, 9-6, over the Raiders. Frase led the Raiders' retreat, leaving the rubber after giving up 11 hits.

RACKING up eight markers in the final frame, the Knights mauled T. Liga and the Eagles, 13-3, with B. Tossi working for the winners. The Knights came up with 17 hits in the one-sided affair.

With Lockwood and Curtain relieving starter Ungaro, the Knights shut out the Wildcats, 6-0, on four hits. Kushner owned the big bat for the winners, totaling three hits in four trips to the plate.

Lockwood earned the starting role against the Falcons and responded with a four hit effort for an 8-1 victory. Two runs in the initial frame proved to be all he needed.

SCATTERING a stingy three singles, Sayre hurled the Phillies to an 8-3 triumph over the Vikings; Lilleburg absorbed the loss. Sayre doubled and Wagner tripled for the Phils.

Paced by a triple and double off the bat of Theroux, the Rams trampled the Falcons, 11-4 as Clark picked up the victory over Brophy.

Although outhit, 7-4, the cellar-dwelling Vikings turned the tables on the Raiders, recording a 10-7 victory fo. Shively. Farr was tagged with the loss.

P. Loughman twirled a five-hitter in recording an easy 23-3 win over the hapless Angels, signalling the Giants, challenge to the Cubs. J. Loughman got into the act with a pair of homers for the winners.

The Cubbies failed to rise to the challenge, muffing their league lead with an 11-5 loss at the hands of the pesky Braves.

RUSSELL Koeppen toiled for the spoilers with Saflarski supplying the offensive power to arrest the Cubs' first place intentions.

With Loughman and Hogan throwing four-hitters at each other, the Giants shaded the Cards, 2-1, as Loughman's efforts earned the Giants first place.

Late inning heroics by Koeppen and Saflarski paced the Braves to an 8-7 win on a cliff-hanger with the Dodgers. Lees went the distance for the decision.

Collecting a total of six home runs, the Pirates romped over the Angels, 24-3, as Baer overpowered the losing batters, allowing only one single.

Pushing across a game-saving marker in the last frame, the Twins toppled the Dodgers, 7-6, rewarding Sauter with the win. Klinkey delivered the deciding blow, creasing a triple over the center-fielder's outstretched glove.

The Cards drubbed the Twins, 7-2, on Shawahan's fine four-hitter, turning the loss over to Klinkey.

IN AMERICAN League action, the White Sox tamed the Tigers, 4-2,in the battle for the division crown with Dave Lockwood pinning the loss on Tom LeStarge. Epperly doubled for the champs.

Finding four tallies in the Red Sox and John Schartle took third place from the Yankees, 7-6, with six errors on the board for the Yanks. Doug Fink absorbed the loss.

Yielding a scant three safeties to his opposition, John Gregory hurled the Athletics to a 1-0 shutout victory over the last place Nats. Guy Pasvogel distinguished himself with a four-hitter in picking up the loss.

IN A PLAYOFF game to decide the first half champ, the Tigers chased the Yanks out of contention, stepping into first place, 2-1, as Bozee turned in a sterling two-hit performance on the mound. Bruce Cerveny homered for the losers.

Rasek and Boo collected three hits each as the Mohawks captured the Intermediate League crown from the Seals of the South Side, 12-4.

Rasek hurled his teammates to victories in the second half playoffs, North Side championship game and the Intermediate League championship tilt.

THE SEALS had a successful week, capturing two playoff contests and a regularly-scheduled tilt from the Marlins.

Withey earned the win in a 10-6 affair with the sluggish Marlins, following up with a victory over the Ravens in a first half playoff game, 14-3.

HOME RUNS by Leighton and Stratton led the Rangers to pay dirt, as they tripped the Dons, 13-11, as Theroux went the distance in picking up the win.

In their next contest, the team of Stratton and Leighton combined to sink the Ravens, 21-0. Stratton sent the Ravens home without a single hit, with offensive backing from Griffin and Leighton.

WITH DAVE Howard's grand slam home run paving the way, Lee Howard and the Huskies stopped the Solons, 14-10. Paul Dougherty contributed two homers and two singles to the winning attack.

Rounding out Intermediate League action, the Barons humbled the Ravens, 15-5, behind Schaeffer.

Johnny Brodnan allowed only four hits in facing 27 batters as the Stags of the South West Junior League swept past the South East Colts to take the South Side crown, 4-3.

In the Junior League Championship at Pioneer Park the Stags scrambled over the Sox of the North Side, taking home the trophy for Rickey Roeing, 4-2. Kenny doubled for the champs and matched Brodnan's single in carrying the Stag at-

Aquatic Records Toppled At Annual Lions Olympics

Pioneer Park topped the field in the 1961 edition of the Lions club Olympics as several records fell by the wayside in the aquatic competition.

Paul Hembd covering 25 yards in :14.0, eclipsed the free style standard set by Stan Norman in 1952, and captured the 11-12-year-old boys crown.

Bill Nendel raced to a :16.4 clocking in the 25-yard backstroke to equal John Nelson's 1959 effort.

BOYS backstroke winners were Bob Hertzel (8-and-under), Jim Philo (9-and-10), Bill Rendel (11 and 12), Gregg Inman (13 and 14) and Doug Rice (15 and 16).

In girls' backstroke competition successful contestants were Kathy Dalton (8 and under), Patty Ann Wollerman (9 and 10), Susan Moore (11 and 12) and Mary Alice Brophy (13 and 14).

Boys who stroked to wins in the freestyle were Gary Brosseit (8 and under), Kurt Thompson (9 and 10), Paul Hembd (11 and 12), Dick Evans (13 an 14) and Doug Rice (15 and 16).

FOR THE GIRLS, Kathy Dalton (8 and under), Dawn Mayer (9 and 10), Kathy Kitch (11 and 12), Mary Alice Brophy (13 and 14) and Sue Brosseit (15 and 16) picked up first place awards.

In the track and field phase of the Olympics, Pioneer Park outscored Dryden and Recreation to cop the first place trophy.

Claudia Leet swept the Intermediate Girls Division, earning 20 points for Recreation Park, with teammate Ginger Loughman taking three out of four events in the Digit Division.

JIM WELTON and Linda Keane both racked up double wins competing for Pioneer and Virginia Terrace respectively.

Betsy Moore (Digit), Jennifer Bohl (Midget), Claudia Leet (Intermediate) and Mary Hawthorne (Junior) all recorded triumphs in the girls' 50 yard dash.

Sprinting to victory for the boys were Rick Clemens (Digit), Kyle Weiderhold (Midget), Dave Glasgow (Intermediate) and Rick Hoppe (Junior).

IN THE STANDING broad jump, Ginger Loughman leaped to victory in the Digit division, followed by Lori Willis (Midget), Claudia Leet (Intermediate) and Linda Keane (Junior).

Palatine Second

Des Plaines Outfit Claims Tourney Title

Des Plaines, second to Park Ridge in regulation Ninth District American Legion play, battered Palatine, 12-2, last Thursday to claim the league's first annual post-season tourney.

It was the second victory for Al Carstan's crew over Palatine and fourth of the tournament. The champs also disposed of Northlake and Cicero enroute.

Des Plaines was in command of the situation all the way in its championship engagement with Claude Bailey's boys, scoring a pair of counters in the bottom of the first.

SEAGREN WALKED and moved to second on Warnicke's infield out. Dan Humay was safe on Bob McAfee's error at short with Seagren scoring on the play.

Humay then scored moments later following a walk to Murdock and Bending's single.

Palatine came back with a run in the top of the second on Fred Barr's triple and Wayne Lewin's fielder's choice.

BUT DES PLAINES nullified that effort with a marker of its own in the bottom of the same frame. Ciezaldo walked, went to second on Allen's sacrifice and scored on Seagren's single.

The losers punched across their final run of the tilt in the third on a pair of doubles by John Roberts and Lenny Rose before Des Plaines salted the game away for keeps in the last of the third.

Reese led off the inning with a homer and Murdock reached base on another Palatine boot. Rowlee walked to fill the bases and Murdock counted on a force play.

ALLEN'S SINGLE scored Ciezaldo with the third run of the inning.

Des Plaines added another tally in the fourth and two in the sixth to win going away. Allen picked up the triumph while Rose was tagged with the loss.

Lewin's two-run single in the seventh enabled Palatine to move into the final with a 2-0 conquest of Cicero at Cicero last Wednesday.

BAILEY'S NINE was scheduled to meet Park Ridge last Wednesday but Van Proyen's unit elected to drop out of further Ninth District competition due to State Legion obligations.

BOB McAFEE

After six scoreless frames, Palatine finally broke the ice in the seventh. With one gone, McAfee and Rose walked and both advanced a base on Ken O'Rielly's infield out, thus setting the stage for Lewin's blast.

Both teams blew several scoring opportunities. Palatine filled the bases in the first on singles by O'Rielly and Lewin and a walk to Gary Chessman but Jim Smith fanned to end the inning.

CICERO AND Palatine put a couple of runners on in the second but again neither scored.

In the fourth frame, the victors loaded the sacks on walks to Chessman and Helms and Wayne Kehe's single but McAfee went down on strikes and Rose flied to center to kill the threat.

Kehe hurled a crafty five-hitter to pick up the victory; Geis took the loss for Cicero.

Yankees Clinch Mount Prospect Pony Loop Title

The Yankees of the Mt. Prospect Pony League clinched the pennant last week, replacing the Cardinals as loop champions.

With only one contest remaining on their schedule, the mighty Yanks backed into the top slot when the contending Cards were upset, 4-3, by the Braves.

Sending 10 Cards back to the bench on strikes, Burke was credited with the win for the spoilers, yielding only seven hits enroute to his fifth victory.

The Braves continued their late season surge with another 4-3 decision as winner Burke hiked up his strikeout total to 100 for the season by fanning five in three innings of labor.

Craig Thomas came on in the fourth to blank the Giants through the sixth frame before Dick Reardon served up a 3-run homer to Klukinski, the loser.

WITH COOPER and Kowal each collecting a pair of wins, the Orioles put together a string of four victories, running their slate to 11-7 for the season.

Led by the bats of Manderschield and Kowal, the Orioles started things going with a 6-5 win over the Pirates.

Cooper and Mandershield combined to toss a stingy three hitter at the Bucs. Ryan was dealt the loss despite teammate Bergan's circuit blast.

THE INDIANS were the next to stumble into the Orioles' ambush, dropping a close one, 6-5. Kowal bested Bacci on a three-hit effort.

For the second time in as many meetings, the red-hot Orioles drove the invading Bucs off the Lions East diamond, 8-2.

Manderschield went the distance for the win, fanning nine and pulling off a tricky unassisted double play. Harney and Kowal matched each other for offensive honors, collecting three hits each for the winners.

The Indians, sparked by Rick Carlson's grand slam home run, pulled abreast of the Lions, nipping the Hawks, 6-5, behind Jim Ewart.

With Jim Kroll twirling a one-hitter, the Tribe knotted things with the Lions for the first half also, blasting the lowly Browns, 28-0, in a makeup game.

WITH WINNER Roland Oberg and loser Paul Splittorf matching five-hit efforts on the mound, the Lions limped away from the surging Reds with a thorn in their paw, 7-5, S. Karreu provided the winning margin with a two-run circuit clout in the last inning.

Oberg picked up another victory in a makeup encounter with the Browns, in an 8-4 final.

Chalking up two runs in the fifth stanza, the Hawks lowered the Browns, 6-5 in a see-saw battle which saw the lead change five times.

MUELLER and Bryan combined to allow only four safeties, as Mueller was credited with his second straight win.

The Browns came back to whip the Bears, 4-2, in a pitchers' duel with Ted Staahl emerging with the win. Hedberg was forced to accept the loss although he held the Browns to three singles in seven innings work.

Paced by two-run doubles off the bats of Haiduke and Law, the Bears ruffled the Hawks, 9-5 as Riesing bested Brune on the mound.

IN THE Varsity League, the Generals moved into the top spot with two timely victories, outranking the Eagles, 6-0, and bombing the Phils, 14-6.

The Orioles flew away with an 8-4 decision over the Wildcats, picking up five runs in the late innings to win going away for Spence. Hoppe stroked a four-bagger for the losing cause.

With Spence handing out only four hits, the Orioles took another contest, 9-6, over the Raiders. Frase led the Raiders' retreat, leaving the rubber after giving up 11 hits.

RACKING up eight markers in the final frame, the Knights mauled T. Liga and the Eagles, 13-3, with B. Tossi working for the winners. The Knights came up with 17 hits in the one-sided affair.

With Lockwood and Curtain relieving starter Ungaro, the Knights shut out the Wildcats, 6-0, on four hits. Kushner owned the big bat for the winners, totaling three hits in four trips to the plate.

Lockwood earned the starting role against the Falcons and responded with a four hit effort for an 8-1 victory. Two runs in the initial frame proved to be all he needed.

SCATTERING a stingy three singles, Sayre hurled the Phillies to an 8-3 triumph over the Vikings; Lilleburg absorbed the loss. Sayre doubled and Wagner tripled for the Phils.

Paced by a triple and double off the bat of Theroux, the Rams trampled the Falcons, 11-4 as Clark picked up the victory over Brophy.

Although outhit, 7-4, the cellar-dwelling Vikings turned the tables on the Raiders, recording a 10-7 victory fo. Shively. Farr was tagged with the loss.

P. Loughman twirled a five-hitter in recording an easy 23-3 win over the hapless Angels, signalling the Giants, challenge to the Cubs. J. Loughman got into the act with a pair of homers for the winners.

The Cubbies failed to rise to the challenge, muffing their league lead with an 11-5 loss at the hands of the pesky Braves.

RUSSELL Koeppen toiled for the spoilers with Saflarski supplying the offensive power to arrest the Cubs' first place intentions.

With Loughman and Hogan throwing four-hitters at each other, the Giants shaded the Cards, 2-1, as Loughman's efforts earned the Giants first place.

Late inning heroics by Koeppen and Saflarski paced the Braves to an 8-7 win on a cliff-hanger with the Dodgers. Lees went the distance for the decision.

Collecting a total of six home runs, the Pirates romped over the Angels, 24-3, as Baer overpowered the losing batters, allowing only one single.

Pushing across a game-saving marker in the last frame, the Twins toppled the Dodgers, 7-6, rewarding Sauter with the win. Klinkey delivered the deciding blow, creasing a triple over the center-fielder's outstretched glove.

The Cards drubbed the Twins, 7-2, on Shawahan's fine four-hitter, turning the loss over to Klinkey.

IN AMERICAN League action, the White Sox tamed the Tigers, 4-2,in the battle for the division crown with Dave Lockwood pinning the loss on Tom LeStarge. Epperly doubled for the champs.

Finding four tallies in the Red Sox and John Schartle took third place from the Yankees, 7-6, with six errors on the board for the Yanks. Doug Fink absorbed the loss.

Yielding a scant three safeties to his opposition, John Gregory hurled the Athletics to a 1-0 shutout victory over the last place Nats. Guy Pasvogel distinguished himself with a four-hitter in picking up the loss.

IN A PLAYOFF game to decide the first half champ, the Tigers chased the Yanks out of contention, stepping into first place, 2-1, as Bozee turned in a sterling two-hit performance on the mound. Bruce Cerveny homered for the losers.

Rasek and Boo collected three hits each as the Mohawks captured the Intermediate League crown from the Seals of the South Side, 12-4.

Rasek hurled his teammates to victories in the second half playoffs, North Side championship game and the Intermediate League championship tilt.

THE SEALS had a successful week, capturing two playoff contests and a regularly-scheduled tilt from the Marlins.

Withey earned the win in a 10-6 affair with the sluggish Marlins, following up with a victory over the Ravens in a first half playoff game, 14-3.

HOME RUNS by Leighton and Stratton led the Rangers to pay dirt, as they tripped the Dons, 13-11, as Theroux went the distance in picking up the win.

In their next contest, the team of Stratton and Leighton combined to sink the Ravens, 21-0. Stratton sent the Ravens home without a single hit, with offensive backing from Griffin and Leighton.

WITH DAVE Howard's grand slam home run paving the way, Lee Howard and the Huskies stopped the Solons, 14-10. Paul Dougherty contributed two homers and two singles to the winning attack.

Rounding out Intermediate League action, the Barons humbled the Ravens, 15-5, behind Schaeffer.

Johnny Brodnan allowed only four hits in facing 27 batters as the Stags of the South West Junior League swept past the South East Colts to take the South Side crown, 4-3.

In the Junior League Championship at Pioneer Park the Stags scrambled over the Sox of the North Side, taking home the trophy for Rickey Roeing, 4-2. Kenny doubled for the champs and matched Brodnan's single in carrying the Stag at-

Aquatic Records Toppled At Annual Lions Olympics

Pioneer Park topped the field in the 1961 edition of the Lions club Olympics as several records fell by the wayside in the aquatic competition.

Paul Hembd covering 25 yards in :14.0, eclipsed the free style standard set by Stan Norman in 1952, and captured the 11-12-year-old boys crown.

Bill Nendel raced to a :16.4 clocking in the 25-yard backstroke to equal John Nelson's 1959 effort.

BOYS backstroke winners were Bob Hertzel (8-and-under), Jim Philo (9-and-10), Bill Rendel (11 and 12), Gregg Inman (13 and 14) and Doug Rice (15 and 16).

In girls' backstroke competition successful contestants were Kathy Dalton (8 and under), Patty Ann Wollerman (9 and 10), Susan Moore (11 and 12) and Mary Alice Brophy (13 and 14).

Boys who stroked to wins in the freestyle were Gary Brosseit (8 and under), Kurt Thompson (9 and 10), Paul Hembd (11 and 12), Dick Evans (13 an 14) and Doug Rice (15 and 16).

FOR THE GIRLS, Kathy Dalton (8 and under), Dawn Mayer (9 and 10), Kathy Kitch (11 and 12), Mary Alice Brophy (13 and 14) and Sue Brosseit (15 and 16) picked up first place awards.

In the track and field phase of the Olympics, Pioneer Park outscored Dryden and Recreation to cop the first place trophy.

Claudia Leet swept the Intermediate Girls Division, earning 20 points for Recreation Park, with teammate Ginger Loughman taking three out of four events in the Digit Division.

JIM WELTON and Linda Keane both racked up double wins competing for Pioneer and Virginia Terrace respectively.

Betsy Moore (Digit), Jennifer Bohl (Midget), Claudia Leet (Intermediate) and Mary Hawthorne (Junior) all recorded triumphs in the girls' 50 yard dash.

Sprinting to victory for the boys were Rick Clemens (Digit), Kyle Weiderhold (Midget), Dave Glasgow (Intermediate) and Rick Hoppe (Junior).

IN THE STANDING broad jump, Ginger Loughman leaped to victory in the Digit division, followed by Lori Willis (Midget), Claudia Leet (Intermediate) and Linda Keane (Junior).

Palatine Second

Des Plaines Outfit Claims Tourney Title

Des Plaines, second to Park Ridge in regulation Ninth District American Legion play, battered Palatine, 12-2, last Thursday to claim the league's first annual post-season tourney.

It was the second victory for Al Carstan's crew over Palatine and fourth of the tournament. The champs also disposed of Northlake and Cicero enroute.

Des Plaines was in command of the situation all the way in its championship engagement with Claude Bailey's boys, scoring a pair of counters in the bottom of the first.

SEAGREN WALKED and moved to second on Warnicke's infield out. Dan Humay was safe on Bob McAfee's error at short with Seagren scoring on the play.

Humay then scored moments later following a walk to Murdock and Bending's single.

Palatine came back with a run in the top of the second on Fred Barr's triple and Wayne Lewin's fielder's choice.

BUT DES PLAINES nullified that effort with a marker of its own in the bottom of the same frame. Ciezaldo walked, went to second on Allen's sacrifice and scored on Seagren's single.

The losers punched across their final run of the tilt in the third on a pair of doubles by John Roberts and Lenny Rose before Des Plaines salted the game away for keeps in the last of the third.

Reese led off the inning with a homer and Murdock reached base on another Palatine boot. Rowlee walked to fill the bases and Murdock counted on a force play.

ALLEN'S SINGLE scored Ciezaldo with the third run of the inning.

Des Plaines added another tally in the fourth and two in the sixth to win going away. Allen picked up the triumph while Rose was tagged with the loss.

Lewin's two-run single in the seventh enabled Palatine to move into the final with a 2-0 conquest of Cicero at Cicero last Wednesday.

BAILEY'S NINE was scheduled to meet Park Ridge last Wednesday but Van Proyen's unit elected to drop out of further Ninth District competition due to State Legion obligations.

BOB McAFEE

After six scoreless frames, Palatine finally broke the ice in the seventh. With one gone, McAfee and Rose walked and both advanced a base on Ken O'Rielly's infield out, thus setting the stage for Lewin's blast.

Both teams blew several scoring opportunities. Palatine filled the bases in the first on singles by O'Rielly and Lewin and a walk to Gary Chessman but Jim Smith fanned to end the inning.

CICERO AND Palatine put a couple of runners on in the second but again neither scored.

In the fourth frame, the victors loaded the sacks on walks to Chessman and Helms and Wayne Kehe's single but McAfee went down on strikes and Rose flied to center to kill the threat.

Kehe hurled a crafty five-hitter to pick up the victory; Geis took the loss for Cicero.

Yankees Clinch Mount Prospect Pony Loop Title

The Yankees of the Mt. Prospect Pony League clinched the pennant last week, replacing the Cardinals as loop champions.

With only one contest remaining on their schedule, the mighty Yanks backed into the top slot when the contending Cards were upset, 4-3, by the Braves.

Sending 10 Cards back to the bench on strikes, Burke was credited with the win for the spoilers, yielding only seven hits enroute to his fifth victory.

The Braves continued their late season surge with another 4-3 decision as winner Burke hiked up his strikeout total to 100 for the season by fanning five in three innings of labor.

Craig Thomas came on in the fourth to blank the Giants through the sixth frame before Dick Reardon served up a 3-run homer to Klukinski, the loser.

WITH COOPER and Kowal each collecting a pair of wins, the Orioles put together a string of four victories, running their slate to 11-7 for the season.

Led by the bats of Manderschield and Kowal, the Orioles started things going with a 6-5 win over the Pirates.

Cooper and Mandershield combined to toss a stingy three hitter at the Bucs. Ryan was dealt the loss despite teammate Bergan's circuit blast.

THE INDIANS were the next to stumble into the Orioles' ambush, dropping a close one, 6-5. Kowal bested Bacci on a three-hit effort.

For the second time in as many meetings, the red-hot Orioles drove the invading Bucs off the Lions East diamond, 8-2.

Manderschield went the distance for the win, fanning nine and pulling off a tricky unassisted double play. Harney and Kowal matched each other for offensive honors, collecting three hits each for the winners.

Plaza Shell Lead Shrinks In Golf Race

The rough and tumble Hoffman Estates golf league season is quickly coming to an end, and with just three weeks to play the ninth place team is just 18 points out of the lead.

The significance of this point lies in the fact that it is possible for a team to win 16 points in one evening of play.

Last week Bob Rivines' Harve's Food Mart team closed in on the leaders by taking 12½ points from Tony's Sinclair while Plaza Shell was dropping a 10-6 decision to Schaumburg Ace Hardware.

BOB CAME IN match winner, as did Harvey Goetsch, Bill Ross and Bill Harvey. George Davis turned in a win for the Sinclair team to keep their hopes alive.

Hal Akers' Schaumburg Ace Hardware picked up four points on the leaders by defeating them through sheer determination. Each team won two matches and halved one, yet due to decisive victories by Jim Brenner and Harold Gillespie, Ace Hardware came out on top.

DON RIVINES and Bill Bailey fought hard for the losers but their best efforts netted them only split decisions. Earl Conrad and John Warnock were the men who split their points evenly.

The Roselle Color Center, led by the tail end of their team, defeated the Roselle State Bank 10-6. John Aquino and Tony Monticas scored smashing victories while Dick Moon added two to their total.

BOB BOEDICKER carded a sterling even par thirty-six to earn three for the State Bank team and Captain Roy Palmer got the losers' other match victory to contribute five of their team's six points.

Jack led Bob Powell and Jules Swerdlow to victories and a team total of nine points while Jim Gannon and George Cadotte carded wins for losing Schaumrose Inn to keep Snyder's victory a slim one.

John O'Connell and Chuck Davey were mainly responsible, scoring smashing victories in their respective matches while Angie Patel and John Warder carded split victories and Herb Keesee swept all three from his opponent to account for Jupiter's total.

Top Auto Racers Vie for Prizes At Speed-O-Rama

All roads will lead to Milwaukee for the seventh annual Speed-O-Rama as four days of national championship auto racing featuring speedway big cars, late model stocks, and midget autos will be held on the one mile paved track at Wisconsin State Fair Park during state fair week, Aug. 11-20.

Race Director Tom Marchese stated that he had received more than 25 entries for the races thus far.

Milwaukee high - powered trio of 1961 Fords, the Zecol-Lubaid racing team, head the list of stock car entries for the 150 mile race, Sunday Aug. 13 and 200 miler, Thursday, Aug. 17.

Leading the way are three national and former national champions. They are Jimmy Davies, Pacoima, Cal., 1960 champ; Gene Hartley and Leroy Warriner, both of Indianapolis, Ind., former titlists.

Top entries are Bob Marshman, Pottstown, Pa.; Don Branson, Champaign, Ill.; Clark Templeman, Seattle, Wash.; Bill Cheesbourg, Tucson, Ariz., and Johnny Boyd, Fresno, Cal. Boyd's car is owned by Robert C. Wilke, Milwaukee sportsman.

Tickets are available at Wisconsin Auto Racing, Inc., 1200 S. First st., Milwaukee 4, Wis., and state fair park grandstand ticket offices.

Paddock Tourney

Close Races Prevail As Deadline Nears

By nightfall Saturday, 19 representatives of area golf leagues will have earned berths in the 12th renewal of the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap Golf tournament to be held at Nordic Hills Country club August 20.

Yet, as of this printing, several league races were very much in doubt despite the rapidly approaching deadline.

Significant of this situation are a pair of bitter squbables raging in the Mt. Prospect Tuesday Night league and the Arlington Heights Friday Night circuit.

L-Nor Cleaners holds a similar advantage over Goetz Upholstery in the Arlington league with but a single evening of activity still remaining prior to the deadline.

In another extremely close battle, City Welding is currently on top in the Arlington Heights Twilight affair but close on its heels are Lohrs' Pill Rollers, Lauterburg & Oehler and Stan's Standard Service, all of whom are only two-and-one-half points off the pace.

A. A. ROSE holds a precarious edge in the St. James Holy Name league at Rob Roy over Black's Memorial Home and Northwest Tire and Supply.

It's anybody's guess as to who will be the eventual Mount Prospect Monday night representative but leading candidates for that position are Busse Automotive and the Toy Shop. Busse led, 72-68½, heading into the final evening.

Only 18 points separate the top nine squads in the Hoffman Estates loop with Plaza Shell currently in possession of a seven-point bulge.

F-B-K REALTY rates a better than 50-50 shot at the Mount Prospect Friday Night berth but, you never know. The Realtors are in first a full 5.3 points ahead of Wille Fuel and Lumber.

Spooner Engineers has sewed up a tourney bid with a whopping lead in the St. Raymond's Number One circuit but Kirchhoff Insurance is having its troubles in the League Number Two scramble.

Only six points separate the first three teams in the St. Raymond's Number Two league.

THE SNEADS and Webber Paint became the first teams to officially qualify for the tourney.

The Sneads lead the Arlington VFW Monday night league while Webber's is on top in the Rob Roy Tuesday Night fracas.

Deadline for receipt of entry forms has been set for Saturday, August 12. Handicaps, which will be computed by the Paddock Publications sports department, will appear in the August 17 issue.

Prizes include a large traveling trophy for the Paddock tourney winner, 12 individual medals for members of the first three teams and a special award of a dozen golf balls for low individual net.

Mac to Tour Nordic Layout

G. A. McElroy, superintendent of Palatine township high school and veteran Paddock Publications columnist, will offer a hole-by-hole description of the Nordic Hills country club course in next week's issue.

Golfers who will be competing in the Paddock tourney at Nordic Hills August 20 may benefit from "Mac's" mistakes.

All-Star Squad Features Rugged Passing Attack

The College All-Star game has been the springboard to fame for many of the great passers of the past quarter century. Such names as Sammy Baugh, Otto Graham, Cecil Isbell, Eddie Le Baron and Ralph Guglillnai loom large in the storied history of this summer gridiron classic.

Most sideline observers at the practice sessions of the 1961 All-Star squad predict that this year's game will add another bright name to the brilliant cast of passers that the game has produced.

Down through the years most All-Star squads have been blessed with a fine forward passing quarterback. This year, Head Coach Otto Graham is faced with the enviable task of selecting his offensive quarterback from three of the finest prospects to grace an All-Star roster in recent years.

THE TRIO consists of the nation's outstanding college passers of the past three years — Norm Snead of Wake Forest, who rewrote practically every Atlantic Coast Conference passing record; Tom Matte, spark plug of Ohio State's great 1960 team, and Bill Kilmer of U.C.L.A., holder of the 1960 N.C.A.A. total yardage championship.

All have been impressive in the All-Star drills and it is a good bet that all three will get ample opportunity to demonstrate his skill against the Philadelphia Eagles in Soldier Field Friday evening.

The three passers provide the All-Stars with a versatile offensive threat. Snead, a rangy six-foot-four-inch, 207-pounder, is a "pocket" type passer while Matte and Kilmer are exponents of the running or optional pass.

SNEAD, AN unerring marksman, was the nation's No. two passer last year with 123 completions out of 259 attempts for 1,675 yards and 10 touchdowns. In the Senior Bowl game in which many of his present All-Star teammates were engaged, Snead paced the South to a thrilling 33-26 win by throwing four TD passes.

Matte was the Buckeyes' triple threat artist. Besides completing 50 out of 95 passes for 737 yards, he compiled a 4.2 average in 161 carries and punted 29 times for a 35.2 average.

He threw a touchdown strike to Tommy Mason of Tulane for the winning touchdown in the East-West Shrine game.

Kilmer was also an all-purpose player. He rocketed to All-American honors last fall by completing 64 out of 129 passes for 1086 yards and gained 803 yards in 163 carries. He also established a 42.3-yard punting average, fifth best in the nation.

3-Year-Old Test

Fifty-First American Derby Slated Saturday

The $100,000 added American Derby for three-year-olds will climax the 1961 All-Star football week this Saturday and the 51st edition of the storied one and one-eighth miles is already shaping up as an outstanding contest.

The first five days of sport at Arlington Park, which began Monday, will go to charity — all profits from the five-day period to be turned over to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Monday also marked the start of the regular 31-day Washington Park season which will be conducted in its entirety at Arlington Park through Labor Day, Sept. 4.

ALL EYES WILL be on Arlington Saturday for the coveted American Derby which was the "big race" in America when inaugurated in 1884 at old Washington Park at 61st and Cottage Grove and won by the legendary filly, Modesty, with Issac Murphy in the irons.

With its counterpart, the Arlington Classic, the American Derby gives Chicago racing its own "Double Crown" for three-year-olds.

The Classic champion, Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster, is scheduled to return to Chicago to add his name to the list of 10 three-year-olds which won both Classic and American Derby in a single season—T.V. Lark, Swoon's Son, Errard King, Native Dancer, Mark-Ye-Well, Hall of Fame, Ponder Cavalcade, Gusto and Mate.

GLOBEMASTER accomplished his Classic victory in pulsating fashion, overhauling Fourth Estate Stable's Editorialist two jumps from the wire for a dramatic neck decision. The Classic, of course, was decided at one mile—Globemaster gets an additional furlong Saturday.

Fred W. Hooper's Crozier and Calumet Farm's Beau Prince, the 3-4 Classic finishers, also should be back for the American Derby tussle.

The American Derby nominations roster sparkles with the finest names in American three-year-old racing, including Carry Back, also Jacob Sher's Belmont Stakes hero, Sherluck, and Mrs. R. L. Dotter's highly-regarded Citation offspring, Guadalcanal.

J. GRAHAM Brown's He's a Pistol, Jacnot Stable's Light Talk and Donald McKellar's renaissant Endsville also are expected to face the starter Saturday. The latter was an impressive "open-lengths" winner at one mile in a striking return to form.

Editorialist also will be back, the sprightly Olympia product hoping to stretch his blazing speed an extra furlong. He looked all over the winner in the Classic after setting the pace, then succumbed abruptly in the shadow of the wire.

Crozier was a disappointment in the Classic although salvaging third money. He's the one who chased Carry Back all winter and spring.

UNBEATEN RIDAN, probably the top two-year-old in the nation, romped to a five-and-one-half lengths victory in the $211,750 Arlington Futurity at Arlington Park Saturday.

Piloted by Bill Hartack, the tall, handsome Ridan dashed the six furlongs in 1:09, only one-fifth of a second slower than the track record shared by two older speedsters, Hill Gail and Falmer.

Green Ticket, who set the pace up to the stretch, finished second followed by Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage.

Equifun, a whopping 21-1 longshot, captured the top prize in Monday's $10,000 Tribune Charities Handicap at six furlongs. Roman Colonel was second with Curran O third. (SP

Strom Nips Frost; Tops Feature Race

Though he didn't win the championship 50 lap event for the modified stocks, popular favorite Jack Frost, of Zion, stole the show and the hearts of many fans in taking a very close second just behind West Allis driver, Bill Strom.

Frost posted the seventh fastest qualifying time, positioning him in 12th from the front in the starting field of 18 cars. Strom, who failed to qualify fast enough to make the feature, had a bit of luck when engine difficulties forced former track champion Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee to scratch the feature event, leaving one position open which Strom moved into.

Strom set an early pace and was seemingly well on his way to a wide margin of victory until the later laps of the event. Frost and Milt Curcio, Racine were staging a fierce dual for second spot with Frost finally overtaking Curcio on the 38th lap.

With the coast clear ahead of him, Frost began closing the gap and by the 42nd, was riding bumper to bumper with Strom.

Driving hard on the outside, Frost finally overtook Strom on the 47th lap and held it until the 48th when the two got too close to one another, hooked wheels and both nearly spun out. Strom had the edge on Frost coming out of the tangle and held the lead for the final two laps, taking the win at an average speed of 49.32 mph.

The long race took its toll of automobiles with only 11 cars still running at the finish, and but seven finishing the full 50.

John Garner, Muskegao, won the 15 lap semi-feature after the race was halted on the 13th lap when the track became totally blocked.

Two cars had already stalled on the turn in earlier mishaps when Russ Reynolds, Racine, and Junior Dodd, Waukegan, collided blocking the center. Following cars deliberately spun their mounts to avoid the impending collisions.

The popular mud race will return to the speedway again Sunday evening as the 13th consecutive Sunday evening program of racing is scheduled.

The mud race is held on a completely watered down track with a large field of cars trying to maneuver their ways around a slick and slippery surface. The event will be held in addition to the regular schedule of modified and amateur racing.

Time trials are at 7:15 p.m. with racing getting under way at 8:30. The speedway is located just west of Waukegan, between Green Bay rd. and U S. 41 on West Washington Street.

Rosters Received For Classic Loop

Paddock Classic Traveling League, which opens its fifth season Aug. 26, will be stronger than ever, if the first four rosters turned in are any indication.

Advisory committee is mulling over the schedule, rosters and other details of the new competition and hopes to have all details settled within another ten days.

First four rosters accepted by the committee include teams with averages of 967, 970, 959 and 952. Four of the squads are still looking for sponsors with one or two lacking sixth men. Any kegler with a 190-plus average is urged to contact sport promoter Bob Paddock regarding openings in the loop.

MOYLE CONSTRUCTION will represent Country Lanes of Lake Zurich this season. Bowlers listed with individual averages, then team average, include Herb Lohman 193, John Taylor 196, George Radke 194, Frank Graff 190, George Sargent 194, Don Schumacher 188, team 967.

The squad representing River-Rand Bowl has no sponsor to date. Included are Don Christensen 189, Bob Rogers 197, Mike Wagner 203, Tony Sasso 190, Walter Behm 185, Whitey Hefferan 185, team 964.

Bill Cook Buick is expected to once again represent Bowlway of Elgin. Included will be Buck Perkins 188, Cass Dewitz 192, Tom Kouros 194, Warren Olson 192 and Leroy Papineau 193, team 959.

THE SQUAD representing Gunnell's Lanes still has no sponsor. Bowling will be John Ribando 186, Al Walter 192, Earl Fenimore 193, Ward Siewert 187, Paul Zuback 194, team 952.

Other rosters are expected to be released next week.

Plaza Shell Lead Shrinks In Golf Race

The rough and tumble Hoffman Estates golf league season is quickly coming to an end, and with just three weeks to play the ninth place team is just 18 points out of the lead.

The significance of this point lies in the fact that it is possible for a team to win 16 points in one evening of play.

Last week Bob Rivines' Harve's Food Mart team closed in on the leaders by taking 12½ points from Tony's Sinclair while Plaza Shell was dropping a 10-6 decision to Schaumburg Ace Hardware.

BOB CAME IN match winner, as did Harvey Goetsch, Bill Ross and Bill Harvey. George Davis turned in a win for the Sinclair team to keep their hopes alive.

Hal Akers' Schaumburg Ace Hardware picked up four points on the leaders by defeating them through sheer determination. Each team won two matches and halved one, yet due to decisive victories by Jim Brenner and Harold Gillespie, Ace Hardware came out on top.

DON RIVINES and Bill Bailey fought hard for the losers but their best efforts netted them only split decisions. Earl Conrad and John Warnock were the men who split their points evenly.

The Roselle Color Center, led by the tail end of their team, defeated the Roselle State Bank 10-6. John Aquino and Tony Monticas scored smashing victories while Dick Moon added two to their total.

BOB BOEDICKER carded a sterling even par thirty-six to earn three for the State Bank team and Captain Roy Palmer got the losers' other match victory to contribute five of their team's six points.

Jack led Bob Powell and Jules Swerdlow to victories and a team total of nine points while Jim Gannon and George Cadotte carded wins for losing Schaumrose Inn to keep Snyder's victory a slim one.

John O'Connell and Chuck Davey were mainly responsible, scoring smashing victories in their respective matches while Angie Patel and John Warder carded split victories and Herb Keesee swept all three from his opponent to account for Jupiter's total.

Top Auto Racers Vie for Prizes At Speed-O-Rama

All roads will lead to Milwaukee for the seventh annual Speed-O-Rama as four days of national championship auto racing featuring speedway big cars, late model stocks, and midget autos will be held on the one mile paved track at Wisconsin State Fair Park during state fair week, Aug. 11-20.

Race Director Tom Marchese stated that he had received more than 25 entries for the races thus far.

Milwaukee high - powered trio of 1961 Fords, the Zecol-Lubaid racing team, head the list of stock car entries for the 150 mile race, Sunday Aug. 13 and 200 miler, Thursday, Aug. 17.

Leading the way are three national and former national champions. They are Jimmy Davies, Pacoima, Cal., 1960 champ; Gene Hartley and Leroy Warriner, both of Indianapolis, Ind., former titlists.

Top entries are Bob Marshman, Pottstown, Pa.; Don Branson, Champaign, Ill.; Clark Templeman, Seattle, Wash.; Bill Cheesbourg, Tucson, Ariz., and Johnny Boyd, Fresno, Cal. Boyd's car is owned by Robert C. Wilke, Milwaukee sportsman.

Tickets are available at Wisconsin Auto Racing, Inc., 1200 S. First st., Milwaukee 4, Wis., and state fair park grandstand ticket offices.

Close Races Prevail As Deadline Nears

By nightfall Saturday, 19 representatives of area golf leagues will have earned berths in the 12th renewal of the Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap Golf tournament to be held at Nordic Hills Country club August 20.

Yet, as of this printing, several league races were very much in doubt despite the rapidly approaching deadline.

Significant of this situation are a pair of bitter squbables raging in the Mt. Prospect Tuesday Night league and the Arlington Heights Friday Night circuit.

L-Nor Cleaners holds a similar advantage over Goetz Upholstery in the Arlington league with but a single evening of activity still remaining prior to the deadline.

In another extremely close battle, City Welding is currently on top in the Arlington Heights Twilight affair but close on its heels are Lohrs' Pill Rollers, Lauterburg & Oehler and Stan's Standard Service, all of whom are only two-and-one-half points off the pace.

A. A. ROSE holds a precarious edge in the St. James Holy Name league at Rob Roy over Black's Memorial Home and Northwest Tire and Supply.

It's anybody's guess as to who will be the eventual Mount Prospect Monday night representative but leading candidates for that position are Busse Automotive and the Toy Shop. Busse led, 72-68½, heading into the final evening.

Only 18 points separate the top nine squads in the Hoffman Estates loop with Plaza Shell currently in possession of a seven-point bulge.

F-B-K REALTY rates a better than 50-50 shot at the Mount Prospect Friday Night berth but, you never know. The Realtors are in first a full 5.3 points ahead of Wille Fuel and Lumber.

Spooner Engineers has sewed up a tourney bid with a whopping lead in the St. Raymond's Number One circuit but Kirchhoff Insurance is having its troubles in the League Number Two scramble.

Only six points separate the first three teams in the St. Raymond's Number Two league.

THE SNEADS and Webber Paint became the first teams to officially qualify for the tourney. The Sneads lead the Arlington VFW Monday night league while Webber's is on top in the Rob Roy Tuesday Night fracas.

Deadline for receipt of entry forms has been set for Saturday, August 12. Handicaps, which will be computed by the Paddock Publications sports department, will appear in the August 17 issue.

Prizes include a large traveling trophy for the Paddock tourney winner, 12 individual medals for members of the first three teams and a special award of a dozen golf balls for low individual net.

Mac to Tour Nordic Layout

G. A. McElroy, superintendent of Palatine township high school and veteran Paddock Publications columnist, will offer a hole-by-hole description of the Nordic Hills country club course in next week's issue.

Golfers who will be competing in the Paddock tourney at Nordic Hills August 20 may benefit from "Mac's" mistakes.

All-Star Squad Features Rugged Passing Attack

The College All-Star game has been the springboard to fame for many of the great passers of the past quarter century. Such names as Sammy Baugh, Otto Graham, Cecil Isbell, Eddie Le Baron and Ralph Guglillnai loom large in the storied history of this summer gridiron classic.

Most sideline observers at the practice sessions of the 1961 All-Star squad predict that this year's game will add another bright name to the brilliant cast of passers that the game has produced.

Down through the years most All - Star squads have been blessed with a fine forward passing quarterback. This year, Head Coach Otto Graham is faced with the enviable task of selecting his offensive quarterback from three of the finest prospects to grace an All-Star roster in recent years.

THE TRIO consists of the nation's outstanding college passers of the past three years — Norm Snead of Wake Forest, who rewrote practically every Atlantic Coast Conference passing record; Tom Matte, spark plug of Ohio State's great 1960 team, and Bill Kilmer of U.C.-L.A., holder of the 1960 N.C.A.A. total yardage championship.

All have been impressive in the All-Star drills and it is a good bet that all three will get ample opportunity to demonstrate his skill against the Philadelphia Eagles in Soldier Field Friday evening.

The three passers provide the All-Stars with a versatile offensive threat. Snead, a rangy six-foot-four-inch, 207-pounder, is a "pocket" type passer while Matte and Kilmer are exponents of the running or optional pass.

SNEAD, AN unerring marksman, was the nation's No. two passer last year with 123 completions out of 259 attempts for 1,675 yards and 10 touchdowns. In the Senior Bowl game in which many of his present All-Star teammates were engaged, Snead paced the South to a thrilling 33-26 win by throwing four TD passes.

Matte was the Buckeyes' triple threat artist. Besides completing 50 out of 95 passes for 737 yards, he compiled a 4.2 average in 161 carries and punted 29 times for a 35.2 average.

He threw a touchdown strike to Tommy Mason of Tulane for the winning touchdown in the East-West Shrine game.

Kilmer was also an all-purpose player. He rocketed to All-American honors last fall by completing 64 out of 129 passes for 1086 yards and gained 803 yards in 163 carries. He also established a 42.3-yard punting average, fifth best in the nation.

Strom Nips Frost; Tops Feature Race

Though he didn't win the championship 50 lap event for the modified stocks, popular favorite Jack Frost, of Zion, stole the show and the hearts of many fans in taking a very close second just behind West Allis driver, Bill Strom.

Frost posted the seventh fastest qualifying time, positioning him in 12th from the front in the starting field of 18 cars. Strom, who failed to qualify fast enough to make the feature, had a bit of luck when engine difficulties forced former track champion Eddie Stillman of Milwaukee to scratch the feature event, leaving one position open which Strom moved into.

Strom set an early pace and was seemingly well on his way to a wide margin of victory until the later laps of the event. Frost and Milt Curcio, Racine were staging a fierce dual for second spot with Frost finally overtaking Curcio on the 38th lap.

With the coast clear ahead of him, Frost began closing the gap and by the 42nd, was riding bumper to bumper with Strom.

Driving hard on the outside, Frost finally overtook Strom on the 47th lap and held it until the 48th when the two got too close to one another, hooked wheels and both nearly spun out. Strom had the edge on Frost coming out of the tangle and held the lead for the final two laps, taking the win at an average speed of 49.32 mph.

The long race took its toll of automobiles with only 11 cars still running at the finish, and but seven finishing the full 50.

John Garner, Muskegao, won the 15 lap semi-feature after the race was halted on the 13th lap when the track became totally blocked.

Two cars had already stalled on the turn in earlier mishaps when Russ Reynolds, Racine, and Junior Dodd, Waukegan, collided blocking the center. Following cars deliberately spun their mounts to avoid the impending collisions.

The popular mud race will return to the speedway again Sunday evening as the 13th consecutive Sunday evening program of racing is scheduled.

The mud race is held on a completely watered down track with a large field of cars trying to maneuver their ways around a slick and slippery surface. The event will be held in addition to the regular schedule of modified and amateur racing.

Time trials are at 7:15 p.m. with racing getting under way at 8:30. The speedway is located just west of Waukegan, between Green Bay rd. and U S. 41 on West Washington Street.

3-Year-Old Test

Fifty-First American Derby Slated Saturday

The $100,000 added American Derby for three-year-olds will climax the 1961 All-Star football week this Saturday and the 51st edition of the storied one and one-eighth miles is already shaping up as an outstanding contest.

The first five days of sport at Arlington Park, which began Monday, will go to charity — all profits from the five-day period to be turned over to the Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Monday also marked the start of the regular 31-day Washington Park season which will be conducted in its entirety at Arlington Park through Labor Day, Sept. 4.

ALL EYES WILL be on Arlington Saturday for the coveted American Derby which was the "big race" in America when inaugurated in 1884 at old Washington Park at 61st and Cottage Grove and won by the legendary filly, Modesty, with Issac Murphy in the irons.

With its counterpart, the Arlington Classic, the American Derby gives Chicago racing its own "Double Crown" for three-year-olds.

The Classic champion, Leonard P. Sasso's Globemaster, is scheduled to return to Chicago to add his name to the list of 10 three-year-olds which won both Classic and American Derby in a single season—T.V. Lark, Swoon's Son, Errard King, Native Dancer, Mark-Ye-Well, Hall of Fame, Ponder Cavalcade, Gusto and Mate.

GLOBEMASTER accomplished his Classic victory in pulsating fashion, overhauling Fourth Estate Stable's Editorialist two jumps from the wire for a dramatic neck decision. The Classic, of course, was decided at one mile—Globemaster gets an additional furlong Saturday.

Fred W. Hooper's Crozier and Calumet Farm's Beau Prince, the 3-4 Classic finishers, also should be back for the American Derby tussle.

The American Derby nominations roster sparkles with the finest names in American three-year-old racing, including Carry Back, also Jacob Sher's Belmont Stakes hero, Sherluck, and Mrs. R. L. Dotter's highly-regarded Citation offspring, Guadalcanal.

J. GRAHAM Brown's He's a Pistol, Jacnot Stable's Light Talk and Donald McKellar's renaissant Endsville also are expected to face the starter Saturday. The latter was an impressive "open-lengths" winner at one mile in a striking return to form.

Editorialist also will be back, the sprightly Olympia product hoping to stretch his blazing speed an extra furlong. He looked all over the winner in the Classic after setting the pace, then succumbed abruptly in the shadow of the wire.

Crozier was a disappointment in the Classic although salvaging third money. He's the one who chased Carry Back all winter and spring.

UNBEATEN RIDAN, probably the top two-year-old in the nation, romped to a five-and-one-half lengths victory in the $211,750 Arlington Futurity at Arlington Park Saturday.

Piloted by Bill Hartack, the tall, handsome Ridan dashed the six furlongs in 1:09, only one-fifth of a second slower than the track record shared by two older speedsters, Hill Gail and Falmer.

Green Ticket, who set the pace up to the stretch, finished second followed by Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage.

Equifun, a whopping 21-1 longshot, captured the top prize in Monday's $10,000 Tribune Charities Handicap at six furlongs. Roman Colonel was second with Curran O third. (SP

Pioneer Bombs High School in Park Play

Six games were played in the Arlington Park District softball program during the past week with a full slate of action being completed in the 9-13 boys league.

The Pioneer Bombers displayed their power as they shut out the High School, 21-0. This was the third successive shut-out for the Bombers as fine infielding backed pitchers Mick Wadzita and Herb Irlbacker.

GARY ANNEN, Bob Abbott and Greg Zachwieja each singled once for the High School but the hits were well scattered.

Dryden Park broke a second place tie by topping the Evergreen Eagles, 12-2. The boys from Dryden exploded for nine runs in the top of the seventh inning to break open a tight game.

Paul Gustitus blasted two homers and Art Dody had four successive singles to pace the Dryden attack.

STEVE LeVAN'S single and double and John Gerathey's triple and single were the bright spots in Evergreen's offense. The defense was sparkling at third base where Steve Robinson of Dryden and Tom Lundstedt of Evergreen each turned in several fine plays.

The big inning also enabled Virginia Terrace to pick up a 13-2 victory over Hasbrook Park. A 11-run fifth inning uprising was the turning point for Virginia in its second victory.

RON NELSON, Tim Brown and Joe Hogan collected safeties for Hasbrook with Hogan driving in their runs.

Arlington Greens softball team traveled to Recreation park and took over the diamond. Greens scored three in the first and one in the third but the fifth inning proved to be the clincher with the big bats of Dave Holst and Al Kramer accounting for eight runs. Three more in the seventh made the final score, 15 to 4.

RECREATION was held scoreless until the fourth when Terry Taege smashed a line drive homerun to left center for the first run. Recreation scored three more times in the seventh but it was not enough to change the outcome.

In midget (6-9) action, Pioneer defeated Hasbrook for the second time this season by a score of 31-4. Leading hitters for Pioneer were: Jeff Selleck, Tom Murray, Chuck Kenney and Gary Anderson.

Standings (Boys 9-13)

Pioneer	5	0
Dryden	4	1
Greens	3	2
Evergreen	3	2
Virginia	2	3
Recreation	2	3
High School	1	4
Hasbrook	0	5

Recreation jumped into an early lead with four runs in the first inning and three more in the third and that was the extent of the scoring.

Pioneer girls began pecking away at the lead by getting two in fourth and fifth and adding one in the seventh.

PAM KNIGHT and Mary Hawthorn came through with two hits apiece for Recreation and some great pitching by Barbara Johnson and Jerry Dezonna held the fighting Pioneer nine to only five runs.

Peggy Weber's fine pitching and Linda Epplas' fine hitting and fielding kept Pioneer in the ball game.

Mt. Prospect Tank Outfit Toppled

Mount Prospect's tank crew was sunk by a strong unit from Broadview last Wednesday 214½-210½, in a Northern Illinois Swimming Conference dual meet.

The local swimmers cruised away to a swift start, winning the first six events, but the team depth of the guests from Broadview made the tally at that point 56-52.

Taking advantage of their strength in the breaststroke, the Prospect unit knotted the score at 98-all as Richard Mottweler, Cliff Stock, Patti Bader, and Mary Lou Haenisch salvaged firsts.

AN OUTSTANDING diving performance by Mike Zadel and Jeff Cassel in the junior and senior divisions buoyed the Prospect score to 110-99.

Broadview was quick to erase this deficit, however, riding the crest of victories in all but four of the backstroke and butterfly races, to sail past the Lions Park tankers, 186½-168½.

The Prospect swim team closed the gap to four points with surprise victories in the nine and ten years old boys and girls freestyle relays, before running into rough water in the remaining relay events.

Pack 96 Rules Cub Scout Meet

Rolling Meadows' first annual Cub Scout Olympics was run last Saturday on the grounds of the Trinity Lutheran Church with Pack 96, the originator of the spectical, far outdistancing Pack 280, 132-56, for top honors.

Breaking the tape ahead of the field in the 25-yard sprint event were Mark Nelson (8-year-olds), Pat Moran (9-year-olds) and Bill Ross (10-year-olds).

Dan Dwyer 8-year-olds), Bill Maffey (9-year-olds), and Rick Wyer (10-year-olds) tossed the soft ball for first place awards.

IN THE 50-yard dash, gold medal winners were Mark Nelson (8-year-olds), Pat Moran (9-year-olds) and Bill Ross (10-year-olds .

Steve Bozee (8-year-olds) David Hart (9-year-olds) and Jeff Brown (10-year-olds) soared over the high jump standard for first place honors.

Mark Nelson (8-year-olds), Dave Derzotes (9-year-olds) and Jeff Brown (10-year-olds) picked up first place ribbons in the standing broad jump.

IN THE running broad jump, Mark Nelson (8-year-olds), Dave Derezotes (9-year-olds) and Steve Rogers (10-year-olds) landed first prizes.

Winners in the low hurdles were Mark Nelson (8-year-olds), Bill Stark (9-year-olds) and Chuck Smith (10-year-olds).

Shotputters Rick Norton (8-year-olds), Ray Paez (9-year-olds) and Bill Ross (10-year-olds) all came up with winning heaves.

Winners in the relay races were Pack 96 (8-year-olds), Pack 280 (9-year-olds), and Pack 180 (10-year-olds).

Women To Race

O'Hare Stadium at Mannheim and Irving Park rds. will risk its own life and limb Saturday night when women join in the stock car racing with their "Powder Puff Derby" as an added thrill treat for the regular NASCAR late models and Cadet stock car events.

First race is at 8:30 p. m.

Just about anything is expected to happen with the daredevil ladies taking to the track. Two years ago in a similar event, one top driver's wife chased him all over the infield as he narrowly escaped the role of rundown pedestrian.

FRIDAY NIGHT the mauling modifieds will again run in their weekly O'Hare program that will also include Cadet races.

Sunday it will be the mighty midgets plus the Cadets and Wednesday the late models and Cadets will be back on the same bill. First race Sunday will be at 8 p. m.

Every race night at O'Hare features two main events. Fifty or more cars are in action every Wednesday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday night.

Seek Teams For Beverly Classic League

Beverly Classic bowling league has openings for two more teams, Dick Bokelmann revealed this week. The loop includes teams with averages in the 890-920 class and competes Wednesday at 9 p.m. at Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights.

Individual bowlers averaging in the 180's, or full teams averaging 890-920, interested in competing with this high-flying league are asked to contact Bokelmann at CLearbrook 5 2525 as soon as possible.

Pioneer Bombs High School in Park Play

Six games were played in the Arlington Park District softball program during the past week with a full slate of action being completed in the 9-13 boys league.

The Pioneer Bombers displayed their power as they shut out the High School, 21-0. This was the third successive shut-out for the Bombers as fine infielding backed pitchers Mick Wadzita and Herb Irlbacker.

Jim Welton and Rick Hoppe packed the big bats for Pioneer.

GARY ANNEN, Bob Abbott and Greg Zachwieja each singled once for the High School but the hits were well scattered.

Dryden Park broke a second place tie by topping the Evergreen Eagles, 12-2. The boys from Dryden exploded for nine runs in the top of the seventh inning to break open a tight game.

Paul Gustitus blasted two homers and Art Dody had four successive singles to pace the Dryden attack.

STEVE LeVAN'S single and double and John Gerathey's triple and single were the bright spots in Evergreen's offense. The defense was sparkling at third base where Steve Robinson of Dryden and Tom Lundstedt of Evergreen each turned in several fine plays.

The big inning also enabled Virginia Terrace to pick up a 13-2 victory over Hasbrook Park. A 11-run fifth inning uprising was the turning point for Virginia in its second victory.

RON NELSON, Tim Brown and Joe Hogan collected safeties for Hasbrook with Hogan driving in their runs.

Arlington Greens softball team traveled to Recreation park and took over the diamond. Greens scored three in the first and one in the third but the fifth inning proved to be the clincher with the big bats of Dave Holst and Al Kramer accounting for eight runs. Three more in the seventh made the final score, 15 to 4.

RECREATION was held scoreless until the fourth when Terry Taege smashed a line drive homerun to left center for the first run. Recreation scored three more times in the seventh but it was not enough to change the outcome.

In midget (6-9) action, Pioneer defeated Hasbrook for the second time this season by a score of 31-4. Leading hitters for Pioneer were: Jeff Selleck, Tom Murray, Chuck Kenney and Gary Anderson.

Standings (Boys 9-13)

Pioneer	5	0
Dryden	4	1
Greens	3	2
Evergreen	3	2
Virginia	2	3
Recreation	2	3
High School	1	4
Hasbrook	0	5

Recreation jumped into an early lead with four runs in the first inning and three more in the third and that was the extent of the scoring.

Pioneer girls began pecking away at the lead by getting two in fourth and fifth and adding one in the seventh.

PAM KNIGHT and Mary Hawthorn came through with two hits apiece for Recreation and some great pitching by Barbara Johnson and Jerry Dezonna held the fighting Pioneer nine to only five runs.

Peggy Weber's fine pitching and Linda Epplas' fine hitting and fielding kept Pioneer in the ball game.

Mt. Prospect Tank Outfit Toppled

Mount Prospect's tank crew was sunk by a strong unit from Broadview last Wednesday 214½-210½, in a Northern Illinois Swimming Conference dual meet.

The local swimmers cruised away to a swift start, winning the first six events, but the team depth of the guests from Broadview made the tally at that point 56-52.

Taking advantage of their strength in the breaststroke, the Prospect unit knotted the score at 98-all as Richard Mottweler, Cliff Stock, Patti Bader, and Mary Lou Haenisch salvaged firsts.

AN OUTSTANDING diving performance by Mike Zadel and Jeff Cassel in the junior and senior divisions buoyed the Prospect score to 110-99.

Broadview was quick to erase this deficit, however, riding the crest of victories in all but four of the backstroke and butterfly races, to sail past the Lions Park tankers, 186½-168½.

The Prospect swim team closed the gap to four points with surprise victories in the nine and ten years old boys and girls freestyle relays, before running into rough water in the remaining relay events.

Pack 96 Rules Cub Scout Meet

Rolling Meadows' first annual Cub Scout Olympics was run last Saturday on the grounds of the Trinity Lutheran Church with Pack 96, the originator of the spectical, far outdistancing Pack 280, 132-56, for top honors.

Breaking the tape ahead of the field in the 25-yard sprint event were Mark Nelson (8-year-olds), Pat Moran (9-year-olds) and Bill Ross (10-year-olds).

Dan Dwyer 8-year-olds), Bill Maffey (9-year-olds), and Rick Wyer (10-year-olds) tossed the soft ball for first place awards.

IN THE 50-yard dash, gold medal winners were Mark Nelson (8-year-olds), Pat Moran (9-year-olds) and Bill Ross (10-year-olds .

Steve Bozee (8-year-olds) David Hart (9-year-olds) and Jeff Brown (10-year-olds) soared over the high jump standard for first place honors.

Mark Nelson (8-year-olds), Dave Derzotes (9-year-olds) and Jeff Brown (10-year-olds) picked up first place ribbons in the standing broad jump.

Battistioni Learns Golf Game as Caddy

ARLINGTON'S GENE BATTISTIONI

Like the majority of the top golfers on the professional tour, Gene Battistioni completed his first tour of a golf course as a caddy, covering the fairways at Elmhurst Country club.

At the onset of World War II Gene exchanged his golf bag for a first aid kit, serving in Uncle Sam's Medical Corps for the duration of the struggle.

An accomplished master of the putting game, Gene has picked up an impressive collection of match play trophies in a links career that dates back to the '30's.

AMONG his triumphs are victories in the '48 Cedar Rapids Open, '54 New Albany Open, and the '57 Peoria Open. The amiable pro also recalls a fourth place in the '56 Illinois Open.

GENE confides that the 435 yard par four 15th gives him the most trouble. With a small, hilly green, an errant approach will quickly land you in trouble.

Battistioni, married and the father of two daughters, makes his home on South Chestnut in Arlington Heights.

Webber Clinches Tourney Berth

Webber Paint increased its lead to nine and one-half points in the Rob Roy Tuesday night golf league and practically assured themselves of a berth in the Paddock Tournament.

As usual, Len Arnold again proved himself to be almost invincible on the green turf of Rob Roy by shooting a torrid round of 33 on the par 35 front nine to capture low gross honors for the evening.

This outstanding feat was also highly instrumental in Webber's seven point effort against a strong Union Hotel squad.

Prospect Heights Variety hung on to third place by the narrow margin of one point over Rusty's Marathon Service as Norv Funk, Number two man for the Variety gang, shot a one over par 37-4-33 net on the back nine for two points in a 5-2 triumph over Borchardt's Restaurant.

Bob Lee, shooting in the Number one slot for Brennan's Pharmacy, shot a perfect round of par golf on the front nine to post a 35-3-32 to capture low net honors in the league for the evening.

John Edwards headed the alternate group by shooting a fine round of 43-8-35 to win the top award in this sharpshooting gang of future regulars.

Three Units Share 2nd Position

The Arlington Heights Twilight Golf League resumed play Friday night after missing a night due to rain.

Lohrs Pill Rollers moved from sixth place into a three-way tie for second with Lauterburg and Oehler and Stan's Standard Service, which moved up from fifth place.

City Welding Sales company was able to maintain its first place position by the narrow margin of two-and-one half points.

INDIVIDUAL honors went to Don McGowan and Leo Behrens who posted low net scores of 33.

Birds were plentiful as the league members found the range to the green. Len Haines Jr. scored birds on six, seven, and eight; Don McGowan posted birds on seven and nine; W. Olson, C. Staadt, and C. Kleinhofen on nine; G. Fischer and Leo Behrens on six; Don Magnuson and John Andrup on 13; G. Blaar on 14 and C. Jamison on four.

Kirchhoff Edges Past Keefer Unit

With only one month of competition remaining in the St. Raymond's Golf league, the teams in both league's are settling down for the stretch drive. Last week saw most teams, with the exception of Busse Automotive in League No. 2, break about even in the point department.

In League No. 1, Spooner Engineering has all but reached the century point mark. The men of Ackermen Insurance put up a good fight against Spooners' boys last week but still came out on the short end, relinquishing 7½ points.

With their win, Spooner now has increased their lead to 16 points over second place Moran Furs.

MORAN managed to add only 4½ points to their total after meeting a tough Strass team and now finds itself being pressed hard by Strass for the number two spot.

Kirchhoff Insurance, the leaders in League No. 2, had a very tight match with Keefer's Pharmacy, the last place team, and were able to wring out 6½ points, thereby maintaining their supremacy and also opening up a little more daylight between themselves and second place Illinois Range.

The men from the Range garnered but five points while the third place team, Mc Mahons, were winning a big eight points and now are a scant one point behind the Illinois Range squad.

The big point-winner in both leagues was Busse Automotive who all but overwhelmed Kruses Liquors, winning 11½ points.

Leaders Beaten By Duffy-Evans

F-B-K Realtors held its lead in the Friday Night Men's league at Mt. Prospect country club last week despite a 7.5-3.5 loss to the eighth-place Duffy-Evans Plywood Center team.

The Realtors' league-leading edge remained at 5.3 points over Wille Fuel and Lumber as the lumbermen dropped a 6.5-3.5 decision to third place Huyck's Standard Service.

Fred Garlock paced the Duffy-Evans squad in the upset with a low net 34 victory over Dick Piehl. Piehl still claimed low gross honors with a 39.

IN OTHER matches, Pro Sport Center beat Mell and Paul's Drive-in, 9-1, Keefer's Pharmacy squeezed past Mt. Prospect Liquors, 6-5, and Mt. Prospect State Bank beat Doyno Motors, 5-4.

Garlock posted a birdie on the third hole; Don Odbert got one on the ninth, Bob Schalk on the 11th, and Ed Herkert on the 15th. Odbert turned in the night's low gross with a 38.

A two-ball foursome event is scheduled for league members and their guests Sunday, August 13, at the club. Reservations should be turned in this week.

Lauterburg & Oehler continued its winning ways in the second half of the Wayside-Colette golf league and looks like the team who will play in the Paddock Tournament.

The leaders defeated Continental Can, 5-1, on victories by Galitz, Swett and Rafferty with Galitz picking up low individual net. Smith salvaged the lone point for the Can Makers.

Jim's Service beat F. J. Die Mold, 4-2, on wins by Mrozek and Gilmore with Mrozen picking up low individual net. Schramm and Goldoni carded wins for the Die Men.

DETROIT steel edged Catino Builders, 3½-2½, on victories by Al Austin and Italia and Rademacher's tie; Italia also contributed individual low let. Sabin's win and Dick Ulbrich's tie accounted for the Builders' points.

Quadriga routed Arlington Plating, 5½-½, with Dack, Dolleslager, and Bob Ulbrick Sr. chalking up victories and Wirth tieing his match. Wirth also picked up low individual net.

Coyle Agency-Pacific Mutual tipped Beverly Lanes when Kelly and Coyle posted victories and Campbell tied his oppenent. Burke, playing as an alternate for the Insurance Men, scored individual low net.

Hoffman Lanes Plans 32 Alleys Instead of 24

Leslie Zikes, manager of Hoffman Lanes, annouced recently that the new bowling center at Higgins and Roselle rds. will open this month with 32 lanes instead of the 24 as previously planned.

Zikes stated that reservations for league play have far exceeded anticipation and that the extra facilities will be needed to meet the demand.

"I am thrilled with the response to our announcements of this recreation center—not only from bowlers of the area, but from the entire community as well." he said.

"WE ARE STILL booking league activities for the season starting September 5, and we want to be certain that we have facilities for open bowling as well. Fortunately, we planned the building so the extra 8 lanes can be completed in time for our August opening," he added.

Zikes further stated that the Grand Opening of Hoffman Lanes is slated for late August, and that a schedule of Grand Opening activities will be released shortly.

Hoffman Lanes will feature Brunswick "Gold Crown" lanes with automatic pinsetters, pinfinders and Telescores. The house will also include a supervised nursery, cocktail lounge, restaurant and snack bar, meeting and banquet rooms and a billiards rooms.

FREE BOWLING instructions will be available throughout the season and ample free parking will be provided.

Keefer's Claims Top Position In Twilight Play

With the tension mounting in anticipation of the Paddock tournament and only one night of play remaining before the deadline, Keefer's Pharmacy finally accumulated enough points to sneak into the lead of the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight league.

Keefer's successful assault on first place was accomplished by posting consecutive victories for the past two weeks and was climaxed last week with a substantial 8-2 win over last place Morton Pontiac.

The Pharmacy's hold on first place, however, is slightly precarious. Lurking in second place and only a half point behind is the strong Kersting's Garden Center aggregation which posted a neat 7-3 victory over the tough Mt. Prospect Electric Construction team.

THE RACE for the Paddock tournament now seems to be narrowed down to a contest between Keefer's and Kersting's since the Gardener's victory plunged the Electrianians deep into third place, eight points out of first.

Walt Welky of Carl's Food Shop posted the lowest round of the evening, a neat 37 over the first nine. Scoring 38's were Glenn Adams, Jim Driscoll, W. McCulloch, Gene Raasch and Clarke Robinson.

Birdies were posted by J. Driscoll 5, W. Swanson 6, T. Taylor 15, D. Shean 15 and 17, C. Robinson 17.

Battistioni Learns Golf Game as Caddy

ARLINGTON'S GENE BATTISTIONI

Like the majority of the top golfers on the professional tour, Gene Battistioni completed his first tour of a golf course as a caddy, covering the fairways at Elmhurst Country club.

At the onset of World War II Gene exchanged his golf bag for a first aid kit, serving in Uncle Sam's Medical Corps for the duration of the struggle.

An accomplished master of the putting game, Gene has picked up an impressive collection of match play trophies in a links career that dates back to the '30's.

AMONG his triumphs are victories in the '48 Cedar Rapids Open, '54 New Albany Open, and the '57 Peoria Open. The amiable pro also recalls a fourth place in the '56 Illinois Open.

GENE confides that the 435 yard par four 15th gives him the most trouble. With a small, hilly green, an errant approach will quickly land you in trouble.

Battistioni, married and the father of two daughters, makes his home on South Chestnut in Arlington Heights.

Webber Clinches Tourney Berth

Webber Paint increased its lead to nine and one-half points in the Rob Roy Tuesday night golf league and practically assured themselves of a berth in the Paddock Tournament.

As usual, Len Arnold again proved himself to be almost invincible on the green turf of Rob Roy by shooting a torrid round of 33 on the par 35 front nine to capture low gross honors for the evening.

This outstanding feat was also highly instrumental in Webber's seven point effort against a strong Union Hotel squad.

Prospect Heights Variety hung on to third place by the [illegible] margin of one point over Rusty's Marathon Service as Norv Funk, Number two man for the Variety gang, shot a one over par 37-4-33 net on the back nine for two points in a 5-2 triumph over Borchardt's Restaurant.

Bob Lee, shooting in the Number one slot for Brennan's Pharmacy, shot a perfect round of par golf on the front nine to post a 35-3-32 to capture low net honors in the league for the evening.

John Edwards headed the alternate group by shooting a fine round of 43-8-35 to win the top award in this sharpshooting gang of future regulars.

"WE ARE STILL booking league activities for the season starting September 5, and we want to be certain that we have facilities for open bowling as well. Fortunately, we planned the building so the extra 8 lanes can be completed in time for our August opening," he added.

Zikes further stated that the Grand Opening of Hoffman Lanes is slated for late August, and that a schedule of Grand Opening activities will be released shortly.

Hoffman Lanes will feature Brunswick "Gold Crown" lanes with automatic pinsetters, pinfinders and Telescores. The house will also include a supervised nursery, cocktail lounge, restaurant and snack bar, meeting and banquet rooms and a billiards rooms.

FREE BOWLING instructions will be available throughout the season and ample free parking will be provided.

Keefer's Claims Top Position In Twilight Play

With the tension mounting in anticipation of the Paddock tournament and only one night of play remaining before the deadline, Keefer's Pharmacy finally accumulated enough points to sneak into the lead of the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight league.

Keefer's successful assault on first place was accomplished by posting consecutive victories for the past two weeks and was climaxed last week with a substantial 8-2 win over last place Morton Pontiac.

The Pharmacy's hold on first place, however, is slightly precarious. Lurking in second place and only a half point behind is the strong Kersting's Garden Center aggregation which posted a neat 7-3 victory over the tough Mt. Prospect Electric Construction team.

THE RACE for the Paddock tournament now seems to be narrowed down to a contest between Keefer's and Kersting's since the Gardener's victory plunged the Electrianians deep into third place, eight points out of first.

Walt Welky of Carl's Food Shop posted the lowest round of the evening, a neat 37 over the first nine. Scoring 38's were Glenn Adams, Jim Driscoll, W. McCulloch, Gene Raasch and Clarke Robinson.

Birdies were posted by J. Driscoll 5, W. Swanson 6, T. Taylor 15, D. Shean 15 and 17, C. Robinson 17.

Too Much Muumuu on Mom

LIFE IS INDEED FULL of embarrassing moments. All of us have had times when we either wished we could drop through the floor or dead. A lot of my own personal moments have been caused by the mouths of babes. Like them informing arriving guests that I wish they hadn't come and little things like that.

The last big moment I had was one that I brought on myself, alone, unaided and unabetted. It was a pig. You know those lingerie ads that go "I dreamed I was a mermaid in my—?" Well, I not only dreamed this but I went to a dinner dance in my nightgown. I just never gave it a thought until I caught some rather quizzical glances coming my way. And, a marked coolness from some.

It all came about rather innocently. While I was in Hawaii, I held out on buying a muumuu until I found one that I just loved. I loved it because I saw the possibility of belting it in with a perfectly adorable blue belt I own, stepping into an equally adorable blue pair of shoes that I also own and being all set and ready to go. Anywhere.

Before I ever had the opportunity of carrying through with my muumuu transformed into a dressdress, a friend of mine gave a big July Fourth breakfast. A come as you are deal with everyone arriving in their best nighties and pjs. Unfortunately, at the time even my best night clothes were far from being something I cared to expose to the great outside world. So, I hit on the brilliant idea of wearing my muumuu and did. I was just darling.

The other night we were invited out to a dinner and dancing thing and I was afflicted with the age-old feminine complaint called "I-just-don't-have-a-thing-to-wear." Happily forgetting that I had already given the muumuu an airing at an early morning thing, I carried through with my original plan of belting it in. It looked quite well and I was feeling complacent.

I took all the feminine glances in my direction as being those of envy or, at least a mild form of admiration, until it struck me that these very same people were the very same people who had been at the breakfast. This shook me so that I didn't know whether to yawn and lie down on one of the sofas, disappear into the ladies room for the rest of the evening or brazen it through. As we had not eaten and I was hungry, I brazened. But, it wasn't easy.

Andrea Berg, Larry Perkins Wed in Pink and White Rites

A pink and white color scheme was used Saturday, July 22, for the wedding of Miss Andrea Berg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Berg, 117 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights, and Lawrence Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Perkins of Georgetown, Ill.

The service took place at 6:30 p.m. in St. Peter Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, with Rev. Robert O. Bartz officiating. Cascading pink carnations and ivy and pink bows with long streamers on tall white candles in bronze-footed stands were on either side of the altar. The altar itself was decorated with bouquets of white snapdragons and pink asters and a white runner marked the aisle down, which Mr. Berg escorted his daughter.

CARRYING out the color scheme were the brides' eight attendants whose gowns were in pink nylon organza over net and taffeta. The gowns were trimmed in pink satin and their shoes were of satin in the same pink shade.

They also wore tiaras of feathered pink carnations with ivy and deep red happiness roses to hold their pink blusher veils. They carried crescents of pink carnations with lemon leaves and the bridesmaids' bouquets also included deep red happiness roses.

The bride's gown was a floor-length white silk organza with long pointed sleeves and slightly scooped, scalloped neckline that formed a V in back. The bodice was trimmed in lace and seed pearls and the full skirt was trimmed with four lace medallions and a large butterfly bow in back that ended in a chapel train.

A CLUSTER of lily of the valley and white roses held her 3-tied elbow-length veil in place. For "something old" she carried her grandmother's handkerchief and on her white Bible were white roses, lily of the valley and ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gerry Mueffelmann of Hyde Park, N. Y., sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Diane Schroeder and Karen Kastning, both of Arlington Heights, Grace Perkins of Niles, Eunice and Faith Studtmann of Peekskill, N. Y. and Joyce McGarvey of Des Plaines. Junior bridesmaid was Paulette Berg, another sister of the bride.

The groom's attendants were Bill Learnard of Georgetown as best man and the bride's brother, Bill Berg, and Tom Cousins, both of Arlington Heights, the groom's brothers, Keith Perkins of Palatine and Charles Perkins of Niles, the bride's brother-in-law, John Mueffelmann of Hyde Park and Richard Zimmer of Elburn, Ill. as ushers.

THE BRIDE'S college roommate, Darlene Byrnett of Astoria, was soloist for the double ring service and sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "A Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied by Donald Hermann at the organ.

The service was followed by a reception and buffet supper for 160 guests in the Mt. Prospect VFW hall where Mrs. Berg received in a lilac silk shantung sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of deep red roses. The groom's mother chose navy blue sheer silk with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

AFTER a week's honeymoon in Door county, Wis., the newlyweds are at home at 4858 W. Lee st., Skokie. The new Mrs. Perkins was graduated from Arlington high school in 1960 and attended Western Illinois university. Mr. Perkins, who attended Southern Illinois university, met his bride in Arlington Heights while visiting in the area. He is now with Automatic Retailers Association of America in Skokie. His bride is employed as a teller at Bell Savings and Loan association in Chicago. (Community Camera

Newcomers Plan Gala Summer Dance

A summer dinner dance will be the next couples' affair sponsored by the active Arlington Heights Newcomers club. It will be held August 19 in the Villa Venice. Dinner will be served at 7:30, but a patio bar will entice many to arrive a little early and mingle with fellow newcomers.

Tickets are $11 a couple and may be bought from Mrs. Ed Schmitz, CL 9-0375. Plans for the dance were announced by Mrs. Robert Larson, dinner dace chairman, at the August luncheon meeting of the club.

It was stressed that this dinner dance is open to anyone who would enjoy an evening out and is not limited to Newcomers club members.

FOLLOWING A salad luncheon, Newcomers played bridge, canasta and pinochle. Winners of the afternoon were: bridge, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. William Fields and Mrs. Bengt Bengtson; pinochle, Mrs. Arnaz Mesnard and Mrs. Carl Havens; canasta, Mrs. Fran Morgan and Mrs. Laddie Janda.

Anyone interested in joining the club may obtain further information from the club president, Mrs. James Voelz at CL 9-0933 or the membership chairman, Mrs., William Strelow, CL 9-1772.

To be eligible to join a person must not have lived in Arlington Heights for longer than 1½ years nor have been a previous resident. A large variety of activities is encompassed by this organization, second largest in the community. (S

Engagements

Karen Busse

A November wedding is being planned by Miss Karen Ione Busse and Burton Cunningham, son of Mrs. Florence Collins of Cary. The couple's engagement and approaching marriage is being announced by Miss Busse's mother, Mrs. Dorothy L. Busse, 103 S. Louis, Mt. Prospect.

Miss Busse was graduated from Arlington high school and is employed as a private secretary at the Zurich-American Insurance companies, Chicago. Her fiance was graduated from Oak Lawn high school and is manager of the John Hill Co., Chicago. He is also attending DeVry Technical Institute.

Lenore Neal

Planning an early '62 wedding are Miss Lenore Neal and Roy Bessemer of Arlington rd., Palatine. The couple's engagement is being announced by Miss Neal's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Neal of Barrington. Mr. Bessemer's parents are the Gottlieb Bessemers.

Jean Lash

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lash, 319 W. Daniels, Palatine, announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean Patricia, to Dale Lester Sander, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer F. Sander, 169 S. Greeley, Palatine.

Both young people are graduates of Palatine high school. They have made no wedding plans. (S

Margaret Shawley

September 16, a wedding in Our Lady of the Wayside church, Arlington Heights, is planned by Miss Margaret Kay Shawley and Thomas A. Willimas III, whose engagement was announced by Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Stratman, 830 S. Burton, Arlington Heights.

Miss Shawley, sister of Mrs. Stratman, is a graduate of Ridgewood, N. J. high school and Patterson, N.J. business college. She made her debut in 1955 at the Debutante Cotillion in Ridgewood.

Mr. Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Williams, 824 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, was graduated from Arlington high school and Columbia Preparatory school. He attended the Merchant Marine academy Merchant Marine academy, Kings Point, N.Y. and was graduated from nuclear power school at Idaho Falls, Idaho. He is now stationed at Quincy, Mass. with the navy.

Marilyn Schaefer Married In Double Ring Ceremony

Another college romance was culminated in a June wedding when Miss Marilyn Schaefer, daughter of the Lee H. Schaefers, 152 W. Carlton, Palatine, and John B. Lockett Jr., son of the senior John B. Locketts of Portland, Ore., were married June 24 in a double ring service.

The couple met at Northwestern university where the bride, who will be in her junior year this fall, will continue her language and teaching studies. Her bridegroom was graduated from Northwestern with a degree in civil engineering and is now a sales engineer for International Harvester.

After a 3-week wedding trip to Portland and Crater lake, the newlyweds are residing at 933 Graceland, Des Plaines.

THEIR WEDDING took place at 4 p.m. in First Methodist Church of Palatine with Rev. Harold Olson officiating. Organist was Miss Mercie Heise.

The bride chose a white lace over taffeta gown with ballerina-length skirt and short sleeved bodice with scoop neckline. A pearl crown held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. Mr. Schaefer gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Arlene Abbs of Palatine was maid of honor and bridesmaids were the Misses Bonnie Broady of Lincoln, Neb. and Jo Ann Bastian of Palatine. All wore identical gowns of lavender organza fashioned with short sleeves and ballerina skirts. Their flowers were of white carnations.

The reception for 75 guests was held in the church.

Roger G. Oechsel of Lyons, Ill. was the groom's best man and ushers were Ens. Donald E. Parker of Great Lakes and Alan H. Just of Berwyn. (Jenart Studio) (S

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

A Test for Motherhood

Dear Peg:

I know another true test of devoted motherhood—or more accurately another true test of the steel nerves necessary to devoted motherhood. All you need do is to take three children 2, 3½ and 5 years old to a county fair on a sweltering hot and humid Sunday afternoon. It should really be the last day, so that there will be a capacity crowd in which it is very easy to lose a child and you should have a Daddy who wants to introduce his darling children to fellow committee members if only his wife can find the Knights of Columbus booth.

Well, I have passed the test. We arrived at the Lake County Fair looking spic and span and hoping to find Daddy while we still did. However, after a peek into several buildings with no success, Patrick and Joseph spotted the rides and nothing would do but that they have a ride before going on with our Daddy hunt.

I was afraid at first that all the rides were either too fast or too high for the children, but happily there were several rides which were just right for little children. The first one they saw was a circle of miniature cars. With tickets in hands, they ran and jumped in. Although I wasn't sure of her reaction, I set Deirdre down next to Joseph. She squirmed a little at first, but the minute they started she seemed to settle down. As a matter of fact (and I hate to admit it), in typical female fashion she grabbed the steering wheel out of Joseph's hands and over his loud protests continued to delightedly "steer" the car.

After the ride, they wanted "snowballs." This was the end of the spic and span look. One after another they spilled the fast melting ice and cherry juice down the front of their shirts and Deirdre's down the front of her dress. As we walked along looking at the many booths, the "fish pond" caught the boys' eyes. There was a time when at least you had to "fish" for the little wooden fish floating in the water, but not now—you simply reach in and select one. The number on the bottom indicates what prize you receive. Patrick got a paper fan (for 15 cents) worth about 3 cents, and Joseph was given a string of little beads which we soon broke.

We decided to spend our money on rides rather than any more of this stuff and went back to the kiddie rides. This is when I lost the boys! While I was buying the tickets, they vanished. Deirdre and I walked around all of the booths and rides until we finally found them right back at the "fish pond." In a tired, hot condition we finally found our Daddy and I must say he introduced us all very nicely even though we looked like some very dirty little urchins who had just crawled in off the midway. The boys insisted on another ride to show Daddy, so we all went back to the rides and again they all took a trip on the train, the sky ride and the little cars.

I couldn't have been more relieved than I was to finally get back to the car and start for home. I have earned by Devoted-Mother badge for today!

My love,
Patty

KARHULA-IITTALA GLASSWORKS

EXHIBIT OF FINNISH glass was one of the attractions in the official Finnish pavilion at the 1961 Chicago International Trade fair last Friday when the embassy of Finland invited the press to a special showing of the pavilion. Representing Paddock Publications was its Mt. Prospect editor, Mrs. Melda Lynn, who was guided through the exhibit by Veikko Konttinen, exhibit manager from Helsinki. A reception and fashion show were also a part of the special Finnish showing.

Cascading pink carnations and ivy and pink bows with long streamers on tall white candles in bronze-footed stands were on either side of the altar. The altar itself was decorated with bouquets of white snapdragons and pink asters and a white runner marked the aisle down, which Mr. Berg escorted his daughter.

CARRYING out the color scheme were the brides' eight attendants whose gowns were in pink nylon organza over net and taffeta. The gowns were trimmed in pink satin and their shoes were of satin in the same pink shade.

They also wore tiaras of feathered pink carnations with ivy and deep red happiness roses to hold their pink blusher veils. They carried crescents of pink carnations with lemon leaves and the bridesmaids' bouquets also included deep red happiness roses.

The bride's gown was a floor-length white silk organza with long pointed sleeves and slightly scooped, scalloped neckline that formed a V in back. The bodice was trimmed in lace and seed pearls and the full skirt was trimmed with four lace medallions and a large butterfly bow in back that ended in a chapel train.

A CLUSTER of lily of the valley and white roses held her 3-tied elbow-length veil in place. For "something old" she carried her grandmother's handkerchief and on her white Bible were white roses, lily of the valley and ivy.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Gerry Mueffelmann of Hyde Park, N. Y., sister of the bride, and bridesmaids were Diane Schroeder and Karen Kastning, both of Arlington Heights, Grace Perkins of Niles, Eunice and Faith Studtmann of Peekskill, N. Y. and Joyce McGarvey of Des Plaines. Junior bridesmaid was Paulette Berg, another sister of the bride.

The groom's attendants were Bill Learnard of Georgetown as best man and the bride's brother, Bill Berg, and Tom Cousins, both of Arlington Heights, the groom's brothers, Keith Perkins of Palatine and Charles Perkins of Niles, the bride's brother-in-law, John Mueffelmann of Hyde Park and Richard Zimmer of Elburn, Ill. as ushers.

THE BRIDE'S college roommate, Darlene Byrnett of Astoria, was soloist for the double ring service and sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "A Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied by Donald Hermann at the organ.

The service was followed by a reception and buffet supper for 160 guests in the Mt. Prospect VFW hall where Mrs. Berg received in a lilac silk shantung sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of deep red roses. The groom's mother chose navy blue sheer silk with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

AFTER a week's honeymoon in Door county, Wis., the newlyweds are at home at 4858 W. Lee st., Skokie. The new Mrs. Perkins was graduated from Arlington high school in 1960 and attended Western Illinois university. Mr. Perkins, who attended Southern Illinois university, met his bride in Arlington Heights while visiting in the area. He is now with Automatic Retailers Association of America in Skokie. His bride is employed as a teller at Bell Savings and Loan association in Chicago. (Community Camera

Newcomers Plan Gala Summer Dance

A summer dinner dance will be the next couples' affair sponsored by the active Arlington Heights Newcomers club. It will be held August 19 in the Villa Venice. Dinner will be served at 7:30, but a patio bar will entice many to arrive a little early and mingle with fellow newcomers.

Tickets are $11 a couple and may be bought from Mrs. Ed Schmitz, CL 9-0375. Plans for the dance were announced by Mrs. Robert Larson, dinner dace chairman, at the August luncheon meeting of the club.

It was stressed that this dinner dance is open to anyone who would enjoy an evening out and is not limited to Newcomers club members.

FOLLOWING A salad luncheon, Newcomers played bridge, canasta and pinochle. Winners of the afternoon were: bridge, Mrs. Walter Johnson, Mrs. William Fields and Mrs. Bengt Bengtson; pinochle, Mrs. Arnaz Mesnard and Mrs. Carl Havens; canasta, Mrs. Fran Morgan and Mrs. Laddie Janda.

Anyone interested in joining the club may obtain further information from the club president, Mrs. James Voelz at CL 9-0933 or the membership chairman, Mrs. William Strelow, CL 9-1772.

To be eligible to join a person must not have lived in Arlington Heights for longer than 1½ years nor have been a previous resident. A large variety of activities is encompassed by this organization, second largest in the community. (S

TOP WEIGHT LOSERS of the year, Mrs. Lorna Schroeder of Palatine, Mrs. Nancy Ewalt of Mt. Prospect and Mrs. Barbara Strickler of Arlington Heights, recently received cultured pearl necklaces and flowers. The women are members of Arlington Heights TOPS of the Morning, a member of the national TOPS club which seeks to "take off pounds sensibly." Local club members lessened the nation's weight problem by a total of 270 pounds last year. Anyone interested may contact the president, Mrs. Ewalt, at CLearbrook 5-5016.

He attended the Merchant Marine academy Merchant Marine academy, Kings Point, N.Y. and was graduated from nuclear power school at Idaho Falls, Idaho. He is now stationed at Quincy, Mass. with the navy.

Marilyn Schaefer Married In Double Ring Ceremony

Another college romance was culminated in a June wedding when Miss Marilyn Schaefer, daughter of the Lee H. Schaefers, 152 W. Carlton, Palatine, and John B. Lockett Jr., son of the senior John B. Locketts of Portland, Ore., were married June 24 in a double ring service.

The couple met at Northwestern university where the bride, who will be in her junior year this fall, will continue her language and teaching studies. Her bridegroom was graduated from Northwestern with a degree in civil engineering and is now a sales engineer for International Harvester.

After a 3-week wedding trip to Portland and Crater lake, the newlyweds are residing at 933 Graceland, Des Plaines.

THEIR WEDDING took place at 4 p.m. in First Methodist Church of Palatine with Rev. Harold Olson officiating. Organist was Miss Mercie Heise.

The bride chose a white lace over taffeta gown with ballerina-length skirt and short sleeved bodice with scoop neckline. A pearl crown held her fingertip veil and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. Mr. Schaefer gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Arlene Abbs of Palatine was maid of honor and bridesmaids were the Misses Bonnie Broady of Lincoln, Neb. and Jo Ann Bastian of Palatine. All wore identical gowns of lavender organza fashioned with short sleeves and ballerina skirts. Their flowers were of white carnations,

The reception for 75 guests was held in the church.

Roger G. Oechsel of Lyons, Ill. was the groom's best man and ushers were Ens. Donald E. Parker of Great Lakes and Alan H: Just of Berwyn. (Jenart Studio)

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

A Test for Motherhood

Dear Peg:

I know another true test of devoted motherhood—or more accurately another true test of the steel nerves necessary to devoted motherhood. All you need do is to take three children 2, 3½ and 5 years old to a county fair on a sweltering hot and humid Sunday afternoon. It should really be the last day, so that there will be a capacity crowd in which it is very easy to lose a child and you should have a Daddy who wants to introduce his darling children to fellow committee members if only his wife can find the Knights of Columbus booth.

Well, I have passed the test. We arrived at the Lake County Fair looking spic and span and hoping to find Daddy while we still did. However, after a peek into several buildings with no success, Patrick and Joseph spotted the rides and nothing would do but that they have a ride before going on with our Daddy hunt.

I was afraid at first that all the rides were either too fast or too high for the children, but happily there were several rides which were just right for little children. The first one they saw was a circle of miniature cars. With tickets in hands, they ran and jumped in. Although I wasn't sure of her reaction, I set Deirdre down next to Joseph. She squirmed a little at first, but the minute they started she seemed to settle down. As a matter of fact (and I hate to admit it), in typical female fashion she grabbed the steering wheel out of Joseph's hands and over his loud protests continued to delightedly "steer" the car.

After the ride, they wanted "snowballs." This was the end of the spic and span look. One after another they spilled the fast melting ice and cherry juice down the front of their shirts and Deirdre's down the front of her dress. As we walked along looking at the many booths, the "fish pond" caught the boys' eyes. There was a time when at least you had to "fish" for the little wooden fish floating in the water, but not now—you simply reach in and select one. The number on the bottom indicates what prize you receive. Patrick got a paper fan (for 15 cents) worth about 3 cents, and Joseph was given a string of little beads which we soon broke.

We decided to spend our money on rides rather than any more of this stuff and went back to the kiddie rides. This is when I lost the boys! While I was buying the tickets, they vanished. Deirdre and I walked around all of the booths and rides until we finally found them right back at the "fish pond." In a tired, hot condition we finally found our Daddy and I must say he introduced us all very nicely even though we looked like some very dirty little urchins who had just crawled in off the midway. The boys insisted on another ride to show Daddy, so we all went back to the rides and again they all took a trip on the train, the sky ride and the little cars.

I couldn't have been more relieved than I was to finally get back to the car and start for home. I have earned by Devoted-Mother badge for today!

My love,
Patty

KARHULA-IITTALA GLASSWORKS

EXHIBIT OF FINNISH glass was one of the attractions in the official Finnish pavilion at the 1961 Chicago International Trade fair last Friday when the embassy of Finland invited the press to a special showing of the pavilion. Representing Paddock Publications was its Mt. Prospect editor, Mrs. Melda Lynn, who was guided through the exhibit by Veikko Konttinen, exhibit manager from Helsinki. A reception and fashion show were also a part of the special Finnish showing.

Bonita Metsig Becomes Robert Weinert's Bride

Seven attendants, including the groom's three sisters, preceded Miss Bonita Metsig down the aisle of St. Alphonsus church in Prospect Heights when she became the bride of Robert Weinert in an 11 o'clock double ring service June 24. The newlyweds are now living in their newly-built home at 306 S. Parkway W., Prospect Heights.

Both of Prospect Heights, the bride is the daughter of the John A. Metsigs, 19 Wildwood dr. N., and the groom is the son of Mrs. Rose Weinert, 511 N. Schoenbeck.

Rev. A. J. Burke officiated at the service during which the bride's brother, John G. Metsig, served as soloist and also as one of the ushers. Organist was Mrs. J. Elster.

THE BRIDE'S attendants were Miss Dorothea Kissane of Des Plaines as maid of honor and Anita Reindl of Mt. Prospect and Rose Marie, Roseann and Rita Weinert as bridesmaids. All wore pale orchid silk organza gowns with lace applique panels and full skirts. They carried deep orchid cymbidiums and feathered white carnations with deep green ivy.

The bridal party also included a flower girl and ring bearer. Seven-year-old Joyce Fournier of Chicago, as flower girl, wore a light orchid dress and carried a tiny bouquet of white carnations. The bride's 5-year-old brother, Gregory Metsig, was the ring bearer.

For her marriage the bride chose a gown of silk organza with chapel train. The gown was fashioned with lace applique collar and panel and trimmed with seed pearls and iridescent pearls. Her long, flowing veil was held by a crown of seed pearls and drop aurora borealis stones. White roses, stephanotis and deep green ivy made up her bridal bouquet. Mr. Metsig gave his daughter in marriage.

A PALE BEIGE silk organza with lace was chosen by Mrs. Metsig for her daughter's wedding, while Mrs. Weinert chose a champagne beige linen sheath with lace. Both mothers had pink carnation corsages to complement their ensembles.

Ronald Drake of Prospect Heights was best man and ushers were the bride's brother, John Metsig, Jon Dufresne of Chicago and Daniel Raupp of Arlington Heights.

After the service, brunch was served to the bridal party, relatives and the clergy at Ignats and Mary's Fine Grove inn. A reception for 300 guests was held that evening in St. Mary's hall in Buffalo Grove.

THE NEWLYWEDS then left on a 2-week honeymoon in upper Minnesota.

The new Mrs. Weinert was graduated from Arlington high school and is employed by General Telephone Directory Co., Des Plaines. Mr. Weinert, a graduate of Notre Dame high school, is with Weber Bros., Skokie. (Jenart Studio (S

Elwood Stade Takes Bride in Berwyn Church July 8

Miss Charlene Bero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bero of Cicero, became the bride of Elwood Stade, son of the Henry Stades of Palatine in a six o'clock ceremony in Berwyn United Lutheran church July 8. The service was double ring and was performed by Rev. Andrew Swasko and the groom's brother-in-law Rev. R. L. J. Hoemann of Zion Lutheran church of Irwin, Pa.

For her marriage the bride wore a tulle gown with lace bodice and long lace sleeves. The lower half of the skirt was also of the same lace and a crown of seed pearls and orange blossoms held her elbow-length illusion veil. Her flowers were stephanotis with a white orchid and croton leaves.

MISS PHYLLIS Cugier of Waukegan was bridesmaid and Miss Georgiana Jaglinski of Oak Park was the maid of honor. Their sheath dresses were in shades of pink silk organza over taffeta with detachable overskirts and their flowers were white carnations tipped in pink with croton leaves. Pill box headpieces to match their dresses completed their ensembles.

Allan Sheehan of Chicago was the groom's best man and usher was Don Price of Lake Zurich.

The bride's mother chose a pale blue silk organza sheath with matching capulet hat and the bridegroom's mother chose a sheath of white schiffli embroidered cotton over pink cotton satin. She also wore a pink flowered capulet hat. Both had corsages of cymbidiums.

THE SERVICE was followed by a dinner and reception for 125 guests in the Embassy restaurant in Cicero.

Both the bride and groom are 1960 graduates of Northern Illinois university. Mr. Stade formerly taught at Palatine high school and at present is in school at Roosevelt university, Chicago. His bride is employed as home service advisor for Northern Illinois Gas Co., Homewood.

Miss Charlene Bero, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bero of Cicero, became the bride of Elwood Stade, son of the Henry Stades of Palatine in a six o'clock ceremony in Berwyn United Lutheran church July 8. The service was double ring and was performed by Rev. Andrew Swasko and the groom's brother-in-law Rev. R. L. J. Hoemann of Zion Lutheran church of Irwin, Pa.

For her marriage the bride wore a tulle gown with lace bodice and long lace sleeves. The lower half of the skirt was also of the same lace and a crown of seed pearls and orange blossoms held her elbow-length illusion veil. Her flowers were stephanotis with a white orchid and croton leaves.

MISS PHYLLIS Cugier of Waukegan was bridesmaid and Miss Georgiana Jaglinski of Oak Park was the maid of honor. Their sheath dresses were in shades of pink silk organza over taffeta with detachable overskirts and their flowers were white carnations tipped in pink with croton leaves. Pill box headpieces to match their dresses completed their ensembles.

Allan Sheehan of Chicago was the groom's best man and usher was Don Price of Lake Zurich.

The bride's mother chose a pale blue silk organza sheath with matching capulet hat and the bridegroom's mother chose a sheath of white schiffli embroidered cotton over pink cotton satin. She also wore a pink flowered capulet hat. Both had corsages of cymbidiums.

THE SERVICE was followed by a dinner and reception for 125 guests in the Embassy restaurant in Cicero.

Both the bride and groom are 1960 graduates of Northern Illinois university. Mr. Stade formerly taught at Palatine high school and at present is in school at Roosevelt university, Chicago. His bride is employed as home service advisor for Northern Illinois Gas Co., Homewood.

OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "He could not be dissuaded in his purpose." Say, "He could not be dissuaded FROM his purpose."

Do not say, "I have no other samples except these." Say, "I have no other samples THAN these."

Do not say, "I can't seem to find the article." It is much better to say, "IT SEEMS I can't find the article."

Do not say, "I shall settle the bill immediately." The use of "settle" in this sense is colloquial. Say, "I shall PAY the bill,' 'or "I shall SETTLE the ACCOUNT."

Remember that DATA is the plural of DATUM. Hence, one should say, "THESE data ARE," and not "This data is."

The adjective IDENTICAL is followed by WITH, while SIMILAR is followed by TO. Thus: "My plan is identical WITH yours," and, "His manuscript is similar TO the others."

Jack Riggs Takes College Sweetheart as His Bride

A romance which began at Indiana university was culminated June 24 in the marriage of Suzanne Renee Laesecke of Lansing, Ill. and Jack Talbott Riggs, 308 S. George, Mt. Prospect, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neil L. Riggs.

Nuptial vows were exchanged by the couple in a 7:30 p. m. double ring candlelight ceremony solemnized by Rev. Edward Driscoll in First United Evangelical Lutheran church, Hammond. Urns of ferns and bouquets of white gladioli, carnations and mums decked the altar for the rite, which was illuminated by four candelabra. Candlelighters were Jack Meyer of Skokie, cousin of the bride, and Bill Talbott of Linton, Ind., cousin of the groom.

A PURE SILK floor-length gown fashioned on princess lines was chosen by the bride. The dress featured a scooped neckline, bell-shaped skirt and a court-length train appliqued with alencon lace. French illusion veiling fell from the bride's silk pill box and she carried a cascade bouquet of white roses, lilies of the valley and ivy centered with a white orchid as she was given in marriage by her father, H. J. Laesecke.

Larry Zimmerman, Psi Omega fraternity brother of the groom at Northwestern university, was best man. Ushers were John Sheppard of Prospect Heights and Howard Alton of Plum Grove Estates, classmates of the groom at Arlington high school.

THE BRIDE'S honor attendant was Mrs. Gene Cast, her roommate at Indiana university. Her white silk organza street-length dress was fashioned with a full skirt, three-quarter length sleeves and a square neckline. A circular headpiece of white sheer leaves with veiling and gold accessories completed her ensemble and she carried a cascade of large gold-colored daisies.

Miss Pat Polito and Miss Dawn Moser of Chicago, the bridesmaids, were dressed identically to the matron of honor.

A white silk organza dress with a white eyelet pinafore was the attire of Karen Laesecke, the bride's niece, who was flower girl. Marc Matuliak was the ring bearer.

TWO HUNDRED fifty guests attended the reception held in the American Legion hall in Lansing. The mother of the bride wore an ensemble of lilac and a corsage of white roses. The groom's mother chose a pink silk organza dress and matching accessories and corsage of white roses.

Mrs. Riggs donned a beige suit with matching accessories for her honeymoon.

The bride is a graduate of Indiana university, taught at Morton high school in Hammond this past year and will teach home economics at the Lincoln school in Skokie this coming year.

Mr. Riggs attended Wabash college in Crawfordsville, Ind. and Indiana university where he was affiliated with Phi Kappa Psi fraternity. He will be a junior at the Northwestern school of dentistry this fall.

The newlyweds are residing at 4915 Louise st., Skokie.

CREWING ABOARD the Ft. Polynesia on a recent 10-day windjammer cruise were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Olson, 2310 Bluebird lane, Rolling Meadows. Actually helping to tend sail and stand wheel watch, the couple explored remote Caribbean islands, swam at out-of-the way beaches and danced to calypso music of the Bahamian crew. The Polynesia is the world's largest staysail schooner and is a former luxury yacht. (S

Inverness Student In 'Mademoiselle'

Miss Olson, a junior at Wells, is wearing a tam-o'-shanter in a feature, "Heads Up! The Hat Goes to College." Other hats worn in the picture are a Tyrolean felt, bearskin, Rover Boy's cap, pom-ponned wool-crocheted beret, shaggy orlon pixie and a red-banded, long-tasseled Spanish beret.

THESE HATS, meant "mostly for fun" are to be worn and not just owned this year according to the magazine's editors.

The magazine's August issue is traditionally dedicated to the college students and this year's college issue is no exception. It stresses the "well-bred look" and features new shapes in skirts, including the "drinking cup."

Colors are to be "crisp and tangy but not screechy." Sweaters are to be straighter and longer and most popular accessory is the grandmother watch which hangs on belts or necklaces or on the wrist. The boy coat is joined in popularity this year by the "nanny coat" and black patent leather loafers are the very latest. (S

Mary Townsend Is Now Mrs. Kenneth Gabbani

White bouquets and pew decorations on white bows and greens decorated the St. Paul Lutheran church in Mt. Prospect June 24 when Miss Mary Townsend, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Townsend, 15 S. Louis, Mt. Prospect, became the bride of Kenneth Gabbani at a 3 o'clock double ring ceremony. He is the son of Mrs. Andrew Gabbani of Des Plaines.

Rev. E. A. Zeile officiated and Elmer Jackisch was organist. Soloist, Robert Morton of Libertyville, sang "Wedding Benediction" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride was attired in a white silk organza gown with traditional basque bodice and long, slimly-fitted sleeves. Bands of re-embroidered alancon lace enriched the gently scooped neckline and front of the bouffant skirt which swept into a chapel train. A tiny pill box of heirloom lace held the waist length veil of French illusion. Gardenias and lilies of the valley made up the bridal bouquet.

MISS SANDRA Hess of Rolling Meadows, maid of honor, chose a bouffant blue and white checked organza dress with matching blue veil hat. Attired in identical dresses were the bridesmaids, Judie Van Wakeman and Evelyn Kay of Mt. Prospect. All of the bride's attendants carried nosegays of peach glamellias.

The junior bridesmaid, Wendy Morton of Libertyville, wore a blue and white organza bouffant dress with a matching blue velvet ribbon in her pony tail.

Carrying a white basket of peach gladioli with blue ribbons was 5-year-old Diane Thake who wore a white short bouffant organza dress. Her brother, Daniel Thake, 7, was ring bearer. They are from Mt. Prospect.

(Stephany Photo

FOR HER daughter's wedding, Mrs. Townsend chose a turquoise silk shantung sheath with matching velvet pill box, tan accessories and tan cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Gabbini was attired in a bone silk sheath with matching hat and green cymbidium orchids.

Noel Grabow of Glenview was best man with Wynn Howard of Des Plaines, Richard Clavey of Rolling Meadows and the brother of the bride, Thomas Townsend of Mt. Prospect, serving as ushers.

Immediately following the ceremony punch and cake were served in the guild room of St. Paul church and later there was dinner and dancing at the Elk's club in Des Plaines for 120 guests.

The couple honeymooned one week at a cottage in Crystal Lake.

The new Mrs. Gabbani graduated from Arlington high school and attended Valparaiso university. The groom, a graduate of Maryville academy, attended Marquette university. Both are employed at the Illinois Bell Telephone Co.

Membership Coffees Planned by ADPi's

Alpha Delta Pi Countryside Alumnae association will hold a series of suburban membership coffees in the towns encompassed by the group Tuesday, Aug. 22, Wednesday, Aug. 23, and Thursday, Aug. 24, all beginning at 10 a.m.

Six friendship coffees will be held simultaneously on the three days in the six largest suburbs of Arlington Heights, Barrington, Des Plaines, Glenview, Palatine, and Park Ridge. Purpose of these get-acquainted gatherings will be to review the group's progress and to distribute the ADPi Countryside Alums' 1961-62 directory and events schedule.

TWO PADDOCK area coffees will be held, one in Arlington Heights and one in Palatine. The Arlington coffee will be Tuesday, Aug. 22, at the home of Mrs. James Homer, 139 Golf terr., and the Palatine coffee will be held Thursday, Aug. 24, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Anderson, 301 Longacres, Plum Grove Estates. Mrs. Homer may be contacted at HE 7-3296, and Mrs. Anderson at FL 9-1981. All Paddock area ADPi's are welcome.

Officers of the local ADPi group for the coming year are: president, Mrs. Harry Wickstrom, Arlington Heights; vice liam Laystrom, Barrington; president, Mrs. Ted Linham, Palatine; secretary, Mrs. Sheldon Mix, Des Plaines; and treasurer, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Wheeling.

Committee chairmen are: publicity, Mrs. Harry Wickstrom; membership, Mrs. Wilpanhellenic, Mrs. Fred Siegel, Arlington Heights; and recommendations, Mrs. Ralph Anderson, Palatine.

More Cattle Feeding Now

Farmers were feeding 5,752,000 head of cattle, including calves, on July 1. This was only two per cent more than they were feeding a year before. These figures are from the latest government quarterly survery of cattle and calves on feed.

Reports obtained from farmers showed that they would sell about 3,297,000 head of these cattle during this third quarter. This number would be three per cent more than was sold in the same quarter last year. We would consider this increase to be normal or less.

In the second quarter of this year, farmers sold nine per cent more fed cattle than they sold in the corresponding three months of 1960. Thus the increase of only three per cent for this quarter is comparatively small.

THE BIGGEST increases in cattle on feed this year are, for a change, not in the west. In fact, feeding in the western states is down three per cent. The biggest increases are in Minnesota, the Dakotas, Illinois and Indiana.

The weights of cattle on feed this summr are somewhat different from those of a year ago. There is an increase of about 10 per cent in the number of steers in the 700- to 900-pound bracket and a similar increase in weights over 1,100 pounds. There is also a small increase in numbers of heifers weighing over 700 pounds. Numbers of heifers and steers weighing less than 700 pounds are down six per cent.

Beef output was about five per cent larger in the first half of this year than in the same period of 1960. Other price-depressing factors were the business recession and the flood of competition from broilers. The only price-supporting item was a shortage of pork, down five per cent from last year.

AS A RESULT of the bearish forces, prices of Choice steers averaged about $2 a hundred pounds lower in the first half of this year than in the first half of 1960.

We have reasons to expect considerable price improvement during the remainder of this year. Beef output will be only moderately larger than it was a year before. The increase may be around 3 per cent, and it will be offset by an increase in population and by greater consumer buying power.

Population has increased nearly two per cent in the past year. About one per cent more people have jobs now than were working a year ago. Average weekly earnings of those at work are up two to three per cent.

Competition from broilers is expected to ease off, though supplies still may exceed those of 12 months before.

BEARISH FACTORS in the cattle market will be increasing supplies of pork and turkey. The spring pig crop was up seven per cent. Farmers may bunch marketing of hogs in October or early November. The supply of turkey may be 20 to 25 per cent larger than it was last year. This will be hard on the market for beef in the holiday season.

Price of Choice steers at Chicago averaged $25.56 a hundred pounds in the last half of 1960. They should do no worse than $24 in the last half of this year. In order to average that, prices would have to rise to $25 or higher by the end of the year.

Don't forget to reserve August 19 so that you can attend the 15th Annual 4-H Fair. This year the fair will be held at the Lake county fair grounds, located two miles east of Grayslake, on route 45. The judging will start at 9 a. m. and continue throughout the day.

The 4-H King and Queen will be crowned one week later at a Coronation Ball to be held at the Miner Junior high school in Arlington Heights. The Grand Champion trophies will be awarded at the same time. The 4-H Federation is sponsoring the ball. Why don't you contact a 4-H Federation member or this office for a ticket to this fine event?

Soybean producers have called our attention to some disease problems that are fairly widespread throughout the area and are causing considerable damage. There are three diseases of which we have come in contact with, namely, (1) Phytophthora rot and stem rot; (2) Rhizoctonia and (3) Brown Stem Rot. Plants have been identified to have all three of these diseases at the same time.

Rhizoctonia rot produces a reddish brown decay of the outer layer of the root and the base of the stem of young plants. The plants first wilt and then die. The dead plants appear in area several feet in diameter usually scattered irregularly over the field. The disease seems to be aggravated by cool or wet weather early in the growing season. It appears most prevalent on weaker soil types within the field.

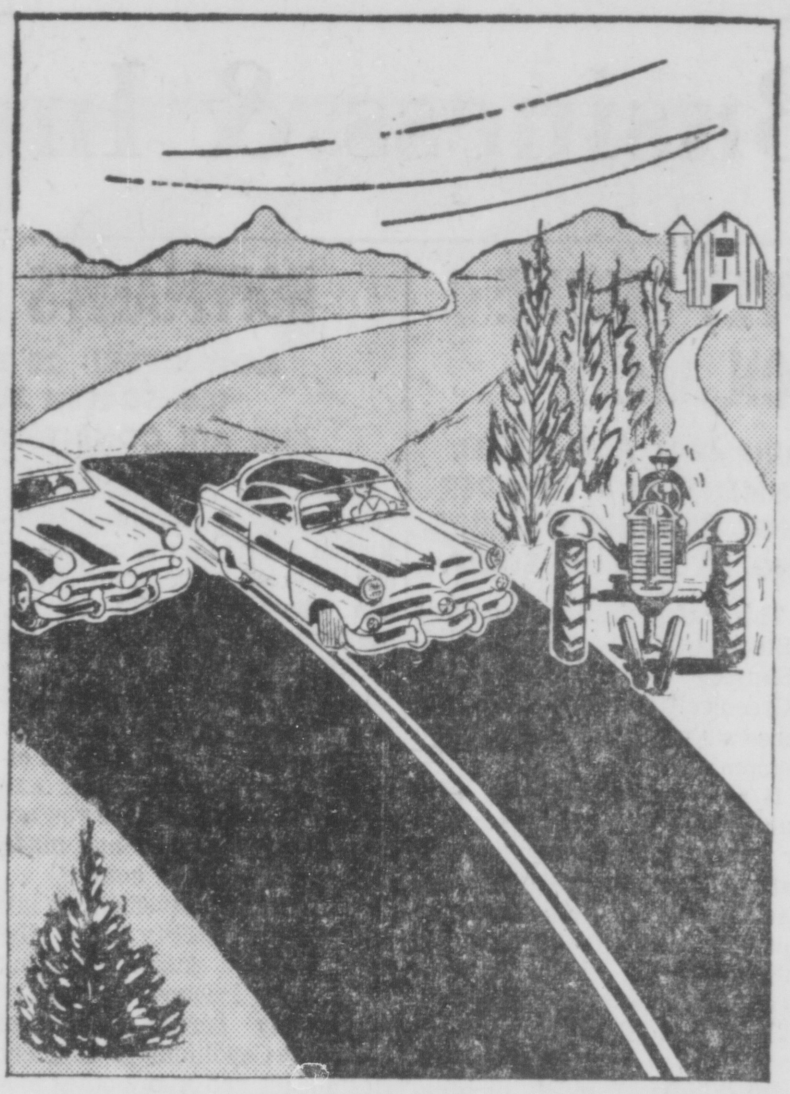
Phtophthora rot and stem rot is very similar to rhizoctonia root rot in appearance. It will normally affect the plants earlier being seedlings that have just emerged and may shrivel and die, leaving gaps in the row. On older plants the most common symptom is the brown discoloration that develops on the stem causing wilting and death of the plant. Root damage varies from partial browning to rot to almost the entire root stem. It can be distinguished from rhizoctonia root rot which has similar effects by the color of the affected root. The roots will have a dark brown color; those infected with rhizoctonia a reddish brown color.

Rhizoctonia root rot usually becomes inactive by mid-July while Phytophthora rot remains active most of the growing season. The only solution known to these two types of root rot are to bank soil around the plants, hoping that the plant will set new roots at the lower part of the stem. The dead root will not come back to life. Some varieties seem to be more resistant than others to phytophthora, but no variety differences appear from rhizoctonia.

Another fungus disease that is now coming into prevalence with soybeans in our area has been identified in some fields as brown stem rot. The fungus enters the plant through the lower stem and travels slowly upward. Infected plants at first show no outward symptoms from now through the next two months, however, if the stem is split lengthwise and a brown discoloration can be detected inside the root and the base of the stem. The further progress of the disease up the stem is favored by cool weather especially during the last of July and the first week or two of August. Hot weather throughout August will suppress brown stem rot.

If cool weather prevails, leaf symptoms will appear in August or early September. This is actually the first outward sign of the disease. The leaf tissue between the veins would turn brown, near the veins the natural green stays for awhile, but then the whole leaf withers. The over-all of the field takes on a brownish east. The onset of this phase of the disease is so rapid that the plants may look as if they have been damaged by frost. Brown stem rot may also cause lodging and appears to reduce the size of the seed.

A search for varieties resistant to this disease is under way, but as yet none have been found. The disease is soil-borne, there is no evidence that it is carried on the seed. The only way to combat the disease therefore is to use a rotation in which soybeans are grown on the same ground only every four or five years.



SAFETY IS EVERYONE'S JOB. Motorists and farmers have a joint personal responsibility to avoid accidents on the highway. Of 11,700 members of farm families killed in 1959, 5,300 involved motor vehicles, both those traveling in motor vehicles and those involving car-tractor crashes. Another one million disabling injuries occurred to farm families in 1959, 200,000 of which involved motor vehicles.

Hints To Home Owners

Alert homeowners: dial 392-3060.

Dutch elm disease was first discovered in Holland in 1919. By the mid 30's it had spread throughout Europe. The first cases of Elm disease in this country were reported in 1950 when three trees in Cleveland, Ohio were diagnosed as affected with the disease and were removed.

Three years later, the disease was found in the vicinity of New York City. In the next few years, outbreaks were reported in such widespread localities as New York, Virginia Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

By this time, the origin of the disease had become apparent when burl elm logs were intercepted at the port of New York. These logs, highly prized by furniture makers were found to contain both the Dutch elm fungus, and the European elm bark beetle, one of the carriers of the disease.

WITH THE discovery, the U. S. Department of Agriculture began to quarantine imported logs, but unfortunately the fungus and carriers were already well established even without more introductions.

In Illinois, the first diseased tree was found near Mattoon in 1950, and by 1954 the disease had hit Cook County.

What is Dutch elm disease? Dutch elm disease is the result of a fungus which invades the water conducting vessels of elm trees. The fungus is carried from diseased to healthy trees primarily by the European elm bark beetle. The fact that this beetle lives very closely with the fungus is what makes Dutch elm disease so disastrous.

At egg laying time, the female beetle seeks out dead or dying elm wood with bark intact, and lays her eggs beneath the bark. The larvae which hatch from the eggs burrow tunnels in the outer wood and inner bark.

MANY OF THE dying elms have Dutch elm disease and the fungus grows and fruits abundantly in the beetle tunnels. Thousand of minute seed-like spores are borne in a sticky fluid.

By the time the beetles have matured they have many spores sticking to this bodies, and when they cut their way out of the bark, they carry these spores with them.

When they emerge the adult beetles immediately fly to healthy elms and begin to feed. Feeding takes place only in the crotches between small twigs on healthy trees.

As the beetles chew into the bark, spores are dislodged from their bodies and get into the sap stream of the tree where they reproduce and eventually distribute throughout the tree.

THE FUNGUS, growing in the sap wood of the tree interferes with water conduction, causing wilting and death of the tree. With death, the tree becomes the breeding place for more beetles, and the cycle begins again.

Control of the disease prevents a twofold problem. First, the source of the fungus and the carrier must be removed. This means cutting down and burning all dead or dying elm trees. The bark beetle will not breed in healthy elms and will thus be eliminated.

If a stump is left when the tree is cut, the bark must be removed to below soil level. Any logs for a fireplace must be completely striped of their bark.

Secondly, healthy trees must be protected from attack by the beetle. For most adequate protection, healthy trees should be sprayed with DDT yearly. The spray should be applied by April, before the flowers or leaves appear, and must cover all bark surfaces, particularly the crotches of small twigs and branches.

SPRAYING after leaves appear is of limited value since the small crotches won't be adequately covered. If it is not practical to spray all elms in a community, by all means spray healthy trees within 1,000 feet of a known diseased tree.

With careful and prompt attention to this control program, Dutch elm disease can be controlled and possibly eliminated. For more information, contact your University of Illinois Extension Service office, Arlington Heights, Illinois. (FM

Conservation Camp Draws 80 4-H'ers

More than 80 Illinois 4-H'ers plan to attend the 1961 Wildlife Conservation camp at 4-H Memorial camp near Monticello July 31 to August 4.

Area 4-H'ers attending are Martin Sidor, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sidor, Arlington Heights, and Eddie Weigt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Weigt, Mount Prospect.

Educational as well as recreational, this wildlife camp gives 4-H'ers a chance to learn more about wildlife conservation in Illinois through class work and field observations.

The 4-H'ers will study timber management, farm pond construction and management, waterfowl management and trapping of Illinois fur bearers. Delegates will also have time for sports, crafts or tours of nearby Robert Allerton park.

Bob Hood of the Cook County 4-H staff of the University of Illinois says the main purpose of the camp is to help promote the 4-H conservation projects throughout Illinois. U. of I. staff members are in charge of the entire program. (FM

4-H Groups Hold Joint Meeting

Two 4-H units, TNT and Up and Doing, recently held their local achievement meeting in St. John Lutheran school on Linneman rd. Projects were on display for viewing by mothers and guests and those studying sewing modeled their garments.

Demonstrations were also a feature of the meeting. Marilyn Anderson demonstrated cake baking, Alice Bollman prepared a tuna fish casserole and Marilyn Maling and Delores Thon gave a presentation on the right and wrong ways of giving a demonstration.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Noel Foss of Bensenville, Mrs. Frank Henry of Arlington Heights, Cook county 4-H chairman, and Mrs. Edwin Linneman of Des Plaines.

Cattle Supply Is Larger This Year

The supply of replacement cattle appears to be slightly larger than it was a year ago. Prices will depend mostly upon what farmers are willing to pay.

The total United States calf crop is reported to be up only one per cent from that of last year. But a smaller share of these calves are out of dairy cows. The number of calves from beef-type cows may be up two or three per cent.

Illinois farmers draw most of their feeder cattle from the Great Plains states and from Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee. The calf crops in these states are up about two per cent from a year ago.

SLAUGHTER of calves in the first half of this year was about one per cent less than it was a year before. This decline probably resulted from the reduction in numbers of milk cows.

The number of yearlings available for feeding may not be much different from what it was a year ago. Most of the range states carried over about two per cent more calves last winter than the year before.

Range conditions are mixed. Severe droughts in some areas have been offset by unusually favorable weather in other places.

The most severe drought has been along the Canadian border. It has burned crops and ranges in North Dakota and Montana and adjoining areas. A less severe drought plagues the far southwest — Utah, Nevada, Arizona and southern California.

CONDITIONS in the southern states, sweeping from New Mexico and Texas to the Atlantic Coast, are much better than they were last year.

More cattle will be moved out of the Northern Plains this year than in 1960. Recent prices were down $1 to $3 a hundred pounds from a year before. But if too many buyers go "looking for bargains," the asking prices will go up.

Texas had a dry spring but an abundance of rain later. Texas and the other southern states seem likely to be stronger bidders for cattle than they were last year.

The feed-grain program may tend to reduce the demand for feeder cattle. Farmers will have considerably less corn, sorghum grain, oats and barley to feed. Furthermore, the cost of these feed grains is almost certain to be higher than it has been this past year.

THE GOVERNMENT will sell more corn than it has sold in recent years. CCC sales may be greater than ever before. But these sales do not seem likely to be big enough to offset the effects of the smaller crop and the higher price support level.

Prospects point to prices for fat cattle about the same in 1962 as in 1961. Market receipts may be a bit larger. Supplies of competitive meats are likely to be a little heavier. These increases in supplies could be just about balanced by an increase in consumer buying power.

The market outlook, as we see it, shows a need for buying replacement cattle at prices $3 to $4 a hundred pounds lower than last fall.

Marian Buch Attends 4-H Conference

Among the 350 Illinois 4-H club members attending the 4-H state junior leadership conference last week was an 18-year-old Palatine girl, Miss Marian Buch, 1113 W. Wood.

The conference is designed to give 4-Hers training in leadership by working on committees and taking part in camp activities.

Miss Buch, a June graduate of Palatine high school, is a member of the Palatine Busy Bees 4-H.

Fertilizer, Seeding Are Valuable

Research at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs experiment station proves the value of fertilizer and proved seeding practices in achieving top-producing pastures.

About 10 years ago an upland tract on the station was a wilderness of sassafras, persimmon, brush and weeds. Brush and trees had grown as big as a man's arm or leg. Many questioned the economic soundness of spending $40 to $50 an acre to clear, fertilize and seed this area.

Today, however, station agronomist George McKibben reports that this former wilderness abounds with heavy clover, alfalfa and grasses. It can produce 300 to 500 pounds of beef or lamb gains per acre. (Fm

Don't forget to reserve August 19 so that you can attend the 15th Annual 4-H Fair. This year the fair will be held at the Lake county fair grounds, located two miles east of Grayslake, on route 45. The judging will start at 9 a. m. and continue throughout the day.

The 4-H King and Queen will be crowned one week later at a Coronation Ball to be held at the Miner Junior high school in Arlington Heights. The Grand Champion trophies will be awarded at the same time. The 4-H Federation is sponsoring the ball. Why don't you contact a 4-H Federation member or this office for a ticket to this fine event?

Soybean producers have called our attention to some disease problems that are fairly widespread throughout the area and are causing considerable damage. There are three diseases of which we have come in contact with, namely, (1) Phytophthora rot and stem rot; (2) Rhizoctonia and (3) Brown Stem Rot. Plants have been identified to have all three of these diseases at the same time.

Rhizoctonia rot produces a reddish brown decay of the outer layer of the root and the base of the stem of young plants. The plants first wilt and then die. The dead plants appear in area several feet in diameter usually scattered irregularly over the field. The disease seems to be aggravated by cool or wet weather early in the growing season. It appears most prevalent on weaker soil types within the field.

Phtophthora rot and stem rot is very similar to rhizoctonia root rot in appearance. It will normally affect the plants earlier being seedlings that have just emerged and may shrivel and die, leaving gaps in the row. On older plants the most common symptom is the brown discoloration that develops on the stem causing wilting and death of the plant. Root damage varies from partial browning to rot to almost the entire root stem. It can be distinguished from rhizoctonia root rot which has similar effects by the color of the affected root. The roots will have a dark brown color; those infected with rhizoctonia a reddish brown color.

Rhizoctonia root rot usually becomes inactive by mid-July while Phytophthora rot remains active most of the growing season. The only solution known to these two types of root rot are to bank soil around the plants, hoping that the plant will set new roots at the lower part of the stem. The dead root will not come back to life. Some varieties seem to be more resistant than others to phytophthora, but no variety differences appear from rhizoctonia.

Another fungus disease that is now coming into prevalence with soybeans in our area has been identified in some fields as brown stem rot. The fungus enters the plant through the lower stem and travels slowly upward. Infected plants at first show no outward symptoms from now through the next two months, however, if the stem is split lengthwise and a brown discoloration can be detected inside the root and the base of the stem. The further progress of the disease up the stem is favored by cool weather especially during the last of July and the first week or two of August. Hot weather throughout August will suppress brown stem rot.

If cool weather prevails, leaf symptoms will appear in August or early September. This is actually the first outward sign of the disease. The leaf tissue between the veins would turn brown, near the veins the natural green stays for awhile, but then the whole leaf withers. The over-all of the field takes on a brownish east. The onset of this phase of the disease is so rapid that the plants may look as if they have been damaged by frost. Brown stem rot may also cause lodging and appears to reduce the size of the seed.

A search for varieties resistant to this disease is under way, but as yet none have been found. The disease is soil-borne, there is no evidence that it is carried on the seed. The only way to combat the disease therefore is to use a rotation in which soybeans are grown on the same ground only every four or five years.

Fertilizer, Seeding Are Valuable

Research at the University of Illinois Dixon Springs experiment station proves the value of fertilizer and proved seeding practices in achieving top-producing pastures.

About 10 years ago an upland tract on the station was a wilderness of sassafras, persimmon, brush and weeds. Brush and trees had grown as big as a man's arm or leg. Many questioned the economic soundness of spending $40 to $50 an acre to clear, fertilize and seed this area.

Today, however, station agronomist George McKibben reports that this former wilderness abounds with heavy clover, alfalfa and grasses. It can produce 300 to 500 pounds of beef or lamb gains per acre. (Fm

SAFETY IS EVERYONE'S JOB. Motorists and farmers have a joint personal responsibility to avoid accidents on the highway. Of 11,700 members of farm families killed in 1959, 5,300 involved motor vehicles, both those traveling in motor vehicles and those involving car-tractor crashes. Another one million disabling injuries occurred to farm families in 1959, 200,000 of which involved motor vehicles.

Hints To Home Owners

Dutch elm disease was first discovered in Holland in 1919. By the mid 30's it had spread throughout Europe. The first cases of Elm disease in this country were reported in 1950 when three trees in Cleveland, Ohio were diagnosed as affected with the disease and were removed.

Three years later, the disease was found in the vicinity of New York City. In the next few years, outbreaks were reported in such widespread localities as New York, Virginia Ohio, Indiana and Michigan.

By this time, the origin of the disease had become apparent when burl elm logs were intercepted at the port of New York. These logs, highly prized by furniture makers were found to contain both the Dutch elm fungus, and the European elm bark beetle, one of the carriers of the disease.

WITH THE discovery, the U. S. Department of Agriculture began to quarantine imported logs, but unfortunately the fungus and carriers were already well established even without more introductions.

In Illinois, the first diseased tree was found near Mattoon in 1950, and by 1954 the disease had hit Cook County.

What is Dutch elm disease? Dutch elm disease is the result of a fungus which invades the water conducting vessels of elm trees. The fungus is carried from diseased to healthy trees primarily by the European elm bark beetle. The fact that this beetle lives very closely with the fungus is what makes Dutch elm disease so disastrous.

At egg laying time, the female beetle seeks out dead or dying elm wood with bark intact, and lays her eggs beneath the bark. The larvae which hatch from the eggs burrow tunnels in the outer wood and inner bark.

MANY OF THE dying elms have Dutch elm disease and the fungus grows and fruits abundantly in the beetle tunnels. Thousand of minute seed-like spores are borne in a sticky fluid.

By the time the beetles have matured they have many spores sticking to this bodies, and when they cut their way out of the bark, they carry these spores with them.

When they emerge the adult beetles immediately fly to healthy elms and begin to feed. Feeding takes place only in the crotches between small twigs on healthy trees.

As the beetles chew into the bark, spores are dislodged from their bodies and get into the sap stream of the tree where they reproduce and eventually distribute throughout the tree.

THE FUNGUS, growing in the sap wood of the tree interferes with water conduction, causing wilting and death of the tree. With death, the tree becomes the breeding place for more beetles, and the cycle begins again.

Control of the disease prevents a twofold problem. First, the source of the fungus and the carrier must be removed. This means cutting down and burning all dead or dying elm trees. The bark beetle will not breed in healthy elms and will thus be eliminated.

If a stump is left when the tree is cut, the bark must be removed to below soil level. Any logs for a fireplace must be completely striped of their bark.

Secondly, healthy trees must be protected from attack by the beetle. For most adequate protection, healthy trees should be sprayed with DDT yearly. The spray should be applied by April, before the flowers or leaves appear, and must cover all bark surfaces, particularly the crotches of small twigs and branches.

SPRAYING after leaves appear is of limited value since the small crotches won't be adequately covered. If it is not practical to spray all elms in a community, by all means spray healthy trees within 1,000 feet of a known diseased tree.

With careful and prompt attention to this control program, Dutch elm disease can be controlled and possibly eliminated. For more information, contact your University of Illinois Extension Service office, Arlington Heights, Illinois. (FM

FFA 4H CLUB

Conservation Camp Draws 80 4-H'ers

More than 80 Illinois 4-H'ers plan to attend the 1961 Wildlife Conservation camp at 4-H Memorial camp near Monticello July 31 to August 4.

Area 4-H'ers attending are Martin Sidor, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Sidor, Arlington Heights, and Eddie Weigt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Weigt, Mount Prospect.

Educational as well as recreational, this wildlife camp gives 4-H'ers a chance to learn more about wildlife conservation in Illinois through class work and field observations.

The 4-H'ers will study timber management, farm pond construction and management, waterfowl management and trapping of Illinois fur bearers. Delegates will also have time for sports, crafts or tours of nearby Robert Allerton park.

Bob Hood of the Cook County 4-H staff of the University of Illinois says the main purpose of the camp is to help promote the 4-H conservation projects throughout Illinois. U. of I. staff members are in charge of the entire program. (FM

The supply of replacement cattle appears to be slightly larger than it was a year ago. Prices will depend mostly upon what farmers are willing to pay.

The total United States calf crop is reported to be up only one per cent from that of last year. But a smaller share of these calves are out of dairy cows. The number of calves from beef-type cows may be up two or three per cent.

Illinois farmers draw most of their feeder cattle from the Great Plains states and from Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Missouri, Kentucky and Tennessee. The calf crops in these states are up about two per cent from a year ago.

SLAUGHTER of calves in the first half of this year was about one per cent less than it was a year before. This decline probably resulted from the reduction in numbers of milk cows.

The number of yearlings available for feeding may not be much different from what it was a year ago. Most of the range states carried over about two per cent more calves last winter than the year before.

Range conditions are mixed. Severe droughts in some areas have been offset by unusually favorable weather in other places.

The most severe drought has been along the Canadian border. It has burned crops and ranges in North Dakota and Montana and adjoining areas. A less severe drought plagues the far southwest — Utah, Nevada, Arizona and southern California.

CONDITIONS in the southern states, sweeping from New Mexico and Texas to the Atlantic Coast, are much better than they were last year.

More cattle will be moved out of the Northern Plains this year than in 1960. Recent prices were down $1 to $3 a hundred pounds from a year before. But if too many buyers go "looking for bargains," the asking prices will go up.

Texas had a dry spring but an abundance of rain later. Texas and the other southern states seem likely to be stronger bidders for cattle than they were last year.

The feed-grain program may tend to reduce the demand for feeder cattle. Farmers will have considerably less corn, sorghum grain, oats and barley to feed. Furthermore, the cost of these feed grains is almost certain to be higher than it has been this past year.

THE GOVERNMENT will sell more corn than it has sold in recent years. CCC sales may be greater than ever before. But these sales do not seem likely to be big enough to offset the effects of the smaller crop and the higher price support level.

Prospects point to prices for fat cattle about the same in 1962 as in 1961. Market receipts may be a bit larger. Supplies of competitive meats are likely to be a little heavier. These increases in supplies could be just about balanced by an increase in consumer buying power.

The market outlook, as we see it, shows a need for buying replacement cattle at prices $3 to $4 a hundred pounds lower than last fall.

4-H Groups Hold Joint Meeting

Two 4-H units, TNT and Up and Doing, recently held their local achievement meeting in St. John Lutheran school on Linneman rd. Projects were on display for viewing by mothers and guests and those studying sewing modeled their garments.

Demonstrations were also a feature of the meeting. Marilyn Anderson demonstrated cake baking, Alice Bollman prepared a tuna fish casserole and Marilyn Maling and Delores Thon gave a presentation on the right and wrong ways of giving a demonstration.

Guests of the evening were Mrs. Noel Foss of Bensenville, Mrs. Frank Henry of Arlington Heights, Cook county 4-H chairman, and Mrs. Edwin Linneman of Des Plaines.

Marian Buch Attends 4-H Conference

Among the 350 Illinois 4-H club members attending the 4-H state junior leadership conference last week was an 18-year-old Palatine girl, Miss Marian Buch, 1113 W. Wood.

The conference is designed to give 4-Hers training in leadership by working on committees and taking part in camp activities.

Miss Buch, a June graduate of Palatine high school, is a member of the Palatine Busy Bees 4-H.

FAMILY MAN'S DREAM

We need a separate room where the kids can play & not mess up the house. We want to stay under $17,000. "What a dreamer," is usually the salesman's answer, but wait—we now have a 3 bedroom ranch, with hardwood floors, lge. kitchen, vanity bath, plus a 20'x15' heated all year round room. All improvements. Only $750 down, 30 yr. mortgage, or assume existing 4½% GI mtge. Transferred owner wanted action, so we priced home at $16,750.

FAMILY MAN'S DREAM

We need a separate room where the kids can play & not mess up the house. We want to stay under $17,000. "What a dreamer," is usually the salesman's answer, but wait—we now have a 3 bedroom ranch, with hardwood floors, lge. kitchen, vanity bath, plus a 20'x15' heated all year round room. All improvements. Only $750 down, 30 yr. mortgage, or assume existing 4½% GI mtge. Transferred owner wanted action, so we priced home at $16,750.

Organize A Priority List For Household Additions

Houses are like people in that few of them are perfect and their defects tend to magnify with age. Chances are most homeowners' problems center not on whether but what to remodel, change, or add—particularly when there are several possibilities and a limited budget.

The most sensible way to arrive at this decision is to analyze your reactions to your particular home's inconveniences, and then systematically tackle the areas of major annoyance.

In this way you may discover that some inconveniences have compensating virtues and major alterations can be deferred. If kitchen cabinet space seems cramped, a simple re-organization of the contents may solve the problem. Bulky platters can double as wall plaques, and infrequently-used pitchers or glassware might make an attractive open-shelf display.

If, on the other hand, your daily garbage removal detail—with its unpleasant trappings of soggy paper bags, uncertain collections in bad weather, messy containers to clean—is a constant source of distress, then an electric food waste disposer takes priority. Food waste worries literally go down the drain with this appliance. General Electric Super-Grind, Super-Quiet Disposalls, for example, incorporate an exclusive Carboloy Cutter for unprecedented grinding speed. And this same Disposall's sound shield reduces operating noise to almost a murmur.

All household ailments should be analyzed in the same careful way. Not the least benefit derived from this method, based on removing major annoyance, is that energy can be expended in action, rather than fretting.

Good Cook Turns Pot Roast Into Tasty Marinated Steak

A "MARINATED STEAK" is what Mrs. Ted Fonfara calls a marinated and grilled pot roast, "because that is exactly what it tastes like when it is done." This good cook marinates the 'steak' in soy sauce and other seasonings and cooks it medium rare over the grill. It is delicious served with Casserole Beans and a molded Cucumber Salad. Helping her mother with the marinade for the steak is the Fonfaras' daughter, Valerie Lee.

An August menu for an August day has been shared with us by Mrs. Ted Fonfara of Arlington Heights. It has appeal no matter how warm the weather, for this is a dinner that is tempting whether served indoors or as outdoor patio fare.

This good cook has a wealth of quantity as well as quality recipes and has had considerable experience cooking for large groups as well as small.

In her capacity as chairman of the House and Hostess committee for the First Presbyterian church, Mrs. Fonfara planned the meals for all church events — both luncheons and dinners—for three years. She also was responsible for purchasing the food as well as participating in the cooking.

"I really enjoy this type of thing," said Mrs. Fonfara, who readily admitted that she volunteered to do all the cooking for a picnic for 100 people this summer. "I'm just that kind of character," this personable lady laughingly declared.

HER ENERGIES have been utilized in many directions other than cooking, for she has served as president of both the Newcomers' club and Junior Cotillion, and before coming to Arlington Heights she was past matron of OES of the State of Massachusetts, as well as deputy grand matron. Currently her talents are turned towards the Northwest Community Hospital auxiliary, and she is also co-chairman of her church circle.

The recipes she has chosen for us today are some which she has found to be particularly successful.

THE MENU features a blade cut pot roast which Mrs. Fonfara calls a Marinated Steak, because "that is exactly what it tastes like when it is done."

"It is easy on the pocketbook and easy to prepare," commented Mrs. Fonfara. "After marinating the pot roast in soy sauce and seasonings, it is grilled just like a steak and can be cooked rare, medium or well-done. No matter which you prefer, this marinated steak will be tender and tasty and cut just like butter."

As accompaniments for this flavorful meat Mrs. Fonfara suggests Casserole Beans and a molded Cucumber Salad.

"Until I found this bean recipe, I always started baked beans from scratch," she said. "But this recipe, which is far easier, is every bit as good."

THE RECIPE calls for three large cans of beans with molasses, which are combined with crisp bacon pieces, tomato sauce, onion, catsup, brown sugar, mustard and tabasco sauce.

Baked for 3 to 5 hours, this savory bean casserole will serve 10 to 12, and the recipe can be easily doubled or tripled for a large crowd.

"A good substitute for a tossed salad," is the way Mrs. Fonfara describes her Cucumber Salad. This flavorful mold combines lime jello with cottage cheese, salad dressing, diced cucumber and chopped onion. Men especially like the tart flavor of this refreshing summertime salad.

And for dessert this capable cook suggests a Coffee Pie, which she says is "frilly, but appeals to men as well as women."

Made in a graham cracker shell, the pie is chiffon-like in texture with a delicious coffee flavor. Served topped with whipped cream, it is an elegant dessert treat.

In addition to her culinary and organizational activities, Mrs. Fonfara enjoys playing bridge and golf for recreation.

THE FONFARAS moved from Milton, Mass., to their home at 811 N. Stratford in Arlington Heights seven years ago. They have two daughters, Linda, 19, and Valerie Lee, 5.

Marinated Steak

1 4-pound blade cut or round bone pot roast
1 bottle soy sauce
½ teaspoon ginger
¼ cup sugar

Spear meat with a fork and tenderize with Adolph's Unseasoned Tenderizer or Instant Tenderizer.

Mix the soy sauce, ginger and sugar together in a pan. Marinate the meat in this mixture for one hour on each side.

Wipe marinade off meat with paper towels. Cook over coals on a grill exactly as you would a steak—20 to 25 minutes on each side for rare to medium rare.

Casserole Beans

3 1-pound cans Beans with Molasses
6 slices bacon cut in 1-inch pieces
1 8-ounce can Hunts Tomato Sauce
1 cup chopped onion
½ cup Brooks catsup
¼ cup brown sugar
2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 teaspoon salt
4 drops tabasco sauce

Cook bacon until almost crisp and drain. Mix together beans, bacon and remaining ingredients.

Bake, uncovered, in bean pot or casserole in a 300-degree oven for 3 to 5 hours.

Serves 10 to 12.

Cucumber Salad

1 package lime jello
¾ cup hot water
1 cup small curd cottage cheese
1 cup salad dressing
1 medium cucumber, diced small, pared and seeds removed
1 medium onion, chopped fine

Dissolve jello in hot water and let cool. Add the remaining ingredients and beat with egg beater until frothy.

Pour into a one-quart ring mold and refrigerate until firm.

Serves 6.

Coffee Pie

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
3 eggs, separated
1 cup sugar
1 cup cold strong coffee
¼ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 9-inch graham cracker shell
½ pint whipping cream

Soften gelatin in water for five minutes.

Beat egg yolks until light. Beat in ½ cup sugar gradually. Add coffee slowly, then salt. Cook over boiling water for five minutes, stirring constantly. Add gelatin and stir until dissolved. Chill until mixture begins to thicken.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Beat in remaining sugar gradually. Add vanilla. Fold into gelatin mixture.

Serves 6 to 8.

Crust:

20 graham crackers, crushed
¼ cup butter, melted
¼ cup sugar

Mix ingredients together and pat into pie tin.

Point of View

When I was a boy of fourteen, my father was so ignorant I could hardly stand to have the old man around. But when I got to be twenty-one, I was astonished at how much he had learned in seven years—Mark Twain.

Dress Baby Simply For First Checkup

It's important, too, says the August issue of Better Homes & Gardens magazine, because it's the start of what you hope will be a lifelong health program.

DRESS BABY simply for the trip, so that undressing him in the doctor's office won't make him fussy and difficult to examine. Make sure, too, that he's not hungry. An open-down-the-front shirt and sacque, snap-fastened waterproof pants, zippered bunting are easy to remove. In summer, a lightweight shawl or blanket does for a wrap.

The doctor will examine the baby's eyes, ears, nose and mouth; he'll note the condition and tone of his skin. He'll check his heart and lungs with the stethoscope. He'll probably give the first of baby's immunizing shots and may test the wet diaper against the rare chance of baby having a metabolism defect.

USUALLY THE nurse weighs and measures the baby before the examination. His diaper is removed before he's weighed, so it's well to have one or two spares in hand for an emergency. Disposables are convenient. Diaper is replaced; shirt may be slipped on, but left unfastened.

Dad should accompany Mother on this expedition, if it is possible. The doctor will probably want to discuss with both parents the baby's health and psychological needs. Take a list of questions you might want to ask, too.

The best creed we can have is charity toward the creeds of others.—Josh Billings.

Week's Best food buys

Consumer food purchases normally fall off during July and August, but this year so-called consumer resistance is having a more telling effect on markets.

Currently good supply conditions plus the seasonal relationship to demand is only part of the story. Apparently economic conditions and consumer price consciousness are much in evidence as factors also resisting retail price advances, according to the University of Illinois consumer service.

THE TOTAL effect is enough to hold retail beef, lamb and poultry prices steady for the week ending August 5, despite some firming costs at live markets on reduced receipts of cattle, limited hog supplies and smaller lamb marketings. Retail pork is the major exception. Pricing sentiment is mixed with some stores pegging higher tags following sharply advancing costs for some pork cuts. Live markets here registered a high for the year. Bacon is especially higher.

Eggs started the advance at retail as predicted last week, reflecting continued downturns in production and unaggressive action at wholesale.

Lower prices are noted on fresh produce lines, as the month of August begins to deliver its annual abundance of locally grown fruits, vegetables and melons.

THE U OF I consensus bargain column this week shows: meats — beef chuck roasts, sirloin and round steaks, ground beef, lamb shoulder and leg roasts; poultry — fryers and turkeys; produce — blueberries, pears, plums, summer (cooking) apples, sweetcorn, cabbage, tomatoes, cucumbers and carrots.

In the pricing column, the promotional emphasis continues in beef, including sirloins and other steaks, but general pricing remains unchanged. Spot bargains will be found in pork chops, center cuts ranging widely but mostly tagged 89-93c. Bacon moved sharply higher to post 73-75c as a current general range. Later bacon might go as high as 79c. Ham, on the other hand, is slightly lower in costs, whole hams quoting now 55-65c.

Fryer marketings are currently 20 per cent above a year ago, but aggressive retail promotion plus some increased shipping costs is sufficient to raise wholesale costs 2c. Retails reflect this with fryer quotes mostly 25-35c, but many birds will be found on promotion at the 21-25c level. Turkey markets are at a standstill, emphasized by buyer cautiousness in the face of 25 per cent greater supplies. Toms and hens show a promotion range of 29-35c although the general range holds at 39-45c. Large size grade A eggs advanced to 51-57c, and increased supplies of small sizes quote 33c.

IN PRODUCE, Michigan blueberries arrive in heavy supply, summer or cooking apples are abundant and depress the market, peaches show signs of heading higher in cost, and in contrast the bottom has about dropped out of the watermelon market. Sweetcorn is considerably improved as a value, tomatoes range more widely in price and quality, while cabbage and lettuce prices have fallen. Carrots, too, are better values.

For the month of August, the calendar of produce values (*indicates peak supply month) includes:

Vegetables — beans, beets, corn*, cucumbers, eggplant, garlic*, green onions, lettuce, okra, peppers, Swiss chard, tomatoes* and yams; fruits — blackberries, blueberries, figs*, grapes, lemons, limes, nectarines, peaches, pears, prune-plums* and raspberries; melons — cantaloupe, casabas, crenshaws*, honeydews*, Persians and watermelon. Curried Chicken Barbecue Style

It's true . . . you can't beat meals cooked outdoors! For there's nothing more inviting to the eye or more tempting to the appetite than food being cooked over charcoal.

Young, tender chicken whole, split, or parts takes to this method of cooking so readily. As good as it is, grilled chicken is made more tempting when basted during cooking with a well-seasoned sauce.

WHILE MANY outdoor chefs treasure their barbecue recipes and keep thm a secret, you'll be pleased and proud to share your recipe for CURRY BARBECUE SAUCE for chicken. It's secret is canned condensed cream of chicken soup. And how it glorifies the grilled chicken! You'll feature it at many of your outdoor and indoor summer suppers.

Complete your barbecue with a big tossed green salad and for dessert fill ice-surrounded pineapple shells with chunks of pineapple and strawberries.

Curry Barbecue Sauce

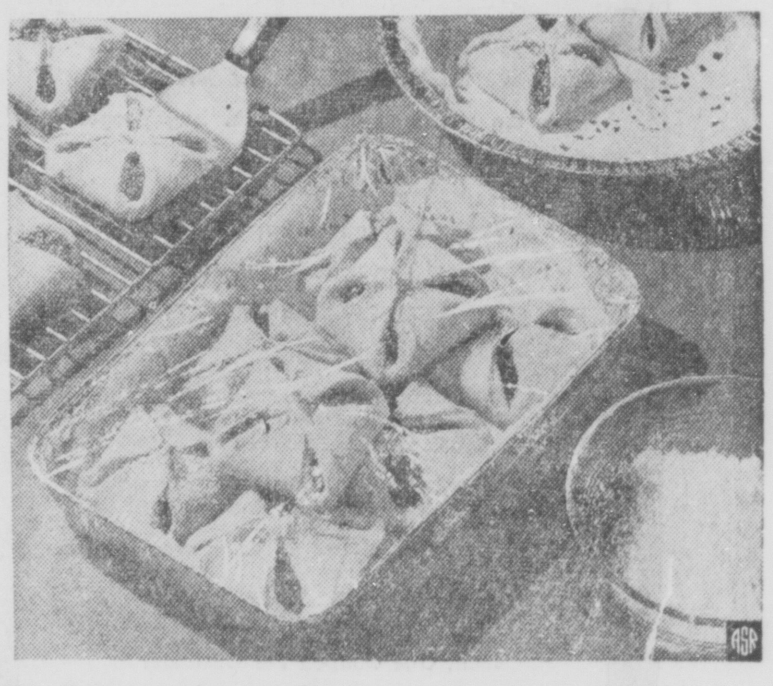
1 can (10½) ounces) condensed cream of chicken soup
1 tablespoon salad oil
2 tablespoons water
1 tablespoon water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
½ teaspoon curry powder
1 small clove garlic, minced

Combine all ingredients. Heat; simmer about 10 minutes; stir now and then. Makes about 1 cup sauce.

Chicken (Outdoors): Prepare sauce. Place 2 pounds chicken parts on grill about 6 inches above glowing coals. Cook 40 to 60 minutes, basting with sauce and turning every 5 minutes. Add a little water to sauce, if desired. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Chicken (Broiler): Prepare sauce. Place 2 pounds chicken parts on broiler rack; brush with sauce. Broil, about 6 inches from heat, 40 minutes or until done brushing with sauce and turning every 5 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Dessert from the Freezer Makes a Relaxed Hostess



The time to make use of your home freezer more than ever is when the weather turns hot. Summertime is also a good time to cut down on elaborate preparation for entertaining guests.

For instance, a simple dessert luncheon before the afternoon of cards or chatter is a well-accepted idea.

To use your freezer for such an occasion, prepare a dessert such as Fruit Pastry Squares on a cool morning. Freeze unwrapped, then wrap with transparent saran in amounts suitable to your use.

When "party" day comes, you can be cool and unhurried and will be assured of a relaxed time with your guests.

Fruit Pastry Squares

1 cup butter or margarine, room temperature
1 package (8 ounce) cream cheese, room temperature
1/3 cup sugar
2 tbsps, grated lemon rind
¾ tsp. salt
4¼ cups sifted flour
1¼ cups thick apricot or prune filling or very thick orange marmalade
Confectioner's sugar

Cream together the butter, cream cheese, sugar, lemon rind and salt. Add flour, a small amount at a time; mix well. Shape into a roll. Cut into thirds. Wrop each piece in saran; chill.

Roll one portion of dough at a time on a lightly floured board, rolling dough into an oblong 6½ inches wide and 12½ inches long. Cut into eight 3-inch squares.

Place one scant tablespoonful of filling in center of each square. Fold the 4 corners to center over filling and press crust together gently. Arrange one inch apart on baking sheet. Bake in slow oven (325°F.) until done, about 30 minutes.

Remove from pan at once; cool on wire rack. Springle tops with confectioner's sugar. Freeze. Wrap in saran, individually or in the amount desired for one meal. Store in freezer. Yield: 24 squares.

Built-In Wall Desk Functional in Home

It isn't surprising to learn from a survey recently conducted that today's homeowner is as plagued with paperwork as the average small businessman was 15 years ago. Even though today's printing presses are hard at work producing forms, invoices, receipts, checks, letterheads and envelopes to make things easier for office work, this means all sorts of special records to file and "each one in its proper place" adds to the efficiency of the businessman.

FOR THE MAN who brings work home to catch up on office details, there is an exciting new way to help keep records and stationery organized at home. Using only three feet of wall, you can provide your home with a well-lighted desk with ample storage space. The desk section is concealed and out of the way when not in use.

DESIGNED BY Bill Baker, nation's leading authority on built-ins, this unit is divided into five basic areas: two sliding doors covering adjustable shelves, a slide-out shelf with a fluorescent fixture, a stationery storage unit and three drawrs.

Below this storage unit is the desk top with slide-out construction design that affords plenty of knee space.

The complete blueprint is available for 10 cents from the Space Saving Institute, 18 E. 60th st., New York, 22, N. Y.

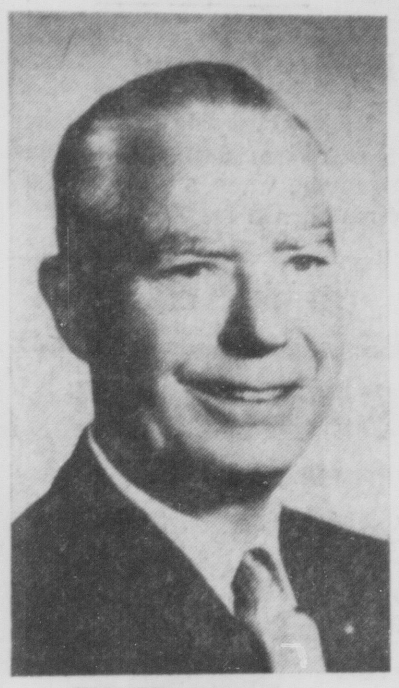
Walter H. Ziegler Joins Baird, Warner Sales Staff



WALTER ZIEGLER

Walter H. Ziegler, 102 Wilshire lane, Arlington Heights has joined the sales staff of the Arlington Heights office of Baird and Warner Real Estate, according to R. G. Walters, district manager.

ZIEGLER WILL specialize in the sale of residential properties in the Arlington Heights area. He was previously associated with one of Kansas City's largest real estate firms.

A native of Philadelphia, he attended Drexel Tech and the University of Pennsylvania.

He lives with his wife, Bettie, and twin daughters, Kathy and Jennie, and has a married daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Stillwell of Kansas City. He has two grandchildren, Susie and Steve. Ziegler's mother, Mrs. Jennie E. Ziegler, is also a resident of Arlington Heights. (BB

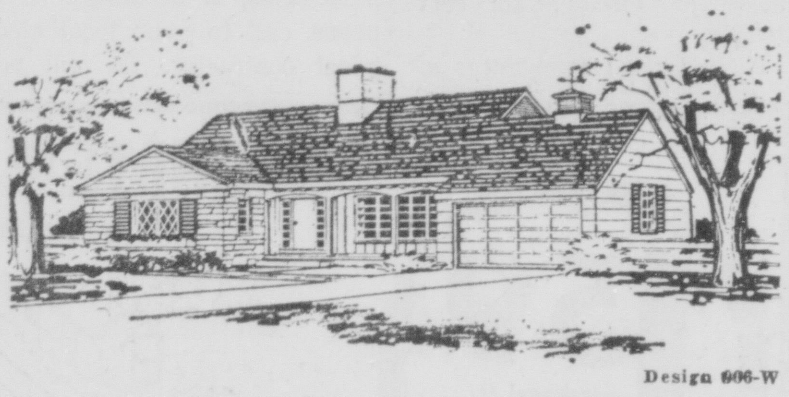
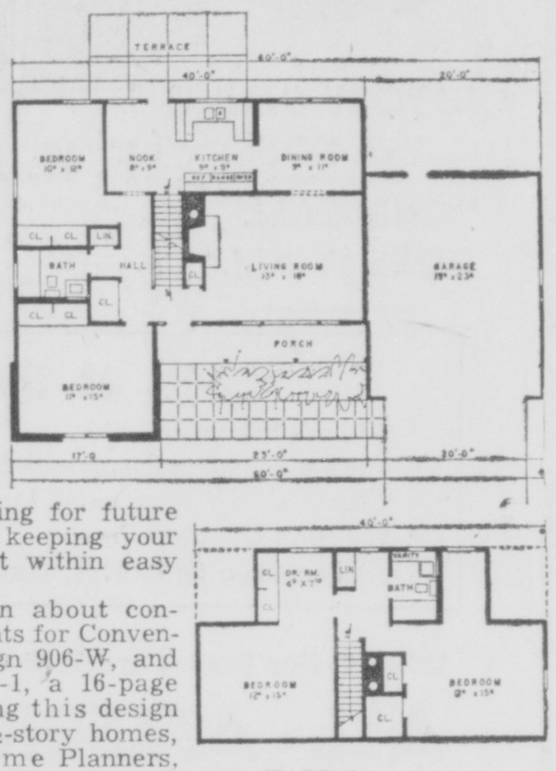
NEED LOTS OF LIVING SPACE? THEN, THIS HOME IS FOR YOU



Design 906-W

Here is modern expansible living at its very best. Imposing in appearance but easy on your budget, the floor plan of this delightful home is a marvel of efficiency.

Created by Richard B. Pollman, one of America's most distinguished designers, this 1,877 sq. ft. story-and-a-half home features four bedrooms, two complete baths, a formal dining room, and large kitchen—plus, a separate breakfast room. With 1,152 sq. ft. of space on the first floor, and 725 sq. ft. on the second floor this home becomes an outstanding value for the large family with a restricted budget.



If desired, the second floor can be left unfinished thus allowing for future expansion while keeping your initial investment within easy reach.

For information about construction blueprints for Convenient Living Design 906-W, and for Portfolio D-1, a 16-page booklet illustrating this design and 20 other 1½-story homes, send 35¢ to: Home Planners, Inc., 16310 Grand River Ave., Detroit 27, Mich.

Fire Losses Listed by NBFU

Estimated fire losses in the U. S. during June amounted to $103,348,000, the National Board of Fire Underwriters reported recently.

The loss represents an increase of 24.8 per cent over losses reported for June, 1960, and an increase of 11 per cent over losses for May of this year, according to Lewis A. Vincent, NBFU's general manager.

Losses for the first six months of 1961 now total $635,017,000, an increase of 10.6 per cent from the first six months of 1960, when they amounted to $57[illegible]971,000.

These estimated losses include an allowance for uninsured and unreported losses.

YOUR DOORWAY TO BETTER LIVING

ARLINGTON REALTY, INC.

Electric Group Says Area Wiring Is Bad

The Electric Association is marshalling its forces to combat the plague of inadequate wiring in Chicago area homes.

All segments of the electrical industry, including local electrical contractors in communities served by the association within a 50-mile radius of Chicago, are participating in the drive.

Surveys have shown that four out of five homes in the area are inadequately wired, with their occupants suffering inconveniences and risking hazards.

"Typically, housewives cannot keep pace with modern electrical living when home wiring is below par," a spokesman for the association said. "They find their homemaking tasks seriously hampered and prolonged."

LACK OF outlets, lights and switches is only one phase of the problem. Here are typical inconveniences and dangers pin-pointed in the association survey:

—the housewife has to wait a long time for appliances such as a toaster or iron to heat up.

—she always has to unplug one appliance in order to use another, or risk a "blackout" whenever she uses all the lights and appliances she needs.

—because of insufficient wall outlets in the right places, she has to crawl under or maneuver around furniture in order to connect lamps, the vacuum cleaner and other appliances.

Lack of proper outlets also means she has to keep furniture and lamps placed in one position, thereby creating a traffic problem that quickly wears out rugs or floors.

—she has to watch her step so she won't trip over unsightly extension cords running throughout rooms.

—SHE HAS to enter rooms in darkness due to the absence of wall switches, and risks personal injury because of dimly lighted stairways.

—she has to forego that new washer or other major appliance she dreams about owning, because the wiring doesn't have individual circuits to serve them.

These typical annoyances are common in the majority of homes built before 1948 and many newer homes as well, the association said.

And the inconveniences are further compounded by the danger of overheating wires that could cause serious fires, and by the fact that the consumer is paying for wasted energy that is lost along wires after the current has passed through the meter.

THE SOLUTION, says the association, is as simple as a phone call to your local electrical contractor. He will not only check your home, free of charge, and give you its "housepower" rating, but will also advise you how to update your home electrically at minimum inconvenience and expense. (BB

Top Executive Appointments Announced by Bruning Co.

HERBERT F. BRUNING

ROBERT A. MUNCH

Charles Bruning Co., Inc., has announced the election of Herbert F. Bruning as chairman of the board and Robert A. Munch as president and director of the company at a meeting of the firm's board of directors.

BRUNING, FORMER president, started as manager of the firm's paper sensitizing department in Chicago in 1925. After serving as manager of the Chicago Bruning office in 1930, he was appointed vice president of the Company in 1931. He became president in 1949. Bruning, son of Charles Bruning, the firm's founder, has spearheaded the company's greatest growth. Last year's sales exceeded $49,000,000.

Munch, with the Bruning Co. for 38 years, started as a salesman in Chicago in 1923. He was subsequently promoted to midwest sales manager, corporate advertising manager, and branch manager of the San Francisco office. He was named administrative vice president earlier this year.

Bruning, with home offices in Mount Prospect, is one of the nation's pioneer manufacturers of diazo type copying machines for both office and engineering applications. The firm markets a wide line of drafting, microfilm and allied materials used in the engineering and architectural fields.

McIntosh Announces New Inverness Area

ARTHUR T. McINTOSH

Arthur T. McIntosh Jr., Barrington, President of Arthur T. McIntosh and Co., land developers in and around Chicago the early part of the century, announced today that a new section of homesites in their Inverness residential community will be offered for sale beginning August 5. Inverness is located northwest of Chicago between Palatine and Barrington.

THIS NEW AREA, which is another addition to Inverness, is on a high plateau which combines an old orchard and hedgerows of large cedar trees. The land is divided into sites of one to three acres. It is the 12th section of Inverness to open since 1938; the entire community covers 1,700 acres—is about three miles long and 1½ miles wide. It is one of the few large developed properties where all the acreage is contiguous — an unseparated tract of land.

ACTUALLY, McINTOSH development plans called for the opening of the new section next year. McIntosh states "the sale of homesites this year in the Inverness community has exceeded our expectations. Therefore, in order to continue giving our prospective customers a wide selection of sites, it was decided to open this new area."

Golf, swimming, horseback riding and tennis may be enjoyed by the residents because of private facilities right on the property. (BB

August 'Suburbia Today' Features Alexander King

Alexander King, famous author of "Mine Enemy Grows Older" and "May This House Be Safe From Tigers" tears a few pages from his memoirs and tells about his encounter with Peter Kilian, the staunch citizen from the telephone company who came to collect an overdue bill of a few thousand dollars, in the August issue of Suburbia Today, which will come to you in the Aug. 10 edition of Paddock Publications.

There's a lot of good vacation reading in the supplement this month. If you're already on your way, you might enjoy reading about what's going on at home, in the news column, "Getting Around," which will fill you in on local news such as the book overdue at the library for 129 years and the man who counts mosquitos by the number of times he's bitten and the crook who reported himself to the police.

IF YOU HAVEN'T yet made up your mind, may we suggest the Virgin Islands? Author Michael Frome takes us there, this month, and shows the great variety of activities the Islands have to offer vacationers—from the swank resorts and shops on St. Thomas to the campgrounds in sheltered beach coves in the Virgin Islands National Park on St. John, that are right near an underwater trail that is a paradise for skin divers and snorkelers.

"Bon Voyage," say our cartoonists, innocently enough, in "Suburbia—Any Day," while Melanie De Proft tells how two couples can turn any stay-in-town Saturday into a vacation by enjoying a "Buffet Supper For Four," which includes refreshing Macaroni Salad in Baskets, Oven-Barbecued Chicken, Blueberry Pudding De Luxe, Chilled Coffee Souffle Mold and Kohlrabi in Sour Cream.

Noted actor Walter Slezak tells how he introduced his three children to grand opera. It's fun, he says, if you start off by telling the stories as bedtime tales. Then, when they finally hear the music, it is more like meeting an old friend than going through a stodgy cultural exercise.

"UNUSUAL Suburban Home" is the spectacular atrium house that Cecil Alexander designed for his family in suburban Atlanta. Built around a beautiful inner court under a floating dome, the house also features a smooth-running kitchen planned so that it could take care of big parties and still be a compact area for daily use.

Finally, our garden editor takes up the subject of greenhouses and decided that August is the best time to plan one. It's not midsummer madness, says John Brimmer. If you start in August you'll be all ready to enjoy your plants and the sun when the winter winds start to blow outside (and they will, friends, no matter how impossibly hot it was yesterday.)

Mt. Prospect Bank Official Attends School of Banking

Carl W. Hammerl, executive vice president, Mount Prospect State bank will leave August 13, for two weeks' attendance at the school of banking at the University of Wisconsin, Madison. This will be his third year at the school, which requires two weeks' resident attendance each year for three years to earn the certificate of graduation. Throughout the year between resident sessions, students are required to do extension work involving problems in all phases of banking.

THE SCHOOL is sponsored by the Central states conference, composed of bankers' associations in 16 midwestern states. Attendance this year will approximate 1,252 bankers, ranging from junior officers and department managers to presidents, vice presidents, and board chairmen of banks from 35 states.

The faculty of over 110 instructors consists of bankers who are specialists in their respective fields, practicing attorneys, business executives, and members of a number of university and college faculties. (BB

THURS., AUG. 3, 1961

Mrs. Herman Haas Jr., 407 S. Wille, Mount Prospect, wife of Herman Haas, general manager of O. H. Bambas Co., Inc., Des Plaines, was in Chicago, this week attending the annual convention of the National Candy Wholesalers association. Mrs. Haas is one of more than 3,500 candy people from all over the United States and several foreign countries who were present for the meeting, which was held at the Palmer House from July 23 through July 26.

WHILE attending the convention, she compared the merits of hundreds of new types of candy which were displayed by leading candy manufacturers at the "Nation's Only Complete Candy Show." She also learned the latest methods for proper handling and storage of candy, new methods for displaying and merchandising, and new ways of providing retail stores with more services and a greater variety of candy for local customers.

The National Candy Wholesalers association is composed of the leading wholesale distributors of candy, gum, and other confectionery items from every state of the union as well as many in Canada, Puerto Rico, Australia and several other foreign countries. (BB

Social Security Minimum Raised

Persons who now receive social security benefits at or near the minimum level of $33 a month will be raised to $40 as a result of the 1961 amendments to the Social Security Act.

Julius Berman, northwest district manager of the Social Security Administration estimates this will affect 2,175,000 persons who now receive benefits at or near the minimum level of $33 a month. The new law will be in effect beginning with checks mailed early in September. The lowest benefit payable to a worker who retired at 65 or later will be $40.

DEPENDENTS of these retired workers will also receive increases, if the increase will not raise the total family payment above $60. Where there is only one person getting benefits based on the social security account of a worker who has died, the survivor will have the payment increased to $40.

There will be a small increase in the payments to survivor families who have been getting a total family payment of less than $60.

These benefits will be made automatically. There is no need for beneficiaries to apply for the increase. (BB

International Trade Fair Brings World's Wares to Area

Visitors to the Chicago International Trade fair now being held in McCormick place can get a lesson in modern day geography in a very visually authentic way.

The 35 million dollar lake front exposition center has been turned into a miniature world via 26 national pavilions displaying the "best" wares produced by foreign countries and the U.S.A.

The annual International trade fair, held mainly to let buyers from all corners of the earth know what products are available for worldwide customers, is also a great source of interest to those not engaged in the buying end of a business.

Each pavilion is manned by natives many of whom are dressed in their native costumes. These people are willing and anxious to tell the world about their country, about its people and the products it manufactures and wants to sell outside its boundaries.

EVERY KIND of giftware imaginable is on display. Many items are hand made, including materials of many kinds. Hand made garments on display are made of leather, fur, wool, linen and silk.

Other wares include sports equipment, glassware, stainless steel utensils, light fixtures, Persian carpets, jewelry, sailboats, automobiles and farm equipment. All these items, and more, are displayed in the various pavilions, amidst decors which make visitors feel they are in the country in which the particular items are made.

In the Finnish pavilion stands a very impressive 29 ft. sailboat, all hand made and representative of one of the favorite sports of the land. Woolens, glassware, jewelry and stainless steel wares in the Finnish pavilion all blend together, through their elegant, but simple lines, into a setting which was awarded a plaque for its beauty of design. The award was given for "jewelry beautifully done; neat clothes and wonderfully designed fabrics."

THE FINNISH pavilion held a special reception for the press and buyers, Friday. One of the highlights of the event was a style show, which displayed fashions designed in Finland and made with materials manufactured there. Elegant Finnish jewelry complemented the apparel.

Other pavilions which won the American Institute of Designer awards included the Berlin pavilion which "depicted through movies and panels, an arresting 'iron curtain' for visual effect:" France, for its authentic bistro and French wine garden and United Arab Republic pavilion for its "very impressive contrast of modern and old desks."

The Iranian pavilion displayed an array of items including brass art objects of an antique nature. Many of the items displayed are rare antiques.

The Korean pavilion displays intricate handmade inlaid chests and tables which took many months of hand labor to complete.

FOOD, TOO, comes in for its share of the worldwide spotlight. The French wine garden, or street cafe, is one of the focal points of the pavilion where visitors can taste the choicest wines and cheeses of the land. In the Indonesian pavilion, visitors enjoy special blends of coffee. In the authentic German beer garden, a band plays the best of German folk music to help visitors feel they are "really there in the 'old country.' "

Items displayed in the pavilions are not for sale to the general public, but some are on sale in the Carson Pirie Scott International market.

Not all of the fair is concerned with wares from foreign countries.

FOR THE FIRST time, items manufactured by the United States are displayed side-by-side with those of other countries. Many booths in the USA pavilion show the usual items found in merchandise fairs. Others have gone to great lengths to make interesting displays, depicting various services offered by nationwide companies.

The First National Bank of Chicago has an impressive display with a focal point of a quarter-million dollars in gold coins secured to a large revolving clear globe, representing the world. Around the revolving display, coins of present and ancient days, from all over the world are attractively displayed and explained.

And speaking of money, Lloyd's of London has reconstructed an ancient London coffee house. In back of the coffee house, visitors get a birds eye view of what the insurance business carried on by Lloyd's is like.

From the beginning to the end of the 900 ft. long mall, gaily decoraged with flags of all nations, visitors are sure to feel they have had a real glimpse of the world and have learned of the industries and customs of all their neighbors.

THE FAIR is very worthwhile, both inside the hall and outside where water shows are presented several times each day and in the parking lot, where one would believe he was in the midst of the United States' largest and most secret air and rocket base.

The fair is open to public

The Way We See It

Public Aid Spending Alarms Suburbanites

Confronted with expanding problems in poverty, swollen relief rolls, slums and suffering, Americans are voicing concern at the upward trend in welfare spending. The principle of public responsibility for the support of the needy is one of the oldest of American traditions. But the staggering toll in money and wasted lives is prompting many citizens to question the value of our present welfare program.

Rising relief costs have been particularly criticized by taxpayers in the northwest suburbs. This is not surprising, since 20 to 23 per cent of our combined township, state, and federal tax dollar is currently being funneled into public aid. The federal government is providing Illinois with $112 million a year for public assistance, and the state is spending $250 million annually on welfare. With nearly 6 per cent of its population on relief, Chicago and Cook county are devoting $172 million a year to assistance.

This is only part of the bill. The hidden costs paid for our slums in increased crime, health hazards, and family disorganization are immeasurable. The degradation and waste of human potential is appalling.

But where to point the finger?

The recent clash over welfare policies in Newburgh, N. Y., has attracted local as well as national attention. That city's well-publicized "get tough" policy has found wide appeal among suburbanites.

Newburgh has directed its assault on the relief recipients themselves, classifying them as "an increasing burden of free loaders on those who are self-reliant."

Relief for unwed mothers has been especially criticized by Newburgh officials "tired of paying taxes for illegitimacy." To correct this ill, Newburgh will deny aid to unwed mothers who continue to produce children.

This is not quite the way to handle an issue involving children who are victims of adult delinquency. Although insisting that public money should not be spent to "support" illegitimacy, Newburgh does not say how it thinks helpless children should be cared for.

The Newburgh philosophy ignores the fact that this problem involves deep and widespread social implications not confined to the public assistance field; it is related to the larger problems of family instability, housing, education, job opportunity, and social mobility.

The answer lies not in penalizing the children but in providing the intensive counseling and caseworker supervision essential to get such mothers off the relief rolls.

Newburgh's blunt approach to public assistance is supported by those suburbanites who regard public aid as "wasteful" and "an incentive for laziness." These critics make much of allegedly widespread abuses in the administration of Illinois relief funds.

Such attitudes are irresponsible and dangerous.

There is no evidence of widespread graft and cheating in the assistance program. If the state's welfare program becomes subjected to large-scale deception and fraud, the blame must be shouldered by those members of the 72nd General Assembly who voted for a $6.7 million cut in the administrative operating funds of the Illinois Public Aid Commission. This reduction in staff will likely result in increased caseloads per worker and hinder proper control and supervision of expenditures. This could cost Illinois taxpayers considerably more than $6.7 million.

This is typical of our short-sighted approach to problems in public aid; we have attacked symptoms rather than causes. In an era marked by increasing automation, dwindling farms, and shifts to urban areas, it is not enough to provide an unskilled man with a minimum of shelter, food, and clothing and tell him to find a job. Nor is it reasonable to expect a monthly dole to solve problems of a displaced marginal farm family.

The present philosophy of public aid is perpetuating dependency as a way of life instead of restoring relief recipients as contributing members of society. The goal of public assistance should be to help people to help themselves. Newburgh, N. Y. is not the answer to achieving this goal.

If there is to be a real assault on poverty and eventual relief for the taxpayer's pocketbook, long-range action must be undertaken to correct the causes of dependency. Such action must include intensive counseling, vocational retraining programs, slum clearance, centers for indoctrination into urban culture, stay-in-school programs for youngsters, incentives to attract industry into depressed areas, and expanded opportunities for minorities.

Such a program is expensive. But in the long run, it will prove economical by breaking a pattern of dependency that is finding second and third generation families beginning to appear on the relief rolls.

Illinois' Political Life Is Choked by Mediocrity

Critics have noted that some good laws were passed, some bad laws were passed, some good laws were not passed, and some bad laws were not passed.

This is all very true. However, these truths cancel each other out and tell us very little about the health of government in Illinois.

The 72nd General Assembly confirmed the aridness of political life in Illinois. It proved once again that vigorous independent political thinkers have about as much chance in Springfield as a flower in the sun-baked dust bowl.

The majority of Illinois legislators are organized in blocs, which are more important to them even than their parties. These legislators are devoted to serving their blocs, and the vested interest and lobbies which stand behind them.

The legislator who has thought deeply about government, and who advocates a program of laws reflecting the problems and opportunities of the 20th century, and who believes his duty is to the people of the state rather than to one or another bloc—this legislator is dismissed as a "lightweight."

And who are the "heavyweights?" They are the guardians of an archaic state constitution, the dispensers of the most patronage jobs, the spokesmen of the race tracks and the currency exchanges, and other legislative first lieutenants of the wealthiest lobbies.

Mediocrity, or worse, is the touchstone for playing the role of "heavyweight" in this setup.

Occasionally someone with talent and ideals is elevated to a top spot to excite the hopes of the public. But he will find himself bound hand and foot by "the system" as Gulliver was bound by the host of Lilliputians.

Adlai Stevenson met this fate as governor. Paul Douglas gives luster to the pretensions of the blocs which make up the Democratic party, and is safely removed to the banks of the Potomac.

We are decades behind some states in blasting away roadblocks to good state government.

The job will not be done by a person who tags along with the existing dominant forces in either of the political parties.

There is an old adage, "Politics is the art of the possible."

In Illinois these words have often been used as an excuse for failure.

At other times and places, this adage has been a challenge. Bob LaFollette in Wisconsin two generations ago believed that good state government was possible. Politics (and the people) proved he was right. He was a remarkable man.

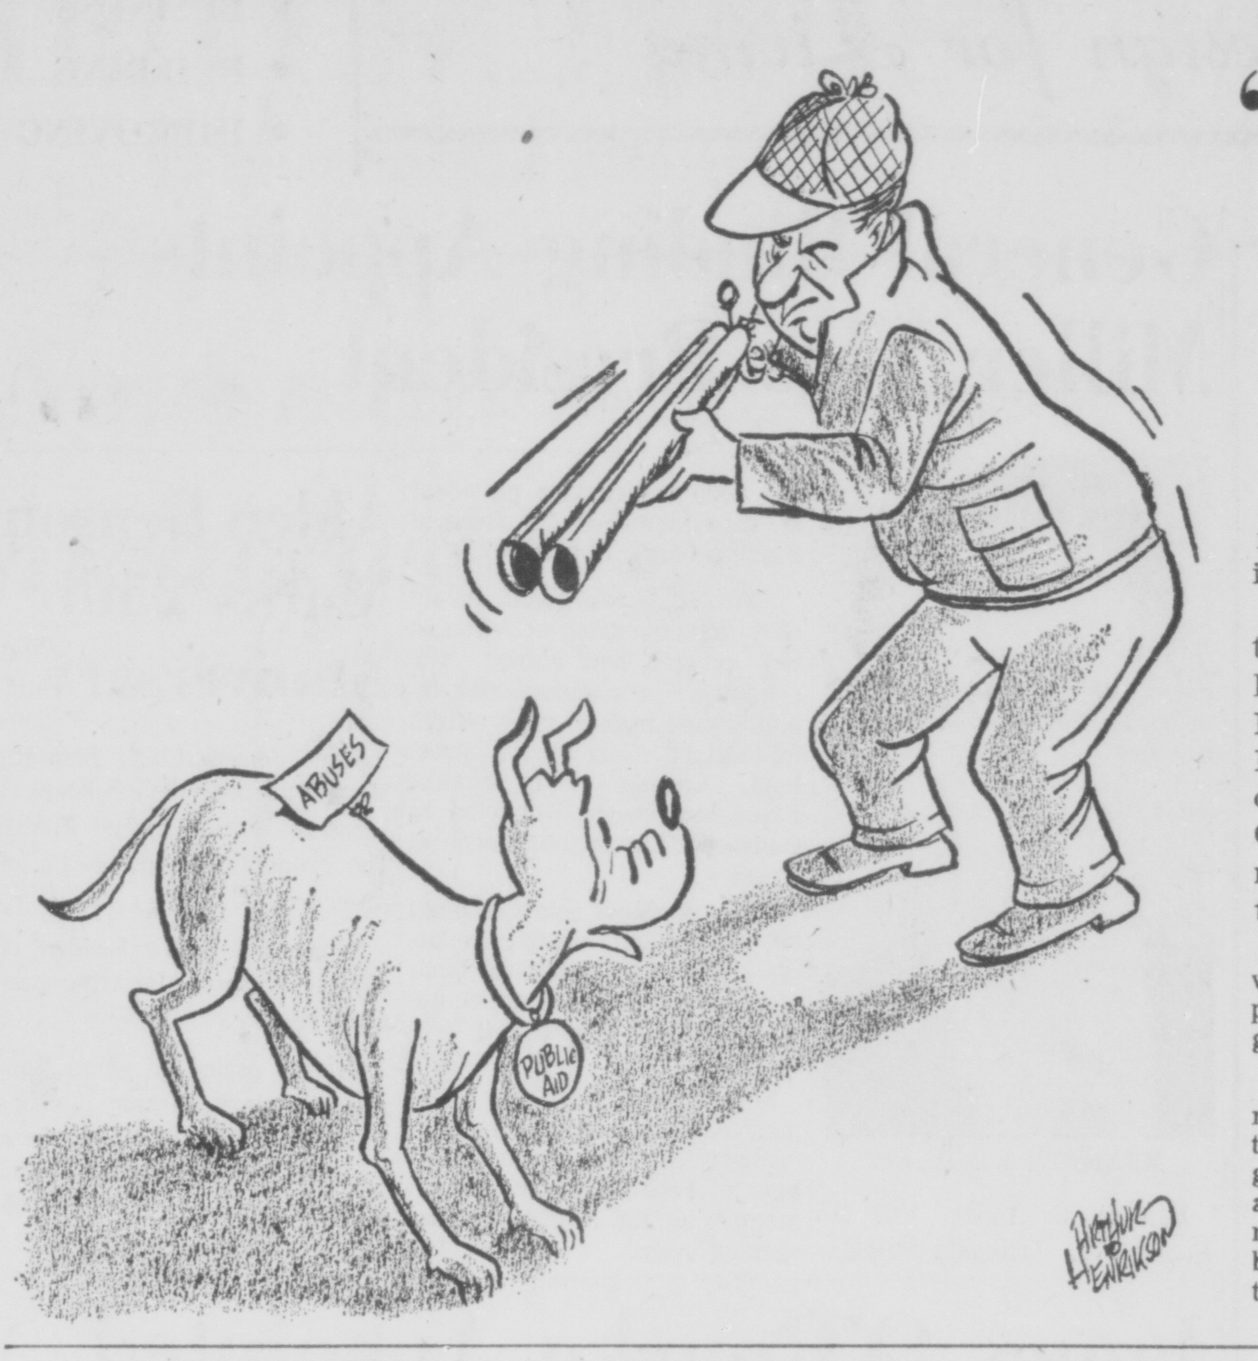
Destroy the Dog to Get the Flea?



Consumers of Abundance

Advance of Automation May Create 'Workless Society'

by CHARLES HAYES

The advance of technology may soon enable the United States to achieve a "workless society" — with good results for most Americans.

So concludes a report published by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

The increasing use of automation will probably make blue collar workers "as scarce as farmers" toward the end of the century, writes Gerard Piel in the report entitled "Consumers of Abundance."

In the "workless society" full employment in the production side of the economy will probably be impossible, the report says. However, this does not mean that Americans will become a nation of idlers who gradually will be bored to death.

On the contrary, Piel declares, release from machine tending will enable Americans to busy themselves at much more satisfying and valuable types of work.

THE LIBERATION of people from tasks unworthy of human capacity should free that capacity for a host of activities now neglected in our civilization: teaching and learning, fundamental scientific investigation, the performing arts and the graphic arts, letters, the crafts, politics and social service.

These activities involve the interaction of people with people rather than things, states Piel. They are admittedly not productive activities, nor are they profitable in the strict sense. But they are highly rewarding to the individuals involved and add greatly to the wealth of the nation.

The report declares that automation is so rapidly eliminating the function of the human worker from the production process that in a few decades there will be little or no practical justification for the type of work now engaged in by millions of production workers in factories, and in mining, transportation and building.

It suggests that Americans may have to revise their customary attitude toward work: "The primary function of work in our economy today is to secure not the production but the distribution of goods. Modern industrial technology produces a vast material surplus of goods, many times greater than the need of the workers producing it. That surplus goes begging for consumers because technology has subverted the social institution of work."

SINCE 1939, the share of the national income going to the most fortunate fifth of nation's families has shrunk from 55 to 45 per cent, says Piel. Almost the entire 10 per cent subtracted from the top fifth has gone to the middle three-fifths, improving their relative position by about 25 per cent.

"This redistribution of purchasing power is another important factor in reducing the amount of work people do in the course of their lives," emphasizes Piel. "It makes it possible for young people to postpone their entrance into the labor market through high school and even college age, and it takes workers out of the labor market by voluntary retirement at the other end of their careers."

The report says that shortening of the work week and the working life "still leaves untold the real story of how work has been spread to secure the spread of purchasing power.

"If work is defined with any sort of strictness to mean productive work — that is, the extraction of raw materials and the making of consumable goods from them (farming, mining, manufacturing, building, and transportation) — then less than half of the labor force, only 25 million people, are really at work."

PIEL POINTS out that the remainder of the work force is engaged in distribution (12 million); financial, clerical, and service functions (12 million); government (5.5 million exclusive of the armed forces); household employees (2 million); and educators (2 million).

These latter groups, which the report classifies as "nonproductive workers," constituted only 30 per cent of the labor force in 1900; they make up 60 per cent of the work force today.

Compared with the day's work that confronts most of mankind every morning, most American citizens are not engaged in work at all.

CONCLUDES PIEL: "Up to the present, the American society has managed to handle the subversion of the institution of work without undue stress upon the system of distribution that has carried over from the days of scarcity. Work, the illusion of work, and pleasant substitutes for work furnish an expanding population with the purchasing power to consume an even more rapidly expanding volume of production."

A Time for Decisions

Modern Women Face New Responsibility

Today's women enjoy a freedom unparalled by that of her sisters' four score and some years ago.

But emancipation has brought her increased responsibilities and more difficult choices.

And she can no longer find a convenient scapegoat in men to blame the world's ills upon, for her world is no longer insulated from decision.

THIS WAS the emphasis placed on her role in the modern world at the second Quadrennial Assembly of the International Christian Women's Fellowship held July 19-23 at LaFayette, Ind.

"The time has passed that we can blame men for wars, for crime, for poor legislation and all the other evils of our day," the assembly's keynote speaker, Mrs. William K. Evans of Austin, Minn., president of the international fellowship for the past quadrennium, declared.

"They are our responsibilty, too, and they are involved in many of the choices that we must make. Doing nothing about them is in itself a choice."

THE FIVE-DAY assembly of women from Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) throughout the United States and Canada, heard another speaker, Dr. Perry E. Gresham, president of Bethany College in Bethany, W. Va., assert that America's women have not yet begun to exercise the moral and spiritual influence the nation has every right to expect of them.

As decision-makers, they also heard Dr. A. Dale Fiers of Indianapolis, president of the United Christian Missionary Society, admit in a series of four lectures on "Prayer and the Great Decisions of Life":

"It is not easy to make life's important decisions in a complex world like ours. It requires will power, and prayer strengthens the power of our will to decide even as it did for the Lord at crucial points in His life."

Three women authors picked up the theme in "Conversations on Stewardship." Christian stewardship has to do with how a woman uses her leisure and her personality as well as how she spends her money. A woman is accountable to God for all, not just part of herself, they maintained. The participants were Mrs. Wilfred Bockelman, Minneapolis, Minn., Helen Kingsbury Wallace, Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Frank Lacy, Martinsville, Va., all of whom have had books published in this field.

THREE DRAMAS presented underlining areas of choice dealt with these questions: "What kind of a person do I want to be?"; "How should I use my power and privilege?" and "Am I going to build walls or bridges between myself and others."

The ringmaster in "Circus," an allegorical play about a young woman trying to select her own role from among various acts in the big show, demonstrated the essential quality of choice when he said:

"You are only alone in what you decide, Anna Lu. All of us in the Circus of Life are awaiting to see what your decision will be—and how you arrive at your decision."

In Praise of Crabgrass

If the agronomists don't mind our saying so, we think they are going about the whole problem backwards.

First off, we haven't much confidence in their ability to outwit crabgrass. True, they do have sprays now that will kill it, and sometimes without killing the other grass. But crabgrass is a master of the strategic retreat and insidious infiltration. It knows how to lurk in a neighbor's yard, or even in the gravel of your own driveway, and strike back the moment you get over-confident. So it's a continuing struggle without any real hope of victory.

But, then, what price victory? At this time of year, a good crop of crabgrass can give you the greenest lawn on the street at almost no cost of time, money or effort. And the only blemish on your joy is the fact that it won't last beyond September.

What we really need from the agronomists is an invigorating spray that will keep this lovely grass lush until the snows fall.

TV Ads Are 'Clap-Trap'

Motivational Research Experts Write Pitches?

by DICK HOFFMANN

American television advertising is really rather fascinating. It has been derided as fatuous and full of insignificance. But it has its subtler moments.

Motivational research experts must write some of those nauseous soap ads. You can not only work up a lather with some brands but can become euphoric. Need a trip to Nirvana? No need to practice Yoga or Zen Buddism, get Quest, the soap that makes you pass out at the touch.

No need for tranquillizers with ice-blue Swoon. One application and Paradise is Regained.

ACTUALLY, these promoters aren't selling soap; they're marketing sex. Those girls purring in the shower are telling their sisters that not only will you smell good but that the scent will attract suitors by the droves. The technique is as old as Eve. Anatole France in "Penguin Island" noted that all the penguins were once children of nature. But one particularly unsightly female whose figure had more of a droop than most was clothed and immediately became the consuming interest of all the males.

This is part of the psychology of modern sex. In its natural, uncomplicated state, it is a normal function of life. Dress it in the garb of Sodom and Gomorrah and you can generate an abnormal interest in it.

So when the advertisers tell Charley to get a certain hair dressing, they just incidentally mean it will help his appearance. What they really mean is that this is one of the prerequisites for amour; you can't trap without bait, brother.

Philip Wylie, author of "Generation of Vipers" and other somewhat teeth-bared expressions of contempt, said that what the advertisers really meant was: Madam, are you a good bed partner, although he put it in the American venacular.

VANCE PACKARD popularized all this in "The Status Seekers" and "The Hidden Persuaders." Now we know that those sneaky automobile makers up in Detroit have been consulting social engineers more than mechanical ones.

There is an expression overseas that Americans are "overpaid, overfed and oversexed." This about summarizes America today. We have set ourselves down to gorge at a Roman banquet table. Our preoccupations with sex, that advertisers and magazine flesh merchants have capitalized on, are infantile.

The pendulum has swung full width, from Puritanical straight-necked righteousness to permissive licentiousness. Love and marriage are games, like musical chairs. We have not yet learned to accept sex as a part of our lives.

INSTEAD, it repells and attracts us like some forbidden evil. As long as it remains some kind of forbidden apple, advertisers will continue to dwell on cigarettes that have the magnetism of etchings.

We must learn to temper freedom with respect. We must stop viewing people as things, adornments, and possessions to store with our other material collections. This is the real insult I think the advertising profession promulgates by its motivational clap-trap.

Quotoons

The only reason some people aren't bothered by a good conscience is it turned bad on them a long time ago.

Most women know how to spend money . . . . and how!

This is not surprising, since 20 to 23 per cent of our combined township, state, and federal tax dollar is currently being funneled into public aid. The federal government is providing Illinois with $112 million a year for public assistance, and the state is spending $250 million annually on welfare. With nearly 6 per cent of its population on relief, Chicago and Cook county are devoting $172 million a year to assistance.

This is only part of the bill. The hidden costs paid for our slums in increased crime, health hazards, and family disorganization are immeasurable. The degradation and waste of human potential is appalling.

But where to point the finger?

The recent clash over welfare policies in Newburgh, N. Y., has attracted local as well as national attention. That city's well-publicized "get tough" policy has found wide appeal among suburbanites.

Newburgh has directed its assault on the relief recipients themselves, classifying them as "an increasing burden of free loaders on those who are self-reliant."

Relief for unwed mothers has been especially criticized by Newburgh officials "tired of paying taxes for illegitimacy." To correct this ill, Newburgh will deny aid to unwed mothers who continue to produce children.

This is not quite the way to handle an issue involving children who are victims of adult delinquency. Although insisting that public money should not be spent to "support" illegitimacy, Newburgh does not say how it thinks helpless children should be cared for.

The Newburgh philosophy ignores the fact that this problem involves deep and widespread social implications not confined to the public assistance field; it is related to the larger problems of family instability, housing, education, job opportunity, and social mobility.

The answer lies not in penalizing the children but in providing the intensive counseling and caseworker supervision essential to get such mothers off the relief rolls.

Newburgh's blunt approach to public assistance is supported by those suburbanites who regard public aid as "wasteful" and "an incentive for laziness." These critics make much of allegedly widespread abuses in the administration of Illinois relief funds.

Such attitudes are irresponsible and dangerous.

There is no evidence of widespread graft and cheating in the assistance program. If the state's welfare program becomes subjected to large-scale deception and fraud, the blame must be shouldered by those members of the 72nd General Assembly who voted for a $6.7 million cut in the administrative operating funds of the Illinois Public Aid Commission. This reduction in staff will likely result in increased caseloads per worker and hinder proper control and supervision of expenditures. This could cost Illinois taxpayers considerably more than $6.7 million.

This is typical of our short-sighted approach to problems in public aid; we have attacked symptoms rather than causes. In an era marked by increasing automation, dwindling farms, and shifts to urban areas, it is not enough to provide an unskilled man with a minimum of shelter, food, and clothing and tell him to find a job. Nor is it reasonable to expect a monthly dole to solve problems of a displaced marginal farm family.

The present philosophy of public aid is perpetuating dependency as a way of life instead of restoring relief recipients as contributing members of society. The goal of public assistance should be to help people to help themselves. Newburgh, N. Y. is not the answer to achieving this goal.

If there is to be a real assault on poverty and eventual relief for the taxpayer's pocketbook, long-range action must be undertaken to correct the causes of dependency. Such action must include intensive counseling, vocational retraining programs, slum clearance, centers for indoctrination into urban culture, stay-in-school programs for youngsters, incentives to attract industry into depressed areas, and expanded opportunities for minorities.

Such a program is expensive. But in the long run, it will prove economical by breaking a pattern of dependency that is finding second and third generation families beginning to appear on the relief rolls.

Illinois' Political Life Is Choked by Mediocrity

Critics have noted that some good laws were passed, some bad laws were passed, some good laws were not passed, and some bad laws were not passed.

This is all very true. However, these truths cancel each other out and tell us very little about the health of government in Illinois.

The 72nd General Assembly confirmed the aridness of political life in Illinois. It proved once again that vigorous independent political thinkers have about as much chance in Springfield as a flower in the sun-baked dust bowl.

The majority of Illinois legislators are organized in blocs, which are more important to them even than their parties. These legislators are devoted to serving their blocs, and the vested interest and lobbies which stand behind them.

The legislator who has thought deeply about government, and who advocates a program of laws reflecting the problems and opportunities of the 20th century, and who believes his duty is to the people of the state rather than to one or another bloc—this legislator is dismissed as a "lightweight."

And who are the "heavyweights?" They are the guardians of an archaic state constitution, the dispensers of the most patronage jobs, the spokesmen of the race tracks and the currency exchanges, and other legislative first lieutenants of the wealthiest lobbies.

Mediocrity, or worse, is the touchstone for playing the role of "heavyweight" in this setup.

Occasionally someone with talent and ideals is elevated to a top spot to excite the hopes of the public. But he will find himself bound hand and foot by "the system" as Gulliver was bound by the host of Lilliputians.

Adlai Stevenson met this fate as governor. Paul Douglas gives luster to the pretensions of the blocs which make up the Democratic party, and is safely removed to the banks of the Potomac.

We are decades behind some states in blasting away roadblocks to good state government.

The job will not be done by a person who tags along with the existing dominant forces in either of the political parties.

In Illinois these words have often been used as an excuse for failure.

At other times and places, this adage has been a challenge. Bob LaFollette in Wisconsin two generations ago believed that good state government was possible. Politics (and the people) proved he was right. He was a remarkable man.

Consumers of Abundance

Advance of Automation May Create 'Workless Society'

by CHARLES HAYES

The advance of technology may soon enable the United States to achieve a "workless society" — with good results for most Americans.

So concludes a report published by the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions.

The increasing use of automation will probably make blue collar workers "as scarce as farmers" toward the end of the century, writes Gerard Piel in the report entitled "Consumers of Abundance."

In the "workless society" full employment in the production side of the economy will probably be impossible, the report says. However, this does not mean that Americans will become a nation of idlers who gradually will be bored to death.

On the contrary, Piel declares, release from machine tending will enable Americans to busy themselves at much more satisfying and valuable types of work.

THE LIBERATION of people from tasks unworthy of human capacity should free that capacity for a host of activities now neglected in our civilization: teaching and learning, fundamental scientific investigation, the performing arts and the graphic arts, letters, the crafts, politics and social service.

These activities involve the interaction of people with people rather than things, states Piel. They are admittedly not productive activities, nor are they profitable in the strict sense. But they are highly rewarding to the individuals involved and add greatly to the wealth of the nation.

The report declares that automation is so rapidly eliminating the function of the human worker from the production process that in a few decades there will be little or no practical justification for the type of work now engaged in by millions of production workers in factories, and in mining, transportation and building.

It suggests that Americans may have to revise their customary attitude toward work: "The primary function of work in our economy today is to secure not the production but the distribution of goods. Modern industrial technology produces a vast material surplus of goods, many times greater than the need of the workers producing it. That surplus goes begging for consumers because technology has subverted the social institution of work."

SINCE 1939, the share of the national income going to the most fortunate fifth of nation's families has shrunk from 55 to 45 per cent, says Piel. Almost the entire 10 per cent subtracted from the top fifth has gone to the middle three-fifths, improving their relative position by about 25 per cent.

"This redistribution of purchasing power is another important factor in reducing the amount of work people do in the course of their lives," emphasizes Piel. "It makes it possible for young people to postpone their entrance into the labor market through high school and even college age, and it takes workers out of the labor market by voluntary retirement at the other end of their careers."

The report says that shortening of the work week and the working life "still leaves untold the real story of how work has been spread to secure the spread of purchasing power.

"If work is defined with any sort of strictness to mean productive work — that is, the extraction of raw materials and the making of consumable goods from them (farming, mining, manufacturing, building, and transportation) — then less than half of the labor force, only 25 million people, are really at work."

PIEL POINTS out that the remainder of the work force is engaged in distribution (12 million); financial, clerical, and service functions (12 million); government (5.5 million exclusive of the armed forces); household employees (2 million); and educators (2 million).

These latter groups, which the report classifies as "non-productive workers," constituted only 30 per cent of the labor force in 1900; they make up 60 per cent of the work force today.

Compared with the day's work that confronts most of mankind every morning, most American citizens are not engaged in work at all.

CONCLUDES PIEL: "Up to the present, the American society has managed to handle the subversion of the institution of work without undue stress upon the system of distribution that has carried over from the days of scarcity. Work, the illusion of work, and pleasant substitutes for work furnish an expanding population with the purchasing power to consume an even more rapidly expanding volume of production."

A Time for Decisions

Modern Women Face New Responsibility

Today's women enjoy a freedom unparalled by that of her sisters' four score and some years ago.

But emancipation has brought her increased responsibilities and more difficult choices.

And she can no longer find a convenient scapegoat in men to blame the world's ills upon, for her world is no longer insulated from decision.

THIS WAS the emphasis placed on her role in the modern world at the second Quadrennial Assembly of the International Christian Women's Fellowship held July 19-23 at LaFayette, Ind.

"The time has passed that we can blame men for wars, for crime, for poor legislation and all the other evils of our day," the assembly's keynote speaker, Mrs. William K. Evans of Austin, Minn., president of the international fellowship for the past quadrennium, declared.

"They are our responsibilty, too, and they are involved in many of the choices that we must make. Doing nothing about them is in itself a choice."

THE FIVE - DAY assembly of women from Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ) throughout the United States and Canada, heard another speaker, Dr. Perry E. Gresham, president of Bethany College in Bethany, W. Va., assert that America's women have not yet begun to exercise the moral and spiritual influence the nation has every right to expect of them.

As decision-makers, they also heard Dr. A. Dale Fiers of Indianapolis, president of the United Christian Missionary Society, admit in a series of four lectures on "Prayer and the Great Decisions of Life":

"It is not easy to make life's important decisions in a complex world like ours. It requires will power, and prayer strengthens the power of our will to decide even as it did for the Lord at crucial points in His life."

Three women authors picked up the theme in "Conversations on Stewardship." Christian stewardship has to do with how a woman uses her leisure and her personality as well as how she spends her money. A woman is accountable to God for all, not just part of herself, they maintained. The participants were Mrs. Wilfred Bockelman, Minneapolis, Minn., Helen Kingsbury Wallace, Philadelphia, Pa., and Mrs. Frank Lacy, Martinsville, Va., all of whom have had books published in this field.

THREE DRAMAS presented underlining areas of choice dealt with these questions: "What kind of a person do I want to be?"; "How should I use my power and privilege?" and "Am I going to build walls or bridges between myself and others."

The ringmaster in "Circus," an allegorical play about a young woman trying to select her own role from among various acts in the big show, demonstrated the essential quality of choice when he said:

"You are only alone in what you decide, Anna Lu. All of us in the Circus of Life are awaiting to see what your decision will be—and how you arrive at your decision."

In Praise of Crabgrass

If the agronomists don't mind our saying so, we think they are going about the whole problem backwards.

First off, we haven't much confidence in their ability to outwit crabgrass. True, they do have sprays now that will kill it, and sometimes without killing the other grass. But crabgrass is a master of the strategic retreat and insidious infiltration. It knows how to lurk in a neighbor's yard, or even in the gravel of your own driveway, and strike back the moment you get over-confident. So it's a continuing struggle without any real hope of victory.

But, then, what price victory? At this time of year, a good crop of crabgrass can give you the greenest lawn on the street at almost no cost of time, money or effort. And the only blemish on your joy is the fact that it won't last beyond September.

What we really need from the agronomists is an invigorating spray that will keep this lovely grass lush until the snows fall.

TV Ads Are 'Clap-Trap'

Motivational Research Experts Write Pitches?

by DICK HOFFMANN

American television advertising is really rather fascinating. It has been derided as fatuous and full of insignificance. But it has its subtler moments.

Motivational research experts must write some of those nauseous soap ads. You can not only work up a lather with some brands but can become euphoric. Need a trip to Nirvana? No need to practice Yoga or Zen Buddism, get Quest, the soap that makes you pass out at the touch.

No need for tranquillizers with ice-blue Swoon. One application and Paradise is Regained.

ACTUALLY, these promoters aren't selling soap; they're marketing sex. Those girls purring in the shower are telling their sisters that not only will you smell good but that the scent will attract suitors by the droves.

The technique is as old as Eve. Anatole France in "Penguin Island" noted that all the penguins were once children of nature. But one particularly unsightly female whose figure had more of a droop than most was clothed and immediately became the consuming interest of all the males.

This is part of the psychology of modern sex. In its natural, uncomplicated state, it is a normal function of life. Dress it in the garb of Sodom and Gomorrah and you can generate an abnormal interest in it.

So when the advertisers tell Charley to get a certain hair dressing, they just incidentally mean it will help his appearance. What they really mean is that this is one of the prerequisites for amour; you can't trap without bait, brother.

Philip Wylie, author of "Generation of Vipers" and other somewhat teeth-bared expressions of contempt, said that what the advertisers really meant was: Madam, are you a good bed partner, although he put it in the American venacular.

VANCE PACKARD popularized all this in "The Status Seekers" and "The Hidden Persuaders." Now we know that those sneaky automobile makers up in Detroit have been consulting social engineers more than mechanical ones.

There is an expression overseas that Americans are "overpaid, overfed and oversexed." This about summarizes America today. We have set ourselves down to gorge at a Roman banquet table. Our preoccupations with sex, that advertisers and magazine flesh merchants have capitalized on, are infantile.

The pendulum has swung full width, from Puritanical straight-necked righteousness to permissive licentiousness. Love and marriage are games, like musical chairs. We have not yet learned to accept sex as a part of our lives.

INSTEAD, it repells and attracts us like some forbidden evil. As long as it remains some kind of forbidden apple, advertisers will continue to dwell on cigarettes that have the magnetism of etchings.

We must learn to temper freedom with respect. We must stop viewing people as things, adornments, and possessions to store with our other material collections. This is the real insult I think the advertising profession promulgates by its motivational clap-trap.

Quotoons

The only reason some people aren't bothered by a good conscience is it turned bad on them a long time ago.

Most women know how to spend money . . . . and how!

THE FENCE POST

Letters to the Editor

Sewage Ditch Plight Cited

Three cheers for Mr. Raymond Shotter, whose article on the bane of our Palatine existence appeared in the Chicago Tribune. I refer to the ancient combined sewer which empties into Salt Creek directly to the rear of our garage. No exaggeration is necessary in describing the offensiveness of this decrepit and disintegrating piece of tile, not only due to the odor, which can and does hit anyone within a radius of miles, but due to the extreme and obvious health hazard from this polluted water! Not to mention the danger of injury to our very junior citizens who will play in or near this filthy ditch in spite of warnings, threats and punishments from their parents!

To Mr. Hollander, who recommends $600.00 worth of deoderant (ineffective to all but the fringe, fringe areas) I say, "maybe you're doing something in the face of everyone else doing nothing — kindly get the rest of the 'powers that be' up off of their hands!" To those who say they have never noticed an odor from this creek, I say,. "There's something wrong with your nose," and, finally, to those fools who say, "No child has been drowned there yet, or caught Typhoid Fever yet," I say that even the possibility of these things happening is outrageous! Must we forever lock the paddock after our palomino has been stolen???

MINE IS NOT a "voice in the wilderness." There is not a family on Greeley Street or on most streets in Glen Tyan that has not been made unpleasantly aware of this "storm" sewer, carrying raw sewage and all its hazards right into our back yards, so to speak. Two years ago, a three year old girl fell into the creek and began to float face down! If a twelve year old boy had not been nearby to pull her out, my opponents would have had their tragedy! Last year, my next door neighbor's youngest son broke his heel in a fall from the mouth of this sewer to the bed of the creek. Afterwards the village had a flimsy fence installed there — and I do mean flimsy! Again, last year, after a moderate rain storm the earth collapsed near the mouth of the sewer, barely ten feet in back of our garage, creating a hole four feet in radius to the depth of the tile. This area is used as a shortcut by the pupils attending Paddock School and one boy about eight years old was pulled out of it, wet, smelly and sacred, by myself and one of my neighbors. It was a good three months before the village properly repaired and filled in this hole!

We are gratefully surprised to learn that the Metropolitan Sanitary District is going to install an interceptor sewer which, we pray, will eliminate a part of the foregoing difficulties — but after numberless calls and complaints, with no effective results, we cannot help but maintain a "wait and see" attitude. After all, promises are only words, and the road to hell is paved with good intentions!

Here's Answer To Park Issue?

Mr. Paddock seems to be indulging in some wishful thinking about the Palatine triangle. Perhaps he feels that a constant repetition of his wish in print will turn the wish into fact. At any rate, Palatine voters have rejected a triangle park more than once, the cost of the purchase probably being an important factor.

It is true that we have "elected men who are sincerely trying to end the park controversy" (Editor's Column July 27). Because the situation is so hopelessly confused, the board unfortunately will have to consider other factors besides the will of the people as expressed in past elections. I hope that we will accept their decision without further ado.

Mr. Paddock, of course, can purchase the triangle property and deed it to the village for use as a park. He may be able to deduct the cost from his income tax as a charitable contribution; that I don't know. Surely this is an admirable solution to the whole problem. I, for one, have no objection to a Stuart R. Paddock park in the village triangle.

Reader Likes Dick Hoffmann

We think Dick Hoffmann is tops. Who is Dick Hoffmann? asks Mr. Corrigan. We think he is an excellent writer, a grand person, and we enjoy his articles very much. This view is shared by many in the village.

Before you ask who am I, I am the mother of three sons, all in the Reserve, and I could write you a story about wives and mothers from World War II —about us that sit at home and wait for news, about a tight band of steel around our chests days, nights, weeks and months.

YES, Mr. Corrigan, we are afraid; only a fool is not afraid. But not scared. We hope and pray it will not come to war. If war should come, we will do what every man, woman, and child has done since the Pilgrims landed —toil, bleed, and pray. We love our country and certainly don't want to see our flag in the mud, and it will never be. But we hope to settle it with peaceful measures.

So with your permission, we'd like to wish Dick Hoffmann many successful years on the paper.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Don't you think it's rude of theater-goers, who go out during intermission for a cigaret, to return after the lights have gone out and the performance has resumed?

A. Downright inconsiderate! These people should heed the first warning that the curtain is about to rise, and their tardiness is disagreeable not only to the people in the audience, but to the performers on the stage.

Q. I received a number of gifts at a birthday party recently, and I thanked each donor personally at the party. Is it also necessary that I write each one a thank-you note?

A. No.

Q. At a small, informal wedding, is it all right for the bride and bridegroom to walk down the aisle together?

A. Yes, if the wedding is small and the bride has no near male relative to walk with her.

Q. When eating a biscuit and jelly at the dinner table, should the jelly be applied to the biscuit with the fork?

A. The knife should be used for this purpose.

Hail Coverage Of Church News

Upon moving from Mount Prospect to assume a pastorate in Indiana I wsh to extend my personal appreciation to Paddock Publications for the very excellent coverage of religious news and events. Certainly Northwest Covenant church owes a debt of gratitude together with the other churches and religious institutions of this area for a job well done.

Best wishes to one of the finest weekly newspapers in our country. May you continue in the way of leadership in assisting our communities to a higher ethical standard and a deep moral integrity.

Daily Newsman's 'Fantasy' Will Embarrass Local Women

After reading the article in Sunday's Chicago Tribune entitled "Rose is a Rose, is a Rose, and a Creek is a Problem," I feel someone should make a statement for the people of Palatine. In my opinion, this article was meant to be a parody which turned into a fantasy concocted by a reporter who, incidentally, did not mention that he has a personal (and obviously emotional) interest in the matter because he himself happens to live on the creek.

I know one of the ladies quoted in this article well enough to know she could not, and would not, make the quotation attributed to her. It does not in the least even sound like her. Also, during our long association with this party, who I am sure was used by your reporter, she has never made a statement of any kind concerning Salt Creek to me.

WE ARE NOT personal friends of Mr. Hollander's. We know him because the houses on Hart Street and Rose Street are back to back. Our children play together, and we are acquaintances which is the extent of our relationship. The thing that has incensed me about this article is that a reporter can use his position on a paper to further a personal issue. If he feels so strongly about this issue, he should, by all means, write it up in any manner he wishes but not involving other people with his words.

If this were a political issue and Mr. Hollander's position were a political position, I could understand this. We all expect venomous articles from both sides in a political campaign. As this issue is one that has to be presented to the entire population of Palatine; and as I know, for a matter of pure fact, that Mr. Hollander is a man who has done his utmost to serve this community for the benefit and best interests of all, I feel the Tribune owes Mr. Hollander an apology for attacking him in this personal manner.

I MIGHT have appreciated the humor of this reporter's vitriolic parody if it had been slanted at the village or the issue involved instead of one man who is not directly responsible. I must say I was really shocked to know that such a thing could happen, and I am sure this article will be a cause of embarrassment to the ladies involved.

Reader Says GOP Conservatism Can't Meet Modern Challenges

To say that present day problems of the world present a challenge to the political philosopher is one thing; to presume that conservative Republicanism can face that challenge successfully is to ignore the events of recent history completely and to side-track the teachings of great thinkers.

When the conservative talks about the worth of the individual, he is not thinking about humanity; he is talking about a certain human being — himself. And he calls that kind of thinking "Enlightened Self Interest."

When he talks about "Freedom" he is talking about his right to lie, cheat, steal, and murder within a framework of law made by himself, or others with the same social, political, and economic interests as his own.

He speaks of equality and chooses to ignore the fact that some men are born to rich parents, others to poor parents; some are born healthy, others sickly; some big bodied, others puny; some with the finest educational opportunities available, others are financially unable to finish grade school; some have a natural capacity to learn, others can never rise above the level of the beast.

AS FOR political equality, it surprises no one to find how much equality a millionaire can buy. And so it is with the opportunity to make a respectable living. The articulate conservative is talking about his own living standard — above $10,000 —not the standard of those unfortunates for whom he legislates $1.00 an hour or $2,000 per year — some difference.

The conservative talks about world leadership while the education of his countrymen is being undertaken by morons and circumscribed by the propaganda of demagogues. This has not been education, but indoctrination, and the end product cannot lead a pet poodle around the block, let alone those sensible savages in mau mau land. The conservative understands his own needs, not the needs of the Mau Mau.

It should be evident to the conservative that his reign had brought about a monstrous governmental structure that threatens to gobble us all, and that we, as individuals, are at one another's throats, begrudging each other's life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, because we are too ignorant to know the principles of decent living in a happy community.

THE UNITED States is known the world over as "Conservative America." Therefore, the state of the union, whatever that may be at any given moment, is due to the conservative philosophy of the American ruling class.

Conservatism is a way of thinking, economically, politically, socially, and internationally. The conservative is in the saddle; therefore, according to the conservative, everything is lovely. His belly is full when he goes to bed at night. The 17 million of his countrymen who go to bed hungry every night never enter into the elements of his speculation. He dismisses the poor with the observation that "The poor ye have with you always," and the comforting belief that poverty is due to the individual's own lack of wit and that he is not his brother's keeper.

The conservative even talks about morals. But the morals of the conservative have nothing to do with relationships between individuals. The moral law of the jungle pervades all the conservative undertakes. The very philosophy of the conservative (also known as individualism) precludes the possibility of any authority other than his own. He runs the country and makes the laws; he hires policemen, judges, and lawyers; he maintains (through taxation of the very people to whom he denies even existence) jails and other institutions of incarceration.

Yet, even though he is master of the state, and is the state (that is, the conservative is the state) among his doctrines is the thesis that the state is the enemy of the individual; also that the state can do nothing that he cannot do better; therefore, that that state governs best which governs least.

EACH AND every maxim, tenet, or theory which the conservative professes to uphold is anti-social and these jungle theories having now brought us to the brink of war, the conservative yet wishes to conserve.

He speaks of "The State" as though this institution were a many headed monster and a great evil, while all the while it is he, himself, who is at the helm of the ship of state, and every blight which is plaguing the state and its inhabitants is at the instigation of the conservative and has his blessing and sanction.

The conservative has his own definition of words, a vocabulary peculiarly his own, and a way of thinking completely at odds with the principles of humanity.

Prompt Justice Is Important

The traffic case of Ronald J. Hess reported in the July 27 issue of the Palatine Enterprise was brought before Justice Francis E. Kelly and we understand resulted in a $200 fine, seven days in the county jail, and recommending the suspension of his driver's license for one year.

The National Safety Council supports strict and impartial enforcement of traffic laws. Justice Kelly is to be commended for his sentence for the offender in this case, in line with its severity, and we believe his handling of the case should do much to deter similar offenses.

THE PROMPT transmittal of the record of the conviction and the driver's license certificate to the Secretary of State will assure immediate revocation of the driving privilege, and notification of this to the local police authorities will assist enforcement thereof.

Although the operation of a motor vehicle is very essential to many individuals in their daily lives, it must not be considered as an absolute right. Operators of motor vehicles must obtain the privilege to drive from their state driver licensing authority, proving they are properly qualified.

Perhaps more important, after accepting the privilege to drive, the operator must continue to prove his qualifications to hold such privilege. Operators do this by obeying traffic regulations and cooperating in every way with their fellow drivers to avoid traffic accidents and congestion.

WHEN AN operator violates deliberately, as in this case, he should then forfeit the driving privilege and pay the penalty assessed by the court.

The role of the traffic court in the control of the driving privilege is very important. The administration of justice in an impartial manner, and in accordance with the seriousness of the offense, as demonstrated by Judge Kelly in this case, deserves public recognition.

Weed Spray Probe Urged

Last year we used more than $200 million worth of 2,4-D and other chemical weed killers plus many more millions worth of insecticides. Thus a powerful lot of poison floats in the air we breathe. Incidentally, considering the amount of cancer-producing chemicals in the air, why place so much blame on cigarette smoking as a primary cause for increased incidence of lung cancer! It would be more logical to question our short-sighted chemical practices.

Weed killers are used along roadways, railroads, power lines, in agriculture, in forest areas for brush control, and on many lawns.

WE SUBMIT that many of our elms may not be dying from Dutch elm disease but from weed killer damage. This would also explain the reported "blight" of other varieties of trees. Presence of the Dutch elm fungus in affected trees is no proof that this fungus killed the tree, for any dying or dead tree is full of many kinds of fungi. This is nature's way of breaking down dead wood to make room for the new. In support of this explanation for dying trees we cite the following:

A North Dakota scientist writes of a blight of the boxelder tree which he believes is due to the agricultural use of weed killers. Damage to elm trees has been traced to the use of weed killers on the lawn, according to a daily columnist. One publication tells of what appears to be "new diseases" of shade trees which were traced to 2, 4-D injury, and includes the elm as a sensitive tree. A current farm magazine warns farmers not to apply 2, 4-D within one mile of a sensitive crop if the wind is blowing in that direction. The ester forms give off a vapor after spraying which may be carried in the air, and even return to damage susceptible crops if the wind should change direction the next day. Similar warnings in the literature are too numerous to mention. (How about sensitive elms in the path of this vapor?)

WE HAVE accepted the beetle-fungus theory on cause and spread of Dutch elm disease long enough. Many cities have discontinued the poison spray program which has proven to be so utterly ineffective. But others continue this program which is not only useless and expensive, but upsets the balance of nature and creates a serious health hazard.

It is high time for a new look. The too-ready acceptance of a theory as an established fact has too often blocked scientific progress. Let's help break up this log jam.

Responsibility Is 'War Scare' Need

Shoot the bums—Life would not be worth living under Communism, so let's blow up the whole ship!

I shudder to think of the consequences to the individuals who have these feelings. It's one thing to think you are right and the other fellow is wrong, but it is something else to destroy everything to prove you are right.

Do these intelligent and powerful persons realize what they are saying when they advocate war with Russia? If only they could say they are willing to sacrifice their own life for their principles, it would be fine. But today the knight on a charging white horse is replaced by a push button. The button pusher doesn't just sacrifice his own life, but all life on earth.

WHAT RIGHT does an American or Russian have to decide if the people in Africa or South America shall live or die?

What right does an American or Russian have to cancel out all civilization? Eons of years and generations of men by their toil and sacrifice have pulled us up out of the swamps and the caves to give us modern civilization. And now we in the 1960's with a swoop of our hand can undo all that was built up and given to us.

WE CAN DO these things, but we have no right. There are too many who have no representation on our war councils. All the unborn babies whose planet will be destroyed are not here. The black woman of Africa, grinding her corn meal, has not been invited. All the Newtons and Galileos, the Roman lawmakers, or Christian prophets are not allowed to vote in this council.

If we must trespass where we have no right, it will be. But responsibility must rest somewhere. It's much too big a load for my shoulders. How about yours?

Letters to the Editor

Sewage Ditch Plight Cited

Three cheers for Mr. Raymond Shotter, whose article on the bane of our Palatine existence appeared in the Chicago Tribune. I refer to the ancient combined sewer which empties into Salt Creek directly to the rear of our garage. No exaggeration is necessary in describing the offensiveness of this decrepit and disintegrating piece of tile, not only due to the odor, which can and does hit anyone within a radius of miles, but due to the extreme and obvious health hazard from this polluted water! Not to mention the danger of injury to our very junior citizens who will play in or near this filthy ditch in spite of warnings, threats and punishments from their parents!

To Mr. Hollander, who recommends $600.00 worth of deoderant (ineffective to all but the fringe, fringe areas) I say, "maybe you're doing something in the face of everyone else doing nothing — kindly get the rest of the 'powers that be' up off of their hands!" To those who say they have never noticed an odor from this creek, I say,. "There's something wrong with your nose," and, finally, to those fools who say, "No child has been drowned there yet, or caught Typhoid Fever yet," I say that even the possibility of these things happening is outrageous! Must we forever lock the paddock after our palomino has been stolen???

MINE IS NOT a "voice in the wilderness." There is not a family on Greeley Street or on most streets in Glen Tyan that has not been made unpleasantly aware of this "storm" sewer, carrying raw sewage and all its hazards right into our back yards, so to speak. Two years ago, a three year old girl fell into the creek and began to float face down! If a twelve year old boy had not been nearby to pull her out, my opponents would have had their tragedy! Last year, my next door neighbor's youngest son broke his heel in a fall from the mouth of this sewer to the bed of the creek. Afterwards the village had a flimsy fence installed there — and I do mean flimsy! Again, last year, after a moderate rain storm the earth collapsed near the mouth of the sewer, barely ten feet in back of our garage, creating a hole four feet in radius to the depth of the tile. This area is used as a shortcut by the pupils attending Paddock School and one boy about eight years old was pulled out of it, wet, smelly and sacred, by myself and one of my neighbors. It was a good three months before the village properly repaired and filled in this hole!

We are gratefully surprised to learn that the Metropolitan Sanitary District is going to install an interceptor sewer which, we pray, will eliminate a part of the foregoing difficulties — but after numberless calls and complaints, with no effective results, we cannot help but maintain a "wait and see" attitude. After all, promises are only words, and the road to hell is paved with good intentions!

Here's Answer To Park Issue?

Mr. Paddock seems to be indulging in some wishful thinking about the Palatine triangle. Perhaps he feels that a constant repetition of his wish in print will turn the wish into fact. At any rate, Palatine voters have rejected a triangle park more than once, the cost of the purchase probably being an important factor.

It is true that we have "elected men who are sincerely trying to end the park controversy" (Editor's Column July 27). Because the situation is so hopelessly confused, the board unfortunately will have to consider other factors besides the will of the people as expressed in past elections. I hope that we will accept their decision without further ado.

Mr. Paddock, of course, can purchase the triangle property and deed it to the village for use as a park. He may be able to deduct the cost from his income tax as a charitable contribution; that I don't know. Surely this is an admirable solution to the whole problem. I, for one, have no objection to a Stuart R. Paddock park in the village triangle.

Modern Etiquette

Q. Don't you think it's rude of theater-goers, who go out during intermission for a cigaret, to return after the lights have gone out and the performance has resumed?

A. Downright inconsiderate! These people should heed the first warning that the curtain is about to rise, and their tardiness is disagreeable not only to the people in the audience, but to the performers on the stage.

Q. I received a number of gifts at a birthday party recently, and I thanked each donor personally at the party. Is it also necessary that I write each one a thank-you note?

A. No.

Q. At a small, informal wedding, is it all right for the bride and bridegroom to walk down the aisle together?

A. Yes, if the wedding is small and the bride has no near male relative to walk with her.

Q. When eating a biscuit and jelly at the dinner table, should the jelly be applied to the biscuit with the fork?

A. The knife should be used for this purpose.

Reader Likes Dick Hoffmann

We think Dick Hoffmann is tops. Who is Dick Hoffmann? asks Mr. Corrigan. We think he is an excellent writer, a grand person, and we enjoy his articles very much. This view is shared by many in the village.

Before you ask who am I, I am the mother of three sons, all in the Reserve, and I could write you a story about wives and mothers from World War II —about us that sit at home and wait for news, about a tight band of steel around our chests days, nights, weeks and months.

YES, Mr. Corrigan, we are afraid; only a fool is not afraid. But not scared. We hope and pray it will not come to war. If war should come, we will do what every man, woman, and child has done since the Pilgrims landed —toil, bleed, and pray. We love our country and certainly don't want to see our flag in the mud, and it will never be. But we hope to settle it with peaceful measures.

So with your permission, we'd like to wish Dick Hoffmann many successful years on the paper.

Hail Coverage Of Church News

Upon moving from Mount Prospect to assume a pastorate in Indiana I wsh to extend my personal appreciation to Paddock Publications for the very excellent coverage of religious news and events. Certainly Northwest Covenant church owes a debt of gratitude together with the other churches and religious institutions of this area for a job well done.

Best wishes to one of the finest weekly newspapers in our country. May you continue in the way of leadership in assisting our communities to a higher ethical standard and a deep moral integrity.

Daily Newsman's 'Fantasy' Will Embarrass Local Women

After reading the article in Sunday's Chicago Tribune entitled "Rose is a Rose, is a Rose, and a Creek is a Problem," I feel someone should make a statement for the people of Palatine. In my opinion, this article was meant to be a parody which turned into a fantasy concocted by a reporter who, incidentally, did not mention that he has a personal (and obviously emotional) interest in the matter because he himself happens to live on the creek.

I know one of the ladies quoted in this article well enough to know she could not, and would not, make the quotation attributed to her. It does not in the least even sound like her. Also, during our long association with this party, who I am sure was used by your reporter, she has never made a statement of any kind concerning Salt Creek to me.

WE ARE NOT personal friends of Mr. Hollander's. We know him because the houses on Hart Street and Rose Street are back to back. Our children play together, and we are acquaintances which is the extent of our relationship. The thing that has incensed me about this article is that a reporter can use his position on a paper to further a personal issue. If he feels so strongly about this issue, he should, by all means, write it up in any manner he wishes but not involving other people with his words.

If this were a political issue and Mr. Hollander's position were a political position, I could understand this. We all expect venomous articles from both sides in a political campaign. As this issue is one that has to be presented to the entire population of Palatine; and as I know, for a matter of pure fact, that Mr. Hollander is a man who has done his utmost to serve this community for the benefit and best interests of all, I feel the Tribune owes Mr. Hollander an apology for attacking him in this personal manner.

I MIGHT have appreciated the humor of this reporter's vitriolic parody if it had been slanted at the village or the issue involved instead of one man who is not directly responsible. I must say I was really shocked to know that such a thing could happen, and I am sure this article will be a cause of embarrassment to the ladies involved.

Reader Says GOP Conservatism Can't Meet Modern Challenges

To say that present day problems of the world present a challenge to the political philosopher is one thing; to presume that conservative Republicanism can face that challenge successfully is to ignore the events of recent history completely and to side-track the teachings of great thinkers.

When the conservative talks about the worth of the individual, he is not thinking about humanity; he is talking about a certain human being — himself. And he calls that kind of thinking "Enlightened Self Interest."

When he talks about "Freedom" he is talking about his right to lie, cheat, steal, and murder within a framework of law made by himself, or others with the same social, political, and economic interests as his own.

He speaks of equality and chooses to ignore the fact that some men are born to rich parents, others to poor parents; some are born healthy, others sickly; some big bodied, others puny; some with the finest educational opportunities available, others are financially unable to finish grade school; some have a natural capacity to learn, others can never rise above the level of the beast.

AS FOR political equality, it surprises no one to find how much equality a millionaire can buy. And so it is with the opportunity to make a respectable living. The articulate conservative is talking about his own living standard — above $10,000 —not the standard of those unfortunates for whom he legislates $1.00 an hour or $2,000 per year — some difference.

The conservative talks about world leadership while the education of his countrymen is being undertaken by morons and circumscribed by the propaganda of demagogues. This has not been education, but indoctrination, and the end product cannot lead a pet poodle around the block, let alone those sensible savages in mau mau land. The conservative understands his own needs, not the needs of the Mau Mau.

It should be evident to the conservative that his reign had brought about a monstrous governmental structure that threatens to gobble us all, and that we, as individuals, are at one another's throats, begrudging each other's life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness, because we are too ignorant to know the principles of decent living in a happy community.

THE UNITED States is known the world over as "Conservative America." Therefore, the state of the union, whatever that may be at any given moment, is due to the conservative philosophy of the American ruling class.

Conservatism is a way of thinking, economically, politically, socially, and internationally. The conservative is in the saddle; therefore, according to the conservative, everything is lovely. His belly is full when he goes to bed at night. The 17 million of his countrymen who go to bed hungry every night never enter into the elements of his speculation. He dismisses the poor with the observation that "The poor ye have with you always," and the comforting belief that poverty is due to the individual's own lack of wit and that he is not his brother's keeper.

The conservative even talks about morals. But the morals of the conservative have nothing to do with relationships between individuals. The moral law of the jungle pervades all the conservative undertakes. The very philosophy of the conservative (also known as individualism) precludes the possibility of any authority other than his own. He runs the country and makes the laws; he hires policemen, judges, and lawyers; he maintains (through taxation of the very people to whom he denies even existence) jails and other institutions of incarceration.

Yet, even though he is master of the state, and is the state (that is, the conservative is the state) among his doctrines is the thesis that the state is the enemy of the individual; also that the state can do nothing that he cannot do better; therefore, that that state governs best which governs least.

EACH AND every maxim, tenet, or theory which the conservative professes to uphold is anti-social and these jungle theories having now brought us to the brink of war, the conservative yet wishes to conserve.

He speaks of "The State" as though this institution were a many headed monster and a great evil, while all the while it is he, himself, who is at the helm of the ship of state, and every blight which is plaguing the state and its inhabitants is at the instigation of the conservative and has his blessing and sanction.

The conservative has his own definition of words, a vocabulary peculiarly his own, and a way of thinking completely at odds with the principles of humanity.

Prompt Justice Is Important

The traffic case of Ronald J. Hess reported in the July 27 issue of the Palatine Enterprise was brought before Justice Francis E. Kelly and we understand resulted in a $200 fine, seven days in the county jail, and recommending the suspension of his driver's license for one year.

The National Safety Council supports strict and impartial enforcement of traffic laws. Justice Kelly is to be commended for his sentence for the offender in this case, in line with its severity, and we believe his handling of the case should do much to deter similar offenses.

THE PROMPT transmittal of the record of the conviction and the driver's license certificate to the Secretary of State will assure immediate revocation of the driving privilege, and notification of this to the local police authorities will assist enforcement thereof.

Although the operation of a motor vehicle is very essential to many individuals in their daily lives, it must not be considered as an absolute right. Operators of motor vehicles must obtain the privilege to drive from their state driver licensing authority, proving they are properly qualified.

Perhaps more important, after accepting the privilege to drive, the operator must continue to prove his qualifications to hold such privilege. Operators do this by obeying traffic regulations and cooperating in every way with their fellow drivers to avoid traffic accidents and congestion.

WHEN AN operator violates deliberately, as in this case, he should then forfeit the driving privilege and pay the penalty assessed by the court.

The role of the traffic court in the control of the driving privilege is very important. The administration of justice in an impartial manner, and in accordance with the seriousness of the offense, as demonstrated by Judge Kelly in this case, deserves public recognition.

Weed Spray Probe Urged

Last year we used more than $200 million worth of 2,4-D and other chemical weed killers plus many more millions worth of insecticides. Thus a powerful lot of poison floats in the air we breathe. Incidentally, considering the amount of cancer-producing chemicals in the air, why place so much blame on cigarette smoking as a primary cause for increased incidence of lung cancer! It would be more logical to question our short-sighted chemical practices.

Weed killers are used along roadways, railroads, power lines, in agriculture, in forest areas for brush control, and on many lawns.

WE SUBMIT that many of our elms may not be dying from Dutch elm disease but from weed killer damage. This would also explain the reported "blight" of other varieties of trees. Presence of the Dutch elm fungus in affected trees is no proof that this fungus killed the tree, for any dying or dead tree is full of many kinds of fungi. This is nature's way of breaking down dead wood to make room for the new. In support of this explanation for dying trees we cite the following:

A North Dakota scientist writes of a blight of the boxelder tree which he believes is due to the agricultural use of weed killers. Damage to elm trees has been traced to the use of weed killers on the lawn, according to a daily columnist. One publication tells of what appears to be "new diseases" of shade trees which were traced to 2, 4-D injury, and includes the elm as a sensitive tree. A current farm magazine warns farmers not to apply 2, 4-D within one mile of a sensitive crop if the wind is blowing in that direction. The ester forms give off a vapor after spraying which may be carried in the air, and even return to damage susceptible crops if the wind should change direction the next day. Similar warnings in the literature are too numerous to mention. (How about sensitive elms in the path of this vapor?)

WE HAVE accepted the beetle-fungus theory on cause and spread of Dutch elm disease long enough. Many cities have discontinued the poison spray program which has proven to be so utterly ineffective. But others continue this program which is not only useless and expensive, but upsets the balance of nature and creates a serious health hazard.

It is high time for a new look. The too-ready acceptance of a theory as an established fact has too often blocked scientific progress. Let's help break up this log jam.

Edgewater Playhouse Books 'Rhinoceros'

In an unprecedented move, the Edgewater Beach Playhouse is bringing the exciting Broadway comedy, Ionesco's prize-winning "Rhinoceros," to Chicago for four weeks, August 8 through September 3.

Currently appearing at the Longacre Theatre on Broadway, "Rhinoceros" co-stars zero Mostel, who won the Antoinette Perry Award as The Best Dramatic Actor of the Year, and Ralph Meeker, film, stage and TV star. Both stars and the complete New York cast will move directly to the Edgewater two days after it closes on Broadway, and then return to New York two days after the four-week engagement here.

There will be no advance in prices, and the policy of two performances at 7 and 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday continues. Al Hirt and his Jazz Sextet with The Wanderers Three will close on Sunday, after double performances on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 7 and 10.

Zero Mostel hit the jackpot with his comedy role in "Rhinoceros" during the seven-month run in New York. Critics said they never saw anything funnier than the scene in which, in full view of the audience, Mostel actually changes into a rhinoceros, raging, snorting and cavorting. The production, directed by Joseph Anthony and conceived and produced by Leo Kerz (who also designed the settings and lighting), was judged superior to the London production which starred Laurence Olivier in the role, played by Ralph Meeker. Mostel has restaged it for the Edgewater. Besides Mostel and Meeker, the New York cast here includes Dolores Sutton, Michael Strong,

Paddock Billboard

Salem Ludwig and Will Hussung.

WRITTEN by Eugene Ionesco, the Romanian - French playwright, and translated by Derek Prouse, the comedy is also called "cleverly mad." In a comic frame, Ionesco has given us a commentary on the absurdity of the human condition made tolerable by self-delusion. Critics have ranged far to call it "the nuttiest play of the year," "the staging has the knockout high spirits of Mack Sennett comedy," and "hilarious," as the New Yorker said. Critic Frank Aston wanted to "throw a fit of joy" when he saw it.

"Rhinoceros" performances are nightly, except Monday, at 8:30, with two on Friday and Saturday at 7 and 10, and one on Sunday at 7 p.m. (Bill

DANNY KAYE impersonates a British General to fool the German Gestapo and in the above scene is caught by the real general's wife, played by Dana Wynter. The scene is from "On The Double," playing Friday and Saturday at the Catlow Theatre in Barrington. Diana Dors and Wilfrid Hyde White co-star in the Technicolor-Panavision comedy.

ROY PRITCHARD

Roy Pritchard is the handsome leading man of the Shady Lane Playhouse troupe which is presenting a season of comedies and farces in the big barn-theatre on route 20 three miles west of Marengo.

He will be featured August 8-13 in Lesley Storm's "Roar Like a Dove."

A HIT OF the 1958 London season, the play tells the mirthful tale of an American heiress, wed to a Scottish nobleman, who calls her parents to her assistance when she becomes involved in a domestic tangle with her spouse.

An all-Equity cast of professionals will present "Roar Like a Dove" in its first showing in the Chicago area.

Curtain times for the theatre are 8:45 Tuesday through Friday, 7 and 10 p.m. Saturday, and 7:45 p.m. Sunday. Reservations may be made by calling 815-568-7218. (Bill

Edgewater Playhouse Books 'Rhinoceros'

In an unprecedented move, the Edgewater Beach Playhouse is bringing the exciting Broadway comedy, Ionesco's prize-winning "Rhinoceros," to Chicago for four weeks, August 8 through September 3.

Currently appearing at the Longacre Theatre on Broadway, "Rhinoceros" co-stars zero Mostel, who won the Antoinette Perry Award as The Best Dramatic Actor of the Year, and Ralph Meeker, film, stage and TV star. Both stars and the complete New York cast will move directly to the Edgewater two days after it. closes on Broadway, and then return to New York two days after the four-week engagement here.

There will be no advance in prices, and the policy of two performances at 7 and 10 p.m. on Friday and Saturday continues. Al Hirt and his Jazz Sextet with The Wanderers Three will close on Sunday, after double performances on Friday, Saturday and Sunday at 7 and 10.

Zero Mostel hit the jackpot with his comedy role in "Rhinoceros" during the seven-month run in New York. Critics said they never saw anything funnier than the scene in which, in full view of the audience, Mostel actually changes into a rhinoceros, raging, snorting and cavorting. The production, directed by Joseph Anthony and conceived and produced by Leo Kerz (who also designed the settings and lighting), was judged superior to the London production which starred Laurence Olivier in the role, played by Ralph Meeker. Mostel has restaged it for the Edgewater. Besides Mostel and Meeker, the New York cast here includes Dolores Sutton, Michael Strong, Salem Ludwig and Will Hussung.

WRITTEN by Eugene Ionesco, the Romanian - French playwright, and translated by Derek Prouse, the comedy is also called "cleverly mad." In a comic frame, Ionesco has given us a commentary on the absurdity of the human condition made tolerable by self-delusion. Critics have ranged far to call it "the nuttiest play of the year," "the staging has the knockout high spirits of Mack Sennett comedy," and "hilarious," as the New Yorker said. Critic Frank Aston wanted to "throw a fit of joy" when he saw it.

"Rhinoceros" performances are nightly, except Monday, at 8:30, with two on Friday and Saturday at 7 and 10, and one on Sunday at 7 p.m. (Bill

DANNY KAYE impersonates a British General to fool the German Gestapo and in the above scene is caught by the real general's wife, played by Dana Wynter. The scene is from "On The Double," playing Friday and Saturday at the Catlow Theatre in Barrington. Diana Dors and Wilfrid Hyde White co-star in the Technicolor-Panavision comedy.

Pritchard Lead Man In Comedy

ROY PRITCHARD

Roy Pritchard is the handsome leading man of the Shady Lane Playhouse troupe which is presenting a season of comedies and farces in the big barn-theatre on route 20 three miles west of Marengo.

He will be featured August 8-13 in Lesley Storm's "Roar Like a Dove."

A HIT OF the 1958 London season, the play tells the mirthful tale of an American heiress, wed to a Scottish nobleman, who calls her parents to her assistance when she becomes involved in a domestic tangle with her spouse.

An all-Equity cast of professionals will present "Roar Like a Dove" in its first showing in the Chicago area.

Curtain times for the theatre are 8:45 Tuesday through Friday, 7 and 10 p.m. Saturday, and 7:45 p.m. Sunday. Reservations may be made by calling 815-568-7218. (Bill

Theatre Guild to Offer Five Plays

An ambitious season which includes two comedies, a melodrama, a classic and an original play has just been announced by Des Plaines Theatre Guild, Inc., which opens its 16th consecutive season September 22, with seven performances of "Marriage-Go-Round."

Try-outs for the opening comedy, a recent Broadway hit, will be conducted at 8 p.m., Monday and Tuesday nights, August 7 and 8, at Rand Park fieldhouse, 2025 Miner street, Des Plaines.

ANYONE INTERESTED in acting is invited to audition, according to Wilhelm Levander, 1760 Evergreen Lane, Park Ridge, president of the northwest suburban drama group whose active members come from Des Plaines, Park Ridge, Morton Grove, Niles, Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine, Crystal Lake, Cary, and the northwest side of Chicago.

Subscription applications for the 1961-62 season, which also includes "Mary Stuart," "The Golden Fleecing," "The Desperate Hours," and an original drama by a new playwright, were mailed to over 1,000 Guild patrons from last year, according to Mrs. John Clark, 188 N. Eighth, Des Plaines, general ticket and box office manager.

ORBIT SPACE BANQUETS on a platter

These Banquets include: Choice of French Fried Potatoes or American Hash Browns, plus a generous portion of our Creamy Cole Slaw.

ORBIT 1	ORBITBURGER Jet Pilots Special — just right for deep space fatigue — ⅓ pound 100% pure chopped, lean Sir Loin of Beef	.89
ORBIT 2	MOONBURGER Astra-Navs-pick-me-up delight — the only remedy for dual extended recovery from strenuous moon gazing — ⅓ pound 100% pure chopped lean Sir Loin of Beef, lovingly topped with melted Moon Cheese	.99
ORBIT 3	BAR-B-QUE-BEEF A large Flame-On for jaded Engineer-Spacers — Hot tangy marinated Orbit Sauce over heaping portion of Sir Loin of Beef on a Bun	.99
ORBIT 4	ITALIAN BEEF OFFICIAL NRG replacement for crewmen suffering from the old style after-burner effect of low blast-off recovery symbiosis — On crunchy French Bread, curled and heaping thin slices of Sir Loin of Beef cooked with traditional Italian Spices	.99
ORBIT 5	CORNED BEEF Morale Booster for hearty eating rocket men in space too long — Kosher style, corned lean brisket, delicately seasoned, on rye or roll, a real taste treat	.99
ORBIT 9	½ ORBIT SOUTHERN FRIED CHICKEN Space mens' mouths have been known to water a million miles out at the thought of one of our Solar-Fried crusty golden brown pampered meaty chicken banquets! With Chef's Salad, Roll and Butter	1.39
ORBIT 10	SOLAR-FRIED GULF SHRIMPS and tangy Orbit Solar Sauce. We had a riot at our annual Orbit Space Hunt when we hid some blondes, brunettes and ten banquet platters of our big firm Solar-Fried Gulf Shrimps on a lonely asteroid. Girls everywhere just hate to be ignored! Our shrimps are just that good! With Chef's Salad, Roll and Butter	1.25
